

amendments provided in section 305(a)(5) of the Congressional Budget Act, if offered by the chairman of the Committee on the Budget, necessary to achieve mathematical consistency. At the conclusion of the consideration of the concurrent resolution for amendment, there shall be an additional period of general debate, which shall be confined to the concurrent resolution, as amended, and which shall continue not to exceed one hour, to be equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on the Budget. Following such general debate, the Committee shall rise and report the concurrent resolution with such amendments as may have been adopted, and the previous question shall be considered as ordered on the concurrent resolution to final adoption without intervening motion.

When said resolution was considered. After debate,

Mr. DERRICK moved the previous question on the resolution to its adoption or rejection.

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House now order the previous question?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. MCNULTY, announced that the yeas had it.

Mr. DERRICK objected to the vote on the ground that a quorum was not present and not voting.

A quorum not being present,

The roll was called under clause 4, rule XV, and the call was taken by electronic device.
