

IN HONOR OF 7TH LANCE
CORPORAL JAMES R. SARGENT

HON. NICK J. RAHALL II

OF WEST VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2005

Mr. RAHALL. Mr. Speaker, today, 7th Lance Corporal James R. Sargent USMC, was laid to rest at Arlington Cemetery after being listed as missing in action for more than 37 years.

Lance Corporal Sargent, a native of Anawalt, WV, was a true American hero and today marks the end of a long journey for his family and friends.

Lance Corporal Sargent, like so many West Virginians, answered our Nation's call to arms. He wore the uniform and gave his life for freedom's cause.

Lance Corporal Sargent was part of an artillery platoon airlifted to provide support to the 11th Mobile Strike Force, which was under threat of attack from North Vietnamese forces near Kham Duc in South Vietnam. On May 9, 1968, the Strike Force had been directed to reconnoiter an area known as Little Ngok Tavak Hill near the Laos-Vietnam border, in the Kham Duc Province. Their base came under heavy attack by North Vietnamese Army troops, but after a 10-hour battle, all of the survivors were able to withdraw from the area.

LCpl, Sargent, one of 13 Marines killed in this battle, was awarded the Meritorious Unit Commendation for his heroism at Ngok Tavak. The Bible says in the book of John, Chapter 15, Verse 13, "Greater love has no one than this, than to lay down one's life for his friends." Today we honor not only Lance Corporal Sargent, but all of the soldiers, airmen and Marines who, through commitment and courage, have answered the call to protect the ones they love. This is truly the greatest gift one can give.

I would also like to submit for the RECORD The Secretary of the Navy Citation for the Meritorious Unit Commendation—a detailed account of Lance Corporal Sargent's heroism:

The Secretary of the Navy takes pleasure in presenting the Meritorious Unit Commendation to: Detachment, Battery D, Second Battalion, and Thirteenth Marines, First Marine Division (Reinforced)

CITATION

For heroic achievement in action against enemy Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces during the defense of the Civilian Irregular Defense Group camp known as Ngok Tavak on 10 May 1968. The detachment, consisting of one officer and 43 enlisted men, was tasked with the mission of providing artillery support to the camp. In the early morning, while providing this support to a mixed force of U.S. Army Special Forces and Vietnamese irregulars, the detachment's defensive position came under attack by a determined and well equipped enemy force of estimated battalion size. Employing an intense mortar barrage, grenades and heavy small-arms fire, the enemy breached the outer defensive wire in two places and surged through the wire in superior numbers, launching a series of assaults directly against the small defensive perimeter the Marines had formed around their howitzers.

Although seriously depleted by heavy casualties, including the detachment commander and the platoon sergeant, the gallant men of the detachment steadfastly met and contained each assault with withering fire from automatic weapons, grenades, and point-blank individual weapons. On separate occasions, Marines braved the hail of grenade fragments and automatic weapons fire to man a 4.2-inch mortar, an 81mm mortar, and a 30-caliber machine gun belonging to the Special Forces Detachment. Although continually exposed, they brought the fires of these weapons to bear on the attacking enemy and inflicted heavy casualties.

When the survivors of the detachment were ordered to abandon their position, mute evidence of their ferocity as fighting men lay about them in the form of 31 confirmed enemy dead. The successful evacuation of the position was completed under the direct observation and fire of the remaining enemy force. Accompanied by the surviving Civilian Irregular Defense Group forces, the men of the detachment marched for six hours through dense enemy-infested jungle until successfully extracted by helicopter. Of the original detachment, 13 Marines were killed in action and 20 were wounded in action. By their effective teamwork, aggressive fighting spirit, and individual acts of heroism and daring, the artillerymen of this detachment achieved an illustrious record of courage and skill in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and the United States Naval Service.

All personnel attached to and serving with Detachment, Battery D, Second Battalion, Thirteenth Marines, First Marine Division (Reinforced), during the cited action, are hereby authorized to wear the Meritorious Unit Commendation Ribbon.

For the Secretary of the Navy, L. F. CHAPMAN, JR., Commandant of the Marine Corps.

CELEBRATING THE LIFE OF
CARMEN N. CIQUEIROS TAFOYA PERKINS
MULLALY

HON. LUCILLE ROYBAL-ALLARD

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2005

Ms. ROYBAL-ALLARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to take a few moments to honor my cousin, Carmen N. Ciqueiros Tafoya Perkins Mullaly, from Long Beach, California, whose life was cut short on September 11, 2005.

Carmen was born in Los Angeles, California on September 17, 1926 and was always a proud Angeleno. She attended Hammel Elementary School and Belvedere Junior High, and graduated from Roosevelt High School in Los Angeles.

Early on in life, Carmen developed a belief in the principles of the Democratic Party. An active member of the League of Women Voters, Carmen never missed voting in a single election. My cousin's enthusiasm for Election Day was an inspiration to all those around her, as she often opened her own home to serve as a polling precinct for primary and general elections.

In addition to her allegiance to the Democratic Party, Carmen loved being an Anaheim Angels fan. Carmen enjoyed cheering her favorite team on to victory over the years at the Angel Stadium of Anaheim.

Carmen was beloved by our large family, and we all miss her since her passing. I know that my father, former Congressman Edward R. Roybal, will especially miss his cousin.

Carmen is survived by her children: Virgilia Goodwin of Aurora, Colorado; Jack Perkins of Huntington Beach, California; Dwight Perkins of Woodburn, Oregon; Gayle Rex of Walla

Walla, Washington; and Patrick Mullaly of Kennewick, Washington. She is also survived by her sister, Geraldine Overton of Lakewood, California, and by her stepchildren, Tom Mullaly of Irvine, California; Cindy Mullaly of Chicago, Illinois; and Scott Mullaly of San Diego, California. Carmen is also survived by a niece, Geraldine O. Wiese of Cornwall, England. Carmen was preceded in death by her stepson, Mark Mullaly, and her husband Thomas J. Mullaly.

Although my family and I mourn Carmen today, we are also grateful for the many happy moments she brought into the lives of those around her. Today we mourn her death and celebrate her abundant life.

RECOGNIZING THE INTERNATIONAL
ATOMIC ENERGY AGENCY (IAEA) AND ITS DIRECTOR
GENERAL, MOHAMED ELBARADEI, JOINT RECIPIENTS
OF THE 2005 NOBEL PEACE PRIZE

HON. EDWARD J. MARKEY

OF MASSACHUSETTS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2005

Mr. MARKEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to recognize the award of the 2005 Nobel Peace Prize to the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) and its Director General, Mohamed ElBaradei. Today the IAEA and Dr. ElBaradei were jointly awarded this most prestigious of awards for their active efforts against the spread of nuclear arms and against the misuse of nuclear energy for military purposes.

As we know, Dr. ElBaradei and the IAEA were asked by the United Nations, at the urging of the United States, to serve the cause of world peace by engaging in a vigorous effort to find whatever evidence might exist of a Nuclear Weapons program in Iraq through any-time, anywhere inspections. Dr. ElBaradei and the IAEA did their jobs, and the world had an opportunity both to serve the cause of preventing weapons proliferation and heading off a very costly war. Unfortunately, the United States decided to forego this opportunity, and war ensued.

Now, the world is turning once again to the IAEA as the only way to prevent weapons proliferation in Iraq and in North Korea. Will the IAEA be supported this time? The Nobel Committee's decision to recognize the work of the IAEA, and of Dr. ElBaradei, increases the likelihood that such support will be forthcoming. It is needed now more than ever.

I submit below an excerpt from the press release from the Nobel Committee, describing why the important work of the IAEA and Dr. ElBaradei is deserved of such an honor.

At a time when the threat of nuclear arms is again increasing, the Norwegian Nobel Committee wishes to underline that this threat must be met through the broadest possible international cooperation. This principle finds its clearest expression today in the work of the IAEA and its Director General. In the nuclear non-proliferation regime, it is the IAEA which controls that nuclear energy is not misused for military purposes, and the Director General has stood out as an unafraid advocate of new measures to strengthen that regime. At a time when disarmament efforts appear deadlocked, when there is a danger that nuclear arms
