

interests will continue to deteriorate with potentially disastrous consequences.

While our Armed Forces have been forced to work within greatly increased budget restraints, they have been deployed on more peacetime and humanitarian missions per year than ever before—missions that were often unplanned and unbudgeted. Besides humanitarian and peacekeeping operations already underway in Rwanda, Bosnia, and the Middle East, the U.S. faced several new missions including military intervention in Haiti, preemptive buildups in Kuwait and Korea and the movement of forces off the coast of Somalia to assist the withdrawal of U.N. personnel. Nearly 100,000 troops have been deployed on these operations in just the past 4 months, and almost 50,000 remain deployed today. The costs of such demanding efforts totals over $2.5 billion.

Mr. Speaker, such costs do not begin to reveal the effects of these deployments on troop morale and readiness. In fact, to finance these operations the Department of Defense uses operation and maintenance accounts which results in funds being diverted from critical tasks such as training, base support operations and equipment maintenance. I am pleased that today we approved a supplemental appropriation to cover these costs and to prevent damage to the readiness and training of our troops.

However, today's appropriation does not address the manner in which this President and the civilian leadership at the Pentagon are committing our diminishing defense resources both unilaterally and through multilateral operations with the United Nations. Haiti is just a recent example of our military forces being placed at serious risk in pursuit of ill-defined objectives outside the scope of their traditional and essential mission of protecting the national security interests of the United States. H.R. 872 will drastically reform our Nation's contributions to the United Nations and U.N. operations, and gives Congress a greater say in committing troops abroad.

The National Security Revitalization Act recognizes a fundamental reality about U.S. involvement in the United Nations—while the price tag for peacekeeping has skyrocketed, the United Nation has had little success making any country more peaceful. In fact, the term "U.N. peacekeeping" has virtually become a cruel oxymoron. There is no better illustration of this than the war in the former Yugoslavia. It is the United Nation's most expensive operation at $1.6 billion a year, of which the United States is billed for about 31.7 percent or about $500 million annually. Money which has purchased little in the way of peace.

H.R. 872 will fight the growing influence of the United Nation's over America's troops and budget. The measure would deduct from our Nations' annual United Nation peacekeeping dues the extra costs the Pentagon incurs in United States-let military missions that receive the blessing of the United Nation—like Haiti. In addition, the bill prohibits American troops from serving under U.N. commanders unless the President cites a national security need.

Mr. Speaker, approval of the National Security Revitalization Act is good news for U.S. foreign policy and U.S. taxpayers. It is high time we reaffirmed our Nation's commitment to a strong national defense and reigned in U.N. peacekeeping which is out of control.

NO INVITATION EXTENDED TO KURT WALDHEIM

HON. CHARLES E. SCHUMER

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, February 23, 1995

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to bring to the attention of my colleagues the decision of Secretary General Boutros Boutros-Ghali not to invite Kurt Waldheim to speak at the festivities surrounding the 50th anniversary celebration of the United Nations. I applaud the Secretary General's decision that such invitation would not be appropriate in light of the fact that the information revealed about Waldheim's past would certainly have disqualified him from service at the United Nations. I also salute the International Association of Jewish Lawyers and Jurists, American Section, a not-for-profit professional association whose mission is to promote the rule of law, precepts of Judaism, and human rights around the world, for the leadership role it has taken in denouncing efforts to invite Waldheim to participate in the celebration. For the record, I have attached a copy of a letter written by Nathan Lewin, president of the IAJLJ, American Section to Secretary General Boutros Boutros-Ghali which describes their position and their gratitude for the Secretary General's action.

THE INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF JEWISH LAWYERS AND JURISTS,
Washington, DC, February 22, 1995.
Re 50th Anniversary of the U.N. and Waldheim.

Secretary General BOUTROS BOUTROS-GHALI,
United Nations Headquarters, New York, NY.

DEAR MR. SECRETARY GENERAL: On behalf of the International Association of Jewish Lawyers and Jurists, American Section ("IAJLJ"), a non-governmental organization member of the United Nations, I applaud your decision not to invite Kurt Waldheim to participate in the festivities surrounding the 50th anniversary celebration of the United Nations.

Our Board of Governors resolved to oppose Mr. Waldheim's participation in the celebration. The IAJLJ's grave concern with honoring Mr. Waldheim is rooted in his well documented links to Nazi activities during World War II. The information that has been revealed about Mr. Waldheim's past would certainly have disqualified him from service at the United Nations if it had been known at the time. It would, therefore, have been totally inappropriate for the United Nations, which was created to prevent a recurrence of the horrors of World War II, to honor an individual who has been tied to those very horrors.

Accordingly, we applaud the decision to ensure that Mr. Waldheim will neither attend nor participate in the 50th anniversary celebration.

Sincerely yours,

NATHAN LEWIN,
President, American Section.

HONORING TRIO PROGRAMS

HON. ELIOT L. ENGEL

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, February 23, 1995

Mr. ENGEL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take this opportunity to praise a series of Federal education programs, known as TRIO, which allow students from needy families overcome barriers that often prevent them from attending college.

This weekend in my district, Fordham University is holding a TRIO Day to spread the word about these worthwhile programs. I commend Dr. Eliot Palais and his staff at Fordham University for the fine work they do in promoting these programs.

TRIO programs include Upward Bound, which assists students from families with incomes under $24,000 where neither parent graduated from college, and Talent Search, the early intervention program that targets young people in grades 6 through 12. Other TRIO programs provide information on academic and financial aid programs and assistance in applying to colleges.

More than 1,200 colleges and agencies now offer TRIO programs serving nearly 700,000 low-income Americans between the ages of 11 and 27. The common bond in all TRIO programs is empowerment. While student financial aid programs help students overcome financial barriers to higher education, TRIO programs help students overcome class, social and cultural barriers to higher education.

Indeed, I know at least two of my distinguished colleagues, Representative CLEO FIELDS of Louisiana and Representative ALBERT WYNN of Maryland, who participated in TRIO programs. They are among thousands of Americans who can attest to the power and effectiveness of TRIO.

I am deeply committed to maintaining and expanding programs of this nature. They represent the highest aspirations of our Nation and enjoy the support of the American people. When we allow all our citizen access to education and economic opportunity, we lift our entire Nation to a higher level.

EMERGENCY SUPPLEMENTAL APPROPRIATIONS AND RESCIS- SIONS FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE FOR FISCAL YEAR 1995

SPEECH OF

HON. THOMAS W. EWING

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, February 22, 1995

The House in Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union had under consideration the bill (H.R. 889) making emergency supplemental appropriations and rescissions to preserve and enhance the military readiness of the Department of Defense for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1995, and for other purposes.

Mr. EWING. Mr. Chairman, I rise today in support of H.R. 889, as amended, to include the rescission language of H.R. 845, and to commend House Appropriations Committee Chairman LIVINGSTON for including offsetting rescissions from current expenditures to pay for this, much needed, Department of Defense supplemental appropriations package. I would also like to thank the members of the conservative Opportunity Society who joined me in supporting termination of the U.S. Air Force's SR-71 Blackbird reconnaissance aircraft reactivation program, which the Appropriations Committee has included in the rescissions package.
