

employment by the then Bell System in 1956. He then served as president of CWA Local 4320 in Columbus, OH. Following that, he worked with the CWA District One staff as area director, assistant to the vice president and beginning in 1985, as vice president of the largest CWA district in the country.

Mr. Speaker, Mr. Pierce has stood by his word for the last 40 years by serving as an articulate spokesperson with a progressive point of view on major social, economic and political issues. In addition, he has involved himself in countless causes and struggles including civil rights, human rights, women's rights, political campaigns, demonstrations, picket lines and movements to improve conditions for the American worker.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to recognize the achievements of Jan D. Pierce, and I know my colleagues join me in honoring him as we celebrate 40 years of progressive labor leadership with the Communications Workers of America.

HONORING JOANNE O'ROURKE
ISHAM, DIRECTOR, OFFICE OF CONGRESSIONAL AFFAIRS,
CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

HON. LARRY COMBEST

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 26, 1996

Mr. COMBEST. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to call special attention to the dedicated work of Ms. Joanne Isham as Director of Congressional Affairs at the Central Intelligence Agency. Ms. Isham served in this demanding job for 2 years, taking over the office in a period of controversy following the reprimand of several CIA employees for their handling of the Aldrich Ames spy case. She recognized that the CIA's relations with the Congress were badly damaged by the spy case and set about immediately to improve them.

Mr. Speaker, I witnessed a dramatic shift in the Agency's posture with the Congress following Ms. Isham's appointment. She initiated a series of reforms to ensure that the Intelligence Committees were kept fully and completely informed of significant developments at the Central Intelligence Agency. She accomplished this turnaround not with a heavy hand, but with fair and even-tempered management. Ms. Isham kept me fully apprised of significant developments in the intelligence community. She earned the committee's respect in a most difficult undertaking.

Ms. Isham has now been promoted to be Associate Deputy Director for the CIA's Directorate for Science and Technology. This is a new position that will enable her to capitalize on her strong relations with the Congress and many years of experience in the CIA to bring a strategic and more corporate management team to the CIA's Directorate for Science and Technology. We will miss her at Congressional Affairs, but look forward to working with her in this new capacity.

Finally, I want to note that, in recognition of her work, she was awarded the Contract With America's Distinguished Intelligence Medal by Director John Deutch on March 18, 1995, in recognition for her outstanding leadership and management of the Office of Congressional Affairs. I want to thank her for her service to her country and her unstinting bipartisan work on behalf of the intelligence community.

SALUTE TO FAMILIA DIAZ
MEXICAN RESTAURANT

HON. ELTON GALLEGLEY

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 26, 1996

Mr. GALLEGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to salute a family restaurant in my district that is celebrating six decades of success—a family restaurant that never forgot the importance of family.

Familia Diaz Mexican Restaurant, now a fixture on 10th Street in Santa Paula, was established in 1936 by two people who had just $500 in savings and a dream in their hearts. Jose and Josepha "Pepa" Diaz opened their cantina, originally called "Las Quince Letras," and resolved that through hard work and determination they would succeed.

While Jose worked the front, making conversation with faithful customers who, over the years, would become almost as close as family, Pepa would be in the kitchen turning out her famous recipies, sometimes sending daughter Vickie to the corner store to buy the ingredients for a particular dish.

Word spread and the restaurant grew. In the 1950's, their son, Tony, came into the business and built on the progress his parents had made. For many years, Tony's wife, Cecilia, and his sister, Nora, almost single-handedly turned out the restaurant's famous tamales.

In 1980, when Tony was celebrating his 30th year in the restaurant, he was joined in the business by two of his children, Sandra and Dan. This was so very appropriate, because in Familia Diaz' 60 years of business, business has always been deeply rooted in family.

While the number of fast food restaurants turning out food that is precooked, pre-packaged, and preheated continues to proliferate, it is refreshing to know there are still places to go where food is prepared, the way it is at Familia Diaz.

I would like to wish the Diaz family a sincere congratulations on this happy 60th anniversary and best wishes for the future. I know that as long as this restaurant maintains a healthy supply of its most precious commodity—family—it will continue to enjoy great success.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION
148

HON. PATSY T. MINK

OF HAWAII

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 26, 1996

Mrs. MINK of Hawaii. Mr. Speaker, I came to Congress in January 1965, when questions about our escalating involvement in Vietnam were widely debated. Congress had passed the Gulf of Tonkin resolution the summer before, providing supporters of the war in Vietnam with a claim that Congress had authorized it. I took a stand against United States involvement in the Vietnam war. Supporters of the war used the near unanimous vote taken by Congress in passing the Gulf of Tonkin resolution to prove that I was out of line and even un-American for opposing my Government at a time of armed conflict.

This Taiwan resolution repeats the mistakes of the Gulf of Tonkin resolution.

For 24 years we have adhered to a One China policy to the point where we have declined to recognize Taiwan as an independent nation. Until we do, our policy has been as stated in the Taiwan Relations Act. Taiwan does not have a United States Embassy in the United States; neither do we have one in Taiwan.

Despite the diplomatic difficulties that this One China policy has caused, it has produced enormous prosperity in Taiwan, making it the 19th largest economy in the world. Today Taiwan is a major trader with the United States as well as with the People's Republic of China. It has won its right to the international trading table without dispute.

The Taiwan Relations Act states no commitment on the part of the United States to use our military force in case of threats by mainland China. It was carefully crafted to avoid this inference.

Today we are amending that act. This resolution specifically makes that pledge of military force.

I find it hard to support this resolution, despite the alarming and exceedingly provocative actions of the People's Republic of China, because it goes too far and changes the long-standing policy without any substantive debate and without discussion of all the ramifications of this change.

This resolution is a cold war style reaction to the current missile firing and military maneuvers by the People's Republic of China in the Taiwan Straits. A sounder resolution which deplored this provocation and urged that it come to a halt and commended the Government of Taiwan for their remarkable achievements, pledged continuing support and friendship, and congratulated them on their upcoming election would have been all that was
