Headquartered in Washington, DC, the GPO is responsible for the production and distribution of information products and services for all three branches of the Federal Government. Many of the Nation's most important information products, such as the Congressional Record and Federal Register, are produced at the GPO's main plant, a 1.5 million square-foot complex that is the largest information processing, printing and distribution facility in the world. In addition to its own production facilities, the GPO maintains a pool of thousands of private sector vendors across the country to produce print and other information products for the Federal Government. The GPO disseminates Federal information products through its sales program and through distribution to a network of 1,200 Federal depository libraries nationwide and online via GPO Access (www.gpoaccess.gov).

For more information about the GPO, go to the agency's Web site at www.gpo.gov.
