

solicit public input on the exchange in order to appreciate the potential benefits and costs involved. I held several public meetings in Arizona on the exchange and have heard and read the differing views of hundreds of interested Arizonans.

After careful consideration, I believe it is appropriate that the bill be introduced at this time. While the proposed exchange has the support of the Forest Service, the elected representatives of the affected communities, and the camps, introduction of this bill advances us to the next phase of public consideration of key aspects and procedural issues associated with the legislation.

I expect that public hearings will be held here and in Arizona on the bill in the near future. The Forest Service will have an opportunity to provide public statements concerning the specific provisions of the bill, as will other parties affected by the exchange. I anticipate that in the next phase of the legislative process, our state delegation will receive the information needed to address any remaining issues and ensure that this exchange will be conducted in a manner that benefits the citizens of Arizona and Federal taxpayers alike.

Mr. KYL. Mr. President, today, I am pleased to join with Senator McCAIN to introduce the Northern Arizona National Forest Land Exchange Act of 2003. This bill, which facilitates a large and very complex land exchange in Arizona, is the product of months of discussions between the Forest Service, community groups, local officials, and other stakeholders. It will allow communities to accommodate growth and improve the management of our forests; it will also yield many environmental benefits to the public.

This bill will protect some of Arizona's most beautiful ponderosa pine forests from future development by placing approximately 35,000 acres of private land into public use. It consolidates a 110-square mile area in the Prescott National Forest near the existing Juniper Mesa Wilderness under Forest Service ownership, to preserve the area in its natural state and prevent its subdivision. This land has old growth ponderosa pine that is at least 250 years old and juniper that is 500 years old or older. Consolidation will preserve the area for watershed management, wildlife habitat, and outdoor recreation. Without consolidation, these tracts would be open to future development. I am pleased that this bill will preserve them for future generations.

This bill significantly improves management of the Prescott National Forest. The existing checkerboard ownership pattern in the Prescott makes management and access difficult. The exchange improves management of the forest by consolidating this land, and allowing the Forest Service to effectively apply forest-restoration treatments designed to improve forest health and reduce hazardous fuels. In turn, better management will help decrease the fire risk in Arizona's forests. The importance of improved management and efficient restoration treatments cannot be overstated given last year's devastating Rodeo-Chediski fire.

In addition to protecting Arizona's natural resources, this bill allows several Northern Arizona communities to accommodate future growth and economic development, and to meet other municipal needs. The exchange will allow the Cities of Williams and Flagstaff to expand their airports and water-treatment facilities, and develop town parks and recreation areas. The town of Camp Verde will have the opportunity to acquire lands for view shed protection. Several youth organizations throughout northern Arizona will be able to acquire land for their camps.

Even as it addresses environmental and community needs, this bill saves significant taxpayer dollars. It obviates the administrative route for land exchange—doing an exchange of this size administratively would require considerable financial and personnel resources within the Forest Service. The agency estimates that the legislative approach will cost half as much as the administrative alternative—resulting in potential savings to the taxpayers in excess of $500,000.

This land exchange is supported and endorsed by many municipalities, religious institutions, environmental groups, and other nongovernmental organizations in Arizona. Experts from the Arizona Game and Fish Department have reviewed the lands to be exchanged and strongly support the proposal. I have received hundreds of letters and petitions from residents expressing support for it. This exchange is extremely important to the residents of Arizona.

This land exchange is a unique opportunity to protect Arizona's natural resources while accommodating the tremendous growth that my State is experiencing. This bill is good for the state of Arizona and I plan to work with my colleagues to ensure that we pass this important legislation this year.
