§ 31.3401(a)(17)–1

Remuneration for services performed on a boat engaged in catching fish.

(a) Remuneration for services performed on or after December 31, 1954, by an individual on a boat engaged in catching fish or other forms of aquatic animal life (hereinafter "fish") is excepted from wages and hence is not subject to withholding if—

1. The individual receives a share of the boat’s (or boats’ for a fishing operation involving more than one boat) catch of fish or a share of the proceeds from the sale of the catch,

2. The amount of the individual’s share depends solely on the amount of the boat’s (or boats’ for a fishing operation involving more than one boat) catch of fish,

3. The individual does not receive, and is not entitled to receive, any cash remuneration, other than remuneration that is described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph,

4. The crew of the boat (or of each boat from which the individual receives a share of the catch) normally is made up of fewer than 10 individuals.

(b) The requirement of paragraph (a)(2) of this section is not satisfied if there exists an agreement with the boat’s (or boats’) owner or operator by which the individual’s remuneration is determined partially or fully by a factor not dependent on the size of the catch. For example, if a boat is operated under a remuneration arrangement, e.g., a union contract, which specifies that crew members, in addition to receiving a share of the catch,
§ 31.3401(a)(18)–1 Payments or benefits under a qualified educational assistance program.

A payment made, or benefit furnished, to or for the benefit of an employee in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1978, does not constitute wages and hence is not subject to withholding if, at the time of such payment or furnishing, it is reasonable to believe that the employee will be able to exclude such payment or benefit from income under section 127.

§ 31.3401(a)(19)–1 Reimbursements under a self-insured medical reimbursement plan.

Amounts reimbursed to or on behalf of an employee after December 31, 1979, as a medical care reimbursement under a self-insured medical reimbursement plan (within the meaning of section 105(h)(6)) do not constitute wages and hence are not subject to withholding even though such reimbursement is includible in the gross income of an employee. For rules with respect to self-insured medical reimbursement plans, see section 105(h) and §1.105–11 of this Chapter (Income Tax Regulations).

(Secs. 105(h) and 7805 Internal Revenue Code of 1984; 94 Stat. 2855, 68A Stat. 917 (26 U.S.C. 105(h) and 7805))

§ 31.3401(b)–1 Payroll period.

(a) The term payroll period means the period of service for which a payment of wages is ordinarily made to an employee by his employer. It is material that the wages are not always paid at regular intervals. For example, if an employer ordinarily pays a particular employee for each calendar week at the end of the week, but if for some reason the employee in a given week receives a payment in the middle of the week for the portion of the week already elapsed and receives the remainder at the end of the week, the payroll period is still the calendar week; or if, instead, that employee is sent on a 3-week trip by his employer and receives at the end of the trip a single wage payment for three weeks’ services, the payroll period is still the calendar week, and the wage payment shall be treated as though it were three separate weekly wage payments.

(b) For the purpose of section 3402, an employee can have but one payroll period with respect to wages paid by any one employer. Thus, if an employee is paid a regular wage for a weekly payroll period and in addition thereto is paid supplemental wages (for example, bonuses) determined with respect to a different period, the payroll period is the weekly payroll period. For computation of tax on supplemental wage payments, see §31.3402(g)–1.

(c) The term payroll period also means the period of accrual of supplemental unemployment compensation benefits for which a payment of such benefits is ordinarily made. Thus if benefits are ordinarily accrued and paid on a monthly basis, the payroll period is deemed to be monthly.

(d) The term miscellaneous payroll period means a payroll period other than...
