MILEAGE PAY FOR TRAVEL OF SENATORS

Senators are entitled to mileage pay at the rate of 20 cents per mile, to be estimated by the nearest route usually traveled in going to and returning from each regular session.[1]

For the first session of the 80th Congress two mileages were paid, one for the first part of the session and another for the second part called by President Truman which convened on November 17, 1947.[2]

In 1905, the Senate struck from an appropriation bill, passed by the House, an item allowing mileage for a session which merged with the subsequent one, which, after conferences, was agreed to by the House.[3]
