HONORING THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF VENUS AND SERENA WILLIAMS

SPEECH OF

HON. DONALD M. PAYNE

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 4, 2002

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, it is my distinct honor to support the passage of House Resolution 94, a resolution to recognize the outstanding contributions of Venus and Serena Williams. Venus and Serena Williams are two esteemed professional African American women tennis players who have broken racial and socioeconomic barriers with pride and poise.

The Williams sisters have accomplished many firsts in the world of tennis. Twenty-year-old Venus is the first African-American woman to win the Wimbledon Championships since 1958, the first United States woman since 1924 to win an Olympic gold medal in both singles and doubles, holds the women's world record for the fastest serve at 127 miles per hour, and is one of only seven women to win the singles titles in both the Wimbledon Championships and the U.S. Open in the same year.

Nineteen-year-old Serena Williams is only the second African-American woman ever to win a Grand Slam singles title, is only the sixth American woman to win the U.S. Open singles title since 1968, is only the fifth woman to win both singles and doubles Grand Slam titles in the same year, and is the first woman to reach the finals in a U.S. Open debut since 1978.

Demonstrating through the spirit of sports, Venus and Serena Williams have truly inspired and encouraged people of all backgrounds and ages, especially those in their hometown of Compton, California, that education, teamwork, fortitude, and self-determination are the essential ingredients for success. Venus and Serena Williams are great African American leaders and role models who espouse high moral and ethical standards, family values, and community service.

Recognizing the importance of giving back to their community, together they have conducted tennis clinics for low-income children, raised funds for community development, and joined our Nation's leaders in support of seat belt safety campaigns.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting the passage of House Resolution 94, to recognize the many contributions to American society made by Venus and Serena Williams through their achievements and community involvement. We are fortunate to have noble citizens like Venus and Serena Williams who have demonstrated that tennis is a sport for all people.

A TRIBUTE TO THE HARLEM BIG "LITTLE LEAGUE" HEROES

HON. CHARLES B. RANGEL

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 5, 2002

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, I rise today with great pride in their achievement to pay tribute to and recognize Harlem's national famous Little League team.

In an historic achievement Harlem's Little League made the Harlem community and the United States proud when they successfully placed third in the Little League World Series. Coming from diverse ethnic backgrounds, the team pulled together and progressed to the semi-finals of the Little League Series, a notable achievement for a team which up to this year had not made the playoffs. On August 27, 2002, the team came home to a first-class victory celebration in which I was pleased and proud to participate.

I hope that these kids have once again taught us that we can come together as a community and understand that anything is possible. And, today it is my pleasure to bring the Harlem Little League's achievement to the attention of my colleagues.

HARLEM HEROES SAFE AT HOME

(By Lorena Mongelli)

Harlem's small-fry slugger heroes got a major-league welcome home yesterday by hundreds of rooting relatives and frenzied fans, who admitted they never expected the team to make it as far as it did in the Little League World Series.

"They never really said that winning was what they were all about—but this team came back as winners," U.S. Rep. Charles Rangel (D-Harlem) crowed amid the cheering crowd at Marcus Garvey Park on 122nd Street.

Moms and dads furiously shook pompoms, friends waved signs and dozens of people broke into chants of "Go Harlem!" as the bus carrying the team pulled into the park around 4 p.m. and let off the local champs, who made it to the series semifinals.

The somewhat-sheepish players said they were surprised by all the hoopla—but not exactly complaining about it. "I didn't know there were going to be all these people here—it feels good," star pitcher Alibay Barkley said.

Third baseman Andrew Diaz, 12, added: "We gave something to Harlem to make them feel proud. I feel like a champ. I didn't expect all these people to come and show their support."

Beaming coach Morris McWilliams noted the kids' varied backgrounds—and how they pulled together to pull off a third-place finish.

"I hope that through all this, we can come together to understand that anything is possible," McWilliams said.

RECOGNIZING TULARE COUNTY AND THE CITY OF VISALIA,
CALIFORNIA ON THEIR 150TH AN-NIVERSARY

HON. WILLIAM M. THOMAS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 5, 2002

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, it is my pleasure to recognize and salute the City of Visalia and the County of Tulare, California as they celebrate their 150th anniversary on September 7.

Tulare County and Visalia will celebrate the area's rich history and its current status as one of the nation's top two agricultural-producing counties, with crops valued at $3.5 billion in 2001. While it was the California gold rush that brought the first permanent settlers to the area that is now Visalia in 1852, it has been agriculture that has sustained the city and Tulare County for 150 years. Today, Tulare County is America's leading dairy county, and is among the nation's leaders in dozens of other crops, including beef, tree fruit, vegetables, nuts, and olives.

Tulare County is also home to some of the nation's most breathtaking scenery, including the highest mountain peaks in the Sierra Nevada range, rising more than 14,000 feet, the majestic Giant Sequoias, and the rich San Joaquin Valley floor. Visitors to Tulare County are often left with the indelible image of the mountains rising above the lush, green valley.

The City of Visalia holds special memories for my family; my wife, Sharon Hamilton Thomas, was born and raised in Tulare County. She graduated from Redwood High School and attended the College of the Sequoias in Visalia. Sharon's parents, Mike and Georgia Hamilton, were active members of the community.

While Visalia's economy has its foundation in agriculture, and is the county's trade center for the products grown there, Visalia has, in recent years, broadened its economic base to include other enterprises, including food processing, printing, and manufacturing.

Mr. Speaker, I join the elected leaders, past and present, of Visalia and Tulare County, and the nearly 400,000 people who live there now, in congratulating the past 150 years, and wishing it well on the next 150.

HONORING SISTER HANNA
CHRISTEN

HON. GEORGE RADANOVICH

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 5, 2002

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Sister Hanna Christen on the occasion of being honored by the Alurmi of the Armenian Evangelical High School in Anjar, Lebanon, at a ceremony taking place in Southern California on August 24, 2002. Sister Hanna served 30 years at the High School as a long time missionary from the Hillsbund Missionary of Bad-Homburg in Frankfurt, Germany.

Sister Hanna Christen was born in the city of Rothenburg on the Tauber near Nuremberg, Germany. She was raised in a Christian home with her father as a preacher. Upon completion of her studies, her parents suggested she enter a Protestant monastery. She then became a nun and started providing her services to an orphanage. She continually felt a call from God for her to travel to another country and serve. She went to serve in the Boys' section of the Boarding School of the Armenian Evangelical High School of Anjar, Lebanon. She served as a missionary to these students who are now well established in communities throughout the United States. Since 1980, she has served in nursing homes in Beruit, Germany and now serves in Yerevan, Armenia.

Today, Sister Hanna is a certified general and geriatric nurse at the Nursing Home No. 1 of Yerevan, where she takes care of the residents' hygienic, emotional and spiritual needs. The 125 elderly residents of the home are grateful for the loving care and compassion of this German woman, who speaks fluent Armenian.

Sister Hanna is considered the "Mother Theresa" for Armenians, and she considers Armenia her "Hayrenik" (fatherland). She has adopted Armenia to be her homeland and continues to serve as a volunteer missionary for the Armenian Missionary Association of America (AMAA) gaining the respect and admiration of people for her humanitarian services.

Mr. Speaker, I want to congratulate Sister Hanna Christen for her dedication as a volunteer missionary and for touching the lives of so many. I invite my colleagues to join me in wishing Sister Hanna Christen many more years of continued success.

I wish him and his lovely wife, Barbara, his son, Matthew, and daughter-in-law, Kimberly, all the best as they enter this new chapter of their lives.

HONORING THE CALVARY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH OF HARRIS-BURG, PENNSYLVANIA ON THE OCCASION OF ITS FIFTIETH AN-NIVERSARY

HON. GEORGE W. GEKAS

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 5, 2002

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, I am most honored today to recognize and commemorate the Calvary United Methodist Church of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania on their Golden Anniversary.

On October 25, 1953, the Reverend O.B. Poulson, the appointed acting pastor, held the first service in the basement of the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Harrisburg with just 65 people in attendance. Just over two years later on November 6, 1955, consecration services were held for the first Calvary Church chapel. However, the rapidly growing congregation quickly outgrew their beautiful new fellowship hall and so, on June 17, 1962 following a year of construction, a congregation of 1,154 members worshipped in a new sanctuary.
