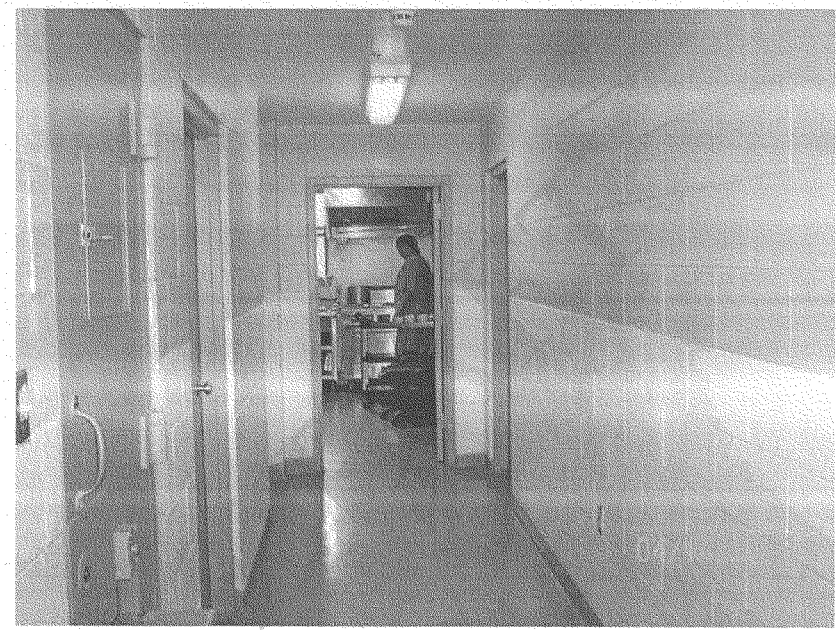
Contents of other drawers

Knives secured in a locked cabinet

A piece of wood that may be used as a shower curtain rod or a club

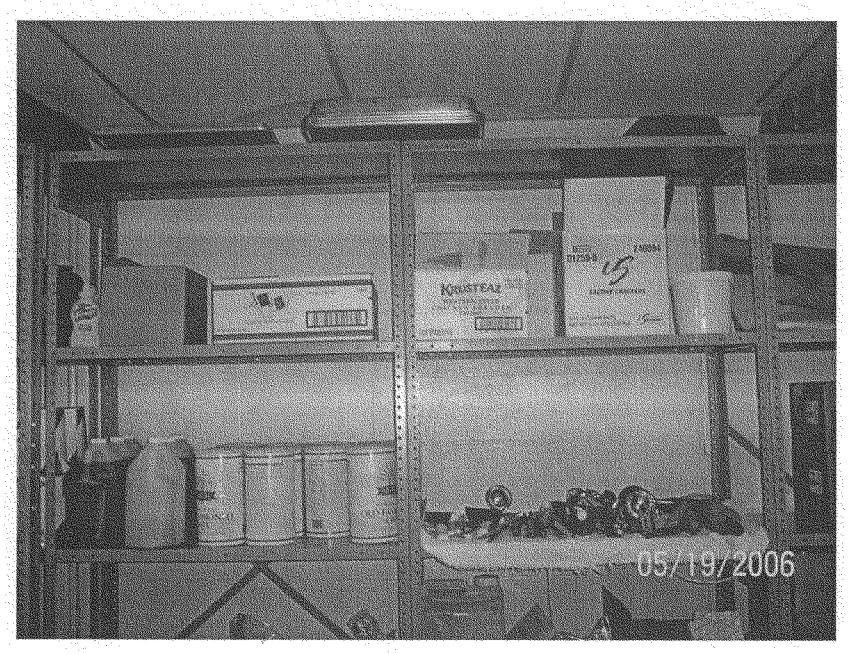


'Trustees' at work in the kitchen

Contents of unlocked drawers in the same kitchen as above

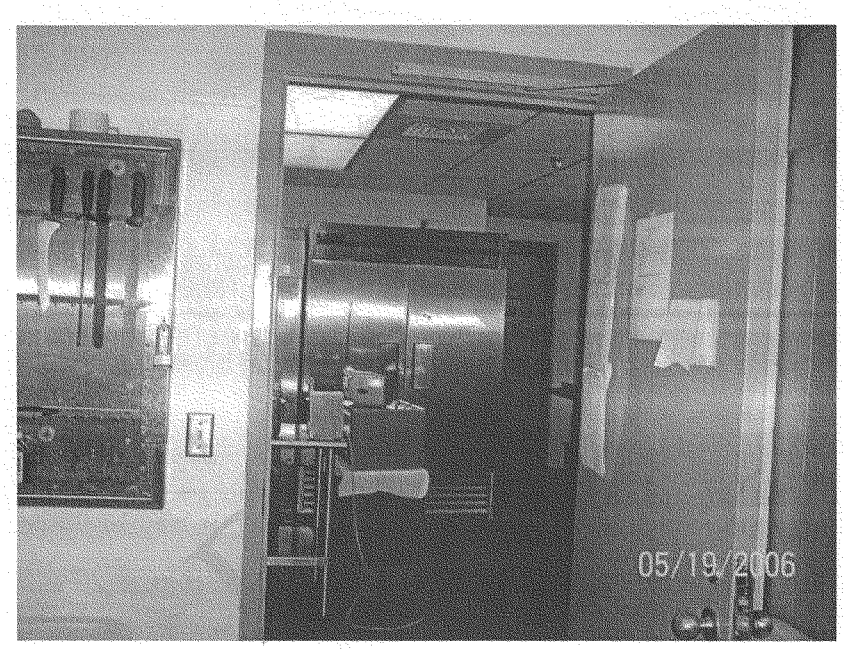
Contents of drawers in the same kitchen as pictured on the previous page

Contents of drawers in the same kitchen as pictured on the previous page

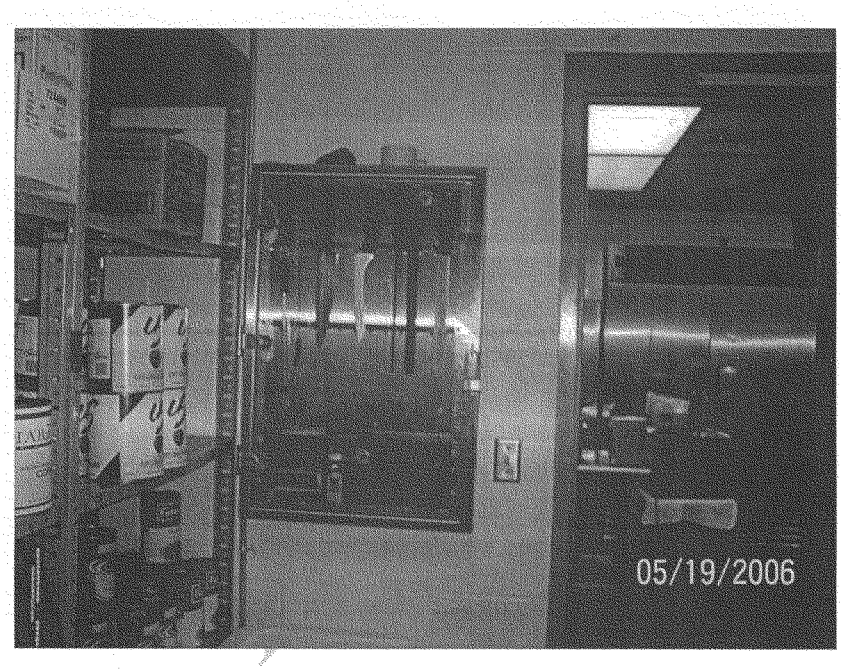


Potential weapons in the kitchen pantry

Close-up of the potential weapons in the kitchen pantry

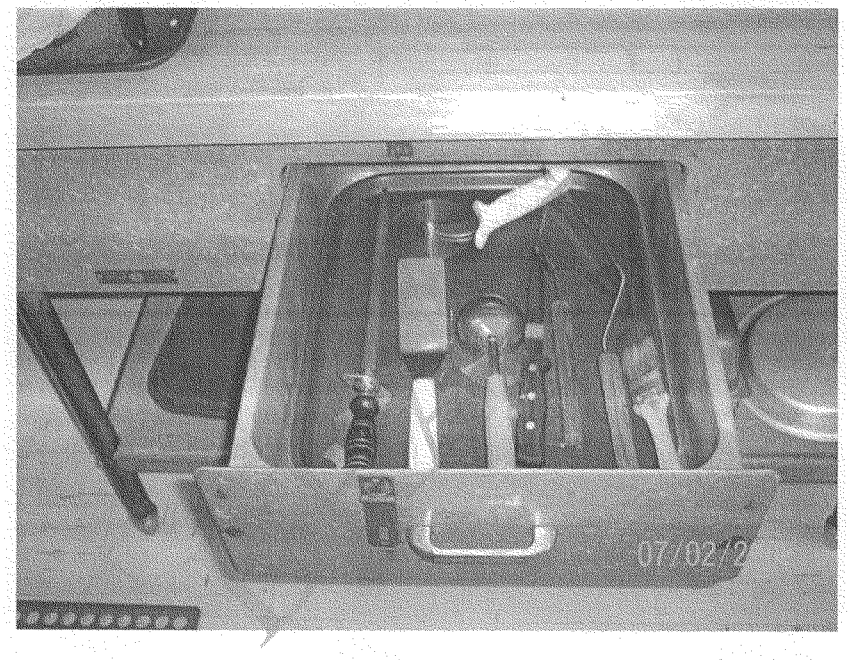


Same pantry with a locked knife cabinet



Close-up of the same pantry and knife cabinet

Potential weapons display

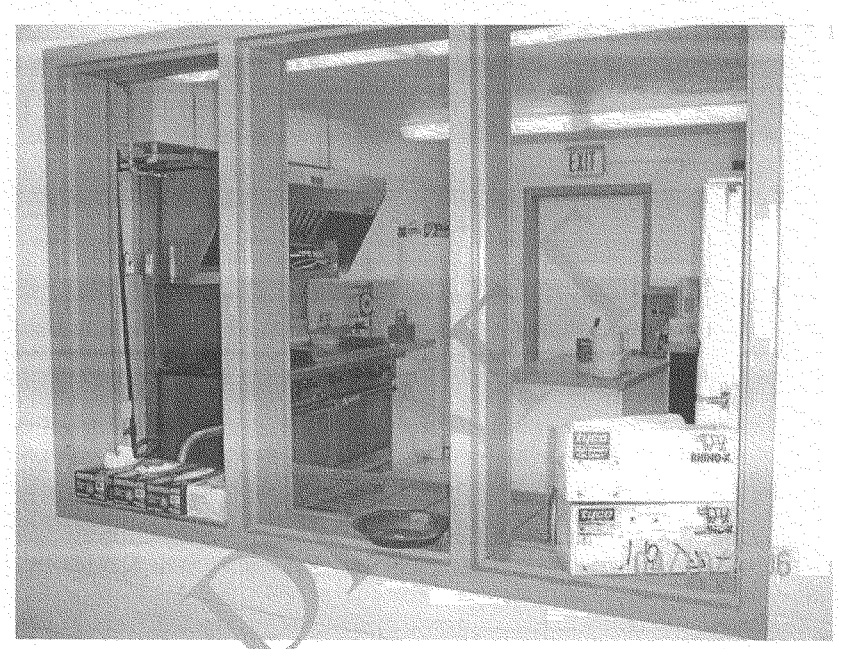


Illusion of security – sharp objects in a drawer with a lockable hasp – see the next picture for the lock used to secure this drawer

Security lock on the countertop used to lock the drawer – see contents of drawer in the previous picture

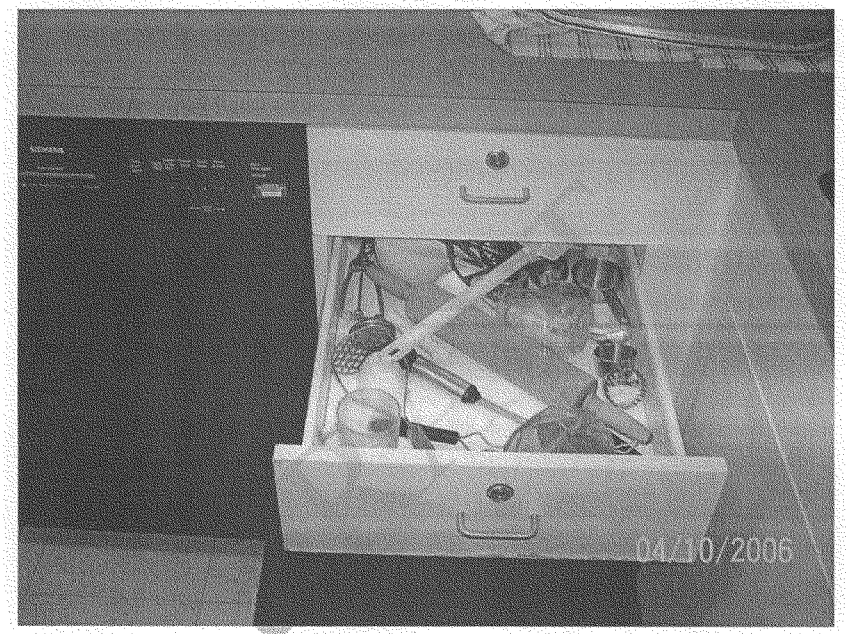
Close-up of the security lock – not much wider than the thumb

Steel angle iron from a broken bunk found in the male dormitory

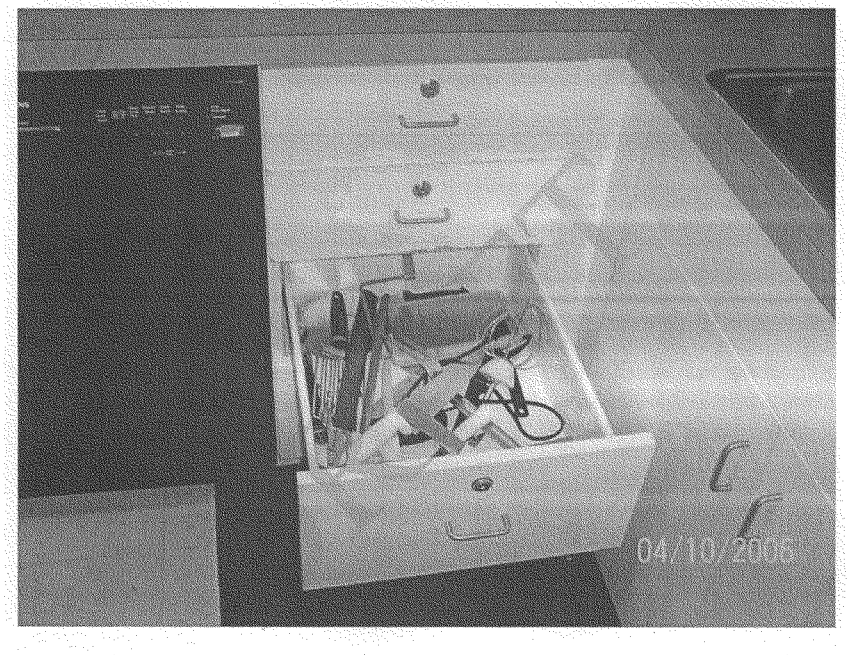


Free inmate access to the kitchen through the window with no window panes. Picture is taken from the common corridor used by inmates.

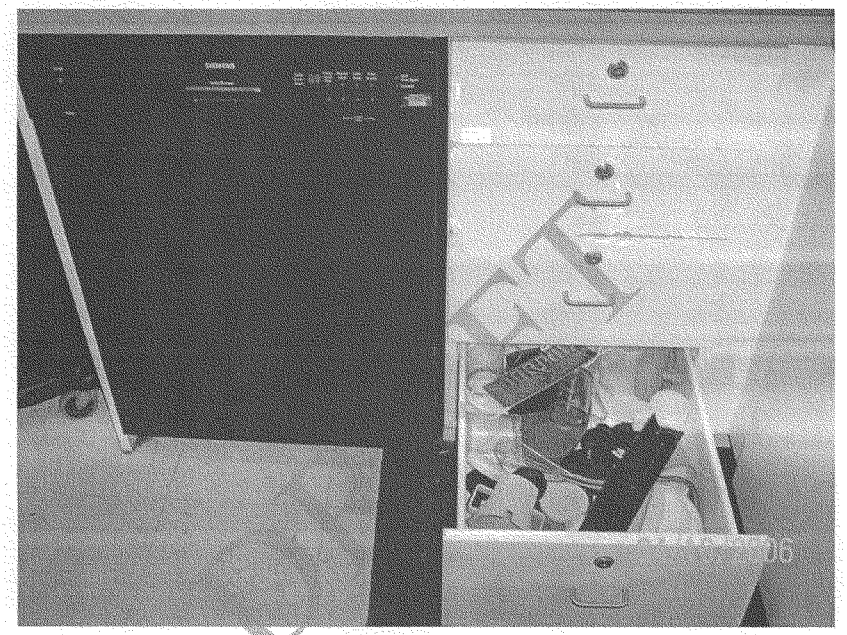
However, the kitchen is accessible through the door as well – since it cannot be secured



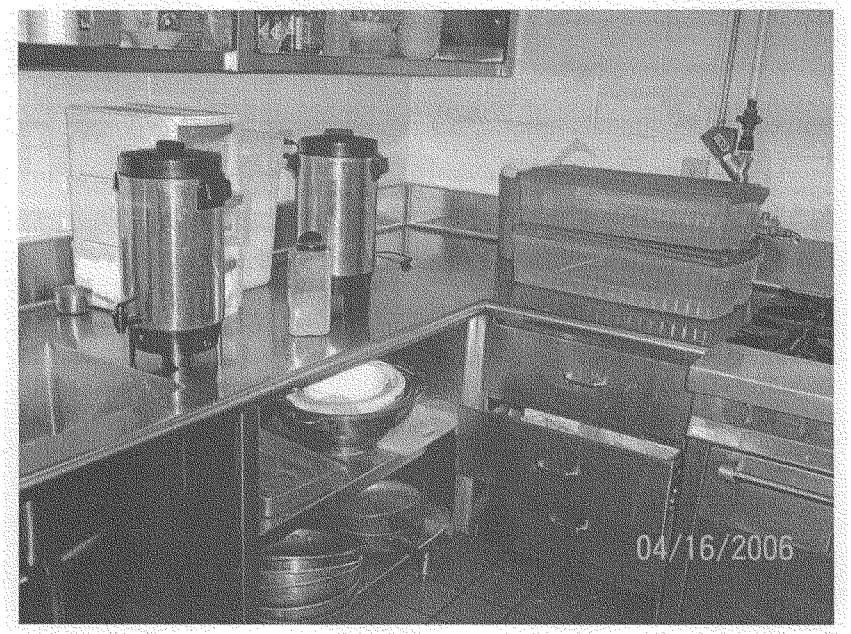
Potential weapons in the kitchen that is accessible through the window or the door as in the two previous pictures



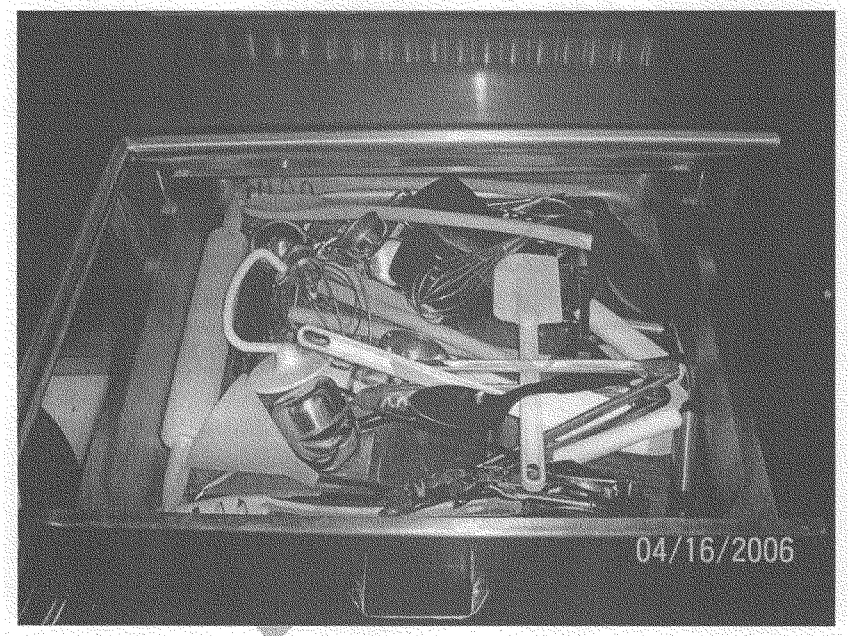
More potential weapons in the drawer below



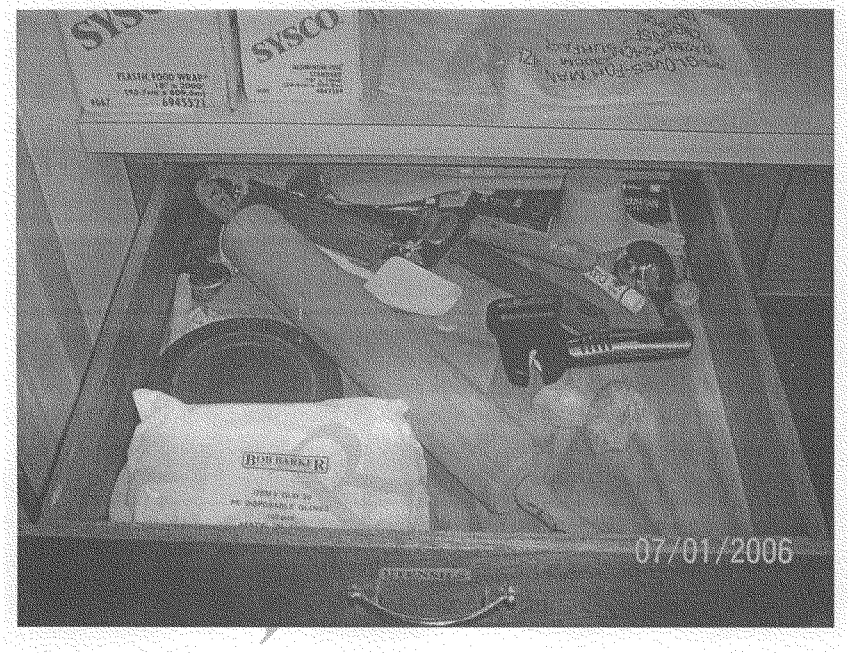
More potential weapons in the drawer below



Innocent looking drawers in a kitchen



Potential weapons in the drawer



Contents of another kitchen drawer

Potential weapons in a kitchen drawer