methods against you that can be used against the borrower, such as suing you, garnishing your wages, etc. If this debt is ever in default, that fact may become a part of your credit record.

This notice is not the contract that makes you liable for the debt.

(2) In the case of open-end credit, the disclosure statement shall be given to the cosigner prior to the time that the cosigner becomes obligated for fees or transactions on the account.

(3) A bank that is in compliance with this paragraph may not be held in violation of paragraph (a)(2) of this section.

§227.15 Unfair late charges.

(a) In connection with collecting a debt arising out of an extension of credit to a consumer, it is an unfair act or practice for a bank to levy or collect any delinquency charge on a payment, when the only delinquency is attributable to late fees or delinquency charges assessed on earlier installments, and the payment is otherwise a full payment for the applicable period and is paid on its due date or within an applicable grace period.

(b) For the purposes of this section, collecting a debt means any activity, other than the use of judicial process, that is intended to bring about or does bring about repayment of all or part of money due (or alleged to be due) from a consumer.

§227.16 State exemptions.

(a) General rule. (1) An appropriate state agency may apply to the Board for a determination that:

(i) There is a state requirement or prohibition in effect that applies to any transaction to which a provision of this subpart applies; and

(ii) The state requirement or prohibition affords a level of protection to consumers that is substantially equivalent to, or greater than, the protection afforded by this subpart.

(2) If the Board makes such a determination, the provision of this subpart will not be in effect in that state to the extent specified by the Board in its determination, for as long as the state administers and enforces the state requirement or prohibition effectively. (b) Applications. The procedures under which a state agency may apply for an exemption under this section are the same as those set forth in appendix B to Regulation Z (12 CFR part 226).

Subpart C—Consumer Credit Card Account Practices Rule

SOURCE: Reg. AA, 74 FR 5559, Jan. 29, 2009, unless otherwise noted.

EFFECTIVE DATE NOTE: At 74 FR 5559, Jan. 29, 2009, subpart C to part 227 was added, effective July 1, 2010.

§227.21 Definitions.

For purposes of this subpart, the following definitions apply: (a) "Annual percentage rate" means

(a) "Annual percentage rate" means the product of multiplying each periodic rate for a balance or transaction on a consumer credit card account by the number of periods in a year. The term "periodic rate" has the same meaning as in 12 CFR 226.2.

(b) "Consumer" means a natural person to whom credit is extended under a consumer credit card account or a natural person who is a co-obligor or guarantor of a consumer credit card account.

(c) "Consumer credit card account" means an account provided to a consumer primarily for personal, family, or household purposes under an openend credit plan that is accessed by a credit card or charge card. The terms "open-end credit," "credit card," and "charge card" have the same meanings as in 12 CFR 226.2. The following are not consumer credit card accounts for purposes of this subpart:

(1) Home equity plans subject to the requirements of 12 CFR 226.5b that are accessible by a credit or charge card;

(2) Overdraft lines of credit tied to asset accounts accessed by check-guarantee cards or by debit cards;

(3) Lines of credit accessed by checkguarantee cards or by debit cards that can be used only at automated teller machines; and

(4) Lines of credit accessed solely by account numbers.

§227.22 Unfair acts or practices regarding time to make payment.

(a) General rule. Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, a bank
