CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Expressing the sense of Congress that Job Corps is a long-term program that invests in America's future and should serve as the cornerstone of youth policy in America.

Whereas by the year 2000 and beyond the workforce in the United States will require high levels of basic literacy and employment skills in order to meet the challenges of the marketplace;

Whereas there are millions of at-risk youths who represent a generation of disenfranchised Americans ill-equipped to meet the challenges of a changing workplace;

Whereas any proposal to remedy the many problems of such youths must be comprehensive and provide total support for their economic and social needs;

Whereas since 1964 over 1,500,000 at-risk youths have benefited from education, training, and job placement in the Job Corps established under the Job Training Partnership Act (29 U.S.C. 1691 et seq.);

Whereas the Job Corps is America's only residential education and vocational training program targeted to underprivileged youths who face multiple barriers to economic self-sufficiency by providing academic preparation leading to a high school diploma or the equivalent, vocational skills training and work experience, safe and secure housing, classes on parenting skills and family planning to single mothers, and complete health care;

Whereas the average Job Corps participant is an 18-year old high school dropout who reads at a 7th grade level, has never held a full-time job, comes from a family with an average income of $5,803, and has had a disruptive home life;

Whereas these youths are considered the least likely to succeed, but over 75 percent of Job Corps participants obtain jobs, join the military, or continue their education;

Whereas independent studies have found that for every $1 invested in the Job Corps, $1.46 is returned to the economy through reductions in income maintenance payments, the costs of crime and incarceration, and through increased taxes paid by graduates of the Job Corps; and

Whereas the Job Corps is the only Federal youth program that has a documented, long-term successful track record (approximately 30 years) and that provides a return on investment greater than its cost through immediate economic stimulus and long-term economic growth in depressed local communities: Now, therefore, be it

7       policy in America;

8           (2) the Job Corps 50/50 plan is a long-term ini-
9       tiative that should be expanded to enrich and im-
10      prove the Job Corps by the year 2000; and
