PETERSON OF MINNESOTA, MR. MORAN, MR. VOLKMER, MR. TORRICELLI, MR. HOUGHTON, MR. MARTINEZ, AND MR. SIKORSKI

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution to provide for a balanced budget for the United States Government and for greater accountability in the enactment of tax legislation.

July 8, 1991—Referred to the Subcommittee on Economic and Commercial Law.

May 20, 1992—Discharge petition (No. 6) filed by Mr. Stenholm on H.Res. 450, a rule resolution referred to the Committee on Rules, providing for the consideration of H.J.Res. 290.

May 20, 1992—Motion to discharge the Committee on Rules from consideration of H.Res. 450 (providing for the consideration of H.J.Res. 290) placed on the Calendar of Motions to Discharge Committees, 218 Members having signed the discharge petition.

June 4, 1992—The House agreed to make it in order to consider H.Res. 450 (providing for the consideration of H.J.Res. 290) on June 10 rather than June 8, 1992, and that the general debate time be expanded to nine hours.

June 10, 1992—The House adopted the rule (H.Res. 450) discharging the Committee on the Judiciary from further consideration of H.J.Res. 290 and providing for the consideration of H.J. Res. 290 with nine hours of general debate, waiving all points of order against consideration, making in order only those amendments contained in the rule with consideration to be "king-of-the-hill" (only the last amendment adopted to be considered as finally adopted), providing for one motion to recommit with or without instructions, and providing for the consideration of a comparable joint resolution if passed by the Senate.

June 10, 1992—Considered by the House.

June 11, 1992—The House disagreed to the Kyl amendment that sought to allow the President line-item veto authority in authorization and appropriation legislation; limit the total outlays for a fiscal year to 19% of the gross national product of that year; and require a three-fifths vote of the Congress to outlay any additional funds. (170 ayes; 258 noes).

June 11, 1992—The House disagreed to the Barton of Texas amendment that sought to require the Congress to adopt a statement of receipts and outlays for each fiscal year stating that outlays are not greater than the total receipts; require that there be no increase in the Federal debt amount unless three-fifths of the total membership of the House and Senate approve such an increase; and prohibit estimated revenues from growing faster than the rate of increase in the second prior fiscal year, unless the Congress, by a vote of three-fifths of the total membership of the House and Senate, passes legislation directed solely to approving specific tax increases. (200 ayes; 227 noes).

June 11, 1992—The House disagreed to the Gephardt amendment that sought to prohibit the Congress from approving higher total expenditures than the total proposed by the President; prohibit Congress from approving an unbalanced budget unless is was approved by a majority vote of the total membership of both Houses; exclude Social Security from the budget calculations; and require the President to send to the Congress for approval a budget in which expenditures do not exceed receipts, unless a Presidential declaration of national urgency accompanied the legislation. (103 ayes; 327 noes).

June 11, 1992—The House agreed to the Stenholm amendment requiring that the total outlays for any fiscal year not exceed the total receipts for that fiscal year unless three-fifths of the whole number of each House provide by law for a specific excess of outlays over receipts by a rollcall vote; that the limit on the debt of the United States not be increased unless three-fifths of the whole number of each House provide by law for a such an increase by a rollcall vote; and that no bill to increase revenue become law unless approved by a majority of the whole number of each House by a rollcall vote. (279 ayes; 153 noes).

June 11, 1992—The House rejected a motion to recommit H.J. Res. 290 to the Committee on the Judiciary.

June 11, 1992—Failed passage by the House, two-thirds not voting in the affirmative. (280 ayes; 153 noes).
