“(2) disability is a natural part of the human experience that does not diminish the right of individuals with developmental disabilities to enjoy the opportunity to live independently, enjoy self-determination, make choices, contribute to society, and experience full integration and inclusion in the economic, political, social, cultural, and educational mainstream of American society;

“(3) individuals with developmental disabilities continually encounter various forms of discrimination in critical areas;

“(4) there is a lack of public awareness of the capabilities and competencies of individuals with developmental disabilities;

“(5) individuals whose disabilities occur during their developmental period frequently have severe disabilities that are likely to continue indefinitely;

“(6) individuals with developmental disabilities often require lifelong specialized services and assistance, provided in a coordinated and culturally competent manner by many agencies, professionals, advocates, community representatives, and others to eliminate barriers and to meet the needs of such individuals and their families;

“(7) a substantial portion of individuals with developmental disabilities and their families do not have access to appropriate support and services from generic and specialized service systems and remain unserved or underserved;

“(8) family members, friends, and members of the community can play an important role in enhancing the lives of individuals with developmental disabilities, especially when the family and community are provided with the necessary services and supports;

“(9) there is a need to ensure that services, supports, and other assistance are provided in a culturally competent manner, that individuals from racial and ethnic minority backgrounds are fully included in all activities under this Act, and that greater efforts are made to recruit individuals from minority backgrounds into the field of developmental disabilities; and

“(10) the goals of the Nation properly include the goal of providing individuals with developmental disabilities with the opportunities and support to—

“(A) make informed choices and decisions;

“(B) live in homes and communities in which such individuals can exercise their full rights and responsibilities as citizens;

“(C) pursue meaningful and productive lives;

“(D) contribute to their family, community, State, and Nation;

“(E) have interdependent friendships and relationships with others; and

“(F) achieve full integration and inclusion in society, in an individualized manner, consistent with unique strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, and capabilities of each individual.
