

sensitivity and insight into the complexity of the marine and coastal environment that few members could challenge. This insight has served him well as a Chairman of the former House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, and in his present capacity as ranking member on the House Subcommittee on Fisheries, Wildlife and Oceans. Let there be no mistake: GERRY STUDDS' mark on national environmental policy, especially in the marine environment, has been profound.

Section 11 of H.R. 543 formally changes the name of the existing Stellwagen Bank sanctuary off the coast of Massachusetts to the "Gerry E. Studds Stellwagen Bank National Marine Sanctuary." I realize after having worked closely with Congressman STUDDS on the designation of Stellwagen Bank in 1992 how deeply he feels about this very special place. It is a fitting tribute that this unique marine resource, which he worked so hard to protect for future generations, should bear his name. His knowledge, his expertise and his humor will all be missed. I will miss him as a friend and colleague in the Congress. But the Gerry E. Studds Stellwagen Bank National Marine Sanctuary will remain a constant reminder of his impressive environmental legacy.

In closing, Mr. President, I have worked closely this Congress with my friend, the Chairman of the Oceans and Fisheries Subcommittee, Senator STEVENS, to pass strong, positive marine resources legislation that reflects and reaffirms the importance of ocean and coastal resources to our Nation and ensures they are treated as the priceless and essential natural resources they are. Not unlike the Sustainable Fisheries Act (S. 39), the Antarctica bill (H.R. 3060), and the reauthorization of the Coastal Zone Management Act (H.R. 1965), this bill is another positive step toward ensuring that our Nation's vital marine and coastal resources are conserved and sensibly managed for the benefit of all. I wholeheartedly support this bill and urge my colleagues to do the same.

Mrs. MURRAY. Mr. President, I thank the distinguished chairman and ranking member of the Commerce Committee, as well as Senator GORTON and Congressman METCALF, for their work on this bill.

We have reached an agreement on the provisions regarding the Northwest Straits of Washington State which I think will serve everyone's best interest. My amendment to the House passed bill deletes language establishing a local advisory committee under the control of NOAA, while retaining the requirement that final designation of a marine sanctuary in the Northwest Straits occur only via congressional authorization.

I was concerned that the creation of a NOAA-controlled advisory committee would undermine the very intent of bringing local community members together to consider the resource protection needs of the Northwest Straits in an objective and open forum. Many members of the local communities have serious concerns about the performance of NOAA over the last several years with regard to the proposed sanctuary. To establish a new advisory committee under NOAA's control would only perpetuate those concerns. I think it is much better if such local commissions or committees develop on their own, independent from the NOAA process, much as the Marine Resources Committee in the San Juan Islands has done.

It is my understanding that as NOAA continues with its assessment of the resource protection needs of the Northwest Straits, it will provide personnel and technical expertise and information to any local advisory committees or commissions that may develop and will include any recommendations put forward by such committees or commissions in NOAA's assessment.

My amendment will allow us to move this important bill forward with bipartisan consensus. I appreciate the significant role the Marine Sanctuaries Program plays in the protection of our Nation's ocean resources. The protection of marine life and marine habitat is a worthy goal. Marine sanctuaries may not only protect the marine environment but may also support regional economies by creating recreational and tourism opportunities and enhancing commercial fisheries and associated industries by providing refuges for fish and other marine life. I fully support this legislation, and I urge my colleagues to support our agreement.

Mr. NICKLES. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the bill be deemed read a third time, passed, the motion to reconsider be laid on the table, and any statements relating to the bill be placed at the appropriate place in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The bill (H.R. 543) was deemed read the third time and passed.
