THE 10TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BLACK HEALTH COALITION OF WISCONSIN

HON. THOMAS M. BARRETT OF WISCONSIN
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Friday, October 9, 1998

Mr. BARRETT of Wisconsin. Mr. Speaker, The Black Health Coalition of Wisconsin will celebrate tonight its 10th anniversary and its commitment to improving the health status of African-Americans in the state of Wisconsin.

Since 1988, The Black Health Coalition has dedicated itself to insuring that all people in Wisconsin enjoy equitable and comprehensive health. At its inception, twelve organizations that shared a common commitment banded together to forge a partnership in health. Their efforts have translated into today’s Black Health Coalition which reaches the lives of thousands of people in Wisconsin.

Today’s celebration has an appropriate theme: “And Still We Rise.” It is appropriate because it speaks to the commitment of the Black Health Coalition of Wisconsin to continue its important work. It is appropriate because it indicates the Black Health Coalition’s pride in its work. And it is appropriate because it conveys the message that the Black Health Coalition works on behalf of everyone and excluded no one.

I congratulate the Black Health coalition on its ten years of remarkable achievements and fantastic efforts on behalf of the people of Wisconsin, and especially the people of my home city of Milwaukee.

DEICE HONORED

HON. PAUL E. KANJORSKI
OF PENNSYLVANIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Friday, October 9, 1998

Mr. KANJORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to James J. Deice, the 1998 District Title in 1996±97. For this achievement, since receiving his medical degree from Cornell University in 1966, Dr. Dosik has dedicated his professional career to the treatment of malignant diseases. As an oncology-geriatrician, Dr. Dosik is recognized for his continued efforts to introduce innovative therapeutic interventions to his patients. He is greatly respected by peers and patients alike for his medical insight and compassionate, humane approach to treating the person, as well as the disease.

That Mather Hospital’s October 23, benefit for the Fortunato Breast Health Center and Breast Cancer Treatment is of particular importance to Dr. Dosik, for he serves as the Center’s Co-Medical Director and chairs the weekly breast cancer conference. He has also made significant contributions as an active member of the American Cancer Society and Long Island Cancer Council. He resides in Setauket, Long Island with his wife Lyn and their Daughter Diana. He and Lyn also have a 23-year-old daughter, Lia.

So, Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues in the U.S. House of Representatives to join the entire John T. Mather Hospital community as we honor Dr. Michael Dosik, a very deserving recipient of the “Theodore Roosevelt Award” for his dedicated service to the hospital and our entire long Island community.

THE REPUBLIC OF CHINA’S NATIONAL DAY

HON. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON
OF TEXAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Friday, October 9, 1998

Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to express my congratulations to the Republic of China. Tomorrow, October 10, 1998, is Taiwan’s National Day. Taiwan is a country fondly known as the “Little Tiger.” Rightfully so, Taiwan has a strong economy and is an excellent trading partner for countries like the United States. In fact, Taiwan is our sixth largest trading partner.

In the last few years, Taiwan’s economy has grown at a spectacular rate and has become one of the wealthiest nations in the world. Taiwan’s wealth can be seen in their strong manufacturing industry and in their citizens’ commitment to make Taiwan an effective trading partner. Taiwan has done remarkably well during the Asian financial crisis, and I hope that Taiwan will continue to prosper.

I wish President Lee Teng-hui, Vice President Lien Chan, Foreign Minister Jason Hu and Ambassador Stephen Chen of the Republic of China continued success in leading Taiwan and their citizens.
Mr. ACKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to join with my constituents of the Fifth Congressional District of the State of New York and the staff of the Flushing Savings Bank as they honor James F. McConnell upon his retirement as the bank’s president and CEO.

Mr. McConnell’s background is both diverse and effective. Prior to his election as president of the Flushing Savings Bank he held prominent management positions with AMBAC Industries of Garden City, New York and the EDO Corporation of College Point. He joined the Flushing Savings Bank in 1974 as Vice President and Treasurer. Realizing his keen sense of leadership and a most effective approach to getting things done, the bank appointed him president in 1981, appointed him to its board of directors in 1983 and elected him Chief Executive Officer in 1990.

Mr. McConnell’s multiple leadership talents reach far beyond the Flushing Savings Bank. He has served on the Board of Directors of the Community Bankers Association of New York State from 1987 to 1997 and served as its Chairman from 1990 to 1991. He was highly instrumental in negotiations which led to the successful merger of the Savings Bank of New York State with the New York League of Savings Institutions, thereby creating the Community Bankers Association.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues in the House of Representatives to join with me and in honor of James F. McConnell, who has imparted a sense of professionalism, leadership and community responsibility. His record is one of dynamism and productivity which readily emerges as a yardstick by which all future efforts are measured.

TRIBUTE TO DR. TOM GIUGNI

HON. STEPHEN HORN
OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Friday, October 9, 1998

Mr. HORN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Dr. Tom Giugni, who is retiring as Executive Director of the Association of California School Administrators. Dr. Giugni’s retirement marks the end of a 40-year career of service in public education.

Public schools are filled with dedicated people whose main objective is to make life better for the students and the communities which they serve. But on occasion, there are those who outshine even the brightest educators. Dr. Giugni is such a person. Teachers, parents, administrators, and the business community have consistently looked to him for ideas, direction, and inspiration in serving students.

Dr. Giugni’s career began humbly in 1956 as a substitute teacher in St. Helena, California. Five years later, he had worked his way up to the level of principal in the St. Helena Unified School District, and he has never looked back. He has served six different California school districts, including four as Superintendent. I had the pleasure of working with Dr. Giugni when, during his tenure as Superintendent of the Long Beach Unified School District, he served on the Education Advisory Board of the University of California.

He was a dynamic Superintendent. Under his leadership, the Long Beach district became one of the most decentralized in the United States. He introduced numerous innovations and cut back. Creativity and innovation became the watchwords in the schools. Parent councils were created. Parents played an increasing role. Principals worked to encourage the best ideas and performance from their faculty.

For the first time in California the elementary and secondary schools were closely linked with a major university, California State University, Long Beach. Many post-secondary institutions have their education majors intern in the schools. But the CSULB Long Beach Unified School District was a true partnership in which university students and faculty members as well as student organizations across the university involved themselves with the schools and their students.

Dr. Giugni has further served California through active participation in numerous civic and professional organizations, including as a member of area Chambers of Commerce and Industry Education Councils, an advisor to California colleges and universities, and an advocate of events to fight cancer and drug abuse. His knowledge and expertise have been recognized by several respected educational journals who have published his articles, and he has received countless awards honoring his leadership.

Dr. Giugni committed his career to improving education. His genuine concern for students, his vision, and his ability to rally support for public schools will be greatly missed. All of us who know him wish him well and doubt that he will be inactive in retirement.
