enemy positions gathering critical and valuable information on major infiltration routes.

The Rangers operated in vast, inhospitable terrains throughout Vietnam. Their prowess, coupled with boat patrols, night ambushes, and stay-behind infiltration techniques were instrumental in thwarting members of the Viet Cong and NVA. According to historical accounts, this company, comprised of merely several hundred men, was able to keep vast numbers of North Vietnamese Army troops occupied, thereby potentially saving numerous American troops.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud of this incredible company, the Charlie Rangers, and I am honored to have been able to serve in a small way alongside such professional and selfless soldiers. I know my colleagues join me in applauding them for a job well done and share my wishes for a memorable reunion.

THE SESQUICENTENNIAL OF CLINTON, IOWA

HON. JIM NUSSLE
OF IOWA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Friday, June 24, 2005

Mr. NUSSLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to honor the sesquicentennial celebration of Clinton, Iowa—a community I am very proud to represent in Congress.

One hundred and fifty summers ago, the Iowa Land Company purchased the site of the town and named it in honor of DeWitt Clinton, a former New York governor. Clinton will still be home to the same brand of opportunities for local workers. And every time I look out at the riverfront, my wish is that the town and its riverfront can one day be a tourist destination, a place where families enjoy a picnic or barges carrying the bounty down the mighty Mississippi.

Logs were floated down the river from Minnesota and Wisconsin to Clinton during the 1850s to around 1900. The huge log flotillas on the river of Clinton’s early days must have been an impressive sight. If you visit Clinton’s Eagle Point Park today in the same area, you might see families enjoying a picnic or barges carrying Iowa’s bounty down the mighty Mississippi.

Today, Clinton remains full of industrious people determined to make the most of their community’s strengths. Clinton’s leaders are looking forward to creating even more opportunities for local workers. And every time I meet with a group of Clinton residents, I am always impressed with their incredible enthusiasm and pride in their community.

In another 150 years from now, I am sure Clinton will still be home to the same brand of wonderful people, living in a vibrant, active city by the river.

Happy birthday, Clinton!
