

We have 112 days before we get rid of the biggest national disaster we have ever had, the President and his environmental policies.

Mr. Speaker, the Republicans need to play by the rules.

RELEASE KERRY-EDWARDS
PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN VIDEO

(Mr. MILLER of Florida asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MILLER of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I am a conservative and I support the Federal marriage amendment. I understand that JOHN KERRY will make a cameo appearance this week in Washington to vote against it.

With that said, I rise to call attention and request a videotape release of the Democratic Presidential fundraiser that was held last Friday night, which quickly descended into a celebrity Bush-bashing event of low blows.

On Friday night, JOHN KERRY touted his Presidential campaign's positive tone, telling a crowd at another fundraiser that JOHN and he did not run one negative ad against each other and any of their opponents all through their primaries, and they have not done a single negative ad against the president, because "we think Americans want real solutions to real problems."

This is more proof that JOHN KERRY and his campaign have developed campaign amnesia. Just a few hours prior to those comments, his campaign fundraiser attendees listened to hours of celebrities use vulgar and tasteless attacks against our President, which KERRY endorsed, characterizing it as the heart and soul of America.

His campaign endorsed the hate-filled celebrity event, so he should share those comments with voters. I ask that they release the video today. There is no reason why they should not do it, and America deserves to see the real JOHN KERRY and JOHN EDWARDS.

LETTING AVERAGE AMERICANS PREVAIL

(Mr. NADLER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Speaker, time after time in this body, the interests of the middle-class have come in second to the interests of the special interests. One example is the issue of drug reimportation.

Medications in other countries cost 40 percent less than they do here. Even Secretary Tommy Thompson recently acknowledged what Americans know all too well, reimporting prescription drugs from Canada and other industrialized countries is one of the fastest ways Americans can get lower cost drugs. Experts at Boston University estimate Americans would save $60 billion by paying Canadian prices for brand-name drugs. What are we waiting for?

Republicans in Congress continue to stall, promoting the false promise of the new prescription drug discount cards as a substitute for reimportation. When the gentlewoman from Ohio (Ms. KAPTUR) offered an amendment in the agricultural appropriation bill in committee that allowed for the safe reimportation of prescription drugs, Republicans tried to block it and failed. Today, that bill is on the floor. It would allow Americans to purchase these prescription drugs from other countries and lower drug costs in a straightforward way.

We should pass that amendment. I dare the Republicans to block it, as I know they will, because they are the servants of the pharmaceutical companies, and they are even trying to put that into the treaty with Australia.

AN ADMISSION FROM WITHIN

(Mr. SMITH of Texas asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. SMITH of Texas. Mr. Speaker, some of us have been saying it for years, there is a liberal bias in the media. Last weekend, we witnessed a brief moment of candor. Evan Thomas, the assistant managing editor of Newsweek Magazine, admitted on a radio station that, "The media, I think, wants KERRY to win. And I think they are going to portray KERRY and EDWARDS, I am talking about the establishment media, not Fox, but there is going to be this glow about this that is going to be worth maybe 15 points."

Let me repeat the words of this top Newsweek editor. "The media, I think, wants KERRY to win, and they are going to portray KERRY and EDWARDS in a certain way to help elect them." He says, "The media bias is worth 15 points in the polls." In other words, without media bias, President Bush would be cruising to a landslide election.

Mr. Speaker, the biased media is getting dangerously close to becoming a real threat to our democracy.

A "STRONG" ECONOMY?

(Mr. PRICE of North Carolina asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PRICE of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in some puzzlement. The President came to my part of our State last week and announced, "The economy is strong here in North Carolina." As the Raleigh News & Observer observed, "Is the President an optimist, or does he need an optometrist?"

Perhaps our economy seems strong to Mr. Bush. After all, he raked in over $2 million at his afternoon fundraiser. But he did not seem to notice that we have record numbers of laid-off workers who have exhausted their unemployment benefits, 68,000 at last count. Our unemployment rate in the Raleigh-Durham area is creeping up again. The rolls grew by almost 2,000 last month.

PRESERVING MARRIAGE BETWEEN A MAN AND A WOMAN

(Mr. BARRETT of South Carolina asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BARRETT of South Carolina. Mr. Speaker, this week the Senate is dealing with a very important issue, one that goes to the heart of our families and society. I am speaking of marriage.

In my home State of South Carolina, we are one of 42 States that have laws on the books defining marriage as the union between a man and a woman. These laws were passed by State legislatures, those elected to represent the views of their constituents.

My constituents contact me on a daily basis about this one issue more than any other issue we deal with. They ask me to do everything I can to ensure marriage between a man and a woman is preserved. Yet some in this country, elected by no one, believe they have the right to supersede the wishes of my constituents and the constituents of other Members here today.

I respectfully disagree. I truly believe the only way to ensure court action does not override State law is for the House and Senate to take action.

Mr. Speaker, I urge the House to follow the Senate's lead on this issue and bring up this issue for a vote so we can have an open debate in the People's House.

HOUSE REPUBLICANS REFUSE TO PLAY BY THE RULES

(Mr. COOPER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. COOPER. Mr. Speaker, nothing is more important in a democracy than free and fair elections. Unfortunately, even in this, the People's House, there have been a series of abuses of the voting process by the Republican majority. How can we effectively champion democracy around the world if even here the Republican majority will not allow it to be practiced on the House floor?

Just last week, because the Republican majority did not like the outcome of our usual 15-minute vote, they held the vote open for 30 minutes. Why? In order to change the outcome. We went from a fair and square 219 vote victory to a 210-210 tie due to Republican arm-twisting, while the whole world was watching on CSPAN.

If this were the only instance of Republican tyranny in this House, perhaps it could be excused. But just last year we sadly witnessed the longest vote in American history, just so they could change the outcome.
