Mr. Harold Eaton has made many outstanding contributions throughout his life to the advancement of equal rights. His devotion and innovation resulted in major accomplishments on the local and Federal level. It is my honor to recognize the achievements of a man so devoted to the causes of equality and justice, both of which we hold so dear in our Nation. Ms. SOLIS. Mr. Speaker, I stand before you today to recognize one of the most inspiring and remarkable Latino leaders in the United States. Patricia Madrid is New Mexico's first woman and the nation's first Latina attorney general.

Since taking the oath to office in November 1998, Ms. Madrid triumphed at protecting the lives of New Mexicans against all levels of violent crimes. She spearheaded initiatives that continue to provide assistance for district attorneys in the prosecution of criminals in New Mexico. In addition, her actions also established strict provisions that protect her state's environmental resources. Through her leadership, the people of New Mexico are not only safer from crime but the state's wildlife, agriculture, and water quality have thrived too.

Throughout her legal career, Ms. Madrid received numerous awards for her political achievements. She was awarded the Latina Lawyer of the Year Award in 2001 by the Hispanic National Bar Association. She received the First Annual Elected Official Award for Work on Behalf of Crime Victims from Mothers Against Drunk Driving. In 1999, the New Mexico Commission on the Status of Women honored her with the Trailblazer Award. In 1994, the Mexican American Legal Defense and Educational Fund, a national organization, recognized her for her outstanding service to the Hispanic community. With all these remarkable accomplishments, her commitment to serve the people of New Mexico and the Latino community nationwide continues undeterred.

Ms. Madrid's ventures as New Mexico's attorney general has dismantled barriers and paved the way for other women and minorities who aspire to reach such feats. I am privileged to recognize her as the perfect example of today's exceptional leader.

TRIBUTE TO CODY SHIRA

HON. SCOTT McINNIS

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 5, 2003

Mr. McINNIS. Mr. Speaker, I am honored to stand before this body of Congress and this Nation today to pay tribute to Cody Shira, a courageous young man from Grand Junction, Colorado. Cody recently woke up his parents during the middle of the night when he discovered their house was on fire. The actions of this brave seven year old are truly remarkable, and I am proud to recognize him here today.

While fast asleep, Cody was awakened to the smoke and flames set by an outdoor grill. The grill set fire to a bench, which helped spread the fire into the house through a window. Thanks to Cody's quick reaction, most of the bedrooms in the apartment were spared, helping to save many important belongings and memories. While the Shiras will have to rebuild the bottom level of the apartment, they thank Cody for helping to save not only their bedrooms, but also their lives.

Mr. Speaker, Cody Shira is a true hero. His courageous and quick reaction helped save the lives of his family and much of his home. I am proud to gather with my fellow colleagues and speak of Cody's accomplishments, as his actions are truly remarkable. Good luck, Cody. I wish you the best with all of your future endeavors.

A TRIBUTE TO HILLSIDES HOME FOR CHILDREN

HON. ADAM B. SCHIFF

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 5, 2003

Mr. SCHIFF. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Hillside Home for Children in Pasadena. On October 5, 2003, Hillside Home will celebrate its ninetieth anniversary with a carnival to honor the achievements of those who have devoted countless hours to Hillside Home, as well as to celebrate the children who have been greatly helped by the home.

Hillside Home opened its doors in 1913 as an Episcopal Orphanage known as The Church Home for Children. Deaconess Evelyn Wile formulated the agency's mission of loving care, therapeutic healing, special education, family crisis intervention and children's rights advocacy. This vision continues to be the focus of Hillside Home over ninety years later. Today, Hillside Home is a private non-profit treatment center, but it is considered an official institution of the Los Angeles Diocese of the Episcopal Church.

While Hillside Home began its journey solely as an orphanage, the agency has since branched off into several other areas. For children suffering from abuse and mental illness, Hillside Home provides them with a safe place that they can call home. The main campus contains six residential cottages for emotionally disturbed children ranging in age from seven to thirteen. On the campus, Hillside Home provides a home and intensive treatment services geared to healing and redirecting kids who have experienced traumatic upbringings. In addition to the on-campus housing, there are two off-campus group homes which house twelve teenagers. These off-campus facilities provide residential treatment, mental health care, and practical skills training for independent living after the youth leave Hillside Home for Children.

Hillside Home has also responded to the need for counseling at-risk families to prevent abuse before it starts, and in 1996, the family center was opened. This center provides a broad range of programs from counseling services to classes designed to strengthen families and protect children. Clearly, Hillside Home acts as a voice for children through advocacy.

I am proud to recognize Hillside Home for Children as an integral component of our community by providing a safe haven for children, strengthening families and advocating for children's rights.

It is for these extraordinary achievements that I ask all Members to join me in congratulating Hillside Home for Children for their ninety years of remarkable work.
