ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

LEE ROY SELMON

• Mr. MACK. Mr. President, my good friend and colleague, the senior Senator from Florida, BOB GRAHAM, joins me today on this occasion to honor one of the greatest football players of all time, Lee Roy Selmon.

Lee Roy Selmon was born on October 20, 1954 in Eufaula, OK to Lucious and Jessie Selmon. He played football at Eufaula High School before earning a scholarship to the University of Oklahoma in 1972. He led the Sooners to the national championship while earning a number of post-season individual awards. He was selected to the All Big Eight Conference team his junior and senior years. He was also selected a Consensus All-American and won both the Outland and Lombardi trophies for best collegiate lineman.

In 1976, he became the first draft pick in the history of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers' organization. The Bucs selected Lee Roy not only for his outstanding football ability, but also for his extraordinary leadership and work ethic.

Lee Roy played each game with tremendous tenacity, both physically and mentally. Despite the fact that he was consistently being double and triple teamed throughout his illustrious 10-year career, he still registered an amazing 78½ sacks. His inspirational play was instrumental in guiding the Tampa Bay Buccaneers to their only NFC Championship game appearance in 1979. He went on to play in six consecutive Pro Bowls, earn three All-Pro selections and win the NFL Players Association's NFC Defensive Lineman of the Year Award.

Lee Roy's rare combination of strength, speed and agility transformed the way in which future players would play his position.

On July 29th of this year, Lee Roy was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. In doing so, he became the first Buccaneer to accomplish this feat. Lee Roy on his induction stated, “It's more than a dream come true because I never dreamt it. I'm very humbled by it and very thankful for it. I guess sometimes when you don't dream things yourself, then other people have bigger dreams for you.”

Lee Roy's accomplishments are not limited to his play on the gridiron. Since his retirement in 1984, he has remained active in local community efforts.

Lee Roy has always approached his off the field endeavors with the same tenacity that characterized his play on the field. He was chosen one of America's Ten Outstanding Young Men by the United States Jaycees and selected Kiwanis Citizen of the Year for Florida's west coast.

Currently, Lee Roy serves as an associate athletic director at the University of South Florida, where he has been the driving force behind USF's efforts to field an intercollegiate football team.

Mr. President, it is an honor for us, as United States Senators from the great State of Florida, to recognize a man that is revered by many, respected by many more, and well-liked by all. Lee Roy Selmon; a hero in every sense of the word.●

TRIBUTE TO VALORIE J. WATKINS, REGIONAL DIRECTOR FOR SENATOR LARRY CRAIG

• Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to an outstanding staff member of mine, Valorie J. Watkins who has served diligently as my regional director in eastern Idaho over the last several years.

Valorie's tenure as a congressional staff member has been long and distinguished. She has worked in the U.S. Congress for close to 25 years but now moves on to another position as director of alumni relations at Idaho State University in Pocatello, ID.

I have enjoyed working with Valorie over the years. Her leadership, insightful recommendations, and attitude toward serving others have been indispensable to my responsibility of effectively serving the great people of the State of Idaho.

Valorie was born in Pocatello, ID. A long time resident of eastern Idaho, she
