

have earned him the respect and admiration of his patients and colleagues spread throughout the world.

Dr. David Hale has earned the reputation as a giant in his field. In fact, one distinguished colleague has even said, "The world is a better place because of Dr. Hale." After hearing his long record of accomplishment, you will surely agree.

As an emergency medicine physician, Dr. Hale is known for his caring and compassionate demeanor towards patients and for his leadership in hospital patient services. Some suggest he is the reason Woodwinds receives some of the highest patient satisfaction scores not only in Minnesota, but across the country.

If that was not enough, Dr. Hale is a Major in the Minnesota National Guard and has completed two tours of duty in Iraq. Among his military honors, Dr. Hale earned a Bronze Medal Star in March 2007, an Army Commendation Medal in March 2005, an Army Achievement Medal in August 2003, a National Defense Service Medal, a Global War on Terror Expeditionary Medal and many other awards for his outstanding military service.

Even more amazing are the contributions he has made on the humanitarian front during his time in Iraq. During his first tour of duty, Dr. Hale started an international humanitarian effort to teach basic medical care to Iraqis, a program that still exists today. During his second tour in Iraq, he expanded his efforts to provide 400 first aid kits and midwife kits to Iraqi women and children, a gesture well received by Iraqi villagers and soldiers alike.

Now back in Minnesota, Dr. Hale is focused on helping veterans returning home from war, many of whom suffered traumatic injuries on the battlefield.

Madam Speaker, it is my honor to rise today to celebrate Dr. David Hale's extraordinary and selfless career of service. His contributions to his community, the state of Minnesota, and the country of Iraq make him a distinguished patriot, and make us all proud to be Americans. I stand today and join his family, friends, and colleagues in wishing him a long and successful career.

IN RECOGNITION OF HIGHLAND PARK TOWN ADMINISTRATOR
GEORGE PATTERSON

HON. PETE SESSIONS

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 10, 2008

Mr. SESSIONS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Highland Park Town Administrator George Patterson.

After graduating from Texas Tech University, he began his public service career as an Administrative Aide with the City of Lubbock. He then moved on to become the City Manager for Pecos City and Snyder before accepting the position of Town Administrator with Highland Park in 1979. George will be retiring on June 24, 2008 with twenty-nine years of dedicated service to Highland Park.

During his tenure, he has carefully managed and led his staff by example. With his vision and leadership skills, Highland Park is a better and safer community. His commitment to public service extended beyond the workplace. He is actively involved in numerous professional and community organizations such as the Texas City Managers Association and the Rotary Club. George leaves a legacy of civic duty that will be greatly missed.

Madam Speaker, I ask my esteemed colleagues to join me in expressing our best wishes to him and his family on this special day.

IN RECOGNITION OF RYAN
STEWART

OF IDAHO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 10, 2008

Mr. SALI. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition of Ryan Stewart of Boise, ID.

Ryan is representing Idaho as youth governor during the annual YMCA National Youth Governors' Conference here in Washington, DC.

I am proud of Ryan's commitment and involvement in this program. Ryan was elected youth governor after campaigning in Idaho's youth and government program. This is a hands-on program dedicated to educating high school students on how state government operates. Ryan participated in a Regional Convention giving speeches and ultimately being elected to his current position.

I am honored to take the opportunity to recognize Ryan. His involvement in the YMCA program is a great way for him to learn how our government functions. Ryan is an example to his peers and I wish him all the best for a successful year as youth governor in Idaho.

PLATTE COUNTY ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL

HON. SAM GRAVES

OF MISSOURI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 10, 2008

Mr. GRAVES. Madam Speaker, I proudly pause to recognize the outstanding achievements of the Platte County Economic Development Council (PCEDC) of Platte County, Missouri. Burdette "Pete" Fullerton, Executive Director, has successfully guided the EDC, and I am honored to help celebrate their 20th Anniversary on June 20, 2008. This prestigious recognition is the culmination of twenty years of dedicated work to continuously improve and enhance our community.

The Platte County EDC serves as an authoritative voice in the community on economic development and related issues through an effective program of professional development, public policy, marketing, and communications. The EDC has assisted in several local projects over the past 20 years, including ADT Security Services, Citi Cards, Harley-Davidson Motor Company, KCI Expo Center, Lifetouch Publishing, Argosy Casino Hotel and Spa, Multivac, The National Golf Club, Tiffany Greens Golf Club, and Zona Rosa.

Pete Fullerton is responsible for the growth of this non-profit organization that promotes economic development in Platte County, Missouri. Pete has worked diligently on behalf of EDC to build a partnership between public and private sectors and has assisted in the successful completion of 127 projects. The PCEDC has helped to create over 11,000 new jobs for Platte County.

Madam Speaker, I ask that you join me in applauding the Platte County Economic Development Council of Platte County, Missouri for its hard work and dedication. Since the EDC began, it has served as a resource to its investors and the community. I want to thank Pete Fullerton for all of his work and applaud him for his accomplishments with the Platte County EDC.

DUNEDIN HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL TEAM WINS THE FLORIDA STATE
CLASS 5A CHAMPIONSHIP

HON. C.W. BILL YOUNG

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 10, 2008

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. Madam Speaker, it is with much pride that I rise today to congratulate the Dunedin High School Baseball team for winning the Florida State Class 5A Championship. The Falcons of Dunedin, who I have the privilege to represent, won the championship in an extra innings showdown against the South Fork Bulldogs.

The Falcons won the championship in a ten inning marathon, the longest Florida State baseball championship game since 1997. The defense and pitching were excellent, keeping the score tied at two runs apiece until Max Priest scored the winning run for Dunedin on a Max Kreuter single.

It was only through a season of hard work—both on and off of the field—that the Falcons finished with a 26–6 record on their way to the school's first state baseball title in 44 years. It is a testament to the character of these young men, and they deserve to be congratulated. But let us not forget to send our congratulations to Coach Tom Hilbert who worked tirelessly as a coach and as a mentor to the team. I would also like to congratulate the parents of the players, as well as the teachers, administrators and the staff of Dunedin High School for doing a fantastic job of raising and encouraging these exceptional student-athletes. Following my remarks, I will include for my colleagues the full story of Dunedin's Baseball Championship as reported by The St. Petersburg Times.

Madam Speaker, in closing, please join me in congratulating the Dunedin High School Falcons for their outstanding achievement in winning the Florida State Baseball Championship.

[From the St. Petersburg Times, May 15, 2008]

LONG WAIT IS OVER: DUNEDIN WINS TITLE

SARASOTA—It began the moment the ball disappeared into Cammeron Fisher's glove. Seconds later, a swarm of triumphant Dunedin players rushed toward the mound to celebrate a 3–2 victory and the school's first state baseball title in 44 years.

"This is something you dream about," Fisher said. "To make the final out is unbelievable, especially going through so many ups and downs in a game like this."

There already were lingering memories—of the heart-wrenching moments in the seventh inning, of the nail-biting rally in extra innings, of a game snatched from defeat—that the players swore they never doubted.

The winning run scored in the top of the 10th inning when Max Kreuter singled in Max Priest against Stuart South Fork. The two played the longest championship game since 1997.

"It was a little nerve-racking, but we have so many bats in this lineup that we knew we had a chance," Kreuter said.

But this game was won with defense and pitching.

The Falcons had a two-run lead then watched it disappear when the Bulldogs scored a run each in the third and fifth innings to tie it.

In the seventh, South Fork (27-6) had runners on first and third with no outs. The Falcons walked the next runner to load the bases.

At that point, Dunedin was desperate to win—and keep its state title hopes from vanishing.

"We were on the edge of our seats at that point," Dunedin coach Tom Hilbert said. "Our backs were against the wall. But we were able to maintain our composure."

Slowly, the Falcons (26-6) found a way to wiggle out of the jam.

Alex Norris, who came on in relief of Clay Kollenbaum, got the first and only batter he faced to ground out.

Jake Rogers came in next and got the next two batters to strike out and fly out.

"It was just incredible to come out of that the way we did," Rogers said. "I had so much adrenaline going."

Beneath the noise, tension and pressure, Rogers emerged more as a survivor than a closer.

With so much at stake, Rogers knew he couldn't afford to make mistakes. He escaped unharmed, throwing 3½ innings after pitching just three before Thursday's appearance.

"Jake was just phenomenal," Hilbert said. "It was a real gutsy performance."

It remained scoreless through the next three innings.

Then the Falcons, after squandering so many chances, made something happen in the 10th. Priest led off the inning by drawing a walk, then moved to second on a sacrifice bunt by Mike Kumbat and advanced to third on a wild pitch. Priest scored on Kreuter's single.

Rogers then finished things off. The moment Fisher caught the ball, Rogers sprung off the mound, shook his fist, twirled in a crazy leap and came down to earth knowing he would be able to sleep.

"I think all of us are going to pass out on the bus on the ride home," Rogers said. "It was such a draining game, so full of emotions."

"But it was so worth it to win like this."

TRIBUTE TO COLONEL CHRISTINE ROLAND

HON. C.A. DUTCH RUPPERSBERGER

OF MARYLAND

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 10, 2008

Mr. RUPPERSBERGER. Madam Speaker, I rise before you today to honor Christine Roland, recently awarded the title of 2007–2008 Harford County Teacher of the Year. Mrs. Roland has been a teacher with Harford County Public Schools for five years, teaching Biology and Forensic Science at Edgewood High School.

Born and raised in Switzerland, Mrs. Roland earned a degree in advertising and public relations and became fluent in three languages before she moved to the United States. She has since earned a bachelor's degree in Biology from Towson University, a Certification in Education, and is currently working on her master's degree in Biology.

Thanks to her unique background and teaching style, her bright, inviting classroom and original lessons keep her students active and engaged in the classroom. Using her background in advertising, Mrs. Roland packages her lessons and activities in an appealing and creative way. Her enthusiastic teachings inspire and motivate her students to put effort into their work and truly absorb the class material.

Mrs. Roland goes the extra mile when it comes to helping her students succeed. Appreciating that biology can be a difficult subject, Mrs. Roland acknowledges all student achievement. She evaluates student understanding and provides immediate feedback. Her students know that she will not move on until there is a basic understanding of every concept. The projects and activities she assigns are challenging and diverse so every student can feel a sense of accomplishment. Mrs. Roland makes herself available to students and parents before and after school, as well as through e-mail in the evenings should a student need assistance with an assignment.

Mrs. Roland is eager to attend relevant conferences and meetings to enhance her professional development. She plays a major role on the Technology Steering Committee and is actively involved in the curriculum writing for many subjects. She initiated a new course in forensic science for Harford County, received approval and wrote the entire curriculum. The course is now part of the county curriculum and she is working on staff development for the teachers.

Madam Speaker, I ask that you join with me today to honor Christine Roland in her acceptance of the 2007–2008 Harford County Teacher of the Year Award. Her legacy as a dedicated, enthusiastic teacher will be forever remembered by the appreciative students who walk through her classroom doors. It is with great pride that I congratulate Christine Roland on her exemplary career in education and her outstanding performance at Edgewood High School in Harford County.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. JERRY WELLER

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 10, 2008

Mr. WELLER of Illinois. Madam Speaker, I rise today to enter into the RECORD votes I would have cast had I been present for rollcall votes 388 through 390. I was absent on Monday, June 9th, due to flight delays caused by severe weather.

If I were present I would have voted, "yea" on rollcall vote 388, "yea" on rollcall vote 389, and "yea" on rollcall vote 390.

CELEBRATING HOW STANLEY MICHELS GAVE NORTHERN MANHATTAN A POWERFUL VOICE IN CITY POLITICS

HON. CHARLES B. RANGEL

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 10, 2008

Mr. RANGEL. Madam Speaker, I rise today to celebrate a champion of environmental health and a stellar legislator, Stanley Michels, a 24-year New York City Council member whose birthday we honor today. Three decades ago, he set for himself an ambitious task: to render visible the invisible, to—as he put it—"convince City Hall that there is life in Manhattan above 96th Street." A lifelong resident of northern Manhattan, he felt it imperative that he and his neighbors in West Harlem, in Washington Heights, in Inwood, in Morningside Heights, in Central Harlem, be given a voice. After an illustrious career on the Council, it's safe to say he has succeeded, and then some. The litany of legislative achievement attached to his name speaks to his political and personal philosophies: Prioritize the quality of life of everyday people. Hold steadfast to the guiding principles of fairness and pragmatism. And always, always stand by those who need most defending.

An environmentalist at heart whose driving motivation was consistently the health and well-being of his constituency, Michels led the charge for cleaner air and the protection of the area's water supply. He advanced a precedent-setting law aiming to protect children from lead poisoning in apartments. He spearheaded an expansion of the city's recycling and waste-reduction programs, requiring the weekly collection of recyclables and granting the Council the power to approve the city's Solid Waste Management Plan. He railed against smoking and excessive noise in public places, limiting both in his time on the Council.

Two short months after the attacks of Sept. 11, he held the first public hearings on air quality and the environmental impact of the World Trade Center collapse. For nearly a decade, he chaired the Committee on Environmental Protection, early in his tenure bringing together at-odds parties in the battle over the city's watershed and succeeded in creating the dialogue that led to the Watershed Memorandum of Agreement, still effectively safeguarding the city's water-supply system today. A master of both policy and relationships, he is as good at legislating as he is at bringing people together.

He fought then—and continues to fight—for the little guy. He required that there be public hearings before annual increases to rent-stabilized apartments. He was the motivating force behind a provision that exempted seniors from certain rent increases. He closed loopholes in the deregulation of apartments, allowed the city to foreclose on individual properties in tax arrears, and eliminated the parking garage surtax for Manhattan residents.

For a quarter of a century, he served tirelessly for the public. His home—too often forgotten, overlooked, disregarded—had finally a voice in city government. And what a powerful and distinct voice he gave them. He optimistically noted that his tenure sent the city a clear message: that "no city agency can ignore us" ever again.
