

(Ms. BROWN), Doug Jamerson and myself served together in the Florida Legislature, and today he is gone. Doug Jamerson was a patriot. He was a man who loved Florida and who demonstrated it by serving as Labor Secretary and serving as Commissioner of Education. He showed his true love for Florida.

He was instrumental and a driving force in Florida's Blueprint 2000, Mr. Speaker, and that blueprint is what set Florida on the right track in his educational programs. Doug wanted to see accountability in Florida schools, and he fought very hard for that. He was an Air Force veteran. He served from 1967 to 1971.

Mr. Speaker, I do not think that anyone in the State of Florida who had respect for government and respect for love of the people did not know and did not love Doug Jamerson. He is a known man in the State of Florida. He was a loved man. He leaves a wife and a wonderful son to mourn him and the rest of us who served with him. We loved him very much. He will be remembered throughout our lives and throughout the lifetime of Florida's history as a politician and as a public servant who served both God and his people.

Ms. BROWN of Florida. Mr. Speaker, in closing, when I think of Doug, I think of Paul and his great work. He has done great work for the people of Florida, and we will truly miss him.

Jamerson won a national humanitarian award for helping St. Petersburg recover from racial violence in 1996, when he walked the streets, helping cool emotions. It was a natural extension of his years as a school security guard in the early '70s when he spent hours counseling teens going through desegregation at a Pinellas high school.

His parochial school education taught Jamerson the integrity of discipline and one of his first acts as education commissioner was to advocate the socially leveling effect of wearing uniforms in public schools. The idea sank, but Jamerson's reputation rose as a public servant not given to predictable solutions. He was against both paddling and prayer in schools but said both had a place in a loving home. He was a Democrat who oversaw reduction by 50 percent of the state's education bureaucracy.

Jamerson will be remembered as a gifted man whose genial disposition made it hard for even staunch opponents of his causes to dislike him. He will be missed.

THE BIPARTISAN SENIORS HEALTH CARE BILL OF RIGHTS

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SHAYS). Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from New York (Mr. ISRAEL) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. ISRAEL. Mr. Speaker, America's health care crisis affects millions of people, and I rise today on behalf of the 50,000 senior citizens on Long Island who have been kicked out of their Medicare HMOs.

Just 3 years ago, seniors had choices in their medical care. In September of 1999, 12 HMOs offered seniors health plans in my district on Long Island. Now only two remain.

In 1998 and 1999, 700,000 seniors across America were left without coverage when their HMOs decided not to renew their contracts.

This year, HCFA reports that 65 Medicare HMOs did not renew their contracts, leaving an additional 160,000 senior citizens in America with no Medicare HMO option. This is intolerable.

HMOs are choosing not to renew their 1-year contracts because of inadequate and unfair reimbursement rates. They are putting profits ahead of people. Health care should be a right, not a privilege. Ensuring Long Island seniors receive quality care is not a partisan issue; it is common sense. That is why I have been working with my Republican colleague from Long Island on a solution. Our plan, the Seniors' Health Care Bill of Rights, holds HMOs accountable and provides seniors the care they deserve. We will do this by providing carrots and sticks. Our Seniors' Health Care Bill of Rights includes three provisions: first, increase the reimbursement levels to keep HMOs operating in the senior market; second, our bill requires 3-year rather than 1-year contracts. Finally, our bill provides penalties for terminating senior coverage. If HMOs drop senior citizens in the middle of their contract year, they are going to be banned from the very lucrative Federal Employees Health Benefits Plan.

Mr. Speaker, I promised my constituents my very first piece of legislation would be this Seniors' Health Care Bill of Rights. This is only the beginning of the fight for senior health care. Now I ask my colleagues to join me in this fight.

Our senior citizens are the people who built our neighborhoods and schools, paid their taxes, raised their families, and fought our wars. Now it is time to restore the health care choice, access, and quality that they deserve.

Mr. Speaker, I hope that my colleagues will cosponsor the bipartisan Seniors' Health Care Bill of Rights.

TRIBUTE TO MICHIGAN SECRETARY OF STATE RICHARD A. AUSTIN

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. BONIOR) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. BONIOR. Mr. Speaker, today I rise and will be joined later by some of my colleagues to pay tribute to a man who was a mentor and a very dear friend, a man who defined the words dignity and respect. I am talking about Michigan's former Secretary of State, Richard A. Austin, who died last Friday at the age of 87.

Dick Austin was a man of great vision and one of Michigan's most distinguished and honored, accomplished statesman. He was Secretary of State for 24 years, having been first elected in 1970 and reelected a record five times. I had the great honor of nominating Dick Austin at three of our party's State conventions, and each time I had to struggle a little harder to try to squeeze it all in because Dick had accomplished that much in the preceding 4 years.

Under Dick Austin's direction, Michigan became a leader in highway safety and voting rights. He brought us one of America's first safety belt laws, spearheaded the drive for child passenger safety legislation, and won awards for his efforts to stop drunk driving. Thousands of people are alive in Michigan today because of Dick Austin's tireless dedication to safety.

Mr. Speaker, he helped to enact a landmark voter registration law that served as a model for other States and paved the way for the eventual passage of the national motor voter legislation. Millions of people in Michigan found it easier to exercise the franchise because of Dick Austin's determination to eliminate barriers to voting.

Dick was a great innovator. He automated the Department of State and transformed a department that consumers were upset about for its agonizing inefficiency. He did that, and made it into one to the best run, best managed and most highly acclaimed departments in the Nation.

Dick Austin was a pioneer in many fields, breaking down barriers with his intellect, self-confidence, and his dedication to hard work. He was the first African American certified public accountant in Michigan. He was the first African American candidate for mayor of Detroit, and the longest serving African American elected to statewide office.

He was born in Stouts Mountain, Alabama, the son of a coal miner who died when Dick was just 11 years old. His family moved to Detroit where he worked his way through school, never letting hardship become an obstacle to success. An academic and track star, he gave up a scholarship to Wayne State University when his family faced hardship. Undaunted, Dick sold and took night classes to earn his degree as a CPA.

Dick Austin was the perfect combination of competence and decency. He was full of charm, and he was as honest as the day is long. He was a gentleman in the truest sense of the word. He served the people of Michigan with grace and dignity. He lived by the values that he preached. He was someone who took to heart the words of the prophet: "To do justice, love kindness, and walk humbly with your God."

In good times and hard times, Richard A. Austin was always there. He was calm, reassuring, standing strong.

Mr. Speaker, to his wife of over 60 years, Ida, and his daughter, Hazel, we send our deep regrets and prayers.

All of us in Michigan will profoundly miss Dick Austin. His memory and
