

minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HERGER. Mr. Speaker, severe storms and floods have recently ravaged my home State of California, destroying entire communities and claiming over a dozen lives.

If flood prevention measures had been available to avoid this catastrophe at no cost to our taxpayers, every Member of Congress would have endorsed them. Mr. Speaker, next summer our Nation will face forest fires as destructive as our recent floods. If unchecked, these fire storms will incinerate public resources, homes, and people. Fortunately, the Taylor-Dicks emergency timber salvage amendment to the supplemental appropriations bill before the House today provides national wildfire protection through the removal of deadly natural fuels from our forests—at no cost to our taxpayers.

This is a deal that Americans and Congress simply cannot pass up. I strongly urge my colleagues to support this timely and tax-free legislation.

ETHICS

(Ms. MCKINNEY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. MCKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, it appears my colleagues from the Sixth District of Georgia has a problem recognizing the truth and making up facts to support his medieval ideology. Examples of this include the wasteful Federal shelter that does not even exist, the heart pump that the FDA allegedly refused to approve regardless of the fact that they have not seen it, and his claim that D.C. schools are the most expensive in the country when they are not.

Now it appears that information was withheld from the Ethics Committee about his controversial college course. The ultimate purpose of this tax-exempt course, according to Jeffrey Eisenach, is to, "train by April 1996, 200,000-plus citizens into a model for replacing the welfare state * * *." Sounds like the brown-shirts to me, Mr. Speaker, it is time for an outside counsel.

CONGRESS MUST MAKE BUDGET CUTS

(Mr. SOLOMON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. SOLOMON. Mr. Speaker, we hear a lot from Members saying that we cannot cut this, we cannot cut that. But you know something, we have a budget which is shaped like a pie. A slice of that pie is the debt service, which is the interest we have to pay on a $4.5 trillion debt which, incidentally, is owned by countries like the Netherlands and Great Britain. They actually own this debt, the Treasury bonds.

It takes $250 billion just today, this year, to pay the service on the national debt. If we allow spending to increase at the same level that it has increased over the last 5 years, we will add $1 trillion to the national debt. That means that the slice of the pie will no longer be $250 billion, it will be $360 billion. And as this slice of the pie to pay off the interest on that debt without even lowering the debt grows, it means less money to help those people who truly need help, like the aged, blind, and disabled.

Keep that in mind when Members say do not cut this or do not cut that. We have to cut them all equally.

THE GINGRICH HEALTH CARE PLAN

(Mr. LEWIS of Georgia asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LEWIS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, there is a new health care plan available to some members of the public, it is called Newtcare. Under this plan, you work for a Member of Congress for 1 month each year for just $100, in return you are entitled to the Government's generous health care benefits. Under Newtcare, you will likely save hundreds, perhaps thousands, of dollars on your health care costs.

But wait, this is not a dream or a fantasy, at least for a select few. Last week the Capitol Hill newspaper, Roll Call, reported that a fundraiser for Speaker GINGRICH, Nancy Bocskor, has been put on the Government payroll for 1 month in 1991, 1992, and 1993, enabling her to participate in the Government employee health care plan.

Mr. Speaker, this practice may or may not violate the rules of the House. But it is wrong, just plain wrong. More importantly, this is but the latest example of the Speaker of this House pushing the rules to the limit and, perhaps, crossing the line.

There are many charges, serious charges, swirling around the Speaker of the House. Only an outside, independent counsel, can tell us for sure whether the Speaker has crossed the line. We need an outside counsel and we need one now.

STOPPING RUNAWAY INFLATION

(Mr. BOEHNER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. BOEHNER. Mr. Speaker, in my hand is the most expensive credit card in the history of the world, a credit card that has piled up 4.7 trillion dollars' worth of debt and $247 billion in budget deficits for as far as the eye can see.

This credit card is a voting card for Members of Congress. We are continuing to imprison our children and theirs by this runaway spending.

Today on this floor House Republicans are going to begin the effort to stop this runaway spending with a $17 billion rescission package, and in May we are going to lay out a 7-year plan to balance our budget. And we believe that this year we need to make a significant downpayment on that effort.

We are going to be hearing from the left how we are hurting this and stopping this, all of the pain today. And I will say this: There will be pain today, there will be discomfort, but our effort is to make the courageous decisions to protect our children and their children.

DON EDWARDS SAN FRANCISCO BAY WILDLIFE REFUGE

(Mr. MINETA asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MINETA. Mr. Speaker, today I will introduce legislation to name the San Francisco Bay Wildlife Refuge after our distinguished former colleague Don Edwards.

Without Don Edwards, the creation of this wildlife refuge would have not been possible. Throughout the environmental community, Don is recognized as the father of this precious sanctuary.

Don was successful in passing legislation to establish the refuge by authorizing the Federal Government to acquire 20,000 acres of land around the San Francisco Bay.

In the years following, Don fought to secure appropriations for land acquisition for the refuge, and to expand the authorization of the refuge.

Mr. Speaker, I can think of no more appropriate way to recognize Don Edwards' many years of distinguished service to this body and his constituents than by naming this refuge in his honor.

REPUBLICAN CUTS WILL HURT CHILDREN

(Ms. JACKSON-LEE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. JACKSON-LEE. Mr. Speaker, I listened carefully last evening to the remarks of a Republican Member and other colleagues from the other side of the aisle as they rose in protest of what they want America to believe is the big lie.

They say Democrats are lying about the proposed cuts to school lunch and breakfast programs. They say that they are not really cutting the critically important programs, they are only slowing the rate at which they will be allowed to grow; except hungry stomachs continue to grow. They say they are not really cutting these.

Well, Mr. Speaker, because of the Department of Education figures that project that the population of elementary and schoolchildren will increase substantially, some 8 percent during the same period that the GOP spending cuts will slow the rate of growth for nutrition programs, the net result is not a big lie, it is a big cut.

Mr. Speaker, I am new to this body, but as one who has kept a watchful eye on its goings on, I can clearly remember year after year Republican charges that Democrats are cutting defense when in fact Democrats only sought to slow the growth of Pentagon spending.

What is good for the goose is good for the gander, Mr. Speaker. My colleagues from the other side of the aisle cannot have it both ways.

When the tax cut is going to help not working Americans but those who have it already, I would say let the other guys miss a meal. I do not want our children to miss a meal. Let us not cut school breakfast and school lunches. Our children of America simply need to eat.
