□ 1900

The SPEAKER. Will the Representatives-elect and the members of their respective delegations present themselves in the well.

The Representatives-elect will please raise their right hands.

Mr. CURSON of Michigan, Ms. DELBENE, and Mr. MASSIE appeared at the bar of the House and took the oath of office, as follows:

Do you solemnly swear that you will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that you will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that you take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that you will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which you are about to enter, so help you God.

The SPEAKER. Congratulations, you are now Members of the 112th Congress.

WELCOMING THE HONORABLE
DAVID ALAN CURSON TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the dean of the House, the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL) is recognized for 1 minute.

There was no objection.

Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to welcome my good friend DAVE CURSON to the Congress of the United States. He has spent his life serving his fellow man, first as a U.S. marine in Vietnam, then as a representative of the UAW, and now as a Member of this distinguished body.

He is also, first and foremost, a family man. He has been married to his wonderful wife, Sharon, for 22 years. Together with her, he has done an extraordinary job raising two daughters and one son; they are Lisa, Katie, and David, Jr.

I have no doubt that our good friend DAVID will do a magnificent job representing the interests of the people of Michigan's 11th District. I know he can count on my support, and I hope that my colleagues will extend him that same courtesy. DAVE is a good man, and the Nation is fortunate to have him here.

Mr. Speaker, at this moment, I yield to the distinguished gentleman from Michigan (Mr. UPTON), the dean of the Republican delegation.
