Key working groups organized for the Prague Conference will focus on property restoration in countries like Poland that still have no applicable laws, looted art and Judaica, and Jewish cultural property. There will also be a special session on “Caring for Victims of Nazism and Their Legacy,” which will examine the protection of humanitarians and social needs survivors face.

Those who survived the Holocaust and overcame horrific trauma to rebuild their shattered lives deserve to live their final years with dignity. We cannot talk about remembrance and restitution without addressing survivor destitution. I am hopeful that the Prague forum will answer this urgent call to action.
