

Too often, the exceptional work and service that 9-1-1 call centers and workers perform every day across America goes unrecognized.

Before I came to Washington, I served as the chief prosecutor for Hennepin County, Minnesota's largest county, for 8 years. During that time, I saw firsthand the critical contributions 9-1-1 call centers make to public safety on a daily basis—helping to save lives and bring criminals to justice—and gained an unending appreciation for their work.

Today, I wish to thank all 9-1-1 operators for all they do to keep our communities safe—for coordinating the response to each and every emergency, and for doing it all with composure and compassion, and never with complaint.

But today is a special honor for the Minneapolis Emergency Communications Center, now recognized as the Outstanding Call Center of 2007 for its response to the tragic I-35W bridge collapse in August of 2007.

I would like to congratulate and thank director John Dejung, deputy director Heather Hunt, and each of the 77 call center agents involved in the response.

In the minutes and hours following the bridge collapse, the response of Minnesota's fire fighters, police, and other emergency personnel was extraordinary. One of the most enduring images of the response is that of brave young firefighter Shanna Hansen who, with a rope tied around her waist, kept diving down into the depths of the Mississippi to search for any survivors.

What wasn't seen was how the Minneapolis Emergency Communications Center directed the response. Under the most difficult of circumstance, center personnel produced the very best of results and no doubt saved lives. The entire Nation saw Minnesota's finest on display in those first few hours after the collapse, and it was made possible by the 9-1-1 responders we are honoring today and their colleagues in Minneapolis.

So it is with great pride that I congratulate the Minneapolis Emergency Communications Center for this well-deserved award of Outstanding Call Center of 2007.●
