1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

2 Congress makes the following findings:
(1) Nine out of 10 Americans think the United States health care system needs fundamental changes.

(2) The United States spends approximately 16 percent of its Gross Domestic Product on health care and experts estimate that percentage will rise to 20 percent by 2015.

(3) The Federal Government spends more on health care than it does on national defense.

(4) As much as $1 out of every $4 health care dollars do not go towards making Americans healthy.

(6) Since 2000, premiums for family health coverage have increased by 87 percent, compared with cumulative inflation of 18 percent and cumulative wage growth of 20 percent. During this same period, the percentage of employers offering health benefits has fallen from 69 percent to 61 percent, and the percentage of workers covered by their own employer also has fallen. The current employer-based system offers little choice in health plans to employees: 88 percent of American firms offer only 1 health plan type.

(7) Medicaid was designed as a safety net to ensure that the poorest Americans have access to health care at a cost of $1,000,000,000 in its first year. Today, more than 1 out of every 6 Americans is in Medicaid at a total cost of more than $338,000,000,000 in 2006. The program is expected to cost nearly $5,000,000,000,000 over the next decade. In 2003, for the first time ever, Medicaid spending replaced education as the largest component of State budgets, consuming 22 percent of State spending.

(8) The unfunded liabilities of the Medicare Program over the next 75 years are estimated to be $32,100,000,000,000 and $70,500,000,000,000 on the infinite horizon. The Federal Hospital Insurance Trust Fund is projected to be exhausted by 2018. Without any change in the program, Medicare will consume 23.1 percent of all Federal income taxes by 2020 and 37.5 percent of all Federal income taxes by 2030. Under the current system, physician reimbursements will be cut by 34 percent by the year
2015, leading to decreased access to physicians’ services for seniors.

(9) Our current civil justice system is adversely affecting patient access to health care services, better patient care, and cost-efficient health care, in that the health care liability system is a costly and ineffective mechanism for resolving claims of health care liability and compensating injured patients, and is a deterrent to the sharing of information among health care professionals which impedes efforts to improve patient safety and quality of care. Economists estimate that between 5 and 9 percent of health care spending is related to defensive medicine.

(10) The adoption of health information technology will significantly reduce health care spending while simultaneously increasing the quality of health care.

Subtitle C—Interstate Market for Health Insurance

SEC. 321. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as “Health Care Choice Act of 2007”.
SEC. 322. SPECIFICATION OF CONSTITUTIONAL AUTHORITY FOR ENACTMENT OF LAW.

This subtitle is enacted pursuant to the power granted Congress under article I, section 8, clause 3, of the United States Constitution.

SEC. 323. FINDINGS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) The application of numerous and significant variations in State law impacts the ability of insurers to offer, and individuals to obtain, affordable individual health insurance coverage, thereby impeding commerce in individual health insurance coverage.

(2) Individual health insurance coverage is increasingly offered through the Internet, other electronic means, and by mail, all of which are inherently part of interstate commerce.

(3) In response to these issues, it is appropriate to encourage increased efficiency in the offering of individual health insurance coverage through a collaborative approach by the States in regulating this coverage.

(4) The establishment of risk-retention groups has provided a successful model for the sale of insurance across State lines, as the acts establishing those groups allow insurance to be sold in multiple States but regulated by a single State.
