

ability to affect the massive human tragedy taking place in Ireland, but it was a generous symbol of the compassion of the Choctaw Nation for those in desperate need. Sixteen years before the famine began, the Choctaws themselves were the victims of a forced displacement following passage of the Indian Removal Act of 1830, which compelled most Native Americans to move west of the Mississippi River. Many died on the journey known as the Trail of Tears. Yet despite their own tragic circumstances, the Choctaw reached out to the Irish people, whom they saw as more in pain and in need than themselves.

Earlier this year, President Mary Robinson of Ireland visited the tribal headquarters of the Choctaw Nation in Durant, OK, to thank the Choctaws personally for their ancestors' extraordinary generosity to the Irish people. President Robinson often evokes the story of the Choctaw Nation when talking about the Famine and about how the echoes of Ireland's tragic past continue to reverberate in Ireland today, giving the Irish a special affinity for those around the world who face hunger and oppression.

Everyone familiar with global humanitarian efforts knows that Irish aid workers are often the first to arrive to help at places of devastation around the world. President Robinson herself was one of the first to visit Somalia, and to call the world's attention to the starvation there.

His Eminence Bernard Cardinal Law, the Archbishop of Boston, recently informed me that Irish-Americans in Mississippi will honor the Choctaw Nation on September 9 and 10 with a picnic at the Jim Buck Ross Agricultural Museum in Jackson, MS. The sponsors are hopeful that Irish-Americans in other parts of the country will enhance the success of this tribute. Anyone interested in learning more about this auspicious occasion should contact Mr. Sean McGuinness at the Celtic-American Heritage Society, Post Office Box 5166, Jackson, MS 39296-5166.

I commend the Hibernian Society for this well-deserved honor for the Choctaw Nation.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF POSITION ON VOTE

Mr. HOLLINGS. Mr. President, earlier today the Senate held three roll-call votes relating to United States policy in Bosnia. Regrettably, I was necessarily absent during these votes due to my attendance at a funeral in South Carolina. Had I been present at the time, I would have voted for the Cohen amendment, for the Nunn-Graham amendment, and for final passage of the Dole-Lieberman bill (S. 21). I thank my colleagues for the opportunity to state my position and I thank the Chair.

TRIBUTE TO MARLA GARBER

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. President, I rise today to share with you the story of Marla Garber, a free spirit who rode the length and breadth of the United States on her motorcycle accompanied only by her dog Skooter.

She was a remarkable young woman; one of those "rugged individualists," constantly seeking adventure in her life and traveling into the depths of the country in her pursuit of it. She shared the stories of the fascinating people she met on her journey's and the memories of the places she had seen with much of the American public, writing for several motorcycle magazines. In this way, she was able to leave her mark on society and the people of the country.

Marla Garber was a woman of vision and strength, a pioneer in her time. A friend of hers described her as one of those who "followed their callings to and beyond the ends of the known world and came back overflowing with stories of strange places * * * and wondrous things they'd seen." Marla Garber was unique for this day and age, and I admire her spirit.

We all suffer from her loss, as surely as we all benefitted from having her among us.
