□ 1329

The Clerk announced the following pairs:

On this vote:
Mr. Hoke for, with Mr. DeFazio against.
Mr. McIntosh for, with Mr. Pastor against.
Mr. GORDON changed his vote from "yea" to "nay."
So the motion to lay on the table the appeal of the ruling of the Chair was agreed to.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.
A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. PORTMAN. Mr. Speaker, because of inclement weather in my district, I was not in attendance for two recorded votes, rollcall vote No. 1 and rollcall vote No. 2.
Had I been in attendance, I would have voted "present" on rollcall vote No. 1 and "yea" on rollcall vote No. 2.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mrs. MALONEY. Mr. Speaker, I was unavoidably detained in my district this morning due to weather.
Had I been present, I would have voted "present" on rollcall vote No. 1, and "nay" on rollcall vote No. 2.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. GILMAN. Mr. Speaker, I was unavoidably delayed during rollcall No. 1, a quorum call, and rollcall No. 2, a motion to appeal the ruling of the Chair. Had I been present, I would have voted "present" on rollcall No. 1, and "aye" on rollcall No. 2.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. WALKER). The Chair announces that by agreement, the 1-minutes will be limited to 15 people on each side.

TRIBUTE TO ANNE NOEL FAZIO

(Mr. LEWIS of California asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LEWIS of California. Mr. Speaker, I come to the House floor to share some sad news with our colleagues this morning. Anne Noel Fazio, the youngest daughter of our good friend and colleague, VIC FAZIO, died on Sunday after a 9-year battle with leukemia. She was 22.

As many of you know, Anne was a fighter. When faced with the most difficult circumstances, this courageous woman forced her energy on living. She never gave up.

After a successful bone marrow transplant in 1987, Anne graduated from C.K. McClatchey High School in 1991. She earned a degree in history from the University of California, Davis last year. She also served as president of the Tri Delta Sorority.

Mr. Speaker, I would ask Members to join me in a moment of quiet reflection to honor Anne Fazio's memory and to remember our friend VIC FAZIO and his family during this difficult time.

Mr. MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. LEWIS of California. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman very much for taking the well. He expresses all of our feelings who are devastated by Anne's death, and we share in the tragedy that VIC and his family are going through today, and we wish them the very, very best.

I thank the gentleman very much for his remarks and for bringing this before the House.

GOVERNMENT SHUTDOWN CAUSES GOVERNMENT WASTE

(Mr. DEUTSCH asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DEUTSCH. Mr. Speaker, when my Republican colleagues came to Congress, they promised us that they would run government like a business. Well, think about this business.

There is a disagreement between the CEO and the board of directors, and what they decide to do is furlough the workers and pay them; and that is what has been going on for the last 19 days. We have furloughed the workers and we have paid them, and it has cost us $40 million a day for 19 days, three-quarters of a billion dollars, by those people who have promised us to run government like a business.

Let us see what we have done with $40 billion, $80 billion, $120 billion, $160 billion.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

The Member is reminded that he should make his point with his speech rather than using props that are demeaning to the proceedings of the House.

BALANCE THE BUDGET IN 7 YEARS

(Mr. HAYWORTH asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HAYWORTH. Mr. Speaker, I watched with interest the befuddled stage business just preceding me in the well of this House, and as my good friend from Florida was flummoxed trying to make an argument for fiscal conservatism, it bears out the point that for the last 40 years, those proponents of tax-and-spend and spend-some-more will do anything to change the subject.

Mr. Speaker, the mission is clear: Balance the budget in 7 years using the honest, nonpartisan numbers of the Congressional Budget Office. Sure, the liberals will try to change the subject. Sure, they will try to act as if they are born-again fiscal conservatives, but just as that flummoxed piece of stage crap indicates, it will not wash.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH

(Ms. DELAURO asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. DELAURO. Mr. Speaker, enough is enough—that is what the majority leader of the other body said yesterday about the game of political blackmail being played by the Republican Party.

The President, Democrats, and responsible Republicans all agree that it is time to end the Government shutdown and allow Federal employees to go back to work. It is time for Speaker GINGRICH and the right-wing extremists in the House of Representatives to release these 260,000 political prisoners.

Federal employees should not have to pay for the failings of Congress. That is why I am reimbursing the U.S. Treasury for my salary for every day of the shutdown. If Federal workers are not being paid, neither should Members of Congress.

"I think we've made our point," said the Senate majority leader about the Republican shutdown. But, sadly, the only point that Republicans are making by shutting down the Government is that they are unfit to lead.

PUT BLAME WHERE IT BELONGS

(Mr. EWING asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, the time has long passed when we should have balanced our budget. The last speaker is absolutely right, enough is enough. I do not see any sense in what is happening.

At the White House, the President has refused consistently to live up to his agreement to balance the budget in 7 years with CBO numbers. All he sent us is a budget that is $200 billion a year out of balance. It is time we get to it.

The House Republicans have pledged to put everything on the table, to discuss everything, but we cannot get meaningful discussions with the White House.

Let us put the blame where it belongs. Let us put the pressure where it belongs. Mr. President, enough is enough.

NO POLITICAL TOUCHDOWNS

(Mr. WISE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WISE. Mr. Speaker, if the Congress were a New Year's bowl game, then the legislative Heisman Trophy has to go to House Republican new Members for most successful tackles of a Federal Government: 19 days so far.

No one is scoring political touchdowns in this, Mr. Speaker. The public is throwing the yellow flag on all of our Houses, including this one.

My constituents have gone from expressing general frustration to specific anger. They are asking about the thousands of passports that are not being processed, the private vendors who are not being paid, the 2,500 housing loans a day not being processed, the $40 million a day of small business loan guarantees not being processed, millions of dollars a day in export licenses not being issued.

One Federal supervisor in Charleston told me, BOB, we run complex operations. You cannot turn us on and off like a switch. A Federal fraud investigator reminded me that he cannot be ferreting out millions of dollars in fraud from a furloughed status.

Mr. Speaker, while the budget negotiators do their work, this House should let hundreds of thousands of Federal workers do their work. Please end this shutdown now.

LET US STAND FOR A BALANCED BUDGET

(Mr. KINGSTON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. KINGSTON. Mr. Speaker, there are really two reasons why we need to balance the budget. The first one is that the interest is the third largest expenditure in the national budget each year.

In 2 years we will be paying the bondholders on our national debt more money than we pay for our entire Defense Department. We pay $20 billion each month to the bondholders on our national debt, $20 billion that could be spent on education, on health care, Medicare, Medicaid, whatever you want; $20 billion is absolutely gone except for going into the pockets of bondholders; and that debt, ladies and gentlemen, is going to be passed back to the children of America.

The second reason is, we want to balance the budget. If we do, we can reduce interest rates. Lower interest rates mean businesses can expand. More jobs will be created, more opportunities; home mortgages will go down, automobile payments each month will go down. It is prosperity that we have to gain.

I, Mr. Speaker, stand for a balanced budget and I wish that every Member of the House would do the same.

MORE JOBS LOST FOR AMERICANS

(Mr. TRAFICANT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. TRAFICANT. Mr. Speaker, AT&T just laid off 40,000 American workers. AT&T laid off 40,000 American workers, another 40,000 folks. In case you have not heard, because I know you care, another 40,000 American workers are laid off. But Uncle Sam keeps saying, do not worry, because NAFTA and GATT are going to replace those jobs with high-technology jobs.

Right. The only high-technology job I see is that new Slurpee machine at 7-Eleven. Beam me up, Mr. Speaker.

What about a Happy New Year in Basking Ridge, NJ? They lost 7,000 jobs in 1 day. Neither party will balance this budget on minimum wage jobs. Neither party has a program. The country absolutely needs a third party to do something about jobs. If there is any consolation, Mr. Speaker, I never heard of anybody committing suicide by jumping out of a basement window, and that is about the only tenement our people will live in after we keep losing jobs.

VOTE TO DEFEND AMERICA

(Mr. HUNTER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. Speaker, to follow my friend, it is true that this is the first President who sent our jobs to Mexico, our troops to Bosnia, and our balanced budget to the White House trash can.

He has done something else, Mr. Speaker, and that is to veto the defense authorization bill; and the reason
