

As a sponsor of the Bipartisan Campaign Integrity Act I believe this bill offers the best vehicle to fix the current system. There are many other bills that would make the election process work better and encourage more people to vote. At this time a vote on any of these bills is better than the current inaction.

IN MEMORY OF MARK HOLTZ

HON. KAY GRANGER

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, September 8, 1997

Ms. GRANGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commemorate Mark Holtz, whose untimely passing yesterday will be mourned by many throughout North Texas.

Many players, coaches, and managers wore the Texas Rangers uniform over the last 17 years, through good seasons and bad. But there was always one constant: Mark Holtz—the voice of the Rangers.

He and his broadcast partner of many seasons, Eric Nadel, brightened North Texas nights year in and year out with their seamless calls of Rangers games. The bonds baseball fans throughout the region felt with him were so strong that it was as though a member of their family had joined them each night on the radio from the ballpark.

And when the Rangers struggled through a losing season, Mark's call of the game made listening to the game a pleasure in itself, even if the outcome on the field was not.

But the Rangers have been much improved over the last few years, and fittingly, the last game he worked this past May was a Rangers victory. After the game, Mark was able to sign off the broadcast with his trademark "Hello, win column!" he uttered after each win for the home team.

After that final game, Mark left the broadcast booth so that he could battle leukemia. During his courageous battle, thousands of Rangers fans signed a giant get-well card for Mark, demonstrating the deep feelings which many throughout North Texas had for him.

Mark will be missed dearly by those who had the pleasure of listening to his distinctive voice on the airwaves. As Rangers president Tom Schieffer noted, Mark "brought us joy and laughter about the game of baseball. He will be missed sorely. We are not likely to see his kind again."

ON THE DEATH OF MOTHER
TERESA

HON. TIM ROEMER

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, September 8, 1997

Mr. ROEMER. Mr. Speaker, it was with great sadness that I learned Friday of the passing of one of the most remarkable women to ever grace our planet, Mother Teresa of Calcutta.

Mother Teresa dedicated her life of serving the poor, the destitute, and the most helpless among us. In so doing, she set an example for all people of the world to live by. She demonstrated that love and kindness and hope are far greater rewards than any material goals.

Her selfless dedication to humanity and charity will never be forgotten. She devoted her life to those with less—the helpless and the homeless. She did not hesitate to visit a slum or leper colony. She truly lived Jesus Christ's proclamation in the bible: "What you do to the least of us you do unto me."

I feel so fortunate to have had the opportunity to hear Mother Teresa speak twice in my lifetime: once at the Congressional Prayer Breakfast in 1995 and most recently at the award ceremony where she was presented with the Congressional Gold Medal. Listening to her speak, listening to her conviction, her dedication to the poor, I truly believed I was in the presence of a saint. She was humble and modest, but strongly committed to the poor, the unborn, and the hungry.

Mother Teresa's work will carry on through the missionaries of charity which she founded, but she will be missed. I admired her greatly and pray that she, in her infinite faith, is joyfully reunited with her God.

A TRIBUTE: TO ONE OF MY DEAREST FRIENDS, THELMA PAULINE MILLER, MAY SHE REST IN PEACE

HON. GLENN POSHARD

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, September 8, 1997

Mr. POSHARD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to pay tribute to one of my dearest friends, Thelma Pauline Miller. She passed away on July 27, leaving a legacy of kindness and consideration that will be remembered by all who knew her. Thelma was not just a great friend of mine, but a friend to the entire community of Herrin, IL. Born on January 23, 1918 in Brookport, IL, Thelma was married for 43 years to Carl Miller, who served as Winston County Sheriff. Carl preceded her in death as did her parents, Bryan and Clara Johnson, and her sister Geraldine Burgoon.

Thelma touched many people through her devoted work to numerous causes. She was never afraid to roll up her sleeves and get the job done, contributing her time to the Business and Professional Women's Club, Win One Class, First Christian Church in Herrin, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary and Eagles Auxiliary. She was also active in politics, serving as a Democrat State central committeeman and as Williamson County chairwoman. Professionally, Thelma worked for the Department of Unemployment for 12 years.

Thelma will be remembered by many people whose lives she graced over the years. She is survived by a loving family, including her daughter Linda, son, John, brother Howard Eugene, five grandchildren, and two great grandchildren. May God bless her family, and I know that the spirit with which she lived her life will be with us for some time to come.

18TH & VINE DISTRICT

HON. KAREN MCCARTHY

OF MISSOURI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, September 8, 1997

Ms. MCCARTHY of Missouri. Mr. Speaker, I rise to acknowledge an event that I attended this weekend which exemplifies the rich heritage of the Fifth District of Missouri and demonstrates the phoenix-like results that can come from congressional investments for urban revitalization and bipartisan cooperation to improve our urban centers. That event was the opening of the historic 18th & Vine District Jazz Museum and historic Gem Theater.

Kansas City has made a significant contribution to the great American art form known as jazz. The 18th & Vine District is steeped in history, with the old Attucks School on 18th and Woodland which Charlie Parker attended, and the Street Hotel on 18th and Paseo where all of the great players, like Josh Gibson and Rube Foster stayed. The District also includes the Shannon Building on 18th and Vine, where Joe Louis trained, and the Mutual Musicians' Foundation which is registered as a national landmark. This weekend, the area came alive with the music of jazz legends such as Clause (Fiddler) Williams and 81-year-old big band leader Jay McShann.

The 18th & Vine Project truly represents the best of American ingenuity and public-private partnership. When the project appeared to be in limbo, and public skepticism was running high, creativity came to the rescue and Federal empowerment zone funds were made available to continue this marvelous effort. Private sector commitments came from large corporations such as Sprint planning to open a call center in the district, and small business such as Winslow's BBQ agreeing to manage the Blue Room night club in the jazz museum. Further evidence of the public-private commitment can be seen in the opening of Count Basie Court Apartments, which was a collaborative effort joining the local private Citizen Housing Information Center and Black Economic Union with Federal housing development initiatives.

The Federal empowerment zone initiative is critical for directing resources to revitalize urban areas. Kansas City is maximizing this tool for economic development within our communities and neighborhoods. The congressional bipartisan tax relief package, recently signed into law by the President, included not only an expansion of the empowerment zone initiative, but also a perfect compliment—the brownfields initiative, which provides incentives to transform economically distressed areas and hazardous waste sites into thriving economic centers by providing developers and businesses with a tax credit to improve and reclaim the land.

What is happening in Kansas City is a stellar example of the way the partnership between the public and private sectors and the Federal, State, and local governments can work, and a fundamental reason that the Environmental Protection Agency chose to hold its 1997 national brownfields conference here last week. Initiatives such as the 18th & Vine District, building upon the heritage and unique qualities of that community, create jobs within the community—bolstering local welfare to work activities—and cleaner, safer, and more livable neighborhoods out of areas that were urban blight.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that you join me in recognizing the efforts of the community embodied in the opening of the 18th & Vine Historic Jazz Museum and Gem Theater and acknowledging the accomplishment of this important public-private partnership. It serves as an example of successful coordination among economic development, welfare-to-work initiatives, and environmental cleanup in our great Nation.

EXPRESSING THE CONDOLENCES
OF THE HOUSE IN THE DEATH
OF DIANA, PRINCESS OF WALES

SPEECH OF

HON. PATSY T. MINK

OF HAWAII

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 4, 1997

Mrs. MINK of Hawaii. Mr. Speaker, the outpouring of emotion following the tragic death of Princess Diana is extraordinary. We were stunned at the news of her death and as the hours and days passed we realized that it was more than the loss of a famous person; it was a phenomenal feeling of personal loss that stretched across the whole world.

Here was a woman of noble birth who in a fairy tale episode became royalty and then the mother of the next King of England. People watched and were awed by her spectacular beauty and grace as she entered this rigid and seemingly immutable world. We worried that she would be smothered like the others by the ritual and the rigidity of the palace rules. Or worse, that she would lose her individuality and be stripped of her independence and humanity. Instead she demonstrated a resilience to stand her ground and unflayingly express words of understanding about the awful pain, suffering and despair so prevalent in the world at large. From her own hurt and from her giving we all learned the power of love.

Despite her own personal problems, including her failed marriage and the public abuse that she had to endure, she was able to maintain a strong loving relationship with her two sons. She exemplified this devotion to her children by trying to assure that her two sons had an understanding about the reality of life among ordinary people. She took them with her as often as she could. She tried to translate into their life experiences her own deep abiding belief that people have a responsibility to love and care for those who are ill and who are in need of help.

She ultimately lost any formal power, authority or office from which to plead the causes which she cared so deeply about. But she was not deterred. Most people would have become distraught at the loss of station and position. But not Princess Diana. I believe that it is this undauntable spirit that people admire most. Each of us wish that we could be as strong and as determined to follow our will.

In adversity Princess Diana gained in strength and personal determination.

In our world of politics, public people who stand up for the unfortunate, the homeless, the poor, and the hungry are offered derision rather than praise. Women who stand up for themselves and give care to others win suspicion rather than admiration.

My heart is filled with admiration for what Princess Diana did to mobilize public opinion in support of human causes like poverty, AIDS, Hansen's disease, cancer, homelessness, and for her fight to seek an international treaty against land mines. My heart is filled with pride that this woman earned respect and affection on a scale unparalleled in our lifetime and in this century.

I hold Princess Diana in the highest personal esteem for the glory that she brought to those in our world who care for people in despair. She celebrated their efforts and gave encouragement to their commitment. Her words were directed to governments to do more, to care more and to work harder to find ways to end this misery. She venerated those who love the poor and the sick and made their work a matter of honor.

The brief life of Princess Diana teaches us that the importance of life is what we are able to do for others.
