¶29.7 PEACEKEEPING IN EL SALVADOR

Mr. FASCELL moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 391):

Whereas the people of El Salvador have suffered twelve years of civil war, violence, and destruction, affecting an entire generation of Salvadorans and virtually every sector of society;

Whereas peace and reconciliation will permit the Salvadoran people to exert their productive capabilities in efforts to restructure their society, rebuild their economy, and further strengthen democracy;

Whereas El Salvador has achieved through negotiations a peaceful resolution to years of bloody and destructive armed conflict;

Whereas the government of President Alfredo Cristiani has successfully fulfilled its promise to the people of El Salvador made on its first day in office that it will bring peace to the country;

Whereas the signing of the formal cease-fire agreements represents not only the end of the armed conflict but the beginning of a process to consolidate peace and democracy in El Salvador;

Whereas the Salvadoran people have declared February 1, 1992, the date of the signing of the formal cease-fire, to be National Peace Day;

Whereas the success of the Salvadoran negotiating process, with the active and indispensable contribution of the United Nations, can provide a model for the resolution of other conflicts around the world;

Whereas the United States has played a significant role in El Salvador during the years of crisis; and

Whereas the people of El Salvador and its neighbors in Latin America will be the primary beneficiaries of peace: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That (a) the House of Representatives hereby—

(1) commends and congratulates all parties to the negotiations, the United Nations Secretary General Javier Perez de Cuellar, and the Salvadoran people for their persistence, commitment, and dedication to the task of achieving peace;

(2) extends particular praise to President Cristiani for the courage and determination of his personal efforts to bring peace to El Salvador;

(3) commends and congratulates the governments of Colombia, Mexico, Spain, and Venezuela for their important contribution as "friends" of the United Nations Secretary General in support of the negotiating process; and

(4) encourages the Salvadoran people and all sectors of Salvadoran society to commit themselves to the long-term process of consolidating peace, democracy, and economic and social development.

(b) It is the sense of the House that—

(1) the United States should commit itself to providing appropriate assistance to the government and people of El Salvador that promotes the process of reconstruction, reconciliation, and further strengthening of democracy and democratic institutions;

(2) the United States should commit itself to seeking and encouraging other members of the international community to contribute materially to this process in El Salvador; and

(3) the United States should commit itself to cooperating with United Nations efforts to monitor compliance with the peace agreements in El Salvador and other efforts pertaining to the United Nations role in post-war El Salvador.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. FRANK, recognized Mr. FASCELL and Mr. BROOMFIELD, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. FRANK, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

So, two-thirds of the Members present having voted in favor thereof, the rules were suspended and said resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider the vote whereby the rules were suspended and said resolution was agreed to was, by unanimous consent, laid on the table.

¶29.8 U.N. CONFERENCE ON ENVIRONMENT AND DEVELOPMENT

Mr. FASCELL moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 292):

Whereas global environmental and development issues such as climate change, depletion of the ozone layer, the disposal of hazardous chemicals, deforestation, the loss of biological diversity, marine pollution, threats to the world's supply of freshwater, and rapid population growth, are high priority concerns of the United States, affecting the security and well-being of present and future generations;

Whereas reducing poverty and promoting sustainable economic growth and sound environmental management in the developing world are also high priority concerns of the United States;

Whereas these urgent global environmental and developmental challenges will require increased international cooperation between developing countries and developed countries, as well as strengthened international institutions;

Whereas the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development, to be held in Brazil in June 1992, represents an important opportunity to reach agreements on such international cooperation;

Whereas the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development should be viewed as a milestone in a continuing process of improving the international response to the issues within its purview;

Whereas the role of the United States in negotiations on the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development is crucial to its success; and

Whereas the final Preparatory Committee meeting for the UNCED will be held during March and April of 1992: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That it is the sense of the Congress that, consistent with national sovereignty considerations, the position of the United States at the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development should—

(1) place the highest priority on the success of the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development by participating actively in the UNCED, particularly through the personal participation of the President of the United States;

(2) negotiate international agreements that effectively reduce the threat of climate change and biological diversity loss;

(3) propose and/or support an initiative on financing global environmental cooperation efforts that—

(A) takes into account the additional costs of international environmental protection and the basic development goals of developing countries; and

(B) increases accountability for the use of funds provided for environmental purposes;

(4) seek to advance the development of a stronger international legal framework, and the creation of appropriate institutional mechanisms, for protecting the global environment, including a process for monitoring compliance by nations with environmental agreements in force and monitoring compliance by all multilateral institutions with requirements for environmental impact assessment;

(5) seek to initiate a process of regular, highlevel intergovernmental consultations on the issues that are under consideration at UNCED and to establish improved organizational and procedural means to implement the objectives of UNCED;

(6) support programs aimed at encouraging a global transition to efficient and environmentally sustainable energy systems, including priority on more efficient transportation systems and renewable sources of energy;

(7) support new programs and institutions to help developing countries become more energy efficient and otherwise increase their capacity for acquiring and using technology to make their economies more environmentally sustainable, such as training and research centers for energy efficiency and renewable energy sources;

(8) support global goals of slowing deforestation of primary forests, increasing worldwide forest cover, and preserving a specified amount of mature forests, and increase support for improved forest strategies that integrate all policy issues related to the loss of forests and eliminate economic incentives for deforestation;

(9) support the effective implementation of a global action plan to raise the economic, educational, and leadership status of women;

(10) support the development of new agreements to eliminate land-based sources of marine pollution and support cooperative efforts to address these sources of pollution at the regional level;

(11) support a process of international consultations involving relevant governments and multinational institutions aimed at identifying ways that poverty can be alleviated and natural resources better conserved through reduction of developing country debt burdens;

(12) support the development of a reformed system of national accounting that would reflect the full economic costs of environmental and resource degradation and the benefits of the sustainable use of natural resources;

(13) promote public participation in environmental and development decisions at all levels including a right for communities to be fully informed on the environmental threats to their well being; and

(14) support programs that provide maternal and child health care, education and training especially for women, and voluntary family planning.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. FRANK, recognized Mr. FASCELL and Mr. BROOMFIELD, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said concurrent resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. FRANK, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

So, two-thirds of the Members present having voted in favor thereof, the rules were suspended and said concurrent resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider the vote whereby the rules were suspended and said concurrent resolution was agreed to was, by unanimous consent, laid on the table.

Ordered, That the Clerk request the concurrence of the Senate in said concurrent resolution.

¶29.9 CONGRATULATING VENEZUELA

Mr. FASCELL moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 293); as amended:

Whereas Venezuela has been a leader in the development of democracy throughout the hemisphere, and for nearly 34 years has enjoyed the tradition of rules by popular consent;

Whereas the people of Venezuela overthrew a repressive authoritarian regime and restored democratic rule with elections in December 1958;

Whereas the democratic institutions of Venezuela have been reinforced by 6 successive transfers of power through free and open national elections since 1958;

Whereas in December 1988, Carlos Andres Perez became the first President of Venezuela to be elected to a second term;

Whereas an attempt to overthrow the legitimate and constitutional government of Venezuela was repelled on February 4, 1992;

Whereas the Venezuelan people have rejected facile and demagogic calls to solve serious economic and social problems through the installation of an authoritarian regime;

Whereas on March 5, 1992, the President of Venezuela announced the formation of a cabinet of national unity with the ruling Accion Democratica party and COPEI, the principal opposition political party;

Whereas the President of Venezuela also announced on March 5, 1992, that he will seek a referendum on the convocation of a national constituent assembly to strengthen the country's constitution and promote changes in the administration of justice; and

Whereas the resolve of the Venezuelan people to preserve their democratic institutions serves as an example to nations throughout the hemisphere that have recently elected democratic governments: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That the Congress—

(1) congratulates the people of Venezuela on their demonstrated commitment to broad-based and enduring democracy;

(2) congratulates the Accion Democratica and COPEI parties on their agreement to form a cabinet of national unity;

(3) congratulates President Carlos Andres Perez on his swift and decisive actions to address the need for constitutional and judicial reform;

(4) reaffirms the commitment of the United States to pursue close relations only with representative, freely elected democratic governments throughout the hemisphere; and

(5) pledges to Venezuela and its people the support of the United States at this time of great challenge to democratic institutions and the rule of law.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. FRANK, recognized Mr. FASCELL and Mr. BROOMFIELD, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said concurrent resolution, as amended?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. FRANK, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

So, two-thirds of the Members present having voted in favor thereof, the rules were suspended and said concurrent resolution, as amended, was agreed to.

By unanimous consent, the title was amended so as to read: "Concurrent resolution congratulating the government and people of Venezuela on their demonstrated commitment to a broad-based and enduring democracy, and commending the formation of a cabinet of national unity."

A motion to reconsider the votes whereby the rules were suspended and said concurrent resolution, as amended, was agreed to and the title was amended was, by unanimous consent, laid on the table.

Ordered, That the Clerk request the concurrence of the Senate in said concurrent resolution.

And then,
