

CONSUMER REPORTS LABELS GOP
MEDICAID PROPOSAL BUM DEAL
FOR AMERICAN FAMILIES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of May 12, 1995, the gentlewoman from Connecticut [Ms. DELAURO] is recognized during morning business for 5 minutes.

Ms. DELAURO. Mr. Speaker, I would just say to the prior speaker that, in fact, that credit counselor would say, "You are crazy." Crazy that in a difficult time economically for our country, that we are about to provide a $245 billion tax break for the wealthiest Americans. That is a free lunch for the wealthiest Americans.

Mr. Speaker, we have spent a lot of time in this Congress talking about the cuts in Medicare contained in the GOP budget. Democrats believe that those cuts go too far, too fast and would be harmful to the 37 million seniors who rely on Medicare for their basic health care.

But, it isn't just Medicare cuts which threaten the health security of our senior citizens. The proposed budget also makes deep cuts in Medicaid which put seniors and their families at risk.

Last week, the Consumers Union, better known as the publisher of Consumer Reports, warned that the Medicaid overhaul would add significant new financial burdens on husbands, wives, and adult children of nursing home residents that could force families into poverty. The group estimates that the $163 billion in proposed cuts will cause hundreds and thousands of nursing home residents to lose their Medicaid coverage.

We all know Consumer Reports as the publication that tells us if we're getting a good deal or a bum deal on a new car or a new computer. This time, they've looked at the Republican Medicaid proposal from a consumer's point of view and have declared it a bum deal for American families.

Currently, Medicaid covers 60 percent of nursing home patients nationwide. The average cost of nursing home care is approximately $38,000 a year. Without Medicaid, nursing home care would be beyond the reach of middle-income Americans.

According to the Consumers Union, families of nursing home residents can expect the following changes if these Medicaid changes are approved:

Adult children may be held financially liable for the nursing home bills of their parents.

Family assets including homes may be sold or seized by Medicaid liens.

No one is guaranteed Medicaid nursing home eligibility; States may set unreasonably low income levels so that thousands of people will be denied help in paying the high costs of nursing home care.

Families may be forced to spend their life savings for long-term care of a loved one.

A representative from the National Senior Citizens Law Center, Patricia Nemore, said of these changes: "Congress is taking us back to a time when it was commonplace for Americans to lose their homes and their life savings to ensure that their husbands, wives, or parents had adequate nursing home care." She is right, this policy is wrong.

Yesterday, I met with people in my district who have parents in nursing homes. They told me that these changes would be devastating to their attempts to take care of their parents in their old age.

Jack and Patricia D'Urso of Branford, CT, have seven children and two parents, both in nursing homes. Without the help of Medicaid, they don't know how they would care for their parents. While comfortable in their retirement, they simply do not have the resources to pay approximately $80,000 a year to pay for long-term care of two parents.

Zelda Cooper of Hamden, CT, has two parents receiving nursing home care. She could not believe that Congress would consider ending the guaranteed coverage that her family relies on and has no idea how she would care for her parents should they be forced out of their nursing home.

Now, my Republican colleagues have made much ado of late about losing their message on the budget. They theorize that the American people aren't with them because they haven't heard the Republican message. The opposite is true. The message is coming through loud and clear to the American people. In fact, the more the American people know, the less they like the Gingrich budget.

It's not a bad message that is hurting Republicans, it's bad policy. It is bad policy to ask families to hawk their homes to pay for the nursing home care for loved ones. It is bad policy to impoverish middle-income families to balance the budget. That's why Consumer Reports has labeled the GOP Medicaid proposal is a bum deal for American families.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. EVERETT). Pursuant to clause 12 of rule I, the Chair declares the House in recess until 2 p.m. today.

Accordingly (at 1 o'clock and 20 minutes p.m.), the House stood in recess until 2 p.m.

□ 1400

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Speaker at 2 p.m.

PRAYER

Rabbi Motty Berger, Aish HaTorah Yeshiva, Jerusalem, offered the following prayer:

In a sorely troubled world, filled with all too much hatred, violence, and human misery, we pray to You, dear God, for divine guidance; such guidance is needed for all of us, in and out of government, as we work toward a better day for all mankind. We pray to You, our Father, who taught us to love our neighbors and to seek peace, to imbue us with both the wisdom and the will to apply Your teachings in relations between nations as well as between individuals. Let us reflect on the enormous power available to mankind, power which we may use for good or evil, to build or to destroy. It is ours to choose: life or death. May we be inspired by the prophetic message, "Not by might, nor by power, but by My spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts," and thereby choose life. Amen.

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER. The Chair has examined the Journal of the last day's proceedings and announces to the House his approval thereof.

Pursuant to clause 1, rule I, the Journal stands approved.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. BARR] come forward and lead the House in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mr. BARR led the Pledge of Allegiance as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

WELCOME TO RABBI BERGER

(Mr. DEUTSCH asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DEUTSCH. Mr. Speaker, it gives me great pleasure to introduce Rabbi Motty Berger who gave the opening prayer of today's session of the House of Representatives. I was fortunate enough to meet Rabbi Berger several years ago at the College of Jewish Studies in Jerusalem where my wife and I enrolled in one of his courses on Jewish philosophy. During a time of tremendous transition in the Jewish community, I found Rabbi Berger to be an extremely perceptive speaker on topics surrounding the heritage of the Jewish people. He talked passionately about his desire to promote the continuity of Jewish traditions and values.

Rabbi Berger was born and raised in the United States and after graduating high school attended Ner Israel Rabbinical School in Baltimore. After completing his rabbinical studies, he went on to teach Jewish philosophy in Jerusalem and became extremely active with the Aish HaTorah organization. This yeshiva has dedicated itself to creating a warm environment that promotes Jewish unity. With that said,
