I am proud of the service this young man gave to his country and the service his fellow troops perform everyday. Not enough can be said about Lance Cpl Price. It is soldiers like him that are risking their lives day in and day out to ensure our freedom here at home and to others throughout the rest of the world. I salute him and my best wishes go out to his family and all the troops fighting to ensure freedom and democracy. God bless them and may God continue to bless America.

Mr. KILDEE. Mr. Speaker, I ask the House of Representatives to join me in honoring Cloyce Dickerson as he receives the Walter Reuther Award from UAW Local 659. Cloyce will be honored at a reception on Sunday by the membership of the Local.

Cloyce Dickerson, and he is recognized for his exceptional contributions to the UAW and its members.

Mr. Speaker, following graduation from Madras High School in 1975, Rick took over as the manager of the local bowling alley. It was there that he began learning the ways of the business world. His hard work at the bowling alley gave him the experience and knowledge that led him to his next business endeavor as the manager of the Tiger Mart. It didn’t take long until Rick had purchased Tiger Mart and turned it into a thriving gas station and mini mart. Soon, he’d be on to even bigger and better endeavors.

First elected in 1982, at the young age of 25, Rick embarked into the world of politics as a member of the Madras City Council. His business acumen brought efficiency and effectiveness to his elected post and to the operation of local government. Rick served 6 years as a member of the city council, and served as the mayor for the last 2 years. Following his service on the city council, Mayor Allen went on to serve 8 years as a Jefferson County Commissioner, continuing his role of public stewardship.

Mr. Speaker, following a brief departure from electoral politics, Rick’s dedication and devotion to his community carried him back for a second tour of duty. In 2000, the City of Madras faced great uncertainty with alleged scandals and wrongdoing within the city government. During these tumultuous times, Rick recognized the need for stability and consistency. He answered the call and inspired him to mount a write-in candidacy to once again return to serve as the Mayor of Madras. He was overwhelmingly elected in 2001, securing 80 percent of the vote and upon election immediately went to work to rebuild and restore trust within the community.

Mr. Speaker, those who know Rick best will tell you that he’s not one to back down from a challenge and he’s not afraid to make an unpopular decision if he believes it is best for the community. During his tenure, Rick tackled challenges that confronted him. He was a visionary for growth, led the charge for expansion, and has been a champion for economic development in the region. Under his leadership, the city acquired industrial land near the airport while making significant improvements and enhancements to the airport property. Rick has been a strong advocate for recreation and rafters that float along the lower Deschutes River. He was a key player in East Madras Development Project, which will establish 1,700 new homes, an 18-hole golf course, over 60 acres of open space, and 20 acres set aside for the local schools.

Mr. Speaker, these illustrate just a few of Mayor Allen’s accomplishments during a long and distinguished career. I ask that my fellow colleagues join me in congratulating this extraordinary man and great American. For years to come the region will flourish and residents will benefit from the foundation and vision that Mayor Allen has pursued. I wish Rick the best in future endeavors, and personally, I would like to thank him for all he’s done for the people of Jefferson County, the Second Congressional District, and the great state of Oregon.

Mr. SHIMKUS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to a great American, a military hero; a husband; a father; a grandfather of nine, Cloyce Dickerson who was recently killed in action during Operation Iraqi Freedom in Ramadi, Iraq.

Mr. Speaker, may the members of the House of Representatives join me in honoring a remarkable, committed, compassionate man, Cloyce Dickerson, and he is recognized for his lifelong contributions to the UAW and its members.

The Girl Scouts offer an extremely important service, always working to find new ways to address the key issues facing girls and young women. Recently, the Girl Scout Research Institute released a study which concluded that feeling acceptance and emotional support are critical toward achieving healthy habits. The study was quite timely, released just before National Eating Disorder Awareness Week, which is February 27 through March 3. The study brings everyday girls’ voices to the forefront of discussions on health and self-esteem issues.

The Girl Scouts of Nassau County offer a range of healthy living activities that address the girl as a whole rather than just the food she eats, her weight and her exercise habits. Dove, the beauty brand, made that point by running a Superbowl commercial. The commercial aimed to widen the definition of beauty and inspire healthy, positive self-images among women. The talents of the Girl Scouts of Nassau County Chorus were recruited, and the managers of the Tiger Mart. It didn’t take long until Rick had purchased Tiger Mart and turned it into a thriving gas station and mini mart. Soon, he’d be on to even bigger and better endeavors.
