2D SESSIONH. R. 2121

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

DECEMBER 12, 2001

Received; read twice and referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations

AUGUST 1, 2002

Reported by Mr. BIDEN, with an amendment and an amendment to the title

[Strike out all after the enacting clause and insert the part printed in italie]

AN ACT

To make available funds under the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 to expand democracy, good governance, and anti-corruption programs in the Russian Federation in order to promote and strengthen democratic government and civil society in that country and to support independent media.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “~~Russian Democracy~~
5 ~~Act of 2001~~”.

1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

2 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following find-3 ings:

4 (1) Since the dissolution of the Soviet Union,
5 the leadership of the Russian Federation has pub-
6 licly committed itself to building—

7 (A) a society with democratic political in-
8 stitutions and practices; the observance of uni-
9 versally recognized standards of human rights;
10 and religious and press freedom; and

11 (B) a market economy based on inter-
12 nationally accepted principles of transparency,
13 accountability, and the rule of law.

14 (2) In order to facilitate this transition, the 15 international community has provided multilateral
16 and bilateral technical assistance, and the United 17 States' contribution to these efforts has played an 18 important role in developing new institutions built 19 on democratic and liberal economic foundations and 20 the rule of law.

21 (3)(A) Since 1992, United States Government
22 democratic reform programs and public diplomacy
23 programs, including training, small grants, and tech-24 nical assistance to independent television, radio, and 25 print media across the Russian Federation, have 26 strengthened nongovernment-owned media, provided

1 access to and training in the use of the Internet, 2 brought nearly 40,000 Russian citizens to the 3 United States, and have led to the establishment of 4 over 65,000 nongovernmental organizations, thou-
5 sands of vibrant independent media outlets, and nu-6 merous political parties.

7 (B) These efforts contributed to the substan-
8 tially free and fair Russian parliamentary elections
9 in 1995 and 1999 and Presidential elections in 1996
10 and 2000.

11 (4) The United States has assisted Russian ef-
12 forts to replace its centrally planned, state-controlled
13 economy with a market economy and helped create
14 institutions and infrastructure for a market economy 15 by encouraging the transparent privatization of 16 state-owned enterprises. Approximately two-thirds of 17 the Russian Federation's gross domestic product is 18 now generated by the private sector.

19 (5)(A) The United States fostered grassroots 20 entrepreneurship in the Russian Federation by fo-
21 cusing United States economic assistance on small-22 and medium-sized businesses and by providing train-23 ing, consulting services, and small loans to more 24 than 250,000 Russian entrepreneurs.

1 (B) There are now more than 900,000 small
2 businesses in the Russian Federation, producing 12
3 to 15 percent of the gross domestic product of the 4 Russian Federation.

5 (C) United States-funded programs help to 6 fight corruption and financial crime, such as money 7 laundering, by helping to—

8 (i) establish a commercial legal infrastruc-
9 ture;

10 (ii) develop an independent judiciary;

11 (iii) support the drafting of a new criminal
12 code, civil code, and bankruptcy law;

13 (iv) develop a legal and regulatory frame-
14 work for the Russian Federation's equivalent of 15 the United States Securities and Exchange
16 Commission;

17 (v) support Russian law schools;

18 (vi) create legal aid clinics; and

19 (vii) bolster law-related activities of non-
20 governmental organizations.

21 (6) Because the capability of Russian demo-
22 cratic forces and the civil society to organize and de-23 fend democratic gains without international support 24 is uncertain, and because the gradual integration of 25 the Russian Federation into the global order of free-

1 market, democratic nations will further enhance 2 Russian cooperation with the United States on a 3 wide-range of political, economic, and security 4 issues, the success of democracy in Russia is in the 5 national security interest of the United States, and 6 the United States Government should develop a far-7 reaching and flexible strategy aimed at strength-
8 ening Russian society's support for democracy and a 9 market economy, particularly by enhancing Russian 10 democratic institutions and education, promoting the 11 rule of law, and supporting Russia's independent 12 media.

13 (7) Since the tragic events of September 11,
14 2001, the Russian Federation has stood with the 15 United States and the civilized world in the struggle 16 against terrorism and has cooperated in the war in 17 Afghanistan by sharing intelligence and through 18 other means.

19 (b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this Act are—

20 (1) to strengthen and advance institutions of 21 democratic government and of a free and inde-22 pendent media and to sustain the development of an 23 independent civil society in the Russian Federation 24 based on religious and ethnic tolerance, internation-

1 ally recognized human rights, and an internationally 2 recognized rule of law; and

3 ~~(2)~~ to focus United States foreign assistance 4 programs on using local expertise and giving local 5 organizations a greater role in designing and imple-
6 menting such programs, while maintaining appro-
7 priate oversight and monitoring.

8 SEC. 3. UNITED STATES POLICY TOWARD THE RUSSIAN
9 FEDERATION.

10 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-11 gress that the United States Government should—

12 (1) recognize that a democratic and economi-
13 cally stable Russian Federation is inherently less
14 confrontational and destabilizing in its foreign policy
15 and therefore that the promotion of democracy in 16 Russia is in the national security interests of the 17 United States; and

18 ~~(2)~~ continue and increase assistance to the 19 democratic forces in the Russian Federation, includ-20 ing the independent media, regional administrations,
21 democratic political parties, and nongovernmental
22 organizations.

23 (b) STATEMENT OF POLICY.—It shall be the policy
24 of the United States—

1 (1) to facilitate Russia's integration into the
2 Western community of nations, including supporting 3 the establishment of a stable democracy and a mar-
4 ket economy, and also including Russia's member-5 ship in the appropriate international institutions;

6 (2) to engage the Government of Russian Fed-
7 eration and Russian society in order to strengthen 8 democratic reform and institutions, and to promote 9 good governance principles based on the internation-
10 ally recognized norms of transparency in business 11 practices, the rule of law, religious freedom, and 12 human rights;

13 (3) to advance a dialog between United States
14 Government officials and private sector individuals
15 and representatives of the Government of the Rus-16 sian Federation regarding Russian integration into 17 the Western community of nations;

18 (4) to encourage United States Government of-19 ficials and private sector individuals to meet regu-
20 larly with democratic activists, human rights activ-
21 ists, representatives of the independent media, rep-22 resentatives of nongovernmental organizations, civic 23 organizers, and reform-minded politicians from Mos-
24 cow and the various regions of the Russian Federa-
25 tion;

1 (5) to incorporate democratic reforms, the pro-
2 motion of an independent media, and economic re-3 forms in the broad United States agenda with the 4 Government of the Russian Federation;

5 (6) to encourage the Government of the Rus-6 sian Federation to address cross-border issues, in-7 cluding the environment, crime, trafficking, and cor-
8 ruption in a cooperative and transparent manner 9 consistent with internationally recognized and ac-
10 cepted principles of the rule of law;

11 (7) to consult with the Government of the Rus-
12 sian Federation and the Russian Parliament on the 13 adoption of economic and social reforms necessary to 14 sustain Russian economic growth and to ensure Rus-
15 sia's transition to a fully functioning market econ-16 omy;

17 (8) to persuade the Government of the Russian 18 Federation to honor its commitments made to the 19 Organization for Security and Cooperation in Eu-
20 rope (OSCE) at the November 1999 Istanbul Con-
21 ference and to conduct a genuine good neighbor pol-22 icy toward the other independent states of the 23 former Soviet Union in the spirit of internationally 24 accepted principles of regional cooperation; and

1 parency, and accountability in the political 2 process, including grants in small amounts to 3 such organizations;

4 “(F) international exchanges to promote 5 greater understanding by Russian Federation
6 citizens on how democracy, public policy pro-
7 cess, market institutions, and an independent ju-
8 diary function in Western societies;

9 “(G) political parties committed to pro-10 moting democracy, human rights, and economic 11 reforms;

12 “(H) support for civic organizations com-13 mitted to promoting human rights; and”;

14 (E) by adding at the end the following:

15 “(J) strengthened administration of justice 16 through programs and activities carried out in 17 accordance with section 498B(e), including—

18 “(i) support for nongovernmental or-19 ganizations, civic organizations, and polit-
20 ical parties that favor a strong and inde-
21 pendent judiciary based on merit;

22 “(ii) support for local organizations
23 that work with judges and law enforcement 24 officials in efforts to achieve a reduction in 25 the number of pretrial detainees; and

1 “~~(iii)~~ support for the creation of Rus-
2 sian legal associations or groups that pro-
3 vide training in human rights and advo-
4 cacy, public education with respect to 5 human rights-related laws and proposed 6 legislation, and legal assistance to persons
7 subject to improper government inter-8 ference.”.

9 ~~(2)~~ INDEPENDENT MEDIA.—Section 498 of the 10 Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (~~22~~ U.S.C. 2295) is 11 amended—

12 ~~(A)~~ by redesignating paragraphs ~~(3)~~
13 through ~~(13)~~ as paragraphs ~~(4)~~ through ~~(14)~~, 14 respectively; and

15 ~~(B)~~ by inserting after paragraph ~~(2)~~ the 16 following:

17 “~~(3)~~ INDEPENDENT MEDIA.—Developing a free 18 and independent media, including—

19 “~~(A)~~ supporting all forms of non-state-
20 owned media reporting, including print, radio, 21 and television;

22 “~~(B)~~ providing special support for, and un-
23 restricted public access to, nongovernmental
24 Internet-based sources of information, dissemi-
25 nation and reporting, including providing tech-

1 nical and other support for web radio services,
2 providing computers and other necessary re-
3 sources for Internet connectivity and training 4 new Internet users in nongovernmental and 5 other civic organizations on methods and uses 6 of Internet-based media; and 7 “(C) training in journalism, including in-8 vestigative journalism techniques which educate 9 the public on the costs of corruption and act as 10 a deterrent against corrupt officials.”

11 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 498B(e) of 12 such Act is amended by striking “paragraph (2)(G)” and 13 inserting “paragraph (2)(J)”.

14 SEC. 5. ACTIVITIES TO SUPPORT THE RUSSIAN FEDERA-
15 TION.

16 (a) ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS.—In providing assistance 17 to the Russian Federation under chapter 11 of part I of 18 the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2295 et 19 seq.), the President is authorized to carry out the fol-20 lowing specific activities:

21 (1) Work with the Government of the Russian 22 Federation, the Duma, and representatives of the 23 Russian Federation judiciary to help implement a 24 revised and improved code of criminal procedure and 25 other laws.

1 (2) Establish civic education programs relating 2 to democracy, public policy, the rule of law, and the 3 importance of an independent media, including the 4 establishment of “American Centers” and public pol-5 icy schools at Russian universities and programs by 6 universities in the United States to offer courses 7 through Internet-based off-site learning centers at 8 Russian universities.

9 (3) Support the Regional Initiatives (RI) pro-
10 gram, which provides targeted assistance in those re-
11 gions of the Russian Federation that have dem-12 onstrated commitment to reform, democracy, and 13 the rule of law, and which promote the concept of 14 such programs as a model for all regions of the Rus-
15 sian Federation.

16 (b) RADIO FREE EUROPE/RADIO LIBERTY AND 17 VOICE OF AMERICA.—Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty
18 and the Voice of America should use new and innovative 19 techniques, in cooperation with local independent media
20 sources, to disseminate information throughout the Rus-
21 sian Federation relating to democracy, free-market eco-22 nomics, the rule of law, and human rights.

1 SEC. 6. AUTHORIZATION OF ASSISTANCE FOR DEMOCRACY,
2 INDEPENDENT MEDIA, AND THE RULE OF
3 LAW.

4 Of the amounts made available to carry out the provi-
5 sion of chapter 11 of part I of the Foreign Assistance Act 6 of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2295 et seq.) and the Freedom for 7 Russia and Emerging Eurasian Democracies and Open 8 Markets Support Act of 1992 for fiscal year 2002, not 9 less than $50,000,000 is authorized to be available for the 10 activities authorized by paragraphs (2) and (3) of section 11 498 of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as amended 12 by section 4(a) of this Act.

13 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

14 This Act may be cited as the “Russian Democracy Act 15 of 2002”.

16 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

17 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

18 (1) Since the dissolution of the Soviet Union, the 19 leadership of the Russian Federation has publicly
20 committed itself to building—

21 (A) a society with democratic political in-
22 stitutions and practices, the observance of uni-
23 versally recognized standards of human rights,
24 and religious and press freedom; and

1 (B) a market economy based on inter-
2 nationally accepted principles of transparency,
3 accountability, and the rule of law.

4 (2) In order to facilitate this transition, the
5 international community has provided multilateral
6 and bilateral technical assistance, and the United 7 States' contribution to these efforts has played an im-8 portant role in developing new institutions built on 9 democratic and liberal economic foundations and the 10 rule of law.

11 (3)(A) Since 1992, United States Government
12 democratic reform programs and public diplomacy
13 programs, including training, and small grants have 14 provided access to and training in the use of the 15 Internet, brought nearly 40,000 Russian citizens to 16 the United States, and have led to the establishment 17 of more than 65,000 nongovernmental organizations, 18 thousands of independent local media outlets, despite 19 governmental opposition, and numerous political par-20 ties.

21 (B) These efforts contributed to the substantially 22 free and fair Russian parliamentary elections in 23 1995 and 1999.

24 (4) The United States has assisted Russian ef-
25 forts to replace its centrally planned, state-controlled

1 economy with a market economy and helped create
2 institutions and infrastructure for a market economy.
3 Approximately two-thirds of the Russian Federation's
4 gross domestic product is now generated by the pri-
5 vate sector, and the United States recognized Russia
6 as a market economy on June 7, 2002.

7 (5)(A) The United States has fostered grassroots
8 entrepreneurship in the Russian Federation by focus- 9 ing United States economic assistance on small- and 10 medium-sized businesses and by providing training, 11 consulting services, and small loans to more than 12 250,000 Russian entrepreneurs.

13 (B) There are now more than 900,000 small 14 businesses in the Russian Federation, producing 12 to 15 15 percent, depending on the estimate, of the gross do-
16 mestic product of the Russian Federation.

17 (C) United States-funded programs have contrib- 18 uted to fighting corruption and financial crime, such 19 as money laundering, by helping to—

20 (i) establish a commercial legal infrastruc-
21 ture;

22 (ii) develop an independent judiciary;

23 (iii) support the drafting of a new criminal
24 code, civil code, and bankruptcy law;

1 (iv) develop a legal and regulatory frame-
2 work for the Russian Federation's equivalent of 3 the United States Securities and Exchange Com-
4 mission;

5 (v) support Russian law schools;

6 (vi) create legal aid clinics; and

7 (vii) bolster law-related activities of non-
8 governmental organizations.

9 (6) Because the capability of Russian democratic 10 forces and the civil society to organize and defend 11 democratic gains without international support is un-12 certain, and because the gradual integration of the 13 Russian Federation into the global order of free-mar-
14 ket, democratic nations would enhance Russian co-15 operation with the United States on a wide range of 16 political, economic, and security issues, the success of 17 democracy in Russia is in the national security inter-
18 est of the United States, and the United States Gov-19 ernment should develop a far-reaching and flexible 20 strategy aimed at strengthening Russian society's 21 support for democracy and a market economy, par-
22 ticularly by enhancing Russian democratic institu-23 tions and education, promoting the rule of law, and 24 supporting Russia's independent media.

1 (7) Since the tragic events of September 11,
2 2001, the Russian Federation has stood with the
3 United States and the rest of the civilized world in 4 the struggle against terrorism and has cooperated in 5 the war in Afghanistan by sharing intelligence and 6 through other means.

7 (8) United States-Russia relations have im-
8 proved, leading to a successful summit between Presi-
9 dent Bush and President Putin in May 2002, result- 10 ing in a “Foundation for Cooperation”.

11 (b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this Act are—

12 (1) to strengthen and advance institutions of 13 democratic government and of free and independent 14 media, and to sustain the development of an inde-
15 pendent civil society in the Russian Federation based 16 on religious and ethnic tolerance, internationally rec-
17 ognized human rights, and an internationally recog- 18 nized rule of law; and

19 (2) to focus United States foreign assistance pro-
20 grams on using local expertise and to give local orga-
21 nizations a greater role in designing and imple-
22 menting such programs, while maintaining appro-
23 prate oversight and monitoring.

1 SEC. 3. UNITED STATES POLICY TOWARD THE RUSSIAN
2 FEDERATION.

3 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress
4 that the United States Government should—

5 (1) recognize that a democratic and economically
6 stable Russian Federation is inherently less
7 confrontational and destabilizing in its foreign policy
8 and therefore that the promotion of democracy in
9 Russia is in the national security interests of the 10 United States; and

11 (2) continue and increase assistance to the demo- 12 cratic forces in the Russian Federation, including the 13 independent media, regional administrations, demo-
14 cratic political parties, and nongovernmental organi-
15 zations.

16 (b) STATEMENT OF POLICY.—It shall be the policy of 17 the United States—

18 (1) to facilitate Russia's integration into the
19 Western community of nations, including supporting
20 the establishment of a stable democracy and a market 21 economy within the framework of the rule of law and 22 respect for individual rights, including Russia's mem-
23 bership in the appropriate international institutions;

24 (2) to engage the Government of the Russian 25 Federation and Russian society in order to strengthen 26 democratic reform and institutions, and to promote

1 transparency and good governance in all aspects of 2 society, including fair and honest business practices,
3 accessible and open legal systems, freedom of religion,
4 and respect for human rights;

5 (3) to advance a dialogue among United States
6 Government officials, private sector individuals, and 7 representatives of the Government of the Russian Fed-
8 eration regarding Russia's integration into the West-
9 ern community of nations;

10 (4) to encourage United States Government offi-
11 cial and private sector individuals to meet regularly
12 with democratic activists, human rights activists, rep-
13 resentatives of the independent media, representatives 14 of nongovernmental organizations, civic organizers, 15 church officials, and reform-minded politicians from 16 Moscow and all other regions of the Russian Federa-
17 tion;

18 (5) to incorporate democratic reforms, the pro-
19 motion of independent media, and economic reforms
20 in a broader United States dialogue with the Govern-
21 ment of the Russian Federation;

22 (6) to encourage the Government of the Russian
23 Federation to address, in a cooperative and trans-
24 parent manner consistent with internationally recog- 25 nized and accepted principles, cross-border issues, in-

1 cluding the nonproliferation of weapons of mass de-
2 struction, environmental degradation, crime, traf-
3 ficking, and corruption;

4 (7) to consult with the Government of the Rus-
5 sian Federation and the Russian Parliament on the
6 adoption of economic and social reforms necessary to
7 sustain Russian economic growth and to ensure Rus-
8 sia's transition to a fully functioning market economy
9 and membership in the World Trade Organization;

10 (8) to persuade the Government of the Russian
11 Federation to honor its commitments made to the Or-
12 ganization for Security and Cooperation in Europe
13 (OSCE) at the November 1999 Istanbul Conference, 14 and to conduct a genuine good neighbor policy toward 15 the other independent states of the former Soviet 16 Union in the spirit of internationally accepted prin- 17 ciples of regional cooperation; and

18 (9) to encourage the G-8 partners and inter-
19 national financial institutions, including the World
20 Bank, the International Monetary Fund, and the Eu- 21 ropean Bank for Reconstruction and Development, to 22 develop financial safeguards and transparency prac-
23 tices in lending to the Russian Federation.

1 (3) support the Regional Initiatives (RI) pro-
2 gram, which provides targeted assistance in those re-
3 gions of the Russian Federation that have dem-
4 onstrated a commitment to reform, democracy, and 5 the rule of law, and which promotes the concept of 6 such programs as a model for all regions of the *Rus-
7 sian Federation*.

8 (b) RADIO FREE EUROPE/RADIO LIBERTY AND VOICE
9 OF AMERICA.—RFE/RL, Incorporated, and the Voice of 10 America should use new and innovative techniques, in co-11 operation with local independent media sources and using 12 local languages as appropriate and as possible, to dissemi-
13 nate throughout the Russian Federation information relat-
14 ing to democracy, free-market economics, the rule of law, 15 and human rights.

16 SEC. 6. AUTHORIZATION OF ASSISTANCE FOR DEMOCRACY,
17 INDEPENDENT MEDIA, AND THE RULE OF
18 LAW.
