The Senate met at 9:30 a.m. and was called to order by the Honorable Kirsten E. Gillibrand, a Senator from the State of New York.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Dr. Barry C. Black, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray...

O Lord of our pilgrim years, the day returns and brings us the round of its concerns and duties.

As our Senators serve You and country, make them aware that their attitudes, words, and actions influence the structure of events and human relationships around our Nation and world. Help these representatives of freedom to master themselves that they may be the servants of others. In these times of strain, keep them from magnifying the slights and stings that are a part of the legislative process. Give them pure hearts and a passion to serve the American people with integrity and honor.

Lord, today, we commit to You all that we have and are to realize Your best for this Nation and world.

We pray in Your strong Name. Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The Honorable Kirsten E. Gillibrand led the Pledge of Allegiance, as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

HEALTH CARE WEEK VIII, DAY IV

Mr. McConnell. Madam President, the American people are making their voices heard in the debate over health care. One of the things they are demanding is that we do something to lower costs. This is why the proponents of a government takeover never fail to mention lowering costs as one of their primary goals. Yet, more and more Americans are beginning to ask themselves a very simple question: How can more government lead to lower costs?

They look at Medicare, a government-run health care program that’s nearly bankrupt, and they don’t understand how an even bigger, more complicated government-run health plan won’t end up in the same condition—and they certainly don’t understand why the administration would propose cutting hundreds of billions of dollars from Medicare to help pay for this massive new government-run plan.

Yet, this is precisely what some are proposing: that we use Medicare as a piggy bank to pay a significant portion of the administration’s plan for health care reform. Well, in my view, it’s a terrible idea, and on the 44th anniversary of this vital program that roughly 40 million Americans rely on each day, I think it is important to explain why.

Here is how one of the proposed cuts would work. Right now, if a senior citizen on Medicare needs surgery, his or her hospital stay will likely be covered by Medicare, and because health care costs go up each year, Medicare provides for annual increases that ensure that hospitals and other providers are able to keep pace with inflation.

What the administration and some Democrats in Congress are proposing is that we reduce or even eliminate this annual increase—thus, cutting the amount of money we spend on Medicare, a drastic measure that could have a serious impact on our hospitals and the communities and patients they serve.

It would be one thing if these cuts were being proposed as a way of strengthening Medicare. The simple fact is that Medicare faces significant challenges that must be addressed. When Medicare Part A—the program that pays for hospital stays—was enacted, 44 years ago today, it was projected that in 1990 this program would spend $51 billion on hospital services and related administration. As it turned out, spending in 1990 totaled almost $367 billion—or more than seven times the original prediction. These exploding costs have taken a toll on the program’s bottom line. Today, Medicare Part A—the program that pays for hospital services and related administration—is already spending more than it is taking in, and it is expected to be insolvent in just 8 years. Unfortunately, the administration plans to use Medicare cuts in order to fund yet another new government program.

America’s seniors don’t want politicians in Washington tampering with Medicare to pay for health care reform. They want us to fix it. I get letters almost daily from some of the nearly 700,000 Kentuckians who have Medicare. They are counting on it in the years ahead, and they are worried about its future. In my view, we have a serious obligation to make sure it’s there for them. Unfortunately, the administration’s proposal takes the wrong approach.

Just yesterday, the Joint Economic Committee completed a study on the administration’s proposed cuts to Medicare. It found that if these cuts were used to restore Medicare rather than to fund a government takeover of health care, the Medicare trust fund’s 75-year unfunded liability would be reduced by 15 percent, or more than $2 trillion. The short delay would delay that trust fund’s bankruptcy by 2 years. In short, while any savings from a reformed Medicare would strengthen it for a longer period of time were they put back into the current program, this bill highlights how important overall reform is to ensuring that Medicare continues to serve our seniors.

This is why I have argued for weeks that any savings from Medicare should be put back into the program. And this is why I have also repeatedly urged the administration and my colleagues in the Senate to move forward on the bipartisan Medicare+Choice plan, which would provide a clear pathway for fixing the problems in Medicare and other important entitlement programs. Conrad-Gregg would force us to get debt and spending under control. It is the best way to reform Medicare. It deserves the support of every Member of Congress.

Doctors and hospitals across the country are worried about what these proposed cuts in Medicare would mean for them and their patients. Earlier this year, the Kentucky Hospital Association warned that the kinds of cuts being considered in Washington would seriously impact the services hospitals now provide to seniors in my State. I would encourage my colleagues to talk to seniors, doctors, and medical professionals in their own States and see what they’re saying. My guess is that it’s a lot different than what some of the lobbyists and interest groups here in Washington are saying.

Some in Congress seem to be in such a rush to pass just any reform, rather than the right reform, that they are looking everywhere for the money to pay for it—even if it means sticking it to seniors with cuts to Medicare. If there was ever a program that needed to be put on a sounder financial footing it is Medicare. And yet throughout the debates over health care cuts in Medicare, we don’t seem to be focusing our attention on this vital issue. Instead, the same people who are unwilling to make the hard choices that are needed to fix Medicare now want us to trust them to create a new government program that will inevitably suffer from these same problems. It just doesn’t add up, and Americans are beginning to realize it.

So on this anniversary, here is my message: Using massive cuts to Medicare as a way to government-run health care isn’t the kind of change Americans are looking for. Americans want savings from Medicare to be used to strengthen Medicare, not to create a system that would increase long-term health care costs, force Americans off the insurance they have and like, and lead to a government takeover of health care that has the same fiscal problems that Medicare has.

Forty-four years ago today, President Johnson signed Medicare into law, saying that our Nation would never “refuse the hand of justice to those who have given a lifetime of service in the fields and labor” to their Nation. Those of us in Congress have a responsibility to fulfill that vow. And the best way to do so is to work together on reforms that address the real problems in our health care system, problems like the ones we see with Medicare.

I have been encouraged, as lawmakers on both sides, and even the President, have acknowledged that the reform proposals we have seen so far are not where they need to be. Strengthening Medicare to make sure it meets the needs of seniors today and in the years to come would be a very good place to start.

Madam President, I yield the floor.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Tennessee.

SOTOMAYOR NOMINATION

Mr. ALEXANDER. Madam President, I want to make a statement about the President’s nomination of Judge Sonia Sotomayor to be Associate Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Even though Judge Sotomayor’s political and judicial philosophy may be different from mine, especially regarding second amendment rights, I will vote to confirm her because she is well qualified by experience, temperament, character, and intellect to serve as an Associate Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

On June 3, 2005, I said on this floor that it was wrong for then-Senator Obama and half the Democratic Senators to vote against John Roberts—a superbly qualified nominee—solely because they disagreed with what Senator Obama described as Roberts’ “overarching political philosophy” and “his work in the White House and the Solicitor General’s Office” that “consistently sided” with “the strong in opposition to the weak.” Today, it would be equally wrong for us to vote against Judge Sotomayor solely because she is not “on my side” on some issues.

Courts were never intended to be political bodies composed of judges “on your side” who would reliably tilt your way in controversial cases. Courts are supposed to do just the opposite: decide difficult cases with impartiality.

The oath Judge Sotomayor has taken twice and will take again when she is sworn in as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court says it best:

I will administer justice without respect to persons, and do equal right to the poor and to the rich and . . . I will faithfully and impartially discharge and perform all the duties incumbent upon me . . . under the Constitution and laws of the United States.

During her confirmation hearings, Judge Sotomayor expressly rejected then-Senator Obama’s view that in a certain percentage of judicial decisions, “the critical ingredient is supplied by what is in a judge’s heart and [in] the depth and breadth of one’s empathy.” In answer to a question from Senator Kyl, she said in her confirmation hearing:

I can only explain what I think judges should do, which is judges can’t rely on what is in their heart. They don’t determine the law. Congress makes the law. The job of a judge is to apply the law. And so it’s not the heart that compels conclusions in cases. It’s the law. The judge applies the law to the facts before that judge.

Giving broad Senate approval to obviously well-qualified nominees helps to increase the prestige of the Supreme Court and to confirm its impartiality. For that reason, until the last few years, Republican and Democratic Senators, after rigorous inquiries into the fitness of nominees, usually have given the well-qualified nominees a unanimous vote of approval. For example, no Justice on the Supreme Court that John Roberts joined in 2005 had received more than nine negative votes. Four were confirmed unanimously. All but three Republican Senators voted for John Roberts, and the three who voted against him were counsel of the American Civil Liberties Union. Every single Democratic Senator voted to confirm Justice Scalia.

In truly extraordinary cases, Senators, of course, reserve the prerogative, as I do, to vote no or even to vote to deny an up-or-down vote.

During the 8 years I was Governor of Tennessee, I appointed about 50 judges. In doing so, I looked for the same qualifications Justice Roberts and Judge Souter demonstrated intelligence, good character, restraint, respect for law, and respect for those who came before the court. I did not ask one applicant how he or she would rule on abortion or immigration or taxation. I appointed the first female circuit judge in our State and the first African-American circuit judge in our State and the first African-American state Supreme Court justice. I appointed both Democrats and Republicans. That process served well and helped build respect for the independence and fairness of our judiciary.

In the same way, it is my hope that my vote now will not only help to confirm a well-qualified nominee but will help to return the Senate to the practice only recently lost of inquiring diligently into qualifications of a nominee and then accepting that elections have consequences, one of which is to confer upon the President of the United States the constitutional right to nominate Justices of the Supreme Court.

Madam President, I ask unanimous consent to have printed in the RECORD my floor remarks in support of Judge John Roberts on September 27, 2005.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

FLOOR REMARKS OF U.S. SENATOR LAMAR ALEXANDER IN SUPPORT OF JUDGE JOHN ROBERTS

WASHINGTON, D.C.—July 30, 2009

My constituents have been asking me: who will President Bush nominate for the second Supreme Court vacancy? And the question remains unanswered from California who went to Alabama to play for Coach Bear Bryant. Day after day in practice, the kicker kept punting it more than 70 yards. Day after day, Bryant never said a word. Finally, the young man went to Bryant. Coach, I came all the way here from California to be coached by you and you never say a word to me. Bryant said, When you start kicking it less than 70 yards, I will remind you of what you were doing when you kicked it 70 yards.

My respectful suggestion to President Bush is that he try to remember what he was thinking when he appointed John Roberts, and to do it again. For anyone who has been trained in the law, as I have, and who knows something about the profession, it has been a pleasure to watch Judge Roberts’ nomination consideration and his confirmation process. It is difficult to overstate how good Judge Roberts seems to be. He has the resume of most talented law school deans. Two of the three best appellate judges of the last century, Judge Roberts learned from Judge Friendly. Then he was law clerk to the last Chief Justice of the United States. He clerked in the Solicitor General’s office where only the best of the best are invited to work. Then add his success as an advocate before the Supreme Court both in private and in public practice. Then still further add his demeanor, his modesty both in philosophy and in person—something that is not always so evident in a qualifications riot temperament and even accomplishment. And his kindness to individuals with whom he has worked. His performance before the Senate Judiciary Committee demonstrated all of those qualities: restraint, good humor, intelligence, and a command of the body of law that a Supreme Court justice needs to perform his job. The televised episodes could be the basis for a law school course or any civics class.

Justice Roberts brings, as he repeatedly said, no agenda to the Supreme Court. He understands that he did not write the Constitution, and it’s not his job to rewrite it but to interpret it. That he does not make law, but is obligated to apply it. He understands the federal system. For a devotee of the law, watching the John Roberts hearings was like watching Michael Jordan play basketball at the University of North Carolina in the early 1980s or Chet Atkins as a session guitarist in the 1950s in Nashville. One does not have to be a great student of the law to recognize there is unusual talent here.

So then if Judge Roberts’ professional qualifications and temperament are so universally acclaimed why do we now hear so much talk of changing the rules and voting only for those justices who can be assured of committee confirmation? That would be the wrong direction for our country. In the first place, history teaches us that those who try to predict how nominees will decide cases are almost always wrong. Felix Frankfurter surprised Franklin Roosevelt. Hugo Black surprised the South. David Souter surprised New England.

In the second place, courts were never intended to be set up as political bodies that could be relied upon to always tilt one way or another in controversial matters. Courts are supposed to do just the opposite: to hear the facts and impartially apply the law and the Constitution in controversial matters. Who will ultimately decide what is justice that is deliberately rigged to be on one side or the other despite what the facts and the law are? Finally, failing to give overwhelming approval to an obviously well-qualified nominee like Judge Roberts just because he is not on your side reduces the prestige of the Court. It jeopardizes its independence. It makes it less effective as it seeks to perform its indispensable role in our constitutional republic.

For these three reasons Republican and Democratic senators, after rigorous hearings and discussion, and given the well-qualified nominees for Supreme Court justice an overwhelming vote of approval. I’m not talking about the ancient past, I’m speaking of today. On speaking of today, none of whom are better qualified than Judge Roberts.

Justice Breyer—Confirmed by a vote of 87-9 in a Congress composed of 57 Democrats and 43 Republicans.
Justice Ginsburg—Confirmed by a vote of 96-6 in that same Congress.
Justice Souter—Confirmed by a vote of 90-9 in a Congress composed of 55 Democrats and 45 Republicans.
Justice Kennedy—Confirmed by a vote of 97-0 in a Congress composed of 55 Democrats and 45 Republicans.
Justice Scalia—Confirmed by a vote of 98-0 in a Congress composed of 47 Democrats and 53 Republicans.
Justice O’Connor—Confirmed by a vote of 99-0 in a Congress composed of 46 Democrats and 53 Republicans.
Justice Stevens—Confirmed by a vote of 98-0 in a Congress composed of 61 Democrats and 37 Republicans.

The only close vote on this Court was for the nomination of Justice Thomas following questions of alleged misconduct by the nominee. Thomas was confirmed by a vote of 52-48. However, even in that vote, 11 Democrats crossed the aisle to support the nomination.

If almost all Republican senators can vote for Justice Ginsburg, a former General Counsel for the American Civil Liberties Union, why can’t virtually every senator in this chamber vote to confirm Judge Roberts?

I was governor for eight years in Tennessee. I appointed about fifty judges. I looked for the same qualities Judge Roberts has demonstrated: intelligence, good character, restraint, respect for the law, and respect for those who came before the court. I did not ask one applicant how he or she would rule on abortion or immigration or taxation. I appointed the first female circuit judge in our State and the first African American circuit judge in our State and the first African American state Supreme Court justice. I appointed Republicans and Democrats. That process served well and helped build respect for the independence and fairness of our judiciary. I want to make sure we have as many as possible to work with on this Court, and that’s why I support the nomination of Judge Roberts.
HEALTH CARE REFORM

Ms. KLOBUCHAR. Madam President, health care reform is a very personal matter for me and a personal matter for so many people in my State. I first got interested in this issue, as I think many of us did, after something happened to me when my daughter was born. When she was born, she was very sick. She could not swallow. Back then, insurance companies had a rule that new moms and their babies were kicked out after 24 hours. After she had been in the hospital after 24 hours. As my husband wheeled me out in a wheelchair, I remember thinking: This wouldn't have happened to the wife of the head of the insurance company, but it happened to me.

I went to the legislature, along with a lot of other mothers, and said we have to change this to at least guarantee new moms and their babies a 48-hour hospital stay. Minnesota was one of the first States in the country to adopt that rule, which later, under President Bill Clinton, became national policy.

I remember going to the legislature and standing there at the conference committee and thinking how everyone at the insurance companies were there trying to make sure the implementation of this 48-hour rule was delayed. I decided to take all the pregnant women I knew to the conference committee. We outnumbered the lobbyists two to one. So when the state legislators said, When should this new bill take effect which guarantees new moms and babies 48 hours, all the pregnant moms said, "Now." And that is what happened. That is my experience, and that is how I got involved in this issue.

As I have traveled our State, I have heard from Minnesotans about the importance of doing something about health care. They want cost-effective health care. They want a health care system that rewards quality, not quantity. It is focusing on the patients instead of all the insurance companies were there trying to make sure the implementation of this 48-hour rule was delayed. Medicare fraud—the bill I have with Senator Martinez—would require direct depositing of all payments to providers under Medicare and Medicaid so they are not ripping off the system or scamming the system; that it is going to the people who need it. The bill has been endorsed by the AARP, the National Association of District Attorneys, and the Credit Union National Association. Representative Patrick Murphy is carrying the legislation in the House.

It is no small task, but we must reform America’s health system. I strongly believe in reaching this goal to reform, making sure we don’t have the status quo, where it is becoming harder and harder and harder for people in this country to afford health care. We need a system that depends on rewarding and controlling costs, that rewards quality and stopping fraud and making the system work for the people of this country.

For the sake of our fiscal health and for the sake of the millions of Americans struggling to afford the care they need, enacting effective health care reform in this country is essential. We know it is not easy and it will not happen overnight. It is 17 percent of this economy. But we also know that doing nothing and saying no to everything and calling things names, when we are effectively trying to find a solution, is the wrong way to go.

I hope my colleagues in the Senate will start working on this bill constructively so we can get something done for the people of this country.

I yield the floor.

The Acting President pro tempore, the Senator from Illinois.

Mr. Durbin. Madam President, I see the Senator from Nevada is on the floor, and I would like to ask, before I seek recognition here—I would be happy to yield the floor to the Senator, with the understanding that I would follow Senator from Nevada would give me an indication of how long he might be speaking.

Mr. Ensign. At the most, 10 minutes.

Mr. Durbin. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent, following the morning business statement of the Senator from Nevada, that I be recognized.

The Acting President pro tempore. Without objection, it is so ordered. The Senator from Nevada.

HEALTH CARE REFORM

Mr. Ensign. Madam President, I thank the assistant leader from the Democratic side, the Senator from Illinois, for that courtesy.

I rise today to talk about health care reform. It is critical in our system that we address the issue of cost. We have the finest quality health care system in the world. It is too expensive for too many Americans, and because of that, many Americans are uninsured. Not only are there too many Americans uninsured, for a lot of folks who have insurance, especially those who receive insurance through their employer, they probably haven’t received the kind of raises they would have otherwise received simply because employers are paying more and more for their employees. Then there isn’t money left over to provide higher wages.

It is critical for many reasons that we address the cost issue. We spend about 17 percent of the United States on health care. Some people say we need to spend more, but I disagree with that. I actually think we spend plenty of money in the United States on health care, we just don’t spend it in the right ways. We need to eliminate waste and the bureaucratic spending of our health care dollars and get that money to the patients.

There are five different committees between the House and the Senate that are working on health care reform proposals. I’m working on one in the Senate. Let me quickly address the HELP Committee bill, which is one of the committees in the Senate that has passed a bill. The HELP bill was passed on a straight party line vote. I think the reasons for that, which I will point out, are the flaws that are in that bill.

First of all, the bill is not paid for. Second of all, it is too expensive and it doesn’t cover enough people, especially for the money it spends. Two hundred billion dollars, the Secretary of Health and Human Services is given new powers to establish programs, parameters, appropriate moneys, and otherwise dictates the course of one-sixth of our economy—200 different times. The HELP bill is around 600 pages. If each one of those times where it detailed or gave powers to the Secretary of Health and Human Services—if that was actually written in bill form at that point, the bill would probably have hundreds of pages. That is an incredible complex health care system and how even more complex some people are trying to make it.

This bill creates 50 new offices, bureaus, commissions, programs, and bureaucracies, with 87 new government programs created in the Community Transformation Grants Program alone. The Democrats rejected by party-line vote, an amendment that would have prevented the bill from spending funds in the states, and they voted for $300 million a year. We all like bike paths and things such as that. We all like those kinds of things. I actually ride bikes. I like to see bike paths and things such as that. But certainly there is not a place for that in the health care reform bill that we are trying to work out before the Senate and the House of Representatives.

Furthermore, the final cost of the bill has not been released. I serve on the Finance Committee, and there is a group of bipartisan Senators trying to work together to come up with an agreement. They have not been able to do that, and the big reason for that is they are trying to finalize the details.

The details are extraordinarily challenging because of how complex our health care system is today. That is why we need to take our time and get it right. You don’t mess with one-sixth of the economy of the United States and get it wrong. There are no do-overs when it comes to health care reform. If we mess it up, we literally can mess up our country. We can mess up the economy of our country and potentially threaten the very existence of our system of government because we can bankrupt our country.

We all know Medicare and Medicaid are threatening to bankrupt our system of government as it stands today. All that the HELP Committee bill and the other that have been introduced bills do so far, is accelerate how fast Medicare and Medicaid can bring economic collapse to the United States.

I am working on other proposals. There are examples out there where things are being brought in the health care system. I have told this story to my colleagues many times. Safeway is a company that saw their health care costs skyrocketing year after year. With 200,000 employees, they were spending about $1 billion a year. They worked with the health care industry and lowered their costs increasing every year. When a company is only making $200 million to $300 million a year, and their costs are going up 20 percent a year, you can see the writing on the wall. They were working with a single company with health care costs alone.

Safeway set out on a new course and focused on four areas. They incentivized their employees through lower premiums, if they didn’t smoke or they would quit smoking, they provided smoke cessation products. They focused on the area of obesity with weight management. If employees were in the proper body mass index or if they lost weight, they would give them a lower health care premium. They also focused on cholesterol and hypertension. They didn’t penalize employees for having high cholesterol, but they rewarded them for keeping their cholesterol under control and they rewarded them for keeping their blood pressure under control.

Rewarding healthy choices actually works. Safeway is a very good example. What happened to Safeway in the last 4 years, compared to the rest of the United States is that Safeway has been able to lower their health care costs by 40 percent.

Unfortunately, the Congressional Budget Office, which is the official scorekeeper around here and determines how much money is going to be saved, does not have a model that works with something like the Safeway program. CBO’s economic models don’t work that way. The bean counters around here, unfortunately, don’t know how to put that in application for the Congress. I am fortunate because I believe, if we used some of the same modeling Safeway did for the rest of the country, we could save... huge amounts of money in our health care system. We don't have to save 40 percent, such as Safeway did. Maybe we could save 10 percent. Actually, if we don't save anything, and just freeze the rate of growth, we would be so far ahead in money that we would have plenty left over to cover the uninsured. As I said, unfortunately, the Congressional Budget Office doesn't say a model like Safeway's doesn't save money. It is illogical, though, to believe that having people quit smoking and rewarding them for proper weight management wouldn't save money. I think we need to change the economic models we have around.

Not only would that save money, but it would also lead to higher quality lives. Obesity is an epidemic in the United States. Type II diabetes is rampant. Most Type II diabetics can actually control their diabetes through diet and exercise. We need to encourage healthier behaviors in the United States. Instead of just having a sick care system, let's actually create a true health care system in the United States.

Another thing we need to do. I believe very strongly—and this is a role for the government—we need to provide transparencies on cost and quality so individuals can shop. In the Bay area, a colonoscopy can cost anywhere from $800 to $8,000. Well, if the government were to provide cost and quality measurement information across the United States, people could set up plans and they could see what the various costs are. Let's say that between the $800 and the $8,000, they might decide to pay $1,200. And then if they want the more expensive one, they have to pay the difference. If they want the less expensive one, they can get the $800. And if they want the more expensive one, they can pay the difference. That will cause people to comparison shop and they will have the information based on cost and quality of outcomes to be able to make smart medical decisions.

The one thing we don't want to do is put a bureaucrat between the doctor and the patient making those sorts of decisions. There is a precious relationship between a doctor and a patient, and we don't want the government making those kinds of decisions. I don't want to see a government-run plan that says, you know what, we are going to have rationing. That is how so many other countries around the world control their costs. They actually ration care, or there is delayed care. We have better outcomes in the United States on cancer, on cardiovascular disease, and in so many other areas than Canada, Great Britain, and other places that have government-run health care plans.

I think it is critical we get together as Republicans and Democrats—as Americans—and come up with a health care system that is lower in cost and even cheaper than it is today. The bills before some of the committees out there are not going to achieve that.

I have done several telephone town-hall meetings in the last couple of weeks. We have called almost 200 thousand Nevadans now and talked to many of them. They answered questions. We have gotten their feedback. The one thing that seems not quite unanimous, but from the calls we are receiving it is overwhelming, is that is people do not want a government plan. They do not want a government bureaucrat rationing their health care.

Whatever plan we come up with should not include a government-run health care plan. I feel strongly about that. I think more and more of the American people find out what the effects of a government-run plan will be, we will see a lot more opposition coming from them.

I appreciate the Senator from Illinois allowing me to go first. Let's get together as Americans and do the right thing on health care. Let's join as Republicans, Democrats, and Independents across the country and have a health care system that has lower costs and better quality.

I yield the floor.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Illinois is recognized.

ORDER OF PROCEDURE—H.R. 3357

Mr. DURBIN. Madam President, on behalf of the majority leader and under the authority of the order of July 29, and after consulting with the Republican leader, I now ask that after the conclusion of my remarks, the Senate proceed to H.R. 3357 under the provisions of the July 29 order.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. DURBIN. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent to speak as in morning business.

HEALTH CARE REFORM

Mr. DURBIN. Madam President, the Senator from Nevada has just expressed his views on health care, and I would perhaps like to give a little different view on where we are and where we should go. We are wrapping up this end-of-July recess that is taking us, as they say, back to recess for a few weeks. It is one of the few chances during the year for us to be back home, get a little time with our families before school starts. We are all looking forward to it, as everyone does each year. But we have had important work we have done this year, and more important work is to follow.

This year we hope to take up before the end of the year, and pass, health care reform for America. The House of Representatives is moving a bill, a matter that will be considered in September by the House. We are counting on the Finance Committee to work with us to develop a bill for consideration on the floor of the Senate about the same period of time.

These bills and the concepts they contain are going to be there throughout the month of August for everyone to take a close look at. This is not going to be done in haste because it is too important. It is going to be there, and the critics will have a chance to look at it, people will be able to come up with suggestions—constructive suggestions, I hope—that will lead us to the passage of health care reform in this country.

I listened earlier to my colleague and friend from Nevada, Senator ENZIEN, talk about government-run health care. In my hometown of Springfield, Ill, a doctor wrote to the editor warning us about government-run health care. I would like to put it in perspective.

There are about 300 million people living in our great Nation. Of those 300 million, 155 million are currently covered by Medicare. Medicare, for seniors and disabled people in America, is a government-run health care plan. For many of these people it is the first health insurance plan they have ever been covered by.

A realtor in southern Illinois came up to me, a woman 63 years old. She said: Senator I want you to meet somebody who has never had health insurance protection one day of her life. I said, well, you could afford it. I said, I wouldn't have enough money. Knock on wood, lucky for me, I have been pretty healthy. I didn't need it. I was able to pay my medical bills. But, she said, thank God in 2 years I will be under Medicare so the savings I put aside for my retirement are not going to be wiped out by one illness or one surgery. I will have Medicare.

She will join the ranks of 45 million people on a government health insurance plan, a called Medicare. Of course they would not. That is not a position the American people are going to support.

Some people are a little confused though. One of my colleagues went back home over the weekend and somebody said: Senator, listen; whatever you do, don't let the government start meddling in my Medicare plan.

He said: Pardon me, ma'am, but the government runs your Medicare plan.

She didn't understand that. Some people don't, but that is a fact.

So there are 45 million people under Medicare. There are another 65 million Americans, maybe as high as 70 million, who are covered by Medicaid. Medicaid is the health insurance plan for the poorest people in America. We said to ourselves, well, if you are poor in America, you are still going to get health care, and we are going to provide it, working with the States. So more than one-third of the people who live in America today are covered by government health insurance. I have never heard a person on the other side of the aisle say eliminate Medicaid. They don’t. They understand we are at a cusp of a great historical try, and we are going to provide this health insurance coverage, as we have for decades, as we should.

Here we have one-third of America currently government health plan, and on the other side of the aisle people are waving their fists saying: Whatever you do, don’t have a government health plan.

It does not work. It is inconsistent. Many people say: like my health insurance right now. I don’t want to change. I don’t want to go into Medicare or Medicaid. I like what I have. Would you please leave people alone.

The answer is yes. In fact, we guaranteed health insurance for everyone. What is the cost? It is going to cost them eighty-two thirty dollars a year. How many any legislation considered by the House and Senate the protection of you, as an individual, to keep the health insurance you have, if that is what you want. What we are trying to create are voluntary choices and opportunities. These are critically important because, let’s face it, the cost of health care is going out of sight. We know it. We sense it.

Some people say: Senator, easy for you to say, you have that famous Senator health care plan.

We have heard all about that one. Let me set the record straight. Members of Congress, if they choose—and I have put forward on behalf of my family can sign up for the Federal Employees Health Benefits Plan. It is not a special program for Senators or Congressmen. We sign up for the same program that covers Federal employees across the United States 8 million Federal employees and their families. It is a great program. That is why I signed up for it for my wife and myself.

Open enrollment is once every year. How do you get to go shopping once every year for the best health insurance for our families.

What do we choose from? In my case, in Illinois, nine different private health insurance plans. We pick the one best for our families. If we want a lot of coverage, they take more out of our paychecks; less coverage, less out of our paychecks. But it is a voluntary choice, and I think that is what the bottom line should be for Americans.

We do not need to move toward that model, create pools of people similar to Federal employees so they can bargain with the private insurance companies, have good coverage at a reasonable cost. We want to build into this as well health insurance reform. What good is it to have a health insurance plan that says they offer coverage for everything except our sickness? That happens. People who may have turned in a claim last year for an aching back can find this year it is a preexisting condition; it is not covered.

People who, 2 or 3 years ago, may have survived prostate cancer or breast cancer may find no coverage for cancer illness in the future. That is unacceptable. That is not really health insurance. Health insurance isn’t worth much if it is not going to cover your illness.

So we say as part of health care reform they can no longer exclude people for preexisting conditions. They can no longer exclude people who live in certain parts of the country over those who live in other parts of the country. They cannot discriminate based on age or gender under certain limitations. This gets health insurance to where it ought to be, not a game where the health insurance companies try to pick and choose the healthiest people in America and push everybody else over the cliff.

We want everybody under the tent. We want folks to understand if they buy health insurance in America, it really will protect them.

I was interviewed this morning on WNY on the street, thank God. They are people in America are not going to die by the uninsured. Uninsured people in America are not going to die because they are going to show up in an emergency room and they are going to be cared for. When they can’t pay their bills, that hospital, that doctor, will pass their medical charges through the system on to those of us who are paying for health insurance.

So if we bring everybody in with health insurance protection, this cost transfer is not going to happen. It is going to reduce the upward push for health insurance premiums in our country.

Second, if we don’t have basic rules about health insurance as to what they will cover, hold on tight. We found out in Illinois not too long ago there were actually health insurance companies—I remember this, as a person working in the Illinois General Assembly—there were actually health insurance companies that were selling maternity coverage to new mothers and their children but excluding them for the first 30 days of life. Do you know why? Because if you have a premature infant or an infant with a real problem, those first 30 days of medical care can be very expensive. So they just wrote it out of the policy.

We said no way.anka; mandate of policy in Illinois, if they want to sell health insurance to cover a family or maternity benefits or cover children, they do it from the moment that child is born. We put it in the law.

We can argue, it is going to raise the cost of insurance. Maybe it did. But if health insurance is not there when we need it, frankly, it is not worth the cost. That is why we are doing this health care reform.

There is one other aspect I want to mention, and that is small business. I guess small businesspeople know better than any other group what is happening. They are struggling to survive in a recession. The men and women who own these businesses in good conscience are trying to provide for their employees. Yesterday we had a gentleman from Aberdeen, MD, who came and speak at a press conference. He owns a manufacturing storage company. His last name is Derbyshire. Mr. Derbyshire inherited this business from his father. He brought his son Garrett with him in the hopes his son would carry it on, I am sure. He always felt a special kinship and connection with his employees. He wants them to do good work and he wants them to be loyal and he wants them to know they are appreciated. So Mr. Derbyshire pays, as an employer, 85 percent of each individual employee’s health care premiums—85 percent, and 75 percent of the family’s. That is pretty good. I give him an A+ for caring and trying. But he told us he can’t keep up with it. Health insurance premiums are going up, but he doesn’t know how long he can do it.

I heard the same thing again. I heard it from the man who owns Starbucks— which, incidentally, offers health insurance to its employees—who told us not that long ago: We want Congress to do this. We think it is the right thing to do, even for part-time employees. But if the costs keep going up we will not be able to continue.

That is the reality small businesses face. When we take a look at what they are facing, last year, only 49 percent of small businesses, three to nine workers, offered health insurance; 78 percent of businesses with 10 to 24 workers offered some type of health insurance. In contrast, 99 percent of businesses with more than 200 employees offer health insurance. It shows if you are operating close to the margin in a small business, and a little added expense pushes you over the edge, one of the first casualties is health insurance protection. It means, incidentally, the employees have no protection. It also means the openers of the business have to go out on the private market.

What happens when they go out on the private market? For large and small businesses, their choices are limited. The overhead costs, administrative costs are dramatically higher than they are for the larger companies, and many of them cannot afford to do it. What we are trying to do is offer, through health care reform, a way for every person working, for a business, large and small, to have health insurance. Look at the uninsured people in America and we are going to find that most of them are not the poorest people in our country. They have Medicaid. Of course, they are not the luckiest people in the world like myself and other families who already ever had a member of your family go healthier country so we have fewer we are going to move toward a not doing that across the board saying they are on to something. average it is has gone up 38 percent. So other companies across America on average they want to have for themselves create a little profile and say: What we can voluntarily sign up. They go his management employees where they can pay them extra money if they get their diabetes, monitoring your cholesterol, more fitness, better diet, monitoring through a health screening, they identify any risk that person might have: being overweight or diabetic or high blood pressure, high cholesterol, things of that nature, smoking. Then they can incentivize employees to get healthy care reform which helps the middle class in America. We are talking about a rational health care system that is geared toward wellness and disease prevention. We are not talking about rationing. We are talking about a rational health care system that is geared toward wellness and disease prevention. We have to make certain that at the end of the day we allow people to choose their own doctors and their own hospitals and their own health insurance plans, and to keep the health insurance plan they have if they want to. We have to help small business provide the kind of health insurance coverage they want to have for themselves as owners and for their employees as well. At the end of the day, we can improve this system. It is the biggest single issue challenge Congress has faced in at least 40 years, maybe in a much longer period of time, because it affects every single person in this country. We can do it. With the President's leadership and his commitment, we can get this right. I yield the floor, and I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. (Mr. BEGICH) The clerk will call the roll. The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll. Mrs. BOXER. I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

HIGHWAY TRUST FUND RESTORATION

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senate will proceed to the consideration of H.R. 3357, which the clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A bill (H.R. 3357) to restore sums to the Highway Trust Fund, and for other purposes.

AMENDMENT NO. 1907, AS MODIFIED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Louisiana.

Mr. VITTER. Mr. President, I call up my amendment and ask that it be modified with the changes at the desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the amendment, as modified.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Louisiana (Mr. Vitter) proposes an amendment numbered 1907, as modified. The amendment, as modified, is as follows:

(Purpose: To temporarily protect the solvency of the Highway Trust Fund)

SEC. 1. TEMPORARY PROVISION FOR HIGHWAY TRUST FUND SOLVENCY.

Notwithstanding section 5 of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Pub. L. 111-5), from the amounts appropriated or made available and remaining unobligated under such Act, the Director of the Office of Management and Budget shall transfer $7,000,000,000 to the Highway Trust Fund. The Director of the Office of Management and Budget shall report to each congressional committee the amounts so transferred with in the jurisdiction of such committee. The amounts so transferred shall remain available without fiscal year limitation.

Mr. VITTO. Mr. President, I urge all colleagues to come together, as the American people surely want us to do, and adopt this amendment. I truly believe this amendment is the responsible way to address the shortfall in the highway trust fund.

This amendment funds the highway trust fund shortfall by using money from the already-passed stimulus bill. That is important because otherwise we are racking up yet more deficit and more debt on top of the mountains of debts, including wonderful allies around the world like the Communist Chinese Government.

We need to get off this path, and this is one important step in doing that, saying: Yes, we will continue vital highway work but we will do it by taking from the already-appropriated stimulus funds. That is appropriate money that is already appropriated through the process. We will not do it by borrowing yet more money.

The other side has made arguments about: Well, this is really taking back a loan we sent the general fund 8 years ago. Let’s make no mistake about it, that money is long gone. This is racking up more debt, purely and simply. For that very reason—because it is racking up more debt, because it increases outlays in this fiscal year—it has a budget point of order against it, which I will raise before our final vote. So if you need any further proof that the underlying bill requires borrowing yet more money up yet more debt, it is nailed down by the fact that there is a budget point of order against the underlying bill, which I will raise.

The second critical reason we should adopt the Vitter amendment and fund highway jobs from stimulus money and not rack up yet more debt goes to the nature of the stimulus and the attempt which has been very slow and very faltering of using those stimulus dollars to help revive the economy. Of course, we have had an enormous amount of money that was supposed to be immediately out the door immediately and a lot of the stimulus money that was supposed to be immediate got it out the door. We pass the stimulus, and it is going to increase the level of debt in 5 years. It more than triples that level of debt in 10 years. That is the path we are on, and that is the legacy we are handing to our children and grandchildren. That is simply completely irresponsible. To have this mountain of debt already accumulated this year, at historically high levels—$1.8 trillion—compound the other one of the year alone, and it is growing—and then to have a budget plan that doubles that in 5 years and triples it in 10 years is excusable. In that 5-year period, this President will have racked up more debt than every predecessor President before him combined. We need to get off that path, and the American people know it.

The American people understand, through their common sense, that this is a recipe for disaster. All of us in the Congress want to hand our kids a better world, a world of more opportunity, a better future than even we had handed to us from our parents. Yet we are on a path to do exactly the opposite and hand our kids an enormous burden, hand them a tomorrow full of cloud and uncertainty, particularly dominated by this threat—central fundamental economic threat—of deficit and debt. We cannot accept that. Yet here we are on the floor with the other side proposing to fund the highway trust fund with—guess what—more debt, more borrowing, more borrowing by the government from whoever buys our debt, including wonderful allies around the world like the Communist Chinese Government.

We need to get off this path, and this is one important step in doing that, saying: Yes, we will continue vital highway work but we will do it by taking from the already-appropriated stimulus funds. weighted nearly enough toward real infrastructure such as roads and highways and bridges, and it is not weighted nearly enough on spending now versus years from now. This Vitter amendment will help change that for the better. It is time to reweight the stimulus, to keep at the margins, to roads and highways and bridges and more spending now because we need it now in the midst of this recession now.

So again I urge all of my colleagues to come around and embrace and support the Vitter amendment. Doesn’t it make sense to say we need to start now in terms of rejecting this path of more and more and more debt? Because the underlying bill, make no mistake about it, is funded by more borrowing, more debt. That is why a budget point of order lies against the underlying bill. I will raise that budget point of order before the end of our debate.

Secondly, doesn’t it make sense to say: Look, the stimulus idea was about exactly this sort of spending? Americans across the country favor stimulus spending that is really focused on roads and highways and bridges and real infrastructure, things that are truly shovel ready. They do not favor big government programs and they do not favor spending 3 years from now because that is going to have no impact to get us out of this recession right now.

This amendment, again, will fine-tune the stimulus to get more money out the door now. Don’t we need that? Only 10 percent of the stimulus has made its way to the door. Don’t we need to front-load it a lot more than that to have any sort of significant positive impact on this recession?

Again, tragically, the unemployment figures say it all. The prediction: Peak at 8 percent, come down from there. The reality: We continue to go up and up and up—perilously close right now—toward 10 percent.

Again, I urge all of my colleagues, Democrats and Republicans, to join together, to work together, as the American people want us to do, around a basic commonsense idea. Let’s stop the debt. Let’s stop racking up yet more debt, putting it on the backs of our children and grandchildren. Let’s front-load the stimulus and do shovel-ready infrastructure now rather than big government projects 3 years from now.

With that, Mr. President, I yield back my time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from California.

Mrs. BOXER. Mr. President, could the President Officer let us know how much time remains on the Vitter amendment and general debate?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from California has 30 minutes remaining. The Senator from Louisiana has yielded back his time. There is 20 minutes remaining on the bill itself.

Mrs. BOXER. Mr. President, thank you very much.

Mr. President, of all the times to stop job creation in its tracks, I will tell you, this is not the time to do it. The Republican response to this bill, that has come over from the House—the bill that would restore the funding, make sure there is funding in the highway trust fund to get us through September 30, and also make sure we can handle unemployment insurance and also ensure that our families can get mortgages, those who qualify—the answer from our Republican friends, and they have a right to do it, is to take that funding from the unobligated stimulus package.

Now, if we look at the thing. We know we are starting to finally get those dollars for our economic recovery out the door. We know that. Yes, they are not flying out the door because the administration wants to make sure these are targeted dollars that go to things that tell you, right now, the Republicans are putting at risk the very program they say they embrace: the highway program. The fact is, we still have $10 billion for highway-related jobs that would be subject to the stimulus. So, irony of ironies, they say they are extending the highway trust fund, but that amendment puts these funds at risk, puts these jobs at risk.

The stimulus is designed to create those jobs. The funding is getting out the door. I have gone to my State and seen it at work. Yes, we know employment is lagging. So what do you do when employment is lagging? You do not go to a program that is designed to put people to work. I think it is important to note that the House bill is not only deficit neutral, it actually reduces the deficit. According to CBO, not only does it do it in 2010 but over the next 5- to 10-year period. That is because of the way they are funding the trust fund and the way they are funding the housing priority.

What the Republicans are doing is they are taking a deficit reduction measure that keeps the highway trust fund solvent through the end of September, that makes sure people can continue to get unemployment insurance, that makes sure people can get mortgages—those who qualify—and they are saying that, instead of reducing the deficit, let’s slash the stimulus program, take funding away from our States, away from our counties, our cities, and our businesses back home when it is not necessary.

Mr. DURBIN. If the Senator will further yield, I ask the Senator from California: Since the Senator from Louisiana didn’t support the President’s recovery and reinvestment program and most of those on the other side of the aisle did not, those of us who voted for it did it with the understanding it would do a number of things. It provides tax relief for families, and it provides a helping hand to those who are unemployed, so they can afford health care insurance if they have lost their job, for example. It does provide infrastructure programs and projects. It is my understanding we are a little over 4 months into this 2-year stimulus program—and not quite 5 months—and the Senator from Louisiana wants to basically declare it a failure, never having voted for it. I ask the Senator from California, when the Senator from Louisiana talks about the number of dollars committed, the number of projects we have agreed to, it was my understanding that, as of a couple weeks ago, we had obligated over $200 billion out of the $787 billion, meaning we promised we will pay, once the projects are underway and the jobs are actually created, and that number is going to continue to grow as we obligate it. Is it not also true that we want to make certain, whether we are spending money for projects under the highway trust fund or the stimulus bill, that we don’t waste taxpayer dollars; we want to look carefully at each project to make sure it serves a public purpose and make certain Americans are going to work at a decent wage, and as we get through the recession, but we have a legacy of projects that will serve our economy and our Nation.

Mrs. BOXER. Clearly, it is not even moving funds, it is slashing funds from the stimulus program, which has one purpose, and that purpose is to create jobs.

Mr. VITTER. Will the Senator yield?

Mrs. BOXER. We have heard from our Republicans friends over and over again, who voted against the stimulus—although I have to say some of those standing projects built with stimulus dollars, but we will forget that for now—we are hearing from them that the stimulus isn’t working fast enough. What do they want to do today but cut the funding?

Mr. DURBIN. If the Senator will further yield, I ask the Senator from California: Since the Senator from Louisiana didn’t support the President’s recovery and reinvestment program and most of those on the other side of the aisle did not, those of us who voted for it did it with the understanding it would do a number of things. It provides tax relief for families, and it provides a helping hand to those who are unemployed, so they can afford health care insurance if they have lost their job, for example. It does provide infrastructure programs and projects. It is my understanding we are a little over 4 months into this 2-year stimulus program—and not quite 5 months—and the Senator from Louisiana wants to basically declare it a failure, never having voted for it. I ask the Senator from California, when the Senator from Louisiana talks about the number of dollars committed, the number of projects we have agreed to, it was my understanding that, as of a couple weeks ago, we had obligated over $200 billion out of the $787 billion, meaning we promised we will pay, once the projects are underway and the jobs are actually created, and that number is going to continue to grow as we obligate it. Is it not also true that we want to make certain, whether we are spending money for projects under the highway trust fund or the stimulus bill, that we don’t waste taxpayer dollars; we want to look carefully at each project to make sure it serves a public purpose and make certain Americans are going to work at a decent wage, and as we get through the recession, but we have a legacy of projects that will serve our economy and our Nation.
If the Senator from Louisiana has his way, he is going to take the money out that we are currently investing into creating jobs in America and move it into the highway trust fund. I am wondering if the Senator could respond. Does it make any sense for us to take a different approach on the stimulus and not be careful that the money we spend is actually spent well?

Mr. VITTER. Will the Senator yield?

Mrs. BOXER. I will yield to the Senator from Louisiana on his time, but I will keep my time right now. It is very important we thread this needle in the right way. We want those jobs out there, and we want them out there as fast as they can get there.

Out of the $27 billion for highway projects, there is $10 billion remaining. I can assure both my friends that it is very important to be careful in the way you do it. If you do it too quickly, you know what will happen on the floor of the Senate. We will have our friends on the other side saying: ‘They are doing it right.’ We want to be careful, but we don’t want to, at this point, as we see this recovery starting to take hold—we all believe and hope it is true—we know employment is the lagging indicator. This is not a throw a daggler into the heart of job creation. That is what the Senator’s amendment will do.

Mr. DURBIN. I ask the Senator from California, if I have the appropriate amendment before us, does the Senator from Louisiana go beyond the highway trust fund in the money that is transferred? Does he apply some of the money from the stimulus to unemployment and to mortgage insurance or is that a separate amendment?

Mrs. BOXER. I believe the Senator’s amendment—and he can explain it—deals with the trust fund, and others will have similar amendments for UI and mortgage.

Mr. DURBIN. I ask the Senator—and this is a legitimate inquiry, as I don’t know the answer—on the stimulus projects we are funding, what is the requirement for a local match for those projects, as opposed to requirements for projects under the highway trust fund?

Mrs. BOXER. My understanding is it is 100 percent because it is the stimulus. We are trying to do that because our States are suffering—yours is and mine. We saw our Republican Governor talk about how heavy our hearts are back there, and we decided to help our State. This is very different. It is 100 percent offset.

Mr. DURBIN. The stimulus is 100 percent Federal, which means projects go forward even if States are struggling with the budget. If the money goes into the highway trust fund for projects, most of that required a State or local match, right?

Mrs. BOXER. That is correct; 20, 30 percent.

Mr. DURBIN. Most States, including Illinois, California, and others, would have a more difficult time moving projects forward through the highway trust fund rather than the stimulus, which is 100 percent Federal dollars.

Actually, the Senator from Louisiana is cutting down the opportunity, reducing the opportunity for infrastructure projects by taking money forward through the highway trust fund; isn’t that correct?

Mrs. BOXER. I say to the assistant majority leader, he is absolutely correct. I understand the need to extend the trust funds 18 months. On that part, Senator Vitter and I are in agreement. But the way he funds it is hurtful to the American people, to the American workers, to our businesses, and to our contractors. Even though we know a lot of us want to see these funds get out there quicker, they are on the verge—Vice President BIDEN has said we have committed more than a fourth of the Recovery Act total funds. We are on track to meet the deadline set when the act was passed in February, spending 70 percent by the end of September of 2010. He points out that the purpose of the stimulus was the jolt for immediate help but then a long-term economic recovery.

This is the wrong kind of amendment—and the others we will see—which says to the American people: Gee, it is 4 months and we want to forget about this whole notion—doesn’t make sense. The timing of this is way off. If at the end of the 2-year period the stimulus is supposed to act, there is money left over, I will be the first one saying: Let’s either reduce the deficit with it or let’s put it into the highway trust fund. I do believe infrastructure should have gotten more funds from the stimulus, but that is another point.

Mr. DURBIN. My last question to the Senator from California—and I join her in opposition to this amendment—is this: If the net result of the Vitter amendment is not to increase jobs in America but actually will reduce jobs in America, it seems like it is the opposite of what we ought to be doing in the middle of a recession, with so many Americans losing work. We want to create good-paying jobs here at home, and the Vitter amendment, by increasing the need for a State and local match, for example, is going to decrease the likelihood of creating jobs. The stimulus money—100 percent Federal money that is for shovel-ready projects, plug projects into the economy and into paychecks and will help us rebound from this recession we are in.

I say to the Senator from California, I thank her for her opposition to this amendment. I look forward to having open exchanges on both sides will realize that even if you didn’t vote for the stimulus, voting for the Vitter amendment is going to take money away from projects in your States that will create good-paying jobs.

Mrs. BOXER. Before my friend leaves, I think I can put some specifics out to him. We already know there are $10 billion worth of highway projects that have not been obligated. That is at risk right away. We know there are Superfund cleanups that are long overdue. We have funds for that. We have $5.5 billion in construction-related activity that deals with cleaning up underground leaking storage tanks and not be careful that the money we spend is actually spent well?
I know Washington is a fairy tale world. I know things are turned upside down so often, like Alice in Wonderland, but the underlying bill involves racking up more debt, more deficit. That is the whole motivating factor of the underlying bill. Racking up a deficit does nothing but borrow more. Don’t take my word for it; look at the fact that there is a budget point of order against the underlying bill which I will point out and raise for consideration by the Senate.

So the underlying bill clearly involves more debt. How could it not? We are taking money from the general fund to fill in the highway trust fund. Guess what. We are deficit spending in the general fund. We are already, through the general fund, racking up a deficit. So if we take money from there, we have to backfill that if we spend the same amount with more borrowing, more deficit, more debt.

Again, if we care about turning the corner on deficit and debt, this is the responsible amendment to support and the responsible approach to take. The underlying bill racks up more debt; the Vitter amendment avoids that. I yield the floor to the Senator from California.

Mrs. BOXER. Madam President, how much time remains on the Vitter amendment on either side? The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Republican side has 9½ minutes for Senator VITTER; 15 minutes for Senator BOXER.

Mrs. BOXER. And on the general debate?

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Twenty minutes on the general debate.

Mrs. BOXER. Madam President, I am going to put a couple of items in the RECORD and make sure Senator VITTER can offer his budget point of order. I asked if Senator DURBIN would be willing to take 10 minutes on our side on the general debate. I don’t think I have to ask unanimous consent, but why don’t I do that. I ask unanimous consent that after I conclude and after Senator VITTER makes his point of order, then we get to Senator DURBIN for his 10 minutes.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mrs. BOXER. Madam President, on the issue of the Congressional Budget Office score that scores the House bill as deficit reduction, I find it intriguing that my friend who supports the CBO when they say we are spending money—for example, on the health bill, they say: Oh, look. CBO says it costs money, but he derides it when CBO says this particular bill is a deficit reducer.

I ask unanimous consent to have printed in the RECORD the CBO score that shows, in fact, the bill sent over from the House reduces the deficit.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

H.R. 3357: TO RESTORE SUMS TO THE HIGHWAY TRUST FUND AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES

Changes in direct spending

NOTES:

Section 2 would have an estimated budgetary impact relative to CBO’s baseline. The costs of providing benefits under the unemployment compensation program are assumed in the baseline, consistent with section 257 of the Deficit Control Act of 1985, which states that “funding for entitlement authority is assumed to be adequate to make all payments required.”

Section 3 would have a budget impact. Allowing FHA to guarantee additional loans has no cost or savings because under the Federal Credit Reform, CBO’s estimate of the subsidy cost of new FHA guarantees is zero.

fallen. Banks were in crisis and freefalling. Lending. Madam President, $10 trillion in wealth had been lost. Virtually every American with a savings or retirement account had taken a hit. That is when the President took his hand off the tiller and accepted the responsibility of office, and that is what he inherited.

He came to Congress and said: Let's put money in the economy and get Americans back to work. Let's invest in things that will pay off in the long run. Let's invest in the bridges, the highways, the airports. Let's make sure we make investments that not only create jobs today, but we can rely on in the future to build our economy. And we did it, with limited help from the other side of the aisle.

The Senator who is offering this amendment voted against it. The position for most Senators on the other side of the aisle was, let's do nothing; let's let the market work this out.

Do you have any idea where we want to be today if the market was still working this out? I am afraid we would be in sorry shape. We would continue to see job loss and continue to see more and more unemployed Americans, which is exactly the opposite of what we want.

Now comes the Senator from Louisiana who opposed the stimulus package in the midst of this economic crisis and now says: Let's take money out of the stimulus package that is creating good-paying jobs in America. Let's take it away from the States where they get 100 percent Federal funding for their projects. Let's put it in a different fund. It isn't creating any new investment, but let's put it in a different fund that now requires a State match.

What that means is, if your State budget is struggling—we know a lot of States are—the Senator from Louisiana does you no favor. He is taking a problem that is important for your economic future, closes it down and says: We will be glad to give you some of that money back as long as you can come up with matching funds.

I am afraid that is not helpful. It is hurtful at a time when this economy needs all the help it can get. When it comes to the stimulus package, understand, we are a little over 4 months into this stimulus, this 2-year stimulus package.

The Senator from Louisiana says: I am prepared to declare it a failure; let's stop right now. I am not prepared to declare it a failure. In fact, I think there is an indication that it is starting to put America back on the path to recovery.

Because of the Recovery Act, on which the Senator from Louisiana wants to reduce spending—listen to this—95 percent of working families are already getting tax credits in their paychecks. Those dealing with job loss are collecting an extra $25 a week if they are out of work. That does not sound like much if you have a job, but if you are out of work, it means something.

There also is help for unemployed people to pay health insurance. I don't know if the Senator from Louisiana didn't vote for that. I don't know if he thinks that a gallon of gas should remain unemployed. I would want my family to have health insurance. That is pretty basic.

There is money to help seniors and college students, many of whom have faced the idea of suspending their college education because mom and dad are struggling at home. The Senator from Louisiana may be opposed to that; I am not. I want them to stay in school. I want them to get their degrees because they will lead America.

We provided $4 billion in funds for States for Medicaid because our States are struggling to provide health care for the poor. The Senator from Louisiana may oppose that. That is his right to do. I happen to think that providing health care to the poor in America is evidence we are a caring and compassionate nation and will continue to be.

The money that has gone to States and local governments has avoided the layoffs of teachers and police officers and other law enforcement in Louisiana, Illinois, California, and around the Nation. The Senator from Louisiana may think that is a waste of money, we never should have done it. I think that is the wrong way to think about it. And for an America where kids can go to school and have the teachers they need, I think the money was well spent.

Beyond that, this Recovery Act in which we are involved is one that is starting to make some results. Just starting. I am not being Pollyanna-ish about this. We are still in a recession. I think we are coming out—I hope we are coming out.

In January, the month before this Recovery Act went into law, we lost 741,000 jobs. Terrible. By June, the economy was losing one-third fewer jobs. I wish we were not losing any jobs, but the fact is the stimulus is starting to work.

The Senator from Louisiana, who did not support it, who had no plan for this economy, now wants to take the money out just at the moment it is starting to work. Boy, the perfect Washington answer. Let's move in right now. Do it soon. Let's declare it a failure, and declare it a failure. That may be his approach, but I don't think it works for America.

In less than 160 days, more than 30,000 projects have been started under this bill—30,000 across the country. I went to Peoria, IL. There is a project at the airport which is critical to its economic future funded by the stimulus bill, creating good-paying local jobs right in the heartland of Illinois. More than $23 billion will be made available for 5,600 shovel-ready construction projects; 3,200 are underway. If the Senator from Louisiana has his way, we will stop right there. We will start cutting back on these projects right now. That is his idea of economic recovery.

Over $369 million has been put into rural water systems. I can tell you, representing a State with a lot of small towns such as Louisiana, this money is necessary. This money to make sure their drinking water is safe for the people who live there. The Senator from Louisiana says: Enough said; let's start cutting back on that.

Madam President, $2 billion has been moved out to State governments and community organizations for weatherization and energy efficiency on low-income homes, and half a billion in overdue cleanup of Superfund sites. The Senator from Louisiana says: Let's cut that money; let's reduce that money. I don't think that makes sense.

We know if we did not have this Recovery Act, there would be more unemployment, more people out of work, fewer dollars being paid in taxes to the Federal Government, Governments of the States.

Our situation would be worse when it comes to the deficit. The more people who are unemployed, the fewer who are paying taxes, the more people need services. It is a recipe for a deficit that is out of control.

The Vitter amendment, by reducing the spending power of the stimulus funds, will make our deficit worse. That is a fact. He must acknowledge that. I hope he does.

In terms of obligating these funds, I want to make sure at the end of the day, having voted for this and supported it, that the money is well spent. I don't want a single dollar wasted. We are going to take care to make sure these projects make sense, that we have a justification for them, and they will serve America and our economy's future. That is responsible and accountable transparency.

I know the Senator from Louisiana says: We have been cut back those funds so he can transfer money into the highway trust fund.

I think we are on the path to recovery. I hope that path is a short one and we reach it soon. In the meantime, the Vitter amendment will not help.

The idea that we would cut back on funds for flood control in the States of Louisiana and Illinois makes no sense whatsoever. The Senator from Louisiana is wanting to cut back those funds so he can transfer money into the highway trust fund.

I think we are on the path to recovery. I hope that path is a short one and we reach it soon. In the meantime, the Vitter amendment will not help. The situation is that the projects we are counting on to get America back to work, good-paying jobs right here at home, are in danger because of this amendment.

I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle, even if they didn't vote for the stimulus package, do the math—100 percent Federal money for the project in that State, as opposed to the Vitter approach which would require 20 percent or more from the State before they could go forward with any projects at a time when most States are struggling. This is not the answer. This will not be the only part of the problem; it will be a big part of the problem.

I yield back the remainder of my time.

Mr. ENSIGN. Madam President, I call up my amendment at the desk and ask that it be modified with the changes that are at the desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The instruction line of the amendment is so modified.

The clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:
The Senator from Nevada [Mr. ENSIGN] proposes an amendment numbered 1905, as modified.

Mr. ENSIGN. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To offset the appropriation of funds to replenish the Unemployment Trust Fund with unobligated nonveterans funds from the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009.)

On page 3, after line 12, add the following:

SEC. 5. USE OF STIMULUS FUNDS TO OFFSET AP- PROPRIATION OF FUNDS TO RE- PLISH UNEMPLOYMENT TRUST FUND.

The unobligated balance of each amount appropriated or made available under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Public Law 111-5) (other than under title X of division A of such Act) is rescinded pro rata such that the aggregate amount of such rescissions equals $7,500,000,000 in order to offset the amount appropriated to the Unemployment Trust Fund under the amendment made by section 2 of this Act. The Director of the Office of Management and Budget shall report to each congressional committee the amounts so rescinded within the judicial committee.

Mr. ENSIGN. Madam President, in my home State of Nevada, the unemployment rate has reached 12 percent, and we are seeing unemployment continue to rise across the country. The President said the stimulus bill that was passed this year was going to keep unemployment no higher than 8.3 percent across the country. We know it is a lot higher than that everywhere now. This is not just a Nevada problem, it is a problem in every State.

Amidst this, families across the country are hurting, and they are hurting badly. I am offering an amendment that will help families during these tough times. 18 States have depleted their State unemployment fund and are now borrowing from the Federal unemployment fund to cover benefits. The Federal Fund is now running dangerously low. I am offering an amendment to shore up the Federal fund and help the States that have depleted their own funds. My amendment will help in a way that is fiscally responsi- bles. My amendment is very simple. It would say we are going to use money out of the stimulus bill to replenish the Federal unemployment funds that the States are borrowing from, and we are going to do that in a way where we don’t increase the deficit. My amend- ment does not play any phony numbers games, unlike the bill that was sent over from the House of Representa- tives. The House bill says, technically, it is not increasing the deficit. The Federal Government, however, is borrowing from future generations, and will very likely forgive the States that have borrowed money, which will therefore further increase the deficit.

The U.S. Department of Labor esti- mates it will take about $7.5 billion to replenish the Federal fund for the rest of the Fiscal Year. Next year, it is projected to be at $30 billion. And we have already seen in the stimulus bill that this Congress is giving money away to the States. We will continue to borrow from future generations so we can forg- give that debt the States have run up. States are not going to be able to pay back all this proposal, right? That is what we all assume. So let’s show some fiscal responsibility and take the money needed to replenish the Federal unemployment fund, out of the stimulus.

The Senator from Illinois was just on the floor talking, and I listened carefully to some of the things he was say- ing. He was saying that if we actually borrow less—as does the Vitter amend- ment, for instance—it means our def-icit is not as large as the Administration projects, and right? That is what we all assume. So let’s show some fiscal responsibility and take the money needed to replenish the Federal unemployment fund, out of the stimulus.

The reason I voted against the stimu- lus bill is because I thought a lot of the money was irresponsibly spent and it was going to run up the deficit. So I was looking for long term, not just short-term. The problem with con- tinuing to borrow more and more is we have the threat of long-term economic harm. We have the threat of long-term inflation in this country, which will be devastating to the economy. The philosophy behind the stimulus pack- age, that by borrowing money and put- ting that government money into the economy, we would help the economy recover. I think it is not arguable that there are a certain amount of jobs that can be created by government spend- ing.

The bottom line is that we need to be more fiscally responsible to future genera- tions. My amendment today is just taking a small step toward that.

My dad used to tell me all the time when I was growing up: You have to watch the small amounts of money. He used to say: If you watch the small bills, the large amounts of money will take care of themselves. Well, let’s start watching the small amounts. I know $7.3 billion is not a small amount of money, but around here, it is. Let's start watching at least these amounts of money so that when we are talking about the $1.8 trillion deficits, we can start taking care of that and we can start being fiscally responsible to future generations.

I urge my colleagues to support this commonsense amendment. I think the Vitter amendment is the right direction to go as well. This is something we need to do for future generations.

Mrs. BOXER. Madam President, I rise to speak against the Ensign amendment, and I want to explain why, so I will take my time off that discussion and retain the remainder of my time on the other amendments.

Let me say that Senator Ensign has come to the floor and he wants to talk about fiscal responsibility. I welcome that debate. He blames the Democrats for not doing anything to help get a handle on deficits and debt. But let's go back to recent history—not ancient history, recent history.

Bill Clinton took over the White House in the year 2000, and we had a budget surplus. That was very hard to get to, but we Democrats did it with him and with the help of some of our Republicans. We had a debt practically eliminated. It was on the way down. And I remember discussions about what do we do when we have no more Treasuries to buy.

Then we had George Bush elected, and we had the Republicans supporting him. In a nanosecond, the whole table turned. We went from budget surpluses as far as the eye could see to deficits as far as the eye could see. We went from a debt that was going to be extinguished to a debt that began climbing.

As a result of these policies, there was a call for change in this country. We had more Democrats elected. We have a Democratic President, and he inherited one giant mess. The chickens came home to roost.

So our President said to the Nation: I am going to do everything I can to get out of this economic mess. Help me. Help me pass a bill that will put people to work. He said: I know it is going to be hard. I know it is going to take time, but we need to do this because of the recession. And if we don't get out of this recession, we are not going to be able to attack the problem of deficit and debt.

Anyone who knows President Obama knows that when he was a Senator, he was always conscious of our fiscal issues and distressed about the course we had been on for the last 8 years.

So here is what happens. We are 4 months into the economic recovery package. I have been to places in California. I have seen people getting those jobs—water infrastructure jobs, cleaning up Superfund sites, restoring our wildlife refuges. Those are just some examples of the jobs. And we know, according to Vice President BIDEN, that about 25 percent of those funds have been obligated.

Senator VITTER came down here and said nothing is working; we are not getting those jobs out there. Let's go in and put a dagger in its heart. I urge Senator BOND to offer a very good amendment. It has nothing to do with cutting the stimulus; it just corrects a real problem, and it restores funding to the trust fund. He is absolutely right on that, and I will absolutely support his amendment. But here is the thing. We have until September 30 to make that fix, when we have to reauthorize the program. This is just a financial transfer into the fund. September 30, we need to actually reauthorize the highway bill. We take care of Senator BOND. But the reason I cannot support it, as he well knows, the House has stated—and I do not agree with their attitude, I don't agree with it but they have stated—that is it. We are giving you this quick influx of funds, and we do not want to have it come back with amendments.

We can put off the Bond amendment. We have time to deal with it. I praise Senator BOND for raising this matter before us because we do have to take care of it. Let's just get it straight. When people come down to this floor and rail against deficits and rail against the debt, just remember the simple principle that is documented, that President Clinton left President George W. Bush a surplus as far as the eye could see and a debt going down. Now the other side of the aisle claims our President is not moving fast enough on all these fronts. Let me assure my colleagues our President cares a lot about the financial future of this country. He has two little kids. He knows exactly what their burden is. I do not believe that fiscal responsibility belongs to the other party because it was our party, under Bill Clinton, that got this country in the best financial shape it was in for decades. It only took a few short years to see all that go out the window.

Let's not lecture each other. If they continue to do it, I will just continue to bring up the facts. But, again, I see Senator BOND is here. I am going to repeat what I said before he got here. I complimented the good Senator because I think he is totally right on his amendment. However, I do know if it is attached to this bill what will happen because the House has told us. They will not take up the replenishment. We risk the highway trust fund running out of funds. I personally will work with the Senator from Missouri and my colleague, Senator INHOFE, to make sure the Bond amendment is part of the reauthorization which we will have to do in September. But I thank him because he perseveres. He brings it up all the time, and it is good that he does. But the timing, unfortunately, would undermine the replenishment of the trust fund.
I yield the floor and retain the remainder of my time. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oklahoma is recognized.

Mr. INHOFE. Madam President, as the ranking member of the committee, first of all, while I love the chairman dearly, she is dead wrong on all the information she just gave you. Let me go over that briefly.

First of all, on the Clinton administration, I put in mind that even-then Vice President Al Gore admitted they had a recession coming at that time and that reduced the amount of money that was coming in to run the government. We all know that is basic economics. We also know during the Clinton years he downgraded the military by 40 percent—not 10 percent or 15 percent. I will never forget the euphoric attitude: The Cold War is over now; we don’t need a defense any longer. We cut downsized everything and our modernization program and all of a sudden 9/11 came and we were in the middle of fighting a war with a military that was downgraded by the President. Obviously, it took a lot of money to bring us out.

I would say on behalf of President Bush that was a tough situation, but he grabbed hold of it. Yes, we had to spend more money at the time, but he had to rebuild what was torn down during the Clinton years.

One word about the Vitter and Ensign amendments. They are both good amendments, and all they are doing is what I thought the chairman of our committee and I wanted once and for all to put in the Senate and our modernization program and all of a sudden 9/11 came and we were in the middle of fighting a war with a military that was downgraded by the President. Obviously, it took a lot of money to bring us out.

I urge my colleagues to support all three of these amendments.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Missouri is recognized.

AMENDMENT NO. 1904

Mr. BOND. Madam President, I thank the ranking member, Senator INHOFE, for his support of the amendment. I thank the Chair for her kind words, even though we disagree. We, all three of us, strongly support the need to get highway projects moving to build the infrastructure we need in our transportation. This is a critical time.

Right now our economy is struggling to recover from the worst recession in generations; hard-working Americans in rural communities and across the nation are losing their jobs; and our states are straining to fund projects that are critical to our constituents. Unfortunately, unless we act now, our economy, workers, and our States will be dealt another heavy blow.

At the end of September, millions will be cut in on-going, shovel ready highway projects. That does not have to happen. This drastic cut will halt critical transportation projects—like the repair of highways and bridges—across the Nation. In addition to halting critical infrastructure projects, this cut will cost jobs in all 50 States.

My amendment is the action we must take now to protect our struggling economy and protect jobs from this dangerous rescission. This amendment would protect our workers by eliminating the $8.7 billion rescission of contract authority mandated in the last highway bill—SAFETEA LU—for September 30, 2009.

The reason for repealing this dangerous cut now is simple. We should not be giving money to States for infrastructure, jobs and economic growth with one hand and on September 30 taking money away with the other. Setting interstate next to trucks carrying products to and from businesses across the Nation. Our deteriorating infrastructure is a real problem and it is taking an economic toll at a time when we simply cannot afford more burdens on our already-stretched, the real world consequences of this dangerous cut will be hardest on workers and families. The Missouri Department of Transportation estimates that this rescission would mean about $201 million in lost projects and countless pink slips in Missouri. Missouri is not alone. The numbers for other States are startling: California, $793 million; Pennsylvania, $404 million; New York, $406 million; Maryland, $140 million, and so on. It is important to note, however, that these numbers there are jobs. The American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials estimates that for every billion dollars rescinded, our States will miss out on nearly 33,000 jobs.

If Senators were to contact their State’s department of transportation, they would quickly understand the full impact this rescission would have back at home. I urge my colleagues to do the right thing before voting.

In fact, let’s hear from some State DOT directors on the real effect this recession would have back at home.
Colorado Director of Transportation Russell George stated that the upcoming $8.7 billion rescission will cost the State $987.7 billion: that could have otherwise been obligated and out the door helping to employ hard working Colorado workers and important infrastructure projects to the State. This real dollar cut is about 20 percent of the total federal funds Colorado receives each year.

The Department of Transportation director in Nevada, Susan Martinovich, said that the upcoming rescission of $61 million represents 25 percent of the State’s annual $236 million Federal aid allocation and that she would be forced to cancel $48 million of projects that are already under construction, having a “devastating effect” on workers.

We have kicked the can down the road on this rescission for far too long.

Right now, with this amendment, is our last opportunity to do what is best for our economy, American workers, and our States by repealing this rescission. I know that I don’t want to go back to my State having voted against so many jobs for Missouri.

Repealing this rescission will allow States to move forward to meet our infrastructure needs and to create the jobs that struggling families and this economy so desperately needs. I also have a letter of support from Americans for Transportation Mobility. A unanimous consent it be printed in the Record.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the Record, as follows:

FASTER BETTER SAFER, AMERICANS FOR TRANSPORTATION MOBILITY.

WASHINGTON, DC, July 30, 2009. To the Members of the United States Senate: The Americans for Transportation Mobility (ATM) coalition strongly urges you to pass H.R. 3357, which would address the looming shortfall in the Highway Trust Fund and support the bond amendment to repeal the looming rescission. Congress must make highway and public transportation reauthorization a top congressional priority during the remainder of the year. The coalition also supports the bond amendment, which would repeal the rescission of highway contracts apportionment to states scheduled to take effect on September 30, 2009.

The 2005 highway and transit reauthorization legislation, the “Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient, Transportation Equity Act: a Legacy for Users” (SAFETEA-LU), which expired at the end of September, guaranteed at least $223 billion for federal highway program investments through fiscal year 2009. This investment level was predicated on a forecasted anticipated revenues collected for the Highway Trust Fund’s Highway Account over the life of SAFETEA-LU. Unfortunately, the Highway Account is expected to run short of cash to liquidate obligations sometime in the next few weeks.

To avert the imminent crisis, Congress should provide revenue to support the Highway Account. If Congress fails to pass the House-passed H.R. 3357, we would achieve this by transferring $7 billion from the general fund of the Treasury to the Highway Trust Fund’s Highway Account. This measure allows States and localities with needed continuity in federal reimbursements to ensure infrastructure efforts around the country do not come to a screeching halt.

While H.R. 3357 is critical to supporting ongoing infrastructure efforts, it is only a short-term solution to an imminent crisis. Continued bailouts for the Highway Trust Fund are hardly a sustainable approach to the nation’s infrastructure investment needs. Congress must develop a comprehensive, long-term solution to ensure the platform of our economy is sound.

The “user fee” system has been in place since 1956 when Congress levied the gas tax to pay for construction of the Interstate Highway System. This system and the Highway Trust Fund have been a stable source of funding for decades and will assure states and localities the predictability and consistency necessary for capital investment. Additional revenue will be needed to sustain this system and fund systemic improvements in the simplest, fairest, and most effective way to fund surface transportation infrastructure investment. Capital investment requires capital, and there is no alternative for the systemic funding needed at the federal level.

The Coalition strongly urges you to pass H.R. 3357 to address the imminent shortfall in the Highway Trust Fund and support the Bond amendment to repeal the looming rescission. Congress must make highway and public transportation reauthorization a top congressional priority during the remainder of the year.

Sincerely,
AMERICANS FOR TRANSPORTATION MOBILITY.

Mr. BOND. For the Record, this is composed of the American Public Transportation Association; American Road and Transportation Builders Association; Associated Equipment Distributors; Association of Equipment Manufacturers; General Contractors; American Society of Civil Engineers; International Union of Operating Engineers; Laborers International Union of North America; National Asphalt Pavement Association; National Stone, Sand and Gravel Association; United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America; and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Madam President, our distinguished chairman of the committee has said if the House fails to pass his H.R. 3357 because the House of Representatives may not take it. But as the ranking member pointed out, they are still in session. If we believe this is right, accept the Bond amendment, pass this bill as amended, send it to the House, give them the chance to do what is right. Our job is to make sure we get this business right before we go home on August recess.

If the House refuses to take it, they will have to go home and spend all next week explaining why they are at home instead of having passed a bill that could have had workers on highways and bridge projects working at home. They should be asked, if they go home, if they refuse to pass it: Why did you leave early? The Association is still in session. You could have stayed there and gotten rid of the rescission that will cut jobs.

There is, I guess, going to be a Budget Act point of order raised against this bill. I will, of course, ask to waive the Budget Act point of order seriously, this whole bill could be challenged on a Budget Act point of order. I will not do that because I want to see this done.

But let’s be clear: This so-called money for this bill comes in from going back and assuming interest was paid on the intergovernmental transfers. We don’t do that. That is totally bogus. That is a pencil-whipping trick that I do not believe anybody would honestly score.

That is the problem with the whole bill itself, not just with my amendment. If you want to be serious about paying for this bill, and my amendment, the Vitter amendment, it is very simple: We can rescind a small amount of money, a small portion of the stimulus bill that was passed, and less than only 10 percent has been used. That money we can use to put people to work on shovel-ready projects, make sure the work goes on that otherwise would be cut off by an artificial September 30 date.

I hope my colleagues will support the waiver of the point of order on the budget amendment. Because if you do not, quite simply, to put it in terms we are using every day, if we fail to repeal the rescission, we will be taking the shareholders of the workers ready to go to work on shovel-ready projects. That is not something I wish to go home and explain to the people of my State. I do not think Senators and Members of the House would want to go home and explain to the people or their constituents in their areas that they represent.

I call up my amendment. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report. The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Missouri [Mr. BOND] proposes an amendment numbered 1904.

Mr. BOND. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the reading of the Vitter amendment, it is very simple.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To repeal a certain provision of the SAFETEA-LU)

At the appropriate place, insert the following:

SEC. 3. RESCISSON OF UNOBLIGATED BALANCES.

Section 1022 of the Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users (119 Stat. 1937) is repealed.

Mr. LEVIN. Madam President, I support repealing the rescission contained in the SAFETEA-LU bill that requires that on September 30, 2009, $8.7 billion of apportioned contract authority provided to States for investment in infrastructure be rescinded. This is important to Michigan and all the other States across the Nation that cannot afford to have Federal infrastructure funding cut at a time of severe funding constraints. I will work to repeal this rescission so Michigan and other States do not lose these needed Federal transportation funds.

Based on the assurances of the chairman of the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee that this will be corrected before September 30 and the extremely time sensitive nature of the underlying bill, I will oppose the motion to waive the Budget Act with respect to the Bond amendment to this bill. If we were funding the highway trust fund to keep it solvent through September. With the House of Representatives scheduled to adjourn tomorrow any Senate amendment to H.R. 3357 would require that it be sent back to the House, likely killing this important bill. We cannot risk letting the highway trust fund run out of funds.

I will work with the chairman of the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee to repeal SAFETEA-LU rescission as part of the bill to extend SAFETEA-LU rescission for 18 months. Ms. STABENOW. Madam President, I support rescinding section 10212 of the Safe Accountable, Flexible, Efficient, Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users. Section 10212 will rescind apportioned contract authority for States for infrastructure investment on September 30, 2009. If section 10212 goes into effect, my State could lose up to $100 million in transportation funds this year alone. While I support the intent of amendment No. 1904, offered by my colleague, Senator BOND, to rescind section 10212 and maintain apportioned contract authority for States, I believe it is more important to follow the direction of Chairman BOXER and pass H.R. 3357 as a clean bill with no amendments. Providing funding for transportation, unemployment insurance, and housing programs included in H.R. 3357 are vital for the State of Michigan, and we must pass this bill quickly rather than delay it in a long conference process. I look forward to working with both Chairman BOXER, who is committed to addressing the problems surrounding section 10212, and with Senator BOND to address this problem in a timely manner.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from California.

Mrs. BOXER. Before Senator BOND leaves the floor, I wanted to thank him for his leadership on this issue. I wanted to assure him and all the people who support this amendment that this amendment will pass. It will not pass today. I do not think, for one main reason. We are fearful of playing these parliamentary games with the House on the highway trust fund.

We have until September 30 to address this issue. If my friend is entirely correct, we must deal with this rescission. We have to repeal it and we are going to repeal it. I will work with him to do that.

I simply wish to say that on September 30, when we are faced with our next deadline, the entire bill has to be reauthorized. So it is not only this problem but many other issues have to be addressed. Again, I wish to state this: I am not happy the House sent us this very short extension.

I and I know my colleague wanted to see the highway trust fund extended for 18 months. I think the places we differ have to do with how we pay for the extension. Senator VITTER and all my colleagues who are dealing with unemployment insurance and the rest want to cut funds out of the job-producing stimulus program. I think it is unnecessary.

I also would say to my colleagues who say we are borrowing and we are borrowing to do all this: Simply look at the CBO score which scores this as a positive. The House bill is scored as a positive because of some of the legislative changes in it. Again, I wish to be clear, I will work side by side with Senator BOND. We are going to reauthorize the highway bill. It might be for 18 months. Maybe we can get together and we can come up with a bill for 5 or 6 years. We have to find a funding source to do that. I hope we can. But we will deal with the Bond amendment. We have to deal with it. The Senator is exactly right—exactly right.

He talks about taking shovels away from workers. The only place I disagree with him is that I think you are taking shovels away from workers by cutting the stimulus. I visited my State. I see people being put to work.

As Vice President, BIDEN said: We have only seen 25 percent of the stimulus money go out the door.

So I also wanted to ask unanimous consent when Senator MCCAIN comes to the floor he wanted some time to speak on the Bond amendment. So I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mrs. BOXER. I yield the floor and I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. MCCAIN. Madam President, I rise in opposition to the Bond amendment No. 1904, which if enacted would add another $8.5 billion to the $1.8 trillion deficit we are accumulating this year. As many of my colleagues will recall, when Congress considered the Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act in 2005, the so-called SAFETEA Act, we included a section that required that $8.543 billion of unobligated contract authority be rescinded on September 30, 2009.

The question, obviously, would arise: Why would we do such a thing, authorize money but then say it will be rescinded or cancelled? It was done for one simple reason; that is, because of the size of the bill it would have been subject to a point of order because it exceeded 10 percent of the Senate bill.

By the way, I would remind my colleagues this was a $223 billion bloated and earmarked highway bill. So apparenently it is not sufficient, in the minds of some, that we at least honor a commitment we made, which would have canceled about $8.5 billion.

Please keep in mind it was a $223 billion piece of legislation. Please keep in mind it was a $787 billion stimulus bill, that only 10 percent of the money has been spent, and only 1 percent of the $787 billion stimulus has been spent on highway and infrastructure projects.

Somehow there are many billions of dollars more that will be spent on highway and infrastructure projects out of the stimulus bill that has not been spent. Yet that does not seem to be enough, we need to add another $8.5 billion.

I would point out that this amendment, the same amendment, was considered in the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee on July 15 and was defeated by a vote of 14 to 5.

Well, sometime we have to stop. You keep coming to this place at the time of adjournment and you say: At some point we have to consider our children and our grandchildren and the kind of debt they are inheriting. This is another $8.5 billion which was not budgeted, which will add to the burden of the debt America is staggering under and at a time when we know that tens of billions of dollars additional will be spent on highway and infrastructure.

It is almost sad to see this because it began with gimmickry in order that the bill on the floor at that time would not be subjected to a budget point of order, knowing there would be an attempt at some point to restore it, which is now being made.

In 2005, we were accumulating deficits but unlike anything we have experienced in the last several months and since the economy cratered back in September of last year.

I hope my colleagues will reject this amendment. Mr. MCCAIN asks unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. REED. Madam President, I rise in opposition to the Ensign amendment. This amendment would fund the unemployment compensation trust fund by taking unobligated money from the recovery package. It is ironic that one of the major tools we are using to maintain employment and grow it is the recovery package. In Rhode Island, our State used about $300 million, which is a significant sum in their budget, to ensure they didn’t have to lay off workers, which would have increased the demand on unemployment, and that they could maintain services. All of this is a result of the Recovery Act.

We are beginning to see the momentum pick up. For example, with respect to weatherization, Rhode Island initially received some funds, but then the bulk of the funds would be received based upon submission of their plan. The plan is underway. The State will see roughly $20 million over the next several months to get people to work doing weatherization. Not only does this help the environment, it also provides employment, particularly for those most hard hit, the construction industry.

To take this money now and put it in the trust fund is counterintuitive and counterproductive. On those grounds alone, I have to seriously look at this amendment.

The other issue that should be mentioned, among several, is that CBO has indicated that this approach of moving funds in the underlying bill has no effect at all. It is an intergovernmental transfer that the underlying legislation is proposing.

So this issue, again, is more of a comment, perhaps, on the recovery package than trying to effectively stem unemployment and to provide funds for those who are unemployed.

The issue of unemployment is probably the most significant one we face in the country, particularly in my home State. We know joblessness is rising. It is 12.4 percent in Rhode Island. Rhode Island and 18 other States have had to borrow $12 billion to keep their State unemployment trust funds solvent. Rhode Island has borrowed more than $80 million itself to cover unemployment, and over the next several months, they will draw on a line of credit of about $40 million to keep paying these benefits, which are absolutely critical to families who have lost their jobs. If we don’t, today, transfer these funds, as suggested in the underlying legislation, Rhode Island and many other States would be looking at a real crisis in which they would fail to be able to respond to this need for unemployment compensation.

One of the things my State has done with its own resources is a work-share program. Rhode Island and 17 other States are using their resources to provide WorkShare, an effective program. Essentially, it allows an employer to cut back on the number of hours a worker is engaged, and that worker would qualify for what is basically a partial unemployment check—not the full check, so it doesn’t put that much pressure on the State budget. But the conditions in Rhode Island is that the employer must maintain the benefits the workers enjoy. So it is really a win-win-win. First, people do not lose their health care because they must maintain the benefits if they are still employed, so there is continuity of workers on the factory floor or in the office. Third, the pressure on the State trust fund is lessened.

One of the things that is particularly appropriate to mention when it comes to this program is that it provides a big bang for the buck. Mark Zandi, an economist who is well renowned, has indicated that for every dollar of funds we put in through the unemployment system, they would get two dollars back. That makes sense. People who are getting these funds are using them right away. They are going into the economy with their other funds to buy food, to buy the necessities of life they need. This has a stimulus effect on the economy. That is another reason we have to move very aggressively.

But I would like to broaden this concept of WorkShare, which has been so effective in Rhode Island, to ensure we have the ability to provide some Federal support to those States that are engaged in work share programs. Again, it is not only a very efficient program, it is very popular with industry and business in Rhode Island.

I had the occasion to visit a Hope Global plant, and they have engaged in WorkShare. In fact, the number of companies in the State engaged in WorkShare has gone up dramatically, given the economic recession.

At the plant, I was introduced to a woman who worked there with her husband, and they benefitted from this program. She said, point blank: Without it, we would have lost our health care and we would have lost our home. So we can do more when it comes to flexibility and innovation with respect to unemployment. This also includes passing legislation immediately to extend unemployment insurance. Over half a million workers will exhaust their benefits this year, and 1.5 million will run out of coverage by the end of the year. This is an extraordinary number of Americans, and we need to provide them the support of the unemployment system, particularly high unemployment States like Rhode Island.

Also, as I indicated before, this is a way in which we cannot only moderate the crisis of unemployment for families but also to stimulate our economy. In fact, in that sense, it complements the Recovery Act. To take some part funds from the Recovery Act to place into the unemployment trust fund would blunt the overall macroeconomic stimulus that we need to get this economy moving again.

The unemployment levels today are unacceptable, particularly in my State of Rhode Island. It is the No. 1 concern. Related to unemployment, for many people in my State, is the concomitant loss of health care. So we have to move aggressively on health care reform also. But we have to act, and we can act, and we should act. I urge my colleagues to reject the Ensign amendment.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. UDALL of New Mexico). The Senator from Georgia.

Mr. CHAMBLISS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. COBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

Mr. UDALL. Mr. President, I am opposing Senator MCCAIN on the Senate floor anytime, but I think I will begin.

The Government Accountability Office released a report yesterday that talked about the highway trust fund. What they noted is that over the last 4 years $78 billion of that trust fund has been spent on things other than highways, bridges, and roads.

Some of the things it has been spent on nobody would have any question. But here we find ourselves—the second time in a year—trying to bail out the trust fund, and we are going to get to decide whether we are going to steal it from our kids or steal it from the stimulus bill, which will actually make it much more stimulative than the money that is there.

But we find ourselves in trouble. When this trust fund was first set up, it was set up during the Eisenhower administration. It was designed to build the Interstate Highway System and help us with roads and bridges and secondary roads and bridges throughout the country. What it has morphed into is that a large percentage of it now does not go for any of that.

So we find ourselves in the midst of a recession—with last year having high gas prices which depressed the money going into the fund, and with a recession now, with decreasing revenues going into the fund—and we have all these projects that we know are priorities for us that need to be fixed.

The other thing I learned from this report is that 13,000 people in this country a year die because of bad roads, bad bridges, and bad highways.
So it would seem to me the highway trust fund moneys ought to be spent to eliminate those 13,000 deaths, and the priority ought to be about roads, bridges, and highways.

I will put into the RECORD many other things the money is spent on. Ten percent is mandated for highway beautification. Well, I think that is great—if we do not have a trust fund that is broken, and we do not have 200,000 bridges in the country that structurally have some defect, 93,000 of which are seriously structurally defective. I think it is important that we turn our attention to priorities that will support that.

We are going to have a lot of votes on this today. I am supportive of us doing what we need to do for the trust fund. I am also supportive of making sure the priorities of the trust funds are about bridges, roads, and highways. Because of what has happened in the Tulsa, OK, yesterday, we have a man in ICU. Somebody hit a bridge with a car, and he was driving under the bridge in another lane, and chunks of concrete fell through his windshield and seriously injured him. Our highway department knew there was a problem with that bridge—not going under it or over it, but the foundation was suspect in terms of the concrete underlying it, and the uprights. So the dollars that went to build a bicycle path and to plant the trees on the bridge—the dollars that went to put in walking paths means that guy is in the hospital today because the dollars didn’t go for what they were intended.

So when we have had $78 billion over the last 4 years that didn’t go for roads, highways, and bridges, and instead went for things that aren’t going to enhance safety or help save 13,000 lives a year, America has to ask: What are your priorities?

Mr. President, I make the point that as they look at this, there are important things for us to consider. We know that had we passed a better stimulus bill, we would be doing twice as much now of the fixing the real problems in this country in terms of transportation infrastructure. But we didn’t. We passed a stimulus bill that created transfer payments on 70 percent of it, and 20 percent of it may be considered to be stimulative. So the hope is that, as we go forward—and we are going to bail this out—what we really need to do is, let’s have our own money. In Oklahoma, we have never gotten 100 percent back. The highest was last year. When I came to Congress, we were backing out of every dollar. If we can keep that money, we can get more done with it than what we get done through the trust fund now. That may be one solution to ultimately getting us out of this situation.

Mr. INHOFE. If the Senator will yield, it is a real problem we have here. I remember, up until about 5 years ago, our highways were in good shape. We had $480,000 to rehabilitate a historic warehouse along the Erie Canal; $200,000 for the construction of horse-riding trails in Virginia; $2.5 million for the Daniel Boone Wilderness Trail Corridor; $400,000 to rehabilitate and redesign the Erie Canal Museum; $400,000 for a jogging, bicycle, and trolley trail in Columbus, GA. How in the world can those things be justified and then expect our constituents not to rise up?

Mr. COBURN. The answer to the Senator’s question is, they can’t. There is no question that there are certain priorities. What has happened is, as we try to address priorities for individual States, because the States don’t get their money back—and there may be a great project in there, and along comes a lousy one. I will make the point that we have our eye off the ball. The eye needs to go back. All you have to do is go read the story that happened in Tulsa, OK, yesterday. Had we been applying money to transportation instead of nontransportation through this trust fund, that gentleman probably would not be in the hospital today. A 700-pound piece of concrete fell through his windshield, trapping him in the car. We don’t just have a problem of not enough money in the trust fund, our problem is that the money that goes out doesn’t go for the real things the trust fund was designed to do in the first place.

I will yield, and then I will yield back. We have to do one of two things. Until this country gets out of the financial damage it is in, first, we have to make sure the money is spent on transportation projects, real transportation projects, to nontransportation projects. If some of those 13,000 who are being lost because we are not fixing roads, bridges, and highways. Second, let’s eliminate the thing and let the States keep their money, and we will figure out how to spend it at home. In Oklahoma, we have never gotten a square deal yet.

Mr. MCCAIN. Will the Senator yield for a question?

Mr. COBURN. Yes.

Mr. MCCAIN. Couldn’t it also be traced to earmarks and pork barrel and “demonstration projects”? Couldn’t it be traced to the fundamental fact that the 1962 highway bill included 10 demonstration projects totaling $586 million? The 1991 bill had 154 pork barrel projects, totaling $1.4 billion. The 1991 bill had 538 locations with specific pork barrel projects, totaling $6.1 billion. The 1998 highway bill had $1.85 billion earmark projects, totaling $9.3 billion, and then in 2005 had 5,634 earmark projects, totaling $21.6 billion. How can anybody who calls himself or herself a fiscal conservative stand by and allow this kind of thing to happen?

And what happens? There was $2.3 billion for the Minneapolis bridge that cuts the city in two? We are going to build a museum about the collapse of the bridge in Minneapolis. We are putting money into museums instead of making sure the roads and bridges—especially those roads and bridges in this country. Our priorities are messed up, and the American people know that. Hopefully, we can redirect transportation dollars to true transportation projects, not to the aesthetics that we cannot afford now, even though they may be nice, and, No. 2, are causing additional deaths on our highways.

Mr. MCCAIN. Will the Senator yield for a question?

Mr. COBURN. Yes.

Mr. MCCAIN. Does the ranking member know how much of that has been spent in dollars?

Mr. INHOFE. The answer is 3.5 percent, and an additional 3.5 percent in military construction, totaling about 7 percent.

Mr. MCCAIN. Does the ranking member know how much of that has been spent in dollars?

Mr. INHOFE. Sixty-seven percent has not been obligated, so 33 percent is obligated.

Mr. MCCAIN. I thank the Senator.

Mr. COBURN. Let me add, also, that if you go to USAspending.gov and to recovery.gov, you will find that as of last week—I don’t know what it is this week, but only $78 billion of the whole stimulus package has actually been spent. More of it has been obligated but not actually spent. I think there is another $150 billion obligated out of that. That is one of the reasons we are not seeing the effect of the stimulus. One, it is not going to stimulate things, and it is not getting to where we need it.

Mr. INHOFE. If the Senator will yield, that is another reason the Vitter amendment and Ensign amendment are good. You are talking about money that is out there, not recoverable. Let’s try to direct it where we can get something from it. I had an amendment during the stimulus bill to try to triple the amount of money that would go into actual construction, and they would not take it up.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Arizona is recognized.

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, as Senator COBURN has just mentioned, we released a report today examining how the highway trust fund receipts have been used for projects other than road and bridge construction and maintenance. Over the last 5 years, it reveals heavily on the new GAO analysis that was performed at our request on how we prioritize, or fail to prioritize, our Nation’s transportation spending.

Among the conclusions that the GAO concluded that, over the last 5 years alone, we spent $78 billion on projects other than road and bridge construction and maintenance. I will repeat that. About $78 billion on projects other than the construction and maintenance of roads and bridges.

Where did it go? According to GAO, over $2 billion was spent on 5,547 projects for bike paths and pedestrian walkways, for example, it identified a $878,000 project for a pedestrian and bicycle bridge for a Minnesota town of 847 people. I don’t know what that works out to be, but it works out to roughly $1,000 per person. I would be interested to know how many inhabitants actually use that bridge. We all know about the “bridge to nowhere”; perhaps this is a “bridge for no one.” Another $850 million went for 2,272 “scenic beautification” and landscaping projects around the country, and $84 million was spent on roadkill prevention, wildlife habitat connectivity, and highway runoff pollution mitigation projects. Yet another $84 million went to 398 pedestrian and bicyclist safety projects. I don’t mean to diminish safety, but do we really need to spend Federal dollars for boulevards like the one we cited in our report that encouraged bicyclists to “make eye contact, smile, or wave to communicate” with motorists. Crosswalks and pedestrian highways are a key to safe cycling.” Still another $28 million went to the transportation museums, and $215 million went to scenic or historic highway programs. The list goes on. I know Americans find these numbers as disturbing as I do. They should because they demonstrate that Congress is not focused on our Nation’s transportation priorities.

We should not forget that 2 years ago, the 1-35 West Bridge over the Mississippi River collapsed during a 7-hour time, killing 13 and injuring 123 more of our fellow citizens. That tragedy exposed a nationwide problem of deficient bridges. According to the Department of Transportation, in 2008, the Nation’s 601,366 bridges, 151,394, or 25 percent, of our bridges were deficient. Over 71,000 of them had significant deterioration and reduced load-carrying capability, and almost 80,000 didn’t meet the standards; we have been spending billions of dollars on bike paths, museums, landscaping, and roadkill-reduction programs.

Part and parcel of the problem, obviously, is the addiction to earmarks. As I mentioned before, the way the earmarks have grown, one of the standard arguments made by the earmarkers and porkbarrelers in Congress is that it is not always that they have always had congressional discretion because we know better than the bureaucrats where the taxpayers’ money should go. Frankly, I agree that sometimes that is the case, if it competes with other programs, if it is scrutinized and authorized by the appropriate committees. But what we do is we earmark these pork barrel projects, and many times—let’s have a little straight talk, Mr. President—they are in return for campaign contributions, and we see corruption.

People are under investigation. Lobbyists’ offices are being raided by the FBI. Again, I am not going to repeat what I said to the Senator from Oklahoma, but the 1982 highway bill had 101–court demonstration projects, and it was $386 million; in 1987, $1.4 billion; 1991, $6.1 billion; 1998, we get up to 1,850, totaling $9.3 billion; and 2005, 5,634 earmarked projects totaling $21.6 billion of American taxpayers’ dollars. I want to find the bypasses and the beautification projects and the trails. And all those are earmarked by specific Members of Congress. Meanwhile, we have 25 percent of our bridges that are deficient and have significant deterioration and reduced load-carrying capability and 80,000 that do not meet current design standards.

What are we going to say to the taxpayers of America if, God forbid—and I pray not—there is another bridge collapse? What do we say to them? That we took their tax dollars and built a museum instead of fixing their bridges and highways to ensure their safety? Maybe just maybe—if we had not spent $21.6 billion on earmarked projects, maybe some of that money, just maybe some of that money might have gone to fix the design problems on the bridge over the Mississippi. Maybe not. Maybe we didn’t know. I am not making a judgment here. But it seems to me that sooner or later, if you earmark as much as $21.6 billion of the taxpayers’ money for museums and bypasses and brochures, sooner or later the priority projects suffer.

Again, previously authorized under SAFETEA-LU, the 2005 highway bill, included $3.2 billion for landscaping enhancements along the Ronald Reagan Freeway. I have often wondered how often Ronald Reagan turns over in his grave, I bet he was spinning on that one. Mr. President, $480,000 to rehabilitate a historic warehouse along the Erie Canal; $600,000 for the construction of horse riding trails in Virginia. You will notice all these projects are earmarked to a specific locality. That’s the other things, they have in common. There is $2.5 million for the Daniel Boone Wilderness Trail Corridor; $400,000 to rehabilitate and redesign the Erie Canal Museum; $400,000 for jogging, bicycle, and trolley trails in Columbus, GA. The list goes on and on.

No one thinks our Nation should be without flowers, ferries, bike paths, and museums, but we have to make some choices about priorities and how we spend limited resources.

This has to be considered in the backdrop of this year a $1.8 trillion deficit, the largest in the history of this country since World War II. There is no end in sight. It is almost overwhelming, a $1.8 trillion deficit this year. But what is worse, there is no way out. No one knows of a plan to bring us to a balanced budget without fundamental reform of Medicare and Social Security. Here before us on health care reform, we see another trillion dollars piled on that.

When are we going to decide we cannot afford taxpayers’ dollars to rehabilitate and redesign museums, for trails, for beautification and landscaping enhancements when we have other priorities on transportation that have to do with the safety of our citizens?

I thank the Senator from Oklahoma for his continued advocacy for the taxpayers of America. I thank him for all the efforts he makes. I regret that neither he nor I will be elected Miss Congeniality in the Senate again this year. But I also believe the American people are beginning to wake up, and they are beginning to get angry. We saw this in the primaries that took place over this country. I hear it and see it in response to my Twitters. Over 1 million people now follow my Twitters and my tweets. They are very interested in this. We are going to post all these. We are going to let the American people know where their dollars have gone.

I urge my colleagues, let’s, for once, catch up with the American people and start becoming fiscally conservative. One of the best ways we can be careful stewards of their tax dollars is to make sure we place as our highest priority their safety as they travel the highways and cross the bridges of the United States of America.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alabama is recognized.

Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. President, what is the time remaining on this side?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. On the Vitter amendment, 9 minutes is remaining.

Mr. MCCAIN. If the Senator will yield, so I may make a unanimous consent request, I ask unanimous consent to have printed in the RECORD the Introduction and Conclusion of a report entitled “Out of Gas: Congress Raids the Highway Trust Fund for Pet Projects While Bridges and Roads Crumble” by Senator COBURN and myself.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

INTRODUCTION

One of the many recent government bailouts consisted of $8 billion for the bankrupt
Highway Trust Fund (HTF)—a fund set up to support, through federal gasoline and other taxes, all federal transportation programs and projects.

However, the $8 billion did not solve the problem. The Highway Trust Fund will go bankrupt (again) by the end of August 2009 unless Congress bails it out (again). This week, the House of Representatives voted to spend $7 billion of taxpayers’ money, just to keep the Fund temporarily afloat, and the U.S. Senate is poised to do the same. Moreover, as of this writing, Congress provided over $27 billion for highway and infrastructure projects as part of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009.

Yet, as Washington politicians are not the solution to protect our nation’s infrastructure, Congress must begin by reprioritizing funds. Flowers, bike paths, and even roadkill re- duction programs, are just some of the many examples of extraneous expenditures (some of which are legally required) funded by Congress through federal transportation bills. Many of these projects are funded as earmarks, while others are born from legislators turning their private passions into public programs. Instead, Congress should allow states greater flexibility to allocate their transportation program funds on “enhancement” projects, such as establishing new transportation museums—simply cannot be justified while the Highway Trust Fund has insufficient funds for repairing dangerous roads and bridges.

Re-examine Before Refilling

As Congress debates “refilling” (by deficit spending) the soon-to-be-empty Highway Trust Fund, it should first look at ways to reprioritize its spending. Congress may not reflect the realities of a decaying national transportation infrastructure. Many politicians are quick to defend spending millions in federal funds on their districts’ bike paths, transportation museums, road-side flowers, and even the “bridge to nowhere.” Yet, Congress needs to evaluate whether the sectoral federal funding in light of our current trillion-dollar deficit, the economic downturn, and the realities of a collapsing transportation infrastructure that literally is costing American lives.

The Status Quo Will Not Work

Critics of the GAO report and this report will claim these examples are but a small portion of overall transportation spending and do not begin to address the long-term Trust Fund shortfall.

Yet, we cannot continue to spend $78 billion in areas other than crucial road and bridge construction and maintenance. Congress needs to beg Congress to steal from our nation’s children and grandchildren when the Highway Trust Fund runs dry. We cannot spend hundreds of millions of tax dollars to renovate “historic facilities” such as gas stations and then claim that history will look poorly on a nation that let its vital interstate transportation system fall into disrepair.

We should not force states to spend approximately 10 percent of all their surface transportation program funds on “enhancement” projects like landscaping, bicycle safety, and transportation museums, when fixing a bridge or repairing a road would be a more practical and necessary use of these limited funds.

We have asked individuals and families across the country to examine their own budgets and start spending more responsibly. We should expect nothing less of our nation’s leaders in Congress.

Tom Coburn.

John McCain.

Conclusion

Our country is literally running on empty. Future generations of Americans will inherit a multi-trillion-dollar debt because Washington politicians rely on reckless borrowing to finance their wish lists of pet projects and programs. There seems to be no crisis facing our nation that Washington politicians believe borrowing or bailouts cannot solve.

Now the politicians want to be trusted with yet another bailout. This time of the Highway Trust Fund. Politicians will not make tough choices, but taxpayers must begin demanding them.

What is the best way to spend Highway Trust Funds: Is it to make roadways and bridges more scenic, or more safe? What is the best way to protect our nation’s infrastructure needs: Is it to raise taxes on gasoline, borrow more money for yet another bailout, or reduce spending on non-essential projects that do not strengthen roads or bridges?

GAO reports our nation obligated $78 billion over five years to projects other than crucial bridge and highway maintenance and repair. Now, Congress is being asked to borrow $7 billion from general tax revenues to temporarily refill the Highway Trust Fund.

No one is saying our nation should be without flowers and ferries or bike paths and bridges. But taxpayers must be about priorities. Should those priorities include spending millions on programs that tell bikers to smile and making states use the safety of our citizens?

At a minimum, states should be given the flexibility to opt out of the federal Transportation Enhancement Program. The shortfall in the Highway Trust Fund could also be addressed without further deficit spending by shifting unused funds from the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009. Transferring unspent stimulus funds to ensure the Highway Trust Fund remains solvent would be consistent with a stimulus purpose of stimulating the U.S. transportation infrastructure to support job growth.

Congress should walk the fiscally responsible path. Each chamber should implement a moratorium on all transportation-related earmarks for the remainder of the 111th Congress.

Washington politicians should be required to sit down with the new GAO report, the transportation bailout request, and our real priorities. To spend billions of extraneous transportation spending should be our first priority. Lives depend on it.

Mr. McCaIN. I yield my colleague from Alabama.

Mr. Sessions. Mr. President, while Senator McCain is here, we were talking about the amount of money the government has spent. We talked about how a third of the money has been obligated from this stimulus package. But I advise, according to the CBO report they only expected 11 percent of the money to actually be disbursed by the end of this year, at least the money that deals with highways, mass transit, and issues of that kind. That is stunningly low because we were told something quite different.

This Vitter amendment is exactly the kind of thing we need to be doing every single day: try to challenge the conventional thinking to figure out how we can deal with a need today without increasing America’s debt. That Senator Vitter and I when we passed this $300 billion stimulus package in January, nobody had a chance to read it. We were told repeatedly—and the President himself said more than once—it was to build infrastructure, to complete highways, roads, and bridges. That is what the money was going to be for. He said in February: They are not going to be make-work jobs but jobs that people want, that we desperately need done, jobs rebuilding our crumbling roads and bridges, and jobs repairing our dangerously deficient dams and levees so we won’t face another Katrina.

I am not sure Congress can stop another Katrina from coming, but we can perhaps be better prepared for it. But what a lot of people do not know, is that less than 4 percent of the money in that bill was directed for highways and bridges. It was a game, a political trick, because the American people believe that when you need to create jobs, you might as well build something that is permanent, that will benefit the people for years to come and that creates real jobs. In their minds, I think they envisioned stepping up our road projects. But only, as I said, 4 percent of the entire package went for that purpose.

Now we have a lot of that money not spent. Apparently, 89 percent will not be spent by the end of this fiscal year, and 5 percent is already showing up as a hit to the budget. Trillions is a number that people don’t believe it, but it is the truth. The total amount of stimulus in this bill, in my opinion, is about 7½ percent. This is an opportunity to do something with real jobs and not have any problem in increasing our debt or deficit.

So I appreciate the fact that my colleagues are coming, and several Senators are coming down, and drawing this to the attention of the American people as well as to our friends on the other side. There is our opportunity to save lives, to do infrastructure—one of the major reasons we are here in this Chamber today.

Mr. SESSIONS. I appreciate that comment and my colleague’s leadership. He has consistently been a champion for infrastructure and roads. We face a tight budget, and I feel strongly about this. I know I am raising my voice but somehow we have to break through the fog and let the American people know that every time we face a little problem we can’t just spend more money. We have to look for ways to solve the problem that doesn’t increase our debt.

By the way, in case anybody has any doubts, any new spending that we initiate increases the debt because we are running a deficit. So any new spending in the immediate future increases the deficit for that year because it is not offset or paid for.

So I am worried about where we are heading. I do believe infrastructure will pay for itself in the long run, but there is a limit to how much we can spend, and in my opinion, we are spending it. However, I will concede that we certainly don’t need to have a savaging of our highway bill at this point in time and have hundreds of thousands of people perhaps laid off from work because we don’t have the money to finish projects that need to be completed. Instead, let’s take the money that is in the stimulus bill. Let’s take that money and use it now to fix the shortfall in the highway trust fund. Once we do that, we will create jobs. How many, I don’t know, but it will create jobs, and that is a double benefit.

We get a permanent benefit for the American infrastructure, and we create jobs for Americans now. We take the money that is sitting there and not being spent and accelerate its use in the time we need it.

I would point out to my colleague the reason this is important, and the reason the administration was able to ram through this stimulus bill is the largest single expenditure in the history of the American Republic, almost $800 billion in one fell swoop, with hundreds of pages and people having no idea what was in it—is because they said we are facing rising unemployment, and we need to get this money out in a hurry so we can put people to work. Well, only 11 percent of it is going to be obligated by the end of this year.

Unemployment is already at 9.5 percent, and most experts are predicting it will probably continue to go up to 10, maybe 11 percent. Yet we can’t get this money out, and we are cutting the highway budget? When we have this shortfall, what do people come up with? Well, they are going to pay for it by adding more debt. We have an economic slowdown, so we no longer have to worry about the deficit. We don’t have to worry about the deficit, they tell us. And—and they say, give us longer life to Social Security.

Our children are going to be paying interest on these trillions of dollars for the rest of their lives, and the only people who are going to get the benefit from it are the people living today. That is a selfish thing. We should use the surplus in an effective way to generate jobs—and there are even debates about how wise some of those methods are economically. But the way this package is being managed, the money is not getting out, unemployment is surging, and there doesn’t seem to be any hope for the short term for unemployment to abate. So I am worried about it. I do believe we can do better.

They will say: Well, President Bush had a deficit. We inherited all this. But President Bush didn’t ask for the $800 billion in stimulus money that President Obama asked for this year. That is on top of the debt, and I think anybody who is president needs to be thinking about how to reduce spending not just for the next month, but for control of our debt. And don’t believe President Bush would have submitted a budget that shows in 10 years—in that one year, 2019—it would be $1.1 trillion. We have never seen anything like that.

There was not a year of President Obama’s Presidency, according to this—if he serves 8 years—in which this deficit will be as low as President Bush’s, and they are predicting growth. No recession is projected in the next 10 years, when CBO scored what the deficits might be. So this is a fair analysis of it.

Mr. President, I want to say I am pleased Senator VITTER has proposed a way that will allow us to meet the short-term highway troubles without increasing the debt this year, and it is consistent with what the people who proposed the stimulus bill promised all along—that the stimulus money would be used for highways and bridges. It is the right thing to do. I hope we can pass this, and I think the American people should watch closely on how the votes go on this bill.

I thank the Chair. I reserve the remainder of the time, and I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Illinois is recognized.

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, our national debt is a national challenge and a national problem, and we can face it and face it honestly. Democrats and Republicans can’t leave these debts to our children. That is a fact. But let’s have some honesty in recounting the history of this debt.

When President Clinton left office 9 years ago, he gave to President George W. Bush a surplus, not a debt, a surplus. He had not only balanced the budget, he was generating a surplus, and it was giving longer life to Social Security.

President George W. Bush inherited this surplus and an accumulated national debt over the 200-year history of the United States of $5 trillion—$5 trillion. Remember that number because 8 years later, when President Bush left office, the national debt had doubled—doubled—and left the debt to future generations. Why did it double? It doubled because he fought a war and didn’t pay for it. He accumulated debt year after year—in addition to the terrible casualties and loss of life, he left Americans in a war and women—and left the debt to future generations. Then, in the midst of this, he cut taxes. For the first time in the history of the United States of America, a President, in the midst of war, cut taxes for the wealthiest people in our country, supported by the same party that comes now and preaches to us their sermon of fiscal integrity.

So when President Bush left office, he left President Obama a deficit and a national debt that had doubled under his watch, with Republican congressional leadership support. That is a fact. Those are facts. President Obama inherited that debt and inherited the problems that came with it and the sickest economy America had seen in 75 years. That is what he was given.

So President Obama said: We have to be serious about our debt, but we have to be honest about it too. Until we get out of this recession, until we stop this rampant unemployment where people are losing their jobs and can’t pay taxes—obviously, because they do not have work—we are going to see this deficit continue to grow. To stabilize this economy, we need to put people back to work.

The President said: I know it is tough to spend money when you are in debt, but at this moment in time it is like buying a tourniquet to stop the bleeding. We have to do it, even if it looks like taking money out of the President’s bill. And they put together a stimulus bill to get this economy back on its feet. With the exception of three then-Republican Senators, not a single one of them would support this effort to stop the recession.

When President Obama came to office, we were losing 741,000 jobs a month. Now, 4 months into our 24-month stimulus, we have cut that number by one-third, and I hope we can keep it up. That has to do with this massive economy of ours, connected throughout the world with so many other global economies, it is pretty tough to turn this battleship and move it in the right direction. I think the President has done the right thing.

The amendment offered by the Senator from Louisiana is an amendment which says: Give up. Give up on stimulating this economy. Give up on stopping this recession. Stop building these projects—that are creating American jobs—and giving unemployment insurance. Stop investing in our infrastructure for future generations. Stop addressing this recession head on and pray for a good outcome.

I am sorry, but I can’t buy it. The Senator from Louisiana is offering a proposal to take money out of the President’s recovery and reinvestment package that was determined to stabilize this economy. He wants to take money out of it. It’s already 4 months into it. We are going to pass it around, moving it in a lot of directions. Some want to put it in the highway trust fund, and pray for a good outcome.

Incidentally, he voted against this, but now he is criticizing it saying we aren’t spending it fast enough. Well, I want to spend it quickly, but I want to spend it wisely, and I want accountability. At the end of the day, the taxpayers will hold us all accountable: Did you spend our tax dollars wisely? Did you spend them on projects that really do benefit our country? Did you waste it? Was there fraud? I want those questions answered in the positive frame of mind that we have done everything we can do. So it is not being spent as fast as its critics say, but I think it is being spent wisely, and we are creating jobs all across America.

Thousands of projects are on line now creating good-paying jobs. The amendments we are considering today on the Republican side of the aisle, all from Republicans who opposed the President’s effort to stop this recession with the stimulus bill, every one of them wants to put an end to the stimulus package. With 150 days into this 2-year bill, they want to put an end to it by starting to take money out of it. They have given up on a package which, incidentally, provided a tax break for 95 percent of the working families in America.

Does that help? You get it. These families are struggling in the recession. They have seen their life savings devastated by the stock market in the last year. Giving them a helping hand is a sensible thing to do.

It is a bill they voted against—the President’s bill. He says let’s give unemployed workers $25 more per week so they can get by. Sure, it doesn’t sound like a lot of money, except when you don’t have a job and every penny counts. They want to criticize, as well, the President’s idea of providing health insurance to unemployed workers. No, they said that was a terrible idea. They voted against it.

Think about this: You have just lost your job, you may lose your house, you are sick, you have to go to the doctor with a raging fever, and you pray to God a diagnosis isn’t going to come down that will wipe out your life savings. For them it is an extravagance—the idea of providing health insurance for unemployed people. For me, it is part of America’s contract with its citizens. It is our duty that stands by people when they are facing the misfortunes of losing their job.

The list goes on and on, and they oppose all of it. They now come and say, we not only opposed it at the outset, we are going to take money out of it. We are going to pass it around, moving it in a lot of directions. Some want to put it in the highway trust fund, and pray for a good outcome.
The previous order, the Senate stands up for. Let's use it to build roads and bridges and create jobs. Let's use it to make sure those who are unemployed get their benefits. Let's use it for the same purposes it was set up for. Let's use it to stimulate the economy and help people who don't already have mass transit systems that are very costly, which we cannot afford at this time.

Obviously, today we are going to go forward with extending the trust fund and replenishing the highway trust fund because that is what people want to do because we don't have time to address the whole issue of reauthorization at this very complicated time. I wish we were not going to consider an 18-month extension in September because I think we ought to have a short-term extension, so we do have the reauthorization of the highway bill, so we can start discussing these priorities—so we can start maybe thinking outside the box. Maybe we can start all over.

The highway trust fund and the highway authorization bill is a mishmash of different projects. I don't think there is fairness in the system at all. There are donor States, winner States, and the winner States have all the capacity. The loser States have as much need as the winner States, and the winner States have the ability, I believe, to fund their own options.

Even though I know we are going to extend the highway bill for 18 months by the end of September, and I know we are going to replenish the highway fund today—and I wish it would be from our stimulus package so it would not be yet another deficit-inducing measure from this Congress—I think I am going to lose all the arguments I am making. But I do think it important that we bring this issue to the forefront.

There is no reason in this country today for winner States and loser States. Our States should be able to plan for themselves, make their own priorities, meet their needs, be able to be more efficient, have modal systems—which is what I hope for Texas—and be able to use our own tax dollars for our own needs. Were we a State that did not have needs, were we a State that was not growing, maybe we could afford to continue giving 8 cents back for every $1 we send to Washington. Maybe we could afford to leave the 8 cents in Washington.

Instead, we are getting 92 cents back for every $1 we send to Washington. That is hundreds of billions of dollars that we need for our high-growth State that has many traffic problems and congestion problems today. We will repair our highways. We would sign an agreement to repair our highways so they should be nothing more than a half travelevery State has to contribute to the highway trust fund and the highway authorization bill. Many of them were members of hardworking families worried that they might join the 14,000 Americans who lose health insurance each day.

Maria, Lee, and I heard one organizer call a medical volunteer a “hero” for stepping forward to help their neighbors.

That same volunteer responded by saying the real heroes are the fathers, mothers, sons, and daughters struggling every day in the shadow of a looming health care crisis that threatens to send their family into financial ruin.

In fact, most of the people who sought health services at the weekend clinic were from middle class families who had fallen on hard times.

Together with MetroHealth, St. Vincent’s, University Hospitals, Case Western Reserve University, and the Cleveland Clinic, Medworks volunteers provided the kind of health care all Americans need, but too many don’t receive.

Medworks founder Zac Ponsky turned not only to his community but to his family to contribute their time. Zac’s wife Taryn helped coordinate the many moving parts of the clinic.

Kim Ponsky, Zac’s sister, is a professional photographer who documented the weekend.

Meanwhile, Zac’s father Jeff, brothers Lee and Todd, and sister-in-law Diana—all physicians—provided a standard of care that most of the patients that day had never received.

During a single weekend, the generous volunteers of Medworks taught us the meaning of compassion and humanity.

They led by example.

Many patients received multiple services, while doctors made instant referrals to other Cleveland-area doctors for those patients not originally scheduled.

Over the course of the weekend, seven people needing advanced care, once diagnosed, were able to receive it at local hospitals.

More than 130 women had pap tests and nearly 100 women received vouchers for free mammograms at Women’s Diagnostics.

Nearly 300 people either walked out of the clinic with a brand new pair of glasses or will be receiving a new pair soon.

A number of patients received vouchers for follow-up eye care at St. Vincent’s Charity Hospital, an exceptional hospital in Cleveland.

Approximately 50 people were tested for HIV. But it was not just health care services that were provided. Each patient also spent time with a social worker who provided counseling and information about followup services.

The Ohio Benefits Bank was on hand to offer prescreening for medical, housing, energy, tax, employment and other programs. Nearly 100 patients took advantage of that service.

All told, approximately 300 community members, 100 doctors, 175 nurses, and social workers volunteered their time and services during this Saturday/Sunday event. This includes a number of volunteers who simply showed up unannounced. It included a few patients who were so grateful for the care they then volunteered to stay after their appointment to help.

Building on effectiveness of the weekend, MedWorks is now focused on patient followup. Currently, a team of doctors is reviewing medical records to follow up with emergency cases and to help those people suffering from chronic illness.

MedWorks volunteer and chief of surgery at University Hospitals, Dr. Jeff Ponsky, said:

“We’re very hopeful that this will become a regular part of our community. We’ll get better at it, and we’ll be a leader for the country.”

We can do more for the millions of Americans who are one illness away from financial ruin. We can do more for the 14,000 Americans who lose their insurance every day. We can do more for the 45 million uninsured and the tens and tens of millions of underinsured in this country.

Today is the 44th anniversary of President Johnson’s signing of Medicare. Medicare changed our Nation. It helped pull millions of seniors out of poverty; it fostered personal independence; it fueled our economy; and it helped retirees live long and healthy lives.

Just as those who worked tirelessly 44 years ago to secure health care for America’s seniors, the generous MedWorks volunteers in Cleveland are doing all they can for their community.

In Washington, we are working to effect change in our health care system. That is our duty, to make this historic change, to reform the health insurance industry, to allow our Nation to move over this human tragedy—from the health care related bankruptcies, from the competitive disadvantage American businesses face from the huge costs, the burden that small businesses face in this country. We can keep working, keep fighting for the change Americans are demanding.

The Ohioans I met in Cleveland last Saturday, and every Ohioan from Lima to Zanesville, from Chillicothe to Ashland, from every town in every corner of our great State who could not deserve the humane justice of stable and secure health care. That means quality and affordable health care options, public and private both. It means the health care plan that was voted out of the HELP Committee on which the Presiding Officer sits. It means the plan that came out of that committee 2 weeks ago, a plan that injects competition between private insurance plans and a public option, an option that people can choose. It will make things better for everyone, and it will keep the insurance companies honest. That will mean people, if they are laid off—if people are laid off in Marion or...
Dayton, OH, people who have lost their insurance, people in Wapakoneta, in rural Ohio, all will have a public option insurance, in order to compete with sometimes all too few rural Ohio, all will have a public option insurance, and that helps us with the housing crisis and allows us to see the need. I support one of these amendments. The Bond amendment makes eminent sense. I do take issue with the timing because we have been told by our Republican colleagues that this is all we are going to do: if we amend this bill, then we are stuck. So it is one of those awkward and difficult moments. Truth be told, the people out there who are working hard are not going to get all the attention of the moment. They want to make sure their job is there in the morning.

So even though I support one of these amendments, the Bond amendment—I have stated and Senator BOND understands that I will be supporting him when we reauthorize this bill September 30; we will take care of this reversion—we don’t have to take care of it now. What we must take care of today is the highway trust fund. It is running out of funds. We have to act. I hope we can do it across party lines.

The other thing I support is an 18-month extension of highway programs. That is, again, something I have done with my Republican colleagues. We passed out of the Environment and Public Works Committee, on a unanimous vote, an 18-month extension. Senator Baucus, over on Finance, was able to come up with an intergovernmental transfer that reduces the deficit of about $27 billion to ensure that we can go forward for 18 months while we sit down across party lines and figure out the long-term answer to funding our highway and transportation needs over the next 5 years.

There is a split between the Senate approach and the House approach. The House approach, which I don’t agree with, is to keep making short-term extensions as we did in the past. But we all know we have to figure out a funding source that will take us through the next 5 or 6 years. It is going to take time, and we need to do it right. I believe in making sure we get our priorities. I am not willing, as the chairman of the committee, to simply hand off a huge bill to the Finance Committee without any recommendations. So it will take us a little while. We have a difference between the House approach and the Senate approach.

But here is the point and why I believed it was important to be heard before we vote. The House has a very short-term extension. That is what they have given us. They have told us that if we don’t take this, we are not going to be able to ensure that the highway trust fund is solvent. I, for one, do not agree with this. It is too serious. Even though I don’t agree with the House approach, we have other days left to make the case.

The other point I want to make is that the Republican approach to this is the 18-month extension, which I fully support, and the way they pay for it is by saying: We are going to take money out of the stimulus program, the economic stimulus program that has just been passed out of the Senate. The Republicans didn’t vote for it, most of them—they of them did, but the others didn’t—and they want to stop it. It is counterproductive, in a time of recession, to stop a jobs program right in the middle of it. Those highway, transportation, cleaning up Superfund sites. These are jobs that are dealing with water infrastructure, with education. Of all the times to come up here and recommend that we stop this jobs program now, this is wrong.

I am totally willing to work with my colleagues so at the end of the stimulus bill, at the end of that time, which is in about 18 months, if we have not spent some of those funds, we should take a hard look at putting those funds into the Treasury to reduce the deficit, perhaps. Perhaps we need at that point to use some of it for the highway trust fund. But today is not the day. If I could summarize where I see things today, we have a series of Republican amendments that basically say we should stop this, we should take funds out of the stimulus package now in order to pay for health insurance, in order to pay for the highway trust fund, and in order to pay to help our people with their mortgages.

And it is counterproductive. What we are doing is helping our people with mortgages, by ensuring there is unemployment insurance, and ensuring there is money in the highway trust fund. On the other hand, they are stopping jobs. We do not have to do this, and we should not do this. As I understand it, it is time now to have that series of votes. So I make a parliamentary inquiry as to what time we are having those votes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time under the previous order has expired.

Mrs. BOXER. All right. Then I would yield the floor, and I hope we would be voting at this point.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oklahoma.

Mr. INHOFE. Mr. President, it is my understanding that Senator SESSIONS... is going to get one more amendment in, and then we will start the voting; is that correct?

Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. President, that would be my preference. I would be pleased to call up this amendment now. I do not know what the time agreement is at this point.

Mr. INHOFE. We are ready to vote as soon as the Senator brings it up.

AMENDMENT NO. 2223

Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to call the amendment up and to be able to speak for 2 minutes.

Mr. INHOFE. That sounds good.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. President, we have an opportunity to save $200 billion. It is time for us to do the right thing. We cannot keep spending more and more.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the amendment.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Alabama (Mr. Sessions) proposes an amendment numbered 2223.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To restore sums to the Highway Trust Fund and for other purposes in a fiscally responsible manner)

Strike all after the enacting clause and replace:

SECTION 1. FUNDING OF THE HIGHWAY TRUST FUND.

Subsection (f) of section 9503 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (relating to determination of trust fund balances after September 30, 1998) is amended—

(1) by adding at the end of paragraph (2), and

(2) by adding at the end the following new (2) "INCREASE IN FUND BALANCE.—Out of money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, there is hereby appropriated (without fiscal year limitation) to the Highway Trust Fund $7,000,000,000.''

SEC. 2. ADVANCES TO THE UNEMPLOYMENT TRUST FUND AND OTHER FUNDS.

The item relating to "Department of Labor, Employment and Training Administration—Advances to the Unemployment Trust Fund and Other Funds" in title I of division F of the Omnibus Appropriations Act, 2009 (Public Law 111-8, 123 Stat. 754) is amended by striking "to remain available through September 30, 2010" and all that follows (before the heading for the following item) and inserting "such sums as may be necessary".

SEC. 3. FHA MORTGAGE INSURANCE COMMITMENT AUTHORITY.

The item relating to "Federal Housing Administration—Mutual Mortgage Insurance Program Account" in title II of division I of the Omnibus Appropriations Act, 2009 (Public Law 111-8, 123 Stat. 766) is amended by striking "$315,000,000,000" and inserting "$300,000,000,000".

SEC. 4. GNMA MORTGAGE-BACKED SECURITIES GUARANTEE COMMITTEE AUTHORITY.

The item relating to "Government National Mortgage Association—Guarantees of Mortgage-Backed Securities Loan Guarantee Program Account" in title II of division I of the Omnibus Appropriations Act, 2009 (Public Law 111-8, 123 Stat. 767) is amended by striking "$300,000,000,000" and inserting "$400,000,000,000".

SEC. 5. USE OF STIMULUS FUNDS TO OFFSET APPELLED APPROPRIATIONS.

The unobligated balance of each amount appropriated or made available under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Public Law 111-5) is rescinded pro rata such that the aggregate amount of such rescissions equals the aggregate amount appropriated under the amendments made by the Act. The Director of the Office of Management and Budget shall report to each congressional committee the amounts so rescinded within the jurisdiction of such committee.

Mr. SESSIONS. I thank the Presiding Officer.

We cannot keep spending more and more. We have several different problems—we have a problem with unemployment insurance because more people are unemployed than had been predicted; and we have a problem with a shortfall in the highway fund.

Some Senators could argue we do not need to fix every one of these because we do not have the money. But in a way we do have the money because we passed $800 billion in a stimulus package earlier this year. It was supposed to be primarily, we heard, for roads. But only 4 percent went to roads. So we can fix the shortfall in the highway trust fund by using some of the $800 billion we have already spent. We can fix the other two problems—unemployment insurance and housing—in the same fashion. Those can be fixed out of this fund.

This amendment would do that. It would reduce the other accounts across the board. Of course, we will still be in session this year. If we need to adjust other things in some way, we can. Don't let anybody tell you this is going to savage some other account because we can fix those accounts.

I will just say—I know my time is short—this is $200 billion that will either go to increase spending and increase debt, or we can meet these needs—which hopefully are all necessary—out of the funds we already have on hand. If we do not start making these kinds of decisions soon, we are going to have a real problem. According to the scoring of the President's own budget, the total debt of America has gone from $5 trillion this year, to $11 trillion 5 years from now.

I thank the Presiding Officer and yield the floor.

AMENDMENT NO. 1907, AS MODIFIED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, there is 2 minutes, equally divided, on the Vitter amendment.

The Senator from Louisiana. (Mr. VITTER). Mr. President, I rise to urge strong bipartisan support against the Vitter amendment. There is nothing about reckless borrowing going on. I have already put into the RECORD today the CBO analysis of the House bill that is before us that says it even created a little bit of surplus because of how this is handled. This is not going on the debt. So let's not stand here and say what it is about.

The second point is, there are tens of billions of dollars in unspent funds that we authorized on a bipartisan vote on the stimulus package. I know most of my colleagues on the other side never wanted to do that stimulus package. I understand that. I respect it. But the fact is, we finally see these funds going out and hiring the people we want to make sure have jobs. We see and we hear from our Governors that the funding is helping them retain teachers, police officers. We see funding is helping them move forward with shovel-ready projects.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator's 1 minute has expired.

Mrs. BOXER. OK. I urge a "no" vote. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question is on agreeing to the amendments. I thank the Senator.

Mr. VITTER. Mr. President, I ask for the yeas and nays.

If you want to take care of all these things, and I think we all do, let's do it right the way. Let us not do it the wrong way and slash funds from the stimulus bill as we are beginning to see it take hold.

means the bill, since it was not amended as I would have liked, is contrary to the Budget Act. It has more outlays this year. It also requires us to rack up more debt, borrow more money. In the face of $2 trillion of new debt this year, doubling that in 5 years, and tripling it in 10. This is final vote. Either you vote yes and say let’s continue to go down that path or you vote no and say we need to change course about debt.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. On this vote, the yeas are 71, the nays are 26. Three-fifths of the Senators duly chosen and sworn having voted in the affirmative, the motion is agreed to.

Mrs. BOXER. Madam President, I move to reconsider the vote.

Mrs. MURRAY. I move to lay that motion on the table.

The motion to lay on the table was agreed to.

Mr. NELSON of Nebraska. Madam President, when the stimulus bill was being debated, I advocated that any package include a robust investment in rebuilding our Nation’s infrastructure. While the stimulus takes a big step in the right direction to address the needs of our aging transportation system, many more steps need to be taken.

I believe that what we face with the solvency of the highway trust fund is an opportunity to make sure that more funding from the stimulus is directed towards our Nation’s roads, while not adding new spending and increasing the deficit. I would encourage any unobligated funding that is redirected as a result of the passage of the amendments offered today be in addition to any stimulus funding already provided for road projects; especially in the case of local road projects. Road projects at the local level will be vital part of the engine that drives our Nation’s economic recovery in communities across the country and not maintaining funding for those projects would be a step in the wrong direction.

Finally, an investment in our Nation’s roads is a two-for-one: It creates jobs while helping to rebuild our infrastructure. But by making sure the highway trust fund remains solvent and continuing to invest in important transportation projects, we can re dedicate our efforts to addressing our transportation system needs.

Mr. DODD. Madam President, I rise in strong support of this legislation. In addition to the important sections dealing with transportation and unemployment insurance, the bill before us today includes two important provisions that are crucial to our Nation’s housing market— it increases the authority of the Federal Housing Administration— FHA, to insure loans and the authority of the Government National Mortgage Association—GNMA, to guarantee securities backed by FHA loans.

Just about 2 years ago, the housing market started to implode as the predatory and abusive loans that were pumped out by banks and mortgage lenders started to stall in great numbers. These loans were made by lenders who knew these borrowers could not afford to repay them, and they were made under the eyes of regulators who were indifferent to the fate of the borrowers and who underestimated the impact on our financial system.

These loans were originated by mortgage brokers or retail lenders with_PROCESSING_ERROR. GNMA makes it possible for lenders to make FHA loans, and they sell them in federally guaranteed loan pools. GNMA creates an essential outlet for FHA loans.

These loans were made by lenders who knew these borrowers could not afford to repay them, and they were made under the eyes of regulators who were indifferent to the fate of the borrowers and who underestimated the impact on our financial system.

These loans were originated by mortgage brokers or retail lenders with funds provided by Wall Street. Nobody took any responsibility for the quality of these loans because everyone thought they were laying the risk off on the next guy by securitizing the loans and selling them off. Regrettably, it is the American people—and particularly the economic situation today in the form of a severe credit crunch that is affecting homeowners, small businesses, entrepreneurs, and every consumer that uses a credit card.

As we all know, foreclosures have skyrocketed. Some analysts predict that 8 million homeowners will lose their homes to foreclosure before this crisis is over.

In fact, as the mortgage market has ground to a halt, housing prices have fallen all over the country, in many places by 20 percent or more. This problem is being exacerbated by foreclosed homes flooding the market, driving home prices down further.

That would mean that about 30 percent of the mortgage credit that is available today to homebuyers and homeowners would simply vanish from the marketplace.

The impact of this would be immediate and devastating—a likely spike in interest rates; more foreclosures; and fewer home purchases as buyers withdraw from the market.

Just this week, we heard some data which indicate that home prices may be stabilizing. But the situation is fragile. If we eliminate FHA from the marketplace, we could eliminate tens of thousands of potential home buyers from the market, as well. As demand dropped, so would home prices, starting a new cycle of economic despair and disinvestment in our cities and towns.

That is why the National Association of Realtors, the National Association of Home Builders, and the Mortgage Bankers Association all strongly support this legislation.

The story is much the same with the GNMA increase. GNMA makes it possible for lenders to make FHA loans, and then sell them in federally guaranteed loan pools. GNMA creates an essential outlet for FHA loans. That is why the National Association of Realtors, the National Association of Home Builders, and the Mortgage Bankers Association all strongly support this legislation.

Mr. WARNER. Madam President, as the Highway Trust Fund Act moves through the Senate, I would like to take a moment to stress the importance and urgency of reforming our national transportation system.

I commend Chairman BOXER for her leadership on this effort to keep the trust fund solvent. But the fact that we needed this emergency infusion indicates a much greater problem with the transportation system and how it is funded. I recognize and appreciate the green jobs that are created by the extension of SAFETEA-LU. However, I think we can all agree that fundamental reform will be needed when the time
Mr. INHOFE. Madam President, I look forward to working with my colleagues and our new chief performance officer to develop metrics to address these factors: (1) National Connectivity: How have transportation investments improved the connection of people and goods across the Nation? (2) Metropolitan Accessiblility: How have transportation investments allowed metropolitan regions to access their jobs and other activities more reliably and efficiently? (3) Energy Security and Environmental Protection: How have transportation investments reduced carbon emissions and petroleum consumption? (4) Safety: How have transportation investments improved safety by reducing fatalities and injuries associated with transportation?

My proposal outlines how States and localities will be able to locate funds for surface transportation projects in a vacuum. Instead of being tied to short-term Federal reimbursements. The legislation introduced earlier this week by all the relevant committees.

I am hopeful that as soon as we return from August recess that we will immediately consider the extension legislation introduced earlier this week by all the relevant committees.

a number of conversations with Senator McConnell this afternoon. It appears, at this stage, we have a path toward completing our work next week. We are going to move forward with the Agriculture appropriations bill this evening. We will be on that tonight and tomorrow. We are still working on that. It appears, on that matter, we will either have a vote after 5 o’clock on Monday on final passage or on cloture on that appropriations bill.

Tuesday, we will move to the Supreme Court nomination of Justice Sonia Sotomayor. I haven’t had a chance to talk with the chairman and ranking member of the Judiciary Committee. With their approval, we will move to that matter on Tuesday.

We will set a time certain to vote on cloture on the Travel Promotion Act. We need a time certain because, as everyone knows, Senator Mikulski is in the hospital now having repair work done on her leg as a result of a fall. We will be talking about that tomorrow afternoon. And there may be some nominations we will need to deal with.

At this stage, I think that is where we are headed. There will be no votes tonight or tomorrow. It appears the next cloture will be Monday afternoon. I have spoken to Senator Klobuchar and Senator Brownback, and they agree on the appropriations bill that is the way to move forward. I appreciate everyone’s cooperation.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Georgia is recognized.

ANTHONY DEJUAN BOATWRIGHT ACT

Mr. ISAKSON. Madam President, I rise on an issue of particular importance. I am delighted Senators Burrus and Dodd are on the floor. Along with Senator Chambliss, the four of us are joined in a very important piece of legislation. In fact, the gallery tonight is a lady named Jackie Boatwright, whose young son Juan, 8 years ago, was severely injured in a daycare center.

For a second, I wish to talk about the legislation we have introduced and encourage all the Members of the Senate to support it. On September 9, 2001, 2 days before the tragedy of September 11, on a Sunday morning, Mrs. Boatwright got up and took her son to daycare and went to church. On her way home, her cell phone rang. She got a call telling her that her son Juan was now in the hospital. While at the daycare center, he pulled up beside a mop bucket, bent over and fell headfirst in the bucket, which was full of dirty mop water and bleach.

Juan, today, lies semicomatose in a hospital on a ventilator.

The daycare center had no liability insurance. To Mrs. Boatwright’s credit, from the day of that tragedy, she has advocated on behalf of parents and young children in a daycare setting. It is required they be able to know the insurance available to them to protect their children in a daycare center. I mentioned that Senators Dodd, Burrus, Chambliss, and myself have introduced legislation, which already passed the House. It requires that any daycare center receiving Federal funds from the Child Care and Development Block Grant Program must disclose, upon request, to any child and their parents the liability coverage they have to protect that child.

Mrs. Boatwright wants to make sure that what happened to little Juan, and what has been true tragedy, never happens in the life of any other mother anywhere in America. Mrs. Boatwright is a resident of Augusta, GA. I am proud of her for the example she has set. So many citizens don’t think they can make a difference. Mrs. Boatwright is taking a tragedy and making a difference for thousands of parents and children for years to come.

I am proud to encourage the Members of the Senate to help us get unanimous consent to move to this legislation. Juan Boatwright’s legacy, the Anthony DeJuan Boatwright Act, requiring disclosure of liability insurance coverage to every parent whose child is entering daycare.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Connecticut is recognized.

Mr. DODD. Madam President, I thank my colleague from Georgia. Along with Orrin Hatch, I am the original cosponsor of the Child Care and Development Block Grant Program more than 20 years ago, the first childcare program in this country since World War II. It was a long struggle to pass that legislation. There were battles over supporting people who could not afford expensive child care—to be able to do that for working families. In those days, when we drafted the legislation, it was very hard to convince our colleagues that establishing some standards in childcare. There was a lot of resistance to it. Nonetheless, we got the bill done at minimum standards.

That bill made a huge difference in the lives of millions of people, particularly working women with young children, raising them on their own, to be able to hold down the job and make sure their child could be in a safe place. That was important. I remember talking about how we had better Federal regulations when it came to pets being cared for than we did for children. Your automobile got better care, under Federal regulations, than your child. Ultimately, that legislation became law. Along with my colleague from Georgia, I, too, commend Mrs. Boatwright for taking on this issue, showing how one individual can change things regarding the minimum requirement that parents be informed as to whether the childcare facility has appropriate insurance. It is presumed that was the case, even as author of the original legislation, believing that was something States would have required, let alone Federal legislation.

We have a bill that passed the other body before us, and it makes eminently good sense to me, as someone who has been involved in this issue for 25 years, along with Olympia Snowe, from Maine, who I will be advocating for the Child Care and Development Block Grant Program.

I don’t know where the objections are coming from. I am prepared to work with my colleague and say to Mrs. Boatwright and her family and others that we thank you for raising this issue. I will do whatever I can to see if we cannot get this cleared on the floor of the Senate and have it go to the President for signature. That is a small accomplishment on a major issue that can make a difference in the lives of families.

I thank my colleague from Georgia. Mr. ISAKSON, I thank the distinguished acting chairman of the HELP Committee. With their approval, we will get a call telling her that her son Juan was raised in a daycare.

Thank you for offering that assistance and assisting in the passage of this legislation.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from New Jersey.

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to speak as in morning business.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

NAACP 100TH ANNIVERSARY: IMAGES OF HISTORY

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. President, I rise in recognition of the NAACP in this, its 100th anniversary month. I rise in praise of what this extraordinary organization has so proudly come to represent to every American who deeply believes in freedom, human dignity, and equal justice under the law.

Yet I rise with a heavy heart, filled with powerful lasting images of the unimaginable suffering surrounding the founding of this great organization, images of the savage hand of racism—horrid lynchings in the middle of the night, the 1906 race riot in Springfield, IL, the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln, that led a bold band of Americans to do all they could, whatever they could, to end the violence against Blacks, the vicious, unveled hatred and intolerance that to this day has left deep and painful scars on this Nation.

I rise in recognition of those courageous men and women who, a century ago, stepped forward to found the NAACP, those who stood against violence, who stood against hatred, Blacks such as W.E.B. Du Bois, Ida B. Wells-Barnett, Mary Church Terrell, and Whites such as Mary White Ovington and Oswald Garrison Villard, descendants of America’s first abolitionists. These men and women came forward, echoing the call of W.E.B. Du Bois to stand for all people the rights of the 13th, 14th, and 15th Amendments to the Constitution to end slavery, provide equal justice under law, and ensure universal adult male suffrage.
We all know that the full realization of equality, freedom, civil rights, voting rights, and equal justice under law has been a long, sometimes faltering, journey fraught with dead ends, deep divides, and seemingly insurmountable obstacles on the road to a more perfect Union. It has gone forward and stops, with harrowing moments—some horrific, some heart-wrenching, but all equally historic, all part of the American saga, each forever etched in the collective memory of this Nation.

The building in which we do our work today is a monument to that journey. Those who labored to raise this glorious building in tribute to American democracy were themselves slaves. They laid the foundation. They cut the stones. They raised the walls and built the magnificent dome of the U.S. Capitol. Those slaves lived here on Capitol Hill in the shadow of what is now the Statue of Freedom that looks eastward toward the rising Sun and what once then the new dawn of a rising nation.

They are, in many ways, the ancestors of Freedom herself, the precursors of an event to which we have so boldly stood witness in January, in the shadow of their labors, as a Black man raised his hand on the west front of the Capitol to take the oath of office as President of the United States. What greater tribute to them.

We have had a long way since they built this monument to democracy, but every day, with every troubling racial incident we see on television or read about in blogs or in newspapers, it is clear the century-long work of the NAACP goes on, the work continues. But it is equally clear, with Barack Obama in the White House, we have come of age, united by a common history, tragic at times, fought on the bloody battlefields of a civil war and still being waged in the hearts of the intolerant and unenlightened among us.

Let the images of history tell the story of America plainly, honestly, for what it is—from the labors of those slaves who built this Capitol to the founding of the NAACP; from the battlefields of Gettysburg and Manassas to the freedom rides and marches through Selma and Montgomery; from bloodshed, tragedy and travails, sacrifices and sorrows from those who lived and died on plantations, rode the Underground Railroad north, to those freed by the Emancipation Proclamation; from the devastating inhumanity of slavery to the election of Barack Obama.

There are countless images of courage and heroism, humiliation and humility, honor and horror, dignity and indignity; images of hope and despair, fear and frustration; images of fire hoses and police dogs turned on Americans whose only crime was the longing to be free and equal; images still clear in our minds, triumphant images of Martin Luther King at the Lincoln Memorial, millions marching on Washington; deeply moving images of peace-loving men like Congressman John Lewis beaten down by billy clubs because he simply wanted to cross a bridge; images of abject poverty, of two men sleeping in a motel room lying in a pool of blood on a motel balcony in Atlanta in April of 1968. But none so powerful, none so deeply moving as Barack Obama taking the oath of office as President of the United States on the west front of the Capitol 41 years later.

These are the awesome images of the history of race since the founding of the NAACP. They represent the history of America as much as they represent the history of the NAACP, and we must—all of us, Black and White alike—embrace them, understand them, and learn from them; learn from the tragedy and the sorrow; learn from the long, hard-fought battle that was the civil rights movement; learn from the debate on this floor that eventually led to the Voting Rights Act; learn from the proseggregationist terrorism that led to the assassination of NAACP Mississippi field secretary Medgar Evers and the death of Dr. King. Today, all of these images, the good as well as the bad, remain part of who we are, part of the American story in which the NAACP has played a pivotal role.

But the Nation has changed, and so the mission of the NAACP has evolved from what it was 100 years ago. The violence has lessened, but the virus of racism and prejudice has mutated, as all viruses do.

Now too often, intolerance rears its ugly head with the mere mention of the word “immigration.” And when it does, let us be comforted by the knowledge that the NAACP is still there, still working, still fighting the good fight.

Today, the NAACP is an expanded organization dedicated to the elimination of all race prejudice in America, whether that prejudice be against Hispanic Americans, Asian Americans, or all Americans who seek political, educational, economic, and social equality. For 100 years, the goal of the NAACP has been to tear down the walls of racial discrimination through the democratic process and change tolerance and equality a reality for all of us. Let that goal be realized in our generation, in our time, and let us continue—one nation, indivisible—on that long journey to a more perfect Union.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2010

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senate will now proceed to the consideration of H.R. 2997, which the clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A bill (H.R. 2997) making appropriations for Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agency programs for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2010, and for other purposes.

Amendment no. 1908

(Purpose: In the nature of a substitute.)

Mr. KOHL. Mr. President, I call up the substitute amendment. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Wisconsin (Mr. KOHL), for himself and Mr. BROWNBACK, proposes an amendment numbered 1908.

Mr. KOHL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following staff have unlimited floor privileges during the consideration of the fiscal year 2010 Agriculture appropriations bill: Galen Fountain, Jessica Frederick, Dianne Nellor, Fitzhugh Elder, Stacy McBride, Phil Koetting, and Riley Scott.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

(The amendment is printed in today's RECORD under “Text of Amendments.”)

Mr. KOHL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Bob Ross, a detaillee from the Department of Agriculture to the Committee on Appropriations, and Katie Toskey, an intern on the Committee on Appropriations, be granted unlimited floor privileges during consideration of the Agriculture appropriations bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. KOHL. Mr. President, I rise today in support of the fiscal Year 2010 appropriations bill for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Food and Drug Administration and related agencies. This bill was unanimously reported out of Committee on July 7, and I believe it is a well-balanced bill that deserves the support of all Senators.

This bill includes total spending of $124 billion. Of that total, $101 billion is for mandatory programs, such as the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, formerly known as Food Stamps, which is funded at $61 billion, and the Child Nutrition Programs, which are funded at $17 billion.

Discretionary spending totals $23 billion, an increase of $2.3 billion, and is supported by your 302(b) allocations. This is a significant increase from last year, the President's request in just four areas—WIC, food and drug safety, humanitarian food assistance, and rural rental assistance—account for nearly 90 percent of the total increase. The depth and breadth of the responsibilities held by the USDA and FDA are far greater than I believe most Americans realize.

The funds in this bill are used to help ensure the most basic of human needs are met. The funds provide the resources for the two major agencies charged with keeping America’s food and medical supply safe, something we nearly always take for granted. It provides funds to ensure that low-income families in rural America have access to affordable housing and opportunities for homeownership. It provides funds to ensure that over 11 million kids receive breakfast and 31 million kids receive meal lunch at school every day. It provides funds to make sure 2 million kids from low-income families receive a nutritious meal during the summer when their parents are not home. It provides funding to 55 countries to serve meals to children when they go to school—which is often the only way to get them there. USDA is also responsible for important agricultural research, conservation activities, community development, animal and plant health activities, agricultural trade, and much more. It is an important bill—more important than many may realize.

There are many specific high notes to mention.

Of the total funding provided in this bill, 69 percent is directed to nutrition programs. The WIC program is funded at more than $7 billion, which is an increase of almost $700 million over last year’s appropriations bill. This is the amount needed to meet the increasing need for this program, and will provide nutritious food to nearly 9.8 million low-income mothers and children each month. There is also language included to ensure that military families are not disqualified from WIC. A new Item, the Emergency Food Assistance Program, which provides free food to food banks, many of which have seen private donations decrease significantly, will receive $253 million in fiscal year 2010. An additional $7 million is provided to assist food banks in maintaining and upgrading their facilities and equipment so they can continue to serve those in need. In difficult economic times, these programs are vital to those that might otherwise go hungry.

In the area of food and drug safety, this bill provides the full budget request for both the Food Safety and Inspection Service and the Food and Drug Administration. The FDA is provided $2.3 billion, an increase of nearly $300 million. This increase, one of the largest in FDA’s history, is necessary to continue the slow turnaround of an ailing organization whose responsibilities have vastly outgrown its funding over the past several years. The FDA is in charge of ensuring the safety of one-quarter of consumer products, and it is imperative that it has the funding to carry out its responsibilities. Similarly, the Food Safety and Inspection Service is responsible for ensuring that all of the Nation’s meat and poultry is safe to eat. FSIS is provided the full budget request of more than $1 billion to carry out its mission.

This bill provides substantial funding to support our humanitarian food assistance. The P L 480, Food for Peace, and McGovern-Dole programs are funded at the President’s request, which together is an increase of more than $500 million above last year. These programs are vital to helping relieve hunger in some of the most distressed parts of the world and to encourage children in developing countries to receive an education. To enhance those programs, funding is provided to support the use of micro-nutrient fortified foods and to develop new food aid products that can make a real difference in saving lives and securing long-term health benefits, especially for children. The bill also provides $13 million, as requested by the President, for USDA’s Global Humanitarian and Safety Systems in countries facing severe food shortages. We believe that the development of sustainable food systems is the proper alternative to emergency food assistance. Therefore, this bill provides guidance to USAID to work in partnership with the country’s land grant institutions, PVOs, and others, to work together toward global food security.

America’s farmers and ranchers face some of the tightest credit conditions they have faced in years. Agricultural producers are having difficulty obtaining capital necessary to maintain operations, and demands for Federal credit have skyrocketed. This bill provides over $4 billion of needed credit, representing an increase of nearly $750 million over 2009. These funds will help sustain agricultural producers as private credit markets stabilize.

This bill also provides increased funding for development of rural America, including housing, essential community facilities, business assistance, and infrastructure. In response to the recent housing crisis, USDA rural housing programs remain among the most important, and the most active, for Americans to achieve home ownership. Over $13 billion is available for housing loans and grants, including funds for new construction, repair and rehabilitation, and housing vouchers and loans to ensure shelter for the lowest income rural residents. Almost $1.6 billion is available for loans and grants to small towns to support clean water and sanitary waste disposal systems that are essential for thriving communities.

Agricultural research agencies receive a total of $2.5 billion in the bill, an increase of nearly $130 million, not counting research funding provided in the 2008 farm bill. The Agricultural Research Service is USDA’s premier in-house research agency. Funding is provided in this bill for ARS scientists to conduct increased research on bioenergy; improved livestock and crop production; human nutrition, including the prevention of childhood obesity; and the reduction of world hunger, among other issues. USDA’s National Institute of Food and Agriculture, NIFA, formerly the Cooperative State Research, Education and Extension Service, CSREES, is providing additional competitive research grants throughout the country. As part of NIFA, the bill includes an increase of more than $91 million for the Agriculture and Food Research Initiative that funds competitive research grants throughout the country.

This bill makes substantial investments to protect the Nation’s animal and plant resources from diseases and pests. Almost $40 million is provided to combat the Asian longhorned beetle which has been found in thirteen states and threatens hardwood forests. Over $30 million is available to fight the Asian longhorned beetle, and almost $40 million is provided to support the citrus health response program to combat citrus greening.

In all, this bill provides a proper balance among all the agencies funded and sets the proper priorities. Conservation, food and drug safety, farm programs, rural development, renewable energy, nutrition, international trade, and the day-to-day functions of USDA and FDA are provided adequate funding and proper guidance. The programs funded by this bill touch the lives of every American numerous times each day, and impact the lives of people living on the other side of the world. These are important programs, and I urge each Senator to support this bill.

Mr. President, I would also like to recognize and thank my ranking member, Senator BROWNBACK, for his counsel and support in putting together this bill, and look forward at this time to his opening statement.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Kansas.

Mr. BROWNBACK. Mr. President, I wish to first thank my colleague for the work he has done on this bill. Senator KOHL, and his staff have done an excellent job in putting together a responsible, good, and important bill, and I am delighted to be a part of it and a part of the process. It has been a great group to work with.

The Appropriations Committee, unlike a lot of other committees in the Congress, most of the time has to work in a bipartisan fashion, and that is a good thing. Senator KOHL, and his staff have been very good for us to work with, and I think because of that we have what I believe is a solid bill and one for which we are going to be able to get strong and broad support.

Mr. President, this is the first time the agriculture appropriations bill has been on the floor of the Senate for a number of years. I think that is too bad, but I think it is also good we are finally getting it here. The 2006 Ag appropriations bill was the last Ag appropriations bill to be on the floor of the Senate. I think it is a good development that it is here, that it will be pending. I also believe it is good for us to be able to consider this as a separate and stand-alone bill in the final process so we don’t have to put it together with a whole bunch of other appropriations bills, which, to me, is the way the budget should work. It will be good way to work, and it is my hope we will be able to have a separate agriculture appropriations bill that will make it the whole way through the process.

I look forward to the debate, and I wish to encourage Members now, this evening, to come to the floor and offer amendments so we can consider this expeditiously but fully. I understand from my friends on the other side that we will consider a travel and tourism bill and then the Sotomayor vote and consideration next week. I hope we could get through this bill in an expeditious manner so we could get to the Sotomayor vote next week. I believe most of our colleagues will want to speak about Judge Sotomayor being confirmed for the Supreme Court. Whether you are for or against her, people want to be heard. To have as much time as possible for that next week, it will be important we be expeditious on this Ag appropriations bill.

Overall, the budget for food aid in the bill has increased to levels that will allow us to depend less on emergency supplemental appropriations bills that are not scored, and I think it is important we have a regular scoring process and not just do this on an emergency basis. I think that is an important improvement. If young children have access to food at historical levels in the regular appropriations process, USDA and USAID will have more certainty about program resources so they can make better decisions about which situations they are able and need to commit food to.

A number of my colleagues have been to refugee camps in different parts of the world, and they have seen this food in action. It is important and it saves people’s lives, and these are important food aid programs.

While I believe this is a valuable step, I am even more encouraged by the creation of two pilot programs that we have to depend less on emergency funding. These programs will both address a problem that we have, that if we target them in better ways so we can make the food aid programs function without seeking them the rest of their lives. We all have worked on it and we have worked on it in our office. Specifically, in the area of food aid, we have created two pilot programs. The first is a nutrition fortification pilot program to develop and field test new and improved micronutrient fortified food products designed to meet the energy and nutritional needs of school-aged children, pregnant women, nursing mothers, infants, and children under 5 who are served by the McGovern-Dole Food for Education Program.

This is a program where we supply food to a number of very difficult situations in countries with poor economies around the world that is given as a school lunch. So it draws students in to go to school, and then it is a lunch for them. It has been a very successful program in both getting nutritional requirements met and in getting the educational needs met.

What we are talking about in this pilot program is a narrower section of it where a number of scientists around the world have said the most important thing they are seeing is the nutrition the country actually could fund—to improve the health of the most people would be micronutrients in the Third World and developing countries that are having difficulty, so the children of food aid products and can we better eyesight, and their overall health capacity.

This is a relatively low-cost, high-yield, high-benefit program. It saves big money with AIDS recipients, and it makes the United States a lot more popular around the world when we are helping people and saving lives. That is one of the pilot programs.

The second is a new food aid product development pilot program. It has been nearly 30 years since the last type of food aid was developed. Thirty years ago, we developed a corn soy blend that is used in many refugee camps and in difficult situations for individuals who cannot get enough food. Thirty years ago, we developed an innovative product called corn soy blend, but nutritional understanding has changed in that period of time. What we are looking at is a new wave of food aid product, and can we make it better? That is in this pilot program.

A number of people working on AIDS around the world, PEPFAR funding particularly in Africa, are saying the big problem with AIDS recipients is they are getting the antiretroviral drugs, and they are using those, but their body is weakened because they do not have their nutritional needs being met. This is to target in on what can we do work to make sure those vulnerable populations are getting the nutritional needs they have.

I am excited about this because I think these are the sorts of things we can do that don’t cost much. Indeed, my view would be that we don’t. In the future, add to the food aid program but we make it a higher nutrient program and we target it in better ways so we can get more out of this. That is the way we should be working.

If young children have access to proper nutrition, the benefits will follow them the rest of their lives. We all know that. That is what we are trying to do with these pilot programs. I think this is a great idea. If we get the Pilot Program the USDA and USAID to scrutinize how the food aid programs function without seeking to change the basic structure of the Food for Peace or McGovern-Dole Food Aid. We will use the data the Secretary and the administrator provide to the subcommittee to make sure these programs are operating as effectively as possible.

I would have preferred a hard upper limit on transportation costs myself, but I recognize there are many strongly held opinions on this matter. My hope is that all parties can agree we should strive to make these programs more efficient because greater efficiency means more food is distributed.

I have cited, for several of my colleagues, an area of great concern to me, in that 60 percent of our food aid dollar presently goes for transportation or administration. Over a major- ity of these programs and not the administration. It seems to me we ought to be able to get that to a tighter position. We have worked with the chairperson on this. Everybody is concerned that we try to stretch our food aid dollars and get as much food to starving people as possible.

I greatly appreciate the courtesies Chairman KOHL and his staff have shown me in my first year as ranking member. Chairman KOHL has been at this for several years and he has done a very good job.

Specifically, I thank Galen Fountain, Jessica Frederick, Dianne Nelloir, and Bob Ross for their efforts on this bill and the consideration they have shown my staff. I look forward to working through the process on the floor and moving to conference.

I would urge my colleagues, again, to start getting their amendments pending because I think the more expeditiously it can be, the more likely we will have to consider the amendments and then also to get to the nomination of Judge Sotomayor, which I anticipate most of the body will want to speak on, and that is going to take a long time to get through.

It is a good bill, and I am looking forward to us working through the amendments to make it a better bill through the process.

HEALTH CARE REFORM

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. President, I met in my office today with Donna, a Rhode Islander who suffers from vascular disease. Donna's condition forced her to give up her job, and therefore her insurance. She cannot afford to buy it on her own, since it would cost her $650 a month—money she does not have. So she pays for her medications out of pocket. They should be $2,000 per month, but her doctor got them down to $450. But even this is no walk in the park. Donna read me a laundry list of procedures and services she needs but cannot afford, so like so many Americans, she sits waiting, struggling, hoping she does not get sick, because that is the only option she has.

Under the Affordable Health Choices Act, Madeleine would have the financial help she needs to buy a comprehensive, affordable plan. But even before she did that, even before everything is in place for Madeleine to go to a gateway and buy a plan, she could sign up for the Right Choices program. Under Right Choices, even without insurance, Madeleine would have access to all basic preventive services. She would get a chronic disease health risk assessment, a care plan, and referrals to community-based resources. Most importantly, she would get the colonoscopy she needs, so that she is not another victim of this disease. They would do two important things to help her mother and her sister. It goes without saying that preventing this disease and treating it early would, in the long run, save money for the healthcare system as well as preserve Madeleine's health.

I recently had coffee with Shirley, a Middletown resident who described her relief at turning 65. For the past 20 years, she and her husband did not have insurance. As self-employed business owners in their fifties, finding affordable insurance options was impossible, so they went without. They took their chances. Now 65 and eligible for Medicare, they finally have peace of mind. Shirley admits she and her husband were lucky enough to make it through those 20 years without serious health problems. During our meeting, she urged us to pass health care reform for the millions of hard-working Americans—hard-working, middle-class Americans—who are not as fortunate as she and her husband.

Under the bill passed by the HELP Committee, Shirley would not have endured 20 years of fear and uncertainty without health insurance. As a self-employed business owner, Shirley would be eligible for tax credits to either continue to offer health insurance to her employees, or to offer it for the first time. Shirley could also take all of her employees to the health insurance gateway, which will give small firms a choice of multiple insurance plans at a lower cost and of a higher quality than what currently exist in the small group market. If you are a small business owner, this bill is for you.

Judith from Warwick, has shared with me a story about her brother-in-law, whose lungs collapsed during an outpatient procedure. After staying in the intensive care unit for 28 days, he contracted a hospital infection and was rehospitalized four times. Thankfully, a year later, he is symptom free. However, the costs stemming from the treatment totaled over $500,000. Like Judith, he and his wife are hard-working, middle-class people; they have four children and their home and household are in dire straits.

The HELP Committee bill creates a Patient Safety Research Center at AHRQ, which will support research, technical assistance, and process implementation grants to local providers to teach and implement best practices. No one should go through what Judith's brother-in-law did. No one should contract a hospital infection that leads to not one, not two, not three, but four rehospitalizations. We know how to prevent hospital-acquired infections; we have miraculous results in places like Michigan and Rhode Island for years. The HELP Committee bill finally creates a national infrastructure to support the dissemination of these proven techniques, which would allow us to really improve the quality of care in our system, and in doing so, drastically lower the cost.

Finally, I recently met David, a self-employed resident from Central Falls, who shared the upsetting increase in the cost of health insurance for him and his wife. Years ago, he paid $85 per month for their plan; today, he pays approximately $19,000 a year for their health insurance. Despite the dramatic jump in price, their health insurance plan does not cover as much as it used to. To keep their premiums and overall health costs down, David has been forced to drop dental coverage and increase the out-of-pocket expenses he and his wife pay for their plan. He noted, "I'm almost afraid to get sick, because today's health plans have so many holes in them, they can nickel and dime you to death."

The Affordable Health Choices Act would do two important things to help David. One, it would require that plans sold in the gateway offer a truly comprehensive set of benefits so that "affordable" does not mean "skimpy." Affordable will mean inclusive, available, accessible. Two, it will allow insurance companies to "nickel and dime you to death" as David fears now. Insurance companies would be prohibited from imposing lifetime or annual limits on the dollar value of benefits for any enrollee. So David will not be forced to pay out-of-pocket once he exceeds certain levels of benefits, as he does now.

There is some uncertainty both in this building and around this country right now about the future of health reform. I want to remind everyone—my colleagues on both sides of the aisle, my colleagues in the House, Rhode Islanders back home, and Americans... across the country, the Senate has already put forth a health reform plan that will work for you. It will work for small businesses. It will work for Americans with pre-existing conditions. It will work for Americans struggling to pay health care premiums. It will work for young families that are in small businesses. It will work for Americans who are one illness away from their family going into bankruptcy. It will work for Americans who are uninsured. It will work for Americans who have been victims of hospital errors. It will work for Americans who need preventive services they cannot afford.

Most importantly, it will work for Donna, for Madelene, for Shirley, for Judith, and for David, and it will work for their fellow Americans all over this country whose stories are all too similar. Heartache, frustration, exhaustion, and disgust with a health care system that has, at best, disappointed them, and at worst, turned its back on them. The Affordable Health Choices Act offers these Americans a hand up when they need it most, and I am proud to support it.

Before I yield the floor, I want to take one moment to thank the distinguished Senator from Iowa for his courtesy in allowing me to proceed. I know he has substantial remarks he wishes to deliver. I hope it was not too much of an inconvenience.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Iowa.

DEBT AND DEFICIT

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I thank the Senator from Rhode Island for his kind remarks.

We are only 9 months into fiscal year 2009, and for the first time in American history the Federal deficit has reached and exceeded $1 trillion. This is not one of those firsts for our great Nation that calls for celebration, and there will not be any celebration.

Unfortunately, the bad fiscal news is not yet over for the year. We are still on track for a year-end deficit of over $1.8 trillion for fiscal year 2009. That is not according to this Senator, that is not according to our official scorer, the Congressional Budget Office, the nonpartisan organization.

The 2009 deficit as a percentage of gross domestic product will be a staggering 13 percent, the highest rate since the end of World War II. I have a chart that shows this, a chart that puts the deficit in context.

Here is also a chart that puts the debt into context. I want to remind the Senate that I agree with President Obama that he did, in fact, inherit part of these deficits and debt. What is not often pointed out is this: The deficits and debt were bequeathed back then on a bipartisanship basis because the Democrats controlled the last Congress. Starting in the year 2007 that Congress wrote the budget, it wrote the spending bills: that democratically controlled Congress wrote the financial bailout bill. A Republican President, George W. Bush, signed those spending bills. President Bush signed the financial bailout bill. The chart shows the bipartisan deficits Obama inherited—and that would be the gray part of the deficit chart—and the chart shows the bipartisan debt President Obama inherited. That would be on the chart as well.

Today we have seen more revisionist fiscal history from many of my friends on the other side. It boils down to two very basic propositions. The first proposition is, all good economic policy and beneficial fiscal effects are due to the part-time tax hike of 1993. The second proposition is that all bad economic policy and detrimental fiscal effects of this decade are due to the bipartisan tax relief plans of 2001 and 2003.

How convenient for my friends on the other side. If we take this fiscal revisionism to its logical extreme, the answer of some on the other side might be to tax every dollar of income earned by the American taxpayer. There is an attitude and policy that allows Americans to keep more of their own money is just automatically bad, while any policy which takes more of their money and spends it is automatically good.

I think it is fairly clear the fiscal revisionists on the other side do not have a problem with huge deficits; rather, they are threatened by the prospects of Americans deciding what they want to do with their very own money.

In fact, the long-term effects of the stimulus bill passed within a short time after Democrats assumed full control of the Federal Government exceeded the deficit impact of the 8 years of the bipartisan tax relief. Again, this is comparing the tax relief with the stimulus as you see in the chart.

Since the stimulus package spilled a lot of red ink, let’s take a look at how the economy has done. Unemployment currently stands at 9.1 percent, the highest rate in the last 26 years. The economy has shed 6.4 million jobs since this recession began, and that also includes, though, 2.6 million jobs lost since President Obama took office.

Even with the passage of the massive $787 billion stimulus bill in February, the promise of jobs, jobs, jobs that went with that $787 billion stimulus bill, there is still no end in sight to the rise of unemployment and job losses.

The President himself recently said: My expectation is that we will probably continue to see unemployment kick up for several months.

While the short-term news is bad, I have bad news for you. The long-term news is much worse. If the Obama budget is adopted, by 2019 we will have added over $9 trillion to the national debt held by the public, and our debt as a percentage of the economy will grow in excess of 80 percent, in excess of 80 percent, a level also that has not been seen since this country was in World War II.

What is the best way to break out of this catastrophe unless we change course.

Looking beyond the 10-year window paints an even bleaker picture. I have a chart from the Congressional Budget Office that projects a terrifying rise in debt held by the public as a percentage of GDP over the next 40 years. As we can see from the dotted line, the highest level of debt held by the public as a percentage of GDP, 107 percent, occurred in 1945 as a result and at the end of World War II. Of the two scenarios outlined in the Congressional Budget Office’s long-term budget outlook, shown by the red and green lines on the chart respectively, we are on a course to break this record sometime in the next 15 to 20 years.

The ratio of debt to GDP of up to 128 percent, or, at the extreme, 321 percent by 2050.

The Congressional Budget Office’s own words are these: The systematic widening of budget shortfalls projected under CBO’s long-term scenarios has never been observed in U.S. history. Some may ask: Why is this a big deal? What does debt held by the public have to do with my everyday life? The Congressional Budget Office makes three points answering this question. This is the Congressional Budget Office, a nonpartisan group of experts whose sole job is to project, at least 10 years ahead of time, what the situation is with every spending bill and the impact of the deficit. This is what they say: If the ratio of debt to GDP continues to rise, lenders may become concerned about the financial solvency of the government and demand higher interest rates to pay for the increasing riskiness of holding government debt.

No. 2. If the debt-to-GDP ratio keeps increasing and the budget outlook is not improved, both foreign and domestic lenders may not provide enough funds for the government to meet its obligations. And No. 3, if the first two points happen, no matter what, the government resolves the fiscal crisis by printing money, raising taxes, cutting spending or going into default, it is certain that economic growth will be seriously disrupted.

Where is our economic growth is seriously disrupted, job growth is seriously disrupted as well. Clearly, a debt-to-GDP ratio approaching 100 percent would have a disastrous impact on everybody’s everyday life. So where do we go from here? Clearly, we are well on our way to fiscal catastrophe unless we change course. What is the best way to break out of this catastrophe?
this recession, to start creating jobs, to reverse the mountaneous growth of deficit and debt and get the economy moving again? That is a very important and long question. Let me see if I can answer. In general, Democrats and Republicans seem to have opposing viewpoints and desire opposite solutions to this problem, with Republicans favoring lower taxes and lower spending, while Democrats favor higher taxes and higher spending. However, both Republicans and Democrats agree that health care is a fundamental ingredient to solving the long-term budget crisis.

Both Republicans and Democrats agree health care reform needs to be paid for as well. The Congressional Budget Office is also on the same page, asserting that, in their words:

In the absence of significant changes in policy, rising costs for health care will cause federal spending to grow much faster than the economy, putting the federal budget on a nonsustainable path.

Over the past few months, the rising cost of health care has been characterized by a few creative illustrations. First, we have heard the chairman of the Budget Committee refer to the rising cost of health care as "an ungovernable gorilla." Second, we have heard the President describe the rising cost of health care as "a ticking time bomb."

Today, I wish to add a third illustration. The rising cost of health care is a massive fire-breathing, debt and deficit dragon. In the Arthur King legend, the greatest knight among the Knights of the Round Table was Sir Lancelot. Sir Lancelot was also a dragon slayer. In order for Sir Lancelot to strike down the dragon, he had to be equipped with suitable weapons. The same is true today with the rising cost of health care. As Congress contemplates ways to cut down on the massive, fire-breathing debt and deficit dragon, it must wield the proper weapons. As you can see here, we have the debt and deficit dragon.

A few weeks ago, House Democrats proposed a graduated surtax of up to 5.4 percent on taxpayers making over $200,000 to partially offset their health care reform bill. This small business surtax would push the top marginal tax rates up to between 43 percent and 46.4 percent, a rate that would jump to over 50 percent in 39 States with Medicare surtax rates up to between 43 percent and 46.4 percent. Then in 2013 and after, these rates would jump to over $400,000 and families making between $500,000 and $1 million will pay an extra 1.5 percent. Finally, singles making more than $800,000 and families making more than $1 million will pay an extra 5.4 percent. Then in 2013 and after, these rates would jump to over $400,000 and families making over $500,000 and $1 million will pay an extra 1.5 percent.

That is right: The trigger mechanism is back. The House Democrats have made the surtax rate increase subject to a trigger. They have left the judgment on whether to pull the trigger in the hands of a partisan Presidential adviser, not a nonpartisan organization such as the Congressional Budget Office.

As Members of Congress, we should jealously guard our constitutional prerogatives to be the one branch of government tasked with deciding whether revenue is raised by increased taxes or revenue is reduced through decreased taxes. As the great Chief Justice John Marshall said almost 200 years ago:

The power to tax is the power to destroy.

Why so would we hand such an enormous power over to the executive branch? I recall, over the last 8 years, hearing from the other side of the aisle that the executive branch was attempting to usurp the constitutional authority. So where is that jealous guardian of congressional authority now? It seems to be absent.

We have seen this trigger mechanism from the Democrats before. While it has been a couple years, I have spoken at length about this trigger right here on the floor of the Senate. I ask unanimous consent that a copy of my speech of May 9, 2007, entitled "A Trigger and a Tax Hike on the American People" be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

STATEMENT OF SENATOR CHUCK GRASSLEY: A TRIGGER WILL NOT PREVENT A TAX HIKE ON THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

Mr. President, press reports indicated that we made our fourth stop in the ninth inning of the baseball season. The President sent his budget up to Capitol Hill over three months ago. The Senate Budget Committee marked up a budget resolution that lays out the Democratic Leadership fiscal priorities for the next five years. As everyone knows, the American People spoke last November and sent a Democratic majority to both Houses of Congress. For the first time in 12 years, Democrats have the privilege and the responsibility for our budget. The Senate spoke very clearly in support of some tax relief. The voice came in the form of the Baucus amendment. My friend, the Chairman, secured $180 billion to prevent part of the big tax increase that will go into effect on January 1, 2011. Although the Baucus amendment only provides 44 percent of the tax relief room needed, it is far superior to the House position. The House position is zero tax relief. That's right, Mr. President, zero tax relief. Zero tax relief means a total deficit increase of $936 billion over 5 years. That's the largest tax increase in history and one that occurs without a vote of Congress.

That tax increase means real dollars out of the wallets of real middle income families. I've got a chart here. The chart shows a wall of tax increase. This chart shows that a family of four at $40,000 will face a tax increase of $936 billion over 5 years. As a senior Republican member of the Budget Committee, I've not been consulted on the budget by our Chairman, but I've got my views clearly published in the RECORD. What I know about the budget I've learned from press reports. If those reports are true, I'd encourage the Chairman and Senate Leadership to stand strong for the Senate position.

Press reports indicate that the Democratic Budget Committee chairmen are working on a compromise that would condition the tax relief on a surplus. That is, the Baucus amendment would be subject to a trigger. No, Mr. President, we can't.

I have another chart. This chart deals with perhaps the most famous trigger. The chart shows "Trigger," the cowboy actor, Roy "Trigger" Rogers. You could call this the "trigger" chart for the reason that Trigger is a pretty impressive looking horse. Would definitely like to have Trigger on my farm to help with the chores. Am sure my grand kids would want to ride him if Trigger were stable on my farm.

As Western movie buffs know, Trigger is no longer with us. The chart shows the Trigger amendment would be subject to a trigger. Trigger was an impressive looking horse. Would definitely like to have Trigger on my farm to help with the chores. Am sure my grand kids would want to ride him if Trigger were stable on my farm.

The same dynamic occurred in 2001. With surpluses, the Democratic Leadership opposed broad-based bipartisan tax relief, including a doubling of the $500 per child tax credit. In 2003 the Republican Leadership flirted with a trigger. There were a few Republicans attracted to the idea.

The trigger was debated somewhat, but never embraced. It was a complicated matter. It could be suggested that the mechanics of a broad-based tax trigger are like trigonometry. Trigonometry is a discipline that deals with angles. It is simple on its face, but you can see from this text book, can become complicated quickly.

Introducing the complexity and uncertainty of triggered tax relief with the vast American economy could lead to a new term. That is the "trig-onomics." As much as folks complain about uncertainty and complexity in tax policy, I don't think the Democratic budget negotiators want to take us to the land of trig-onomics.

To some degree, the current law sunset of the 2001 and 2003 is a de facto trigger. If you look at those in opposition to permanence of the Bush tax cuts, you'll find it is, with very few exceptions, the same folks who like triggers.

The tax system is a very complex and pervasive force in society. It affects all Americans and all economic activity. Creating conditional tax relief through a trigger mechanism would destabilize an already unstable tax system. Households, homeowners, businesses, and investors supposed to plan their affairs with a trigger hanging over current law tax rules that keep taxes low. Think about that, Mr. President. What would we be doing to the hard working American taxpayers?

As an aside, those taxpayers, by the way, are sending record amounts of revenue to the Treasury. The bipartisan tax relief plans of 2001 and 2003 are growing the economy. Revenues are ahead of projections by double digit figures for the third year in a row. It's there in the black and white of Treasury and CBO reports. The American taxpayer is doing his and her part to reduce the deficit. I ask unanimous consent to insert in the record a copy of articles from the BNA Daily Report for Executives, one dated May 3, 2007 and another dated July 29, 2009.

So, why trigger on tax increases, when the current law tax levels are bringing in plenty of money to the federal Treasury? It makes no sense for American taxpayers.

The biggest problem I have with a trigger is that it creates yet another budget process bias for higher federal spending. If Congress decides to spend more than planned, the trigger gives the American taxpayer the shaft. Spending taxpayers' money trumps future promised tax relief if a trigger is in place.

The American taxpayer need look no further than the budget resolution conference to see triggered future tax relief's futility. After six years of tax hikes on virtually everything from tobacco to sinks to software to virtually any American consumer, the American taxpayer is still being taxed. The budget baseline, two, with multiple reserve funds, they've set up many arenas of new spending and new taxes. Three, for the first time in many years, a tax hike on virtually every American taxpayer is built into the budget in future years. Did the American People know that this was how fiscal discipline is defined after the votes were counted? Higher taxes and higher spending? Did the American People vote for this definition of fiscal discipline in last year's campaign? When the American taxpayer is built into the budget, the American taxpayer didn't think fiscal discipline meant higher taxes and higher spending.

If fiscal discipline were the real goal of the Democratic Leadership, they'd employ a trigger on the new spending they've baked in the budget cake. Mr. President, how about that? It's a challenge that would only be triggered if the federal budget were in surplus. Do I have any takers among the Democratic budget negotiators?

Mr. President, the Democratic Leadership rolled out its budget, I challenged them to show a proposal with a single dollar of spending restraint dedicated to deficit reduction. It was issued from several years as bipartisan tax relief has been attacked on fiscal discipline grounds. My challenge has not been met. If you go back to the talk of a proposal for spending restraint from the Democratic Leadership. Check the record. You won't find anything on the spending side of the ledger. The use of a trigger is more evidence of this obsession with taxing and spending. Instead of accepting the Baucus amendment, which is supported by strongly-bipartisan votes in both bodies, the Democratic negotiators are taking a different path. They want to use a trigger as cover. The trigger will likely mean future Democratic spending proposals will rely thereby on guaranteeing a tax increase on virtually every American taxpayer.

Mr. President, it's too late. I suggest that, if the Democratic budgeteers want to talk the talk of fiscal discipline, they need to walk the walk of fiscal discipline. Apply the trigger. But apply it to the $205 billion in federal spending baked in as a wall of tax relief on America's families. Build a wall of fiscal discipline against runaway federal spending.

I yield the floor.

Mr. GRASSLEY. I have a chart here from the 2007 speech that deals with perhaps the most famous trigger. Of course, I refer to Trigger, the horse belonging to the cowboy actor Roy Rogers. As I mentioned in the past, Trigger is no longer with us. Today he is studded and on display at the Roy Rogers-Dale Evans Museum in Branson, MO. Even so, Trigger, in his current statted state, is still much more imposing than the House Democrats' trigger device.

While past Democratic trigger proposals were bad, the current House Democrats' trigger proposal is even worse because it is under the control of a partisan OMB Director and is based upon an OMB Director's estimate—I repeat, an estimate—of health care savings for the years 2013 to 2019.

I do not think anyone really expects this trigger to be pulled. Even the non-partisan Joint Committee on Taxation, in its $54 billion revenue estimate of the House Democrats' small business surtax proposal, assumes that the estimated savings targets will not be reached and the rates will go up, for sure, in 2013.

Clearly, on the question of how to pay for health care reform, Republicans and Democrats appear to be drifting in different directions. Republicans want to pay for health care reform through changes in the health care system—mostly on the spending side—to make health care more accessible and more affordable. In contrast, House Democrats' most recent proposal to pay for health care reform—the small business surtax—goes far outside the universe of health care.

By abandoning the universe of health care in their financing scheme, House Democrats are clearly indicating that the real of their health care reform proposal is increased coverage at any cost. Even the New York Times—now, hardly a strident critic of the Democratic Leadership in Congress or the White House, cautions against this coverage-at-any-cost approach:

If the government simply extends subsidized insurance to millions of uninsured people, it fails fundamental changes in the delivery or financing of health care, then federal health care costs will keep escalating at excessive rates. That's the New York Times—now, hardly a strident critic of the Democratic Leadership in Congress or the White House, cautions against this coverage-at-any-cost approach:

That's the New York Times—now, hardly a strident critic of the Democratic Leadership in Congress or the White House, cautions against this coverage-at-any-cost approach:

That is the end of the quote from the New York Times.

The need to reform our health care system, but we need to doit right. That is why I am working with Senator BAUCUS, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, along with Senators SNOWE, ENZI, CONRAD, and BINGAMAN, to craft a bipartisan Finance Committee colleagues and our staffs have been working hours and hours each day and night, and weekends, to navigate through the numerous complex issues of health care reform. Has it been easy? Obviously not. However, I am very hopeful we can reach a bipartisan agreement that makes health care in America more accessible and more affordable, while at the same time protecting taxpayers and preventing the Federal Government from taking over health care.

President Obama, in his prime time press conference last week, expressed his agreement with these principles. While stating generally that the reforms he is proposing will keep government out of health care decisions, President Obama specifically made the following promises:

I'm not going to sign a bill that, for example, violates our deficit reduction policy that this trigger. We believe this: Even the New York Times, now, obviously not. Why? Because each of those would drastically expand the Federal Government's control of the health care system. The charge, the deficit, and fail to reduce long-term health care inflation.

Here's the bottom line. When the long-term budget outlook warns that rising health care costs will cause Federal spending to grow so fast as to put the Federal budget on an unsustainable path, Congress needs to take action. But, at the same time, when our goal is to reform 17 percent of the economy, while facing a nearly $2 trillion annual deficit, more than $9 trillion in new debt over the next decade, and a projected debt-to-GDP ratio of over 300 percent by 2050, we have to make sure we are doing this job right. That is what we are trying to do in the Senate Finance Committee. What we established, however long it takes, I hope we can send a deficit-neutral health care reform bill to President Obama that increases access, cuts costs, and puts us on a fiscally sustainable path for years to come.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Georgia.

SOTOMAYOR NOMINATION

Mr. CHAMBLISS. Mr. President, I rise this evening to speak on the nomination of Judge Sonia Sotomayor to be the next Associate Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

We all know elections have consequences. Because of this, I have tried to give deference to the various nominees submitted by President Obama. I have not voted for all of his nominees, but I have voted for some even though I did not necessarily believe they were the best people he might have nominated.

The case of a nominee to the Supreme Court is unique. This is not a Cabinet member who will rotate out or leave at the end of the President’s term. Supreme Court Justices are there for life and decide cases that will affect present and future generations of Americans.

With this in mind, I have reviewed opinions written or concurred in by Judge Sotomayor, reviewed speeches and writings of Judge Sotomayor, talked with lawyers who practice in New York, lawyers who have tried or argued before Judge Sotomayor, and others who know her by reputation, and also listened to and reviewed testimony before the Judiciary Committee in her confirmation proceeding.

In addition, I spent the better part of an hour in a one-on-one conversation with the judge. Certainly, she has all the education and judicial background to be confirmed as a Supreme Court Justice. Her judicial temperament is not in question. Some lawyers felt she was not qualified for the Supreme Court, and others felt she is.

Judge Sotomayor has a very compelling personal story, and being Hispanic and being female and being nominated to the U.S. Supreme Court adds more credibility to that saga of living the American dream. As Americans, we should be proud she has been nominated. But the role of the Senate is to give the President advice and consent, and we are required to go beyond the personal side of the nominee.

After reviewing the information I have today and over again, I have concluded that I cannot support Judge Sotomayor’s nomination. My reasoning is as follows:

First, lawyers nominated to the Supreme Court should be in a class by themselves. My only experience as a Member of the Senate with this process is with the confirmations of Chief Justice Roberts and Justice Alito. Clearly, they are lawyers who are in a premier class. Lawyers with whom I spoke who know Judge Sotomayor do not put her in that category. Even those who say she should be confirmed do so in a less than enthusiastic manner.

Second, I am a strong supporter of the second amendment, and I am concerned about the reasoning of Judge Sotomayor in cases where she has considered this issue.

In DC v. Heller, the Supreme Court left unanswered the issue of application of the second amendment to the States. This issue is likely to be decided by the Supreme Court in the next year or so, and I refer to the Second Circuit. Judge Sotomayor ruled in the negative on this issue in the Maloney case without an explanation, simply citing an old Supreme Court case that is not really directly on point and is certainly not important an issue to give it no more than a cursory review.

Third, I am concerned about the apparent leaning of Judge Sotomayor to use foreign law to interpret U.S. laws and our Constitution.

In her April 28, 2009, speech to the Puerto Rican ACLU, Judge Sotomayor said that while foreign law should not be used as a precedent, she stated it should be “considered.” My question is, Why? Judge Sotomayor’s answer in that same speech to that question was to align herself with Justice Ginsburg, who supports the use of foreign law and recently stated that “foreign opinions can be considered in all of the knowledge relevant to the solution of a question.” Judge Sotomayor went on to say that unless American courts are more open to ideas in foreign cases, “we are going to lose influence in the world.” From an American jurisprudence standpoint, that line of thinking is certainly scary to me.

Lastly, the highly publicized Ricci case is very puzzling. A per curiam opinion is unusual for such a complex and precedent-setting case. No analysis for the decision is very troubling to the lawyer in me.

In my conversation with Judge Sotomayor, she stated that the Second Circuit panel was simply following precedent and if the Supreme Court reversed the Second Circuit opinion, it would be establishing a new precedent. The Supreme Court, of course, did reverse the Second Circuit and clearly stated that Judge Sotomayor was being followed by the lower court.

Judge Sotomayor did not adequately explain what precedent she was talking about and, in fact, did not answer this question when directly asked the question by Senator KYL at her confirmation hearing. Being less than forthcoming in every respect is very disturbing.

Mr. President, for all of the above reasons, I will cast a “no” vote on the confirmation of Judge Sotomayor next week.

With that, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Connecticut.

Mr. DODD. Mr. President, I inquire, are we in morning business, am I correct?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator is correct, but we have 10-minute grants.

Mr. DODD. I appreciate that.

HEALTH CARE REFORM

Mr. DODD. Mr. President, what I have done every day over the last week or so is to take the floor to talk about health care, and I do so again this evening, with a note of some sadness. I have just been told there has now been a statement issued that there will be no markup of the health care bill next week on health care. I know Senator BAUCUS has worked hard at that. I know other members of that committee, in that effort, have been working to try to reach some understanding, in all of the work that will now leave here, I gather, next week, at the conclusion of the nomination process for Judge Sotomayor, for a month-long recess to our respective States, or whatever other obligations our colleagues may have. So I am saddened by that.

Let me try to find a good note in all of this—there are five congressional committees between the House of Representatives, the other body, and ourselves that have some jurisdiction over the health care debate. Three of those committees reside in the other body, the House of Representatives; that is, the Energy and Commerce Committee, the Education and Labor Committee, the Ways and Means Committee. I am told that by tomorrow those three committees will have completed their jobs. They will have reported out a bill. There are two committees in the U.S. Senate with jurisdiction. Jurisdiction over some of the most major components of health care resides in the committee chaired by our colleague from Massachusetts, Senator KENNEDY, who is not with us, as most Americans know, because of his ongoing battle today with brain cancer. In his absence, we have been blessed with the acting chair of that committee. Two weeks and 2 days ago, we completed our work in that committee. So the only committee remaining to do some work is the Finance Committee. So of the five committees, four, by the end of business tomorrow, will have completed their jobs.

That does not mean the work is completed. Obviously, a lot of work remains in melding these bills together to try to come up with answers to the thorny questions that remain on how we structure the health care system in our Nation to go from a sick care system, which it is today, to truly a health care system, to deal with the issues of cost, to try to manage these issues so we bend that cost in the coming decades and beyond in a different direction than we are headed today—I will talk about that in a minute—obviously, to improve the quality of health care, to ensure access. And while we have great quality of health care in many areas of our country, there are still numerous areas where the outcome, the overall health condition, the life expectancy of our fellow citizenry is just not what we desire. So accessibility, quality of care, and affordability are still the primary goals. We are all working very hard to try to reach that point.

So four out of five committees will have acted. The fifth, we hope, will achieve that result at some point here or in some manner in which we can move forward with this critical debate in our Nation.

So this evening, I want to spend a few words talking about where we are on a couple of these issues. I have discussed, on previous gatherings, my thoughts on aspects of the legislation. Let me share where this debate is.

There is a strong case to be made—we know the argument. I am going to get to that in a minute. But there is a moral case to be made as well for health care reform, and it is a very strong one.

Many try to impress economists or actuaries, but there is a moral obligation, it seems to me, in a nation as blessed as ours, with great resources and wealth and abundance of resources, natural and otherwise. We live in the wealthiest Nation in the history of mankind. Our generation is an inheritor of incredible work that was done by those who have come before us, who sacrificed greatly, including their very lives, to produce the kind of Nation we live in today. It has been a remarkable story, more than two centuries, which has resulted in one of the great miracles in world history—to produce a nation where the vast majority of our population can live with financial security, with job opportunities, with the ability to raise families with security, despite what we have gone through in recent years in certain instances. Nonetheless, there is a sense of stability and security about being an American.

In many ways, we are the envy of a good part of the world. So it is important, as we think of the debate on health care, to remind ourselves what others have given to produce the kind of results that leave us with a level of lifestyle that is unmatched anywhere around the globe. In spite of that great news, we should note that also 45 million of our fellow citizens, many of whom are children, go to bed every night without health care coverage. In the wealthiest Nation in the history of mankind, the economic and mental coverage for health care because they have some preexisting condition. What is that? That is some determination that you had a problem, a healthcare problem, before. Therefore, that insurance company will deny you coverage because of that preexisting condition, especially when that excuse is used by so many insurance companies to avoid covering victims of domestic violence, for instance, or those suffering from the most painful of long-term illnesses—those preexisting conditions.

In the wealthiest Nation in the history of mankind, nobody should have to choose between paying their electric bill or taking a sick child to the doctor. I wish that were just in minor cases, small anecdotes. It is not. Regardless of which State we represent, every one of us represents families who, every single day, make those kinds of choices, such as paying that electric bill or cutting back on the family budget because they have to make a choice about whether they can care for that sick family member.

Nobody should lose their home and go into bankruptcy because their medical bills are too high. I know the Presiding Officer has heard me on previous occasions in recent times talk about the statistics. Let me repeat them quickly: 62 percent of all bankruptcies are health care crisis-related—62 to 65 percent. Of that 62 percent, 75 percent of those people had health insurance. When I first saw those numbers that 60 to 65 percent of bankruptcies are due to the health care crisis, I assumed that the overwhelming majority of people in that situation must be those without health care coverage. It pains me to learn that 75 percent of those people actually had health care coverage. Despite that, they ended up in financial ruin, having to go into bankruptcy to survive economically.

In the wealthiest Nation in the world, the one that spends far more on health care than anybody else—some $2.5 trillion a year, and we now rank 37th in the world in medical outcomes—that is in terms of our overall condition, healthwise, as a people, life expectancy. We now have the first generation of Americans who will live shorter, less healthy lives than their parents. That has never happened before in the history of our country. Each generation of Americans has been able to improve the quality of the health care of their children. Even in that 19th century—a single generation in a single country. But yet we have, in 287 amendments over that monthlong process day in and day out. We accepted 161 amendments offered by our friends on the Republican side. Many were technical and many were substantive amendments.

So we went through a long process and considered it at length, with long debates, with 23 of us, one-quarter of the Senate, sitting on the committee chaired by Senator Kennedy to consider various ideas within our jurisdiction.

Under that bill we established a very large and fragmented marketplace where small business owners can go to comparison shop for various health care packages for their employees or themselves. Our bill is the smart thing to do for businesses which often today find themselves choosing between a red letter day and coverage for their employees or laying off workers because they cannot afford to provide it.

In our bill—the one we passed—if our bill would be adopted, as I believe it will in the long run—will small businesses in our country be forced to act as health insurance experts. No longer would they be denied affordable insurance options. No longer would small businesses be discriminated against because someone with the existing condition or one who suffers a sudden unexpected health crisis, thus driving up the premiums for every employee, either making it too costly or making it impossible to provide them coverage.

In our bill we passed not only do we give small businesses somewhere to turn for insurance options, we give them the financial assistance to pay for insurance up to a certain level, either for themselves or for their families. Every small business could get that to assist them in that very business of trying to provide for their families.

That has been in our bill. It is written in the bill. If we can pass that bill, I am confident the other body would adopt it.

We give employers a healthier, more productive workforce. I point out in many parts of our country employers only have one choice or two choices for health care coverage for their employees. That is all that exists for them, and they want to shop to find out what is available. Under our marketplace in the bill, they would have a wide range of options to choose from of private carriers offering different packages and different levels of cost, allowing the employer to shop on behalf of their employees, and we give them the credit to make a decision financially, to do so. Our bill does more than anything else—certainly, when it comes to small businesses.

Importantly, for those employers who are happy, as many are, with the insurance they have—maybe they are a large employer who has invested heavily in prevention, or they have negotiated low prices and a wide network of providers as exists in some parts of our country. Under our bill nothing changes for them. They can keep the insurance as long as they choose to renew it. That is their business. We change none of that.

If you like what you have, you keep that. If you are a smaller employer and you want to change that and you want better plans, we provide the credits to do so and the option for you to have more choices.

Most of all, we believe reform is the smart thing to do for the American consumer, for those employers and employees. Some of our fellow citizens are getting a good deal when it comes to their insurance. They like the doctor they go to, they like the hospital they go to when they need one, and they like the insurance plan they have. They don’t want anything about their health care to change. They should not have to worry about that. Our bill protects that. If you like your doctor, your hospital, and your health care coverage, you can keep that, just as that business who wants the plan they have, they can keep that under our bill, which we wrote 2 weeks and 2 days ago—the 900 pages we worked on for almost 5 weeks and on which we considered 300 amendments.

Some of our colleagues have tried to scare our fellow Americans into believing our bill would force change upon them. That is just not true. That is a falsehood. It is dishonest with the American people. The bill that was crafted in the HELP committee won’t make anyone change their doctor or their insurance plan. If they like what they have, they get to keep it. The daily charge is that there may be more money back in their pocket as a result of what we provided in the options available to people to make better choices at lower costs.

Here is what our opponents won’t tell you: If we don’t take action—if it is just the status quo and we go back to our States and walk away from all of this and never deal with this issue, you may very well lose the ability to see the doctor you like. That is at risk with inaction. If we don’t take action, you may lose that good insurance plan you have. If we don’t take action, you may well find yourself unable to get the kind of care you need when you need it.

If we don’t take action in the Congress, families with insurance will continue to pay that hidden tax of $1,100 that the average family pays every single year to cover the costs of the uninsured who show up at hospitals.

In our country, we get care. If you walk into the emergency room, we take care of you. But there is a cost for doing so. The cost is, on average, $1,100 per family a year. That is the tax we pay today because of the failure to provide the kind of plans we adopted in our bill. So that cost falls on families.

Further, Mr. President, if we don’t take action, premiums will continue to rise faster than wages. If you don’t believe me, look what happened to my State of Connecticut a few weeks ago. An insurance company proposed to raise their rates by 32 percent. I wish that were uncommon. The rates in my States in the last 6 years have gone up 45, 46 percent, and since 1996 in the country, they have gone up 86 percent, vastly outstripping the rate of inflation, with no end in sight.

For those who say we can wait, we don’t need to do this now, we ought to wait until all this, we ought to deal with the deficit or other issues, then consider what is going to happen if we don’t move and if we don’t come together and get this job done. On every one of these issues, if we wait, we will take action. No matter how secure you may feel today, you may lose that insurance, you may lose that coverage, you may find yourself unable to go to that doctor or hospital you believe you could go to. It is time you continue to pay a rising cost in premiums to cover the uninsured.

Mr. President, 2 weeks and 2 days ago, since our committee acted, 210,000 of our fellow citizens have lost health care coverage. But, who had insurance 2 weeks ago. Every single day we delay taking action on legislation, 14,000 of our fellow citizens lose health care coverage—every day. So since 2 weeks and 2 days ago, 210,000 people have lost health care coverage, and we are about to leave for another month. Do the math on a daily basis.

While we as Members of this body go back to our respective States, we have our health care coverage, we have very good health care coverage—very good health care coverage. None of us have to worry about that as we go back and walk away, unfortunately, from a set of issues with which we are grappling. But we can do so with the assurance, the certainty, and the stability as elected officials in this body that if something happens to any one of us, we are going to be fine because we have good health care coverage. But, unfortunately, for 210,000 of our fellow citizens in the last 2 weeks, that is not the case.

Imagine tonight that you are one of those 210,000 and you wake up in the middle of the night with your child is very sick and you rush them to the hospital, or a spouse or loved one who needs that kind of care because of an accident. These things happen with the least predictability. Every one of us knows what happens. We have all had it happen to us with a child, a spouse, where all of a sudden there is a tragedy, an accident, an injury, there is an illness, and all of a sudden we need that coverage to protect us. Tonight there are 210,000 people since 2 weeks ago who are in that free-fall hoping that nothing happens until they get back on their feet again, maybe get that new job, find that insurance company that will cover them and provide these benefits.

Imagine yourself being in that spot—think about that—that lack of stability, that lack of certainty, that lack of comfort knowing that if something happens to my family, I cannot help them.

I hope we can get them back on their feet again. I hope they get to see a good doctor, and they will have the drugs they need or care they need to restore their health. But you never get to that question if you cannot even approach it because you don’t have the coverage any longer to pay for it.

Those 1,900 a day are going to continue to mount up under the present circumstances. I am disappointed, to put it mildly, that we find ourselves leaving here without continuing to do work. Not that we are going to solve all the problems in the week before we leave, but getting the one, of course, argues that we shouldn’t do this right and we shouldn’t be careful to make sure we are doing it right. It is a silly argument to suggest there are people here who don’t care about crafting responsible legislation. I will not accept the argument it is too hard and that is the reason we cannot get it done. That is why reforming our health care system is so important, for all those reasons.

Even if you are satisfied with your personal situation, when you ought not have too much comfort and believe it will be there when you may need it the most.

The bill we passed provides stability so that care that is available to you stays available. That day after day and provides cost savings that you will see in your family budget. Our bill eliminates entirely the annual and lifetime caps on benefits. So even if you suddenly develop a serious illness or get into a bad accident, you will be able to get the treatment you need, and it does put limits on how much money out of your income you could be forced to spend on insurance.

Today there are no limits. Our bill provides those limits so your expenses will never be more than you can afford to pay.

Our bill we passed prohibits insurance companies from discriminating against people with preexisting conditions. That is gone forever in our bill. That argument about preexisting conditions is absolutely gone. If we do nothing, it is still there, and so that certainty you think you have is not certain at all with preexisting conditions that exist today. Our bill eliminates those.

You don’t have to stay in a job just because you have an illness that would keep you from getting coverage elsewhere. I cannot tell you how many stories I have heard about people with miserable jobs with miserable pay, but they don’t dare leave it because they know if they do and they have a preexisting condition, they will be denied the kind of coverage they need to have.

Our legislation also prohibits insurance companies from changing or dropping coverage or refusing to renew it if you get sick. It mandates that these companies cover the things that will help you stay well, such as mammograms, annual checkups, at no additional charge to you as a patient.

The truth is that too many Americans are getting a bad deal, even those who are operating with a comfort that they believe that what they have will be there whenever they need it, and the ones who are getting a good deal might not be able to keep it unless we take action to provide the kind of stability people are looking for.

Even those who somehow are able to ignore the urgent moral imperative of reform I think should support the legislation we crafted simply because it is a better deal for American consumers, and it is the right thing to do.

It has now been, as I said, more than 2 weeks since our HELP Committee passed its legislation. It is a good bill. It is not a perfect bill, and more work needs to be done. All of us acknowledge that. But it is one that I think every Member of this body can get behind. Every single member of that committee, all 23 of us, every single member added contributions to the original draft. Every Democrat, every Republican added amendments that were adopted.

By the end of this week, as I pointed out earlier, four of the five committees with health reform bills have completed their work. I know the Finance Committee, as I said earlier, is working hard to finish. When their work is complete, I look forward to sitting down with them to merge our efforts, which is clearly going to happen. We are going to merge our efforts. We are going to take what we have and see that the best of each of those committees has been incorporated into the Finance Committee has done. So the Senate will have two committees on equal footing dealing with health care issues. I know the leaders guaranteed that, the President has spoken about it, and I am sure my colleagues will support that effort.

I heard some of my colleagues mention that now is not the time to plow ahead. I disagree. I can’t think of a more urgent issue for all the reasons I mentioned this evening and how important it is. I said it may not be as much an urgency for those of us with the stability and certainty of our own health care policies, but for so many of the people we represent—those who are uninsured or underinsured—they have a right to insist we do the job, face the difficult questions, and have the courage to lead on this issue, to be leaders.

That is what we are asked to be when people chose us to represent them. I know I speak for many of us who care for our own State, as it is across the country. A lot of the choices we have to make are tough ones and hard to explain, in some cases, because they will involve the shared responsibility that all Americans must be involved in if this is going to work. To me it is. We get sent here. Occasionally, there are matters that require us to stand and make tough choices. We are at such a moment. For us to do less, to walk away from this, I think, will be one of the great tragedies of our time.

I regret we will not be working on this legislation in the coming weeks, although we will in our own way—our staffs will be working and we will be back in our respective States listening to our constituents. I hope when we come back in September, we will have a renewed sense of purpose and get the job done. We have a President who cares about this deeply. We have Members both of whom we expect and ran on this issue of reforming our health care system. Major industries, the insurance industry, the providers, the doctors, nurses, the pharmaceutical industry, all today are on the side of getting something done. There are disagreements on how to do this, but wonderful people in public and outside public life are committed to this. It is different than it was 14 years ago. We ought to be able to take advantage of that new alignment, if you will, and get this job done.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Ohio.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, I appreciate the opportunity to speak after Chairman Dodd, who has probably, more than anybody else this year, led the health care effort. As he pointed out, in our committee, it was the longest markup of any bill I have ever seen in my 28 years in the legislative body.

I spoke today to a Washington Post reporter who said she had never seen a markup so thorough. We faced 160 Republican amendments, either passed or accepted, many of them substantive, but we were able to get them not but certainly a major bipartisan effort. In the HELP Committee, we went over it section by section. This is a very good work product.

We are joined by three committees in the House of Representatives—the Ways and Means Committee and the Education and Labor Committee, which have already completed their work on a similar bill, and another committee is working on it tonight, the Energy and Commerce Committee, which has already completed their work on a similar bill. All four of these bills are similar. They all protect what works in our health care system, and they fix what is broken. They all provide that, if you are happy with your insurance, you can keep what you have. But in addition, your premium is much more likely to stabilize because, as Chairman Dodd said, you are no longer subsidizing to the tune of $1,100, $1,200 a year uncomprehensible, which I sat in my years in the House of Representatives.

are in West Haven or Hartford, whether they are in New London, CT, or New London, OH, people are hurting, and these are some letters from constituents I have received.

I would like to share five, six letters with my colleagues and with the Pre- sideing Officer.

Diana from Seneca County in Ohio writes:

I am a middle-aged widow who returned to college. Next month, I will graduate. I have no health insurance and have been seeking employment for a year. Please help the good citizens of Ohio get health care, many of whom have found themselves in a terrible predicament through no fault of their own. Please help me help myself.

This is an example of people working hard, doing the right thing. Chairman Dodd said 14,000 Americans lose their health insurance every day now, and people such as Diana from the Tiffin area in northwest Ohio cannot get ahead of the game, cannot get ahead of the curve, cannot get insurance, has not found a job. In economic times such as these, there are an awful lot of people like Diana from Seneca County. That is why it is so important we pass legislation when we come back in September.

Ian from Franklin County—that is central Ohio, the Columbus area:

I am a 31-year-old without health insurance. I have a 4-year degree but work part time. I have no sick days, no vacation days, or personal days. I am sick and tired of being sick. My health care should be based on need rather than ability to pay. Enough.

Just think of how many people in this country live that way. They think about being sick. They think: What happens if I am sick? I am barely making a living. I know if I get sick, I will have to choose between my medical bills and paying my rent or choose between my medicine or sufficiently heating my home in the winter.

There are choices are very real choices to hundreds of thousands—more than that—Americans every single day.

Lee from Cuyahoga County writes:

I have worked in health insurance in some form or another since 1973. I know Medicare and Medicaid as well as private health insurance. I have seen health insurance from just about all angles and could probably write a book about it. I have told Congressional clients that “shopping around for health insurance is like going to a casino and betting against the house—where the house is making up the rules, and not letting you know that the rules have been changed.”

This is an expert who made his living by dealing with health care issues. He knows what happens with insurance companies. That is why we did consumer protection in this legislation—no more preexisting conditions, no more dropping coverage indiscriminately, no more caps on coverage, no more gaming the community rating system, no more discrimination. That is what this legislation is all about.

If you have insurance and you like what you have, you can keep it. Absolutely our bill guarantees that. But you also will have these consumer protections because plenty of people who are satisfied with their insurance get sick and find their insurance has been canceled. No more of that under this legislation.

Susan from central Ohio, from Franklin County, writes:

I am in my mid-50s and have been unemployed for over a year, looking for a new job the entire time. Living without health insurance is like going to a casino and betting your life is terrifying.

I am 56. This woman is in her mid-fifties. She has been unemployed for a year. She is living without health insurance. It sounds like she is healthy but always thinking about it, always scared.

My father was a physician in private practice in Columbus from the 1960s through the 1980s, in the days when the physicians made the diagnoses and the health care providers trusted them to do so. Please fix the health care system. It is like a casino. Everyone—no matter their income—has to have access to good medical care.

Susan is somebody who understands the health care system from within. She is the daughter of a physician and understands, in her words:

Think about that. With all the worries someone has when they are in their mid-fifties and thinking about what happens if they get sick.

Libby, also from Franklin County, says:

I need a follow-up CT scan for kidney cancer, but I can’t afford the co-pay. I have to take early retirement, but can’t wait 2 years for disability. I hope having to wait doesn’t kill me, but I am one of many. Please fix our broken health care system.

We hear stories every day about health care denied and health care delayed—which really is health care denied—and what happens to people when they get rejected. Libby, from this letter, sounds to me as if she is hoping, hoping, hoping that we can move quickly so she can get insurance and can have the follow-up CT Scan for her kidney cancer.

Claudia, from Franklin County in central Ohio, says:

My husband and I have owned our own successful business for 21 years. Our health insurance costs have escalated to the point where we barely can pay the bill and our coverage is truly awful. With a $5,000 deductible per person, we are insureing against catastrophic illness only. Little money is available for regular checkups, recommended annual tests, or dental care. I never thought we would be in this position and there is no relief in sight. Many self-employed people are now discontinuing health care because of the cost. We need help 50 people and 2 or 3 of those employees get very sick and they need Remicade or they need Perceptin or one of those biologic drugs that cost $10,000, $20,000, sometimes $50,000 or even $100,000 a year. What happens to that small business, if they have 20 or 30 employees and a couple of those employees end up with drug costs of $50,000 or $100,000 a year? That may destroy that employee’s chance to keep their insurance because the insurance premiums go so high as a result of three or four or five sick people.

This legislation, as Chairman Dodd points out, has specific provisions to protect small businesses and allow them to go to the health exchange so they can spread out their costs among the larger numbers of people than the small employers of 10, 15 or 20 people—or in the case of self-employed people such as Claudia these letters from individuals—who simply don’t have any chance of getting insurance. They know people with insurance in small businesses will no longer have to pay the cost of the uninsured—the extra $1,100, $2,100 a year they have to pay. They will get additional tax credits so they can insure themselves and insure their employees.

Almost every employer I know wants to insure their employees. They want to keep their jobs, but many simply can’t afford it. This bill will make a difference for small business. It will make a difference with the consumer protections that will help those people who are happy with their insurance but are always anxious about perhaps their insurance being canceled or caps being put on their insurance or all of those issues that happen to people.

That is why this legislation is so important. That is what is reflected in these letters from individual people, whether they are from Zanesville or Mansfield or Urbana or Youngstown. People all over my State are hurting. People all over this country are hurting. People in the State of the President—on the same side. Anywhere in Colorado or in Connecticut we know these problems are every bit as severe as they are in my State. That is why we need to take action.

We have 14,000 Americans every day losing health insurance, and I am hearing from a lot of them. I am hearing from people who are looking for work and can’t find work and can’t find insurance. It is time we move forward.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. BENNET). The Senator from Connecticut.

Mr. DODD. Mr. President, I thank my colleague from Ohio, who is a member of our committee, and as I mentioned earlier, he has done a tremendous job, as others have as well. SHERROD BROWN brings a wealth of experience. He has been dealing with these issues, obviously, in the other body.

And I think in talking about real people with these issues, there is a tendency of all of us to kind of discuss these matters from about 30,000 feet, using the language we are familiar with to describe what is going on, and too often I think for people across the country, they wonder if anybody is talking about them. I think by reading letters from citizens in Ohio and what they are wrestling with every day, it brings this back down to a level that we need to think of more often when we debate these issues, and that is that every single day, of those 14,000 people who are losing their health insurance, there are many who do confront a health care crisis and lack the ability to respond to it other than showing up in an emergency room or hoping there will be health care for them because they do not have the capacity to pay for it.

So I appreciate tremendously Senator Brown's contribution, not only during those long days we spent day and day out crafting the legislation that is now before us, but now, when we need to do more talking about what is in that bill. Because from a small business perspective, as well as the insured, the prevention, the quality of care, or workforce issues, they are all very significant contributions to our debate.

The Class Act, which allows individual people, at no government expense, to contribute to their own long-term care needs is one of the most innovative and creative ideas in our bill. That will provide not only substantial resources, but the ability of people to lead independent lives who have disabilities under what might otherwise force them to live under more expensive care or tapping into Medicare. In fact, the projections under the Congressional Budget Office is that we have to save $25 billion in Medicare costs just by having the Class Act—that is the long-term care provisions in the bill.

I invite all my colleagues to read the bill and to go to the briefings. I spent a little more than an hour today with my colleague from California, Diane Feinstein, who requested that I come by with staff, with her staff, and go through the various sections of the bill and how it would work; how it would affect people in their State; how these various provisions would work.

I don't want to speak for her, but I think she was pleased to hear what we had done. Obviously, there is more to be done out of the Finance Committee, and I don't have answers for that because there is no bill out of the Finance Committee as yet, but on the part of the effort we have made, as our Members and colleagues look at what we have done, I hope they will be pleasantly pleased about the efforts we have made to assist the insured with preexisting conditions, the caps, as I have mentioned, the credits we provide to small businesses to allow them to make their insurance available to their employees—as many would like to be able to do—at a cost they can afford, without crippling them because one employee ends up with a serious health condition thus raising the cost of every other employee and the cost of overall health care. That is gone as a result of what we have written in our legislation.

So I urge my colleagues to read the bill, to talk with us, to raise the questions you have, particularly over these weeks between now and the time we come back. I think you will again be pleased at the effort our colleagues have had the opportunity to improve the legislation and, I think, attribute significantly to where we need to be going with regard to health care reform.

So I am very grateful to Senator Brown of Ohio for his contribution.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

LIEUTENANT BRIAN N. BRADSHAW

Mr. CHAMBLISS. Mr. President, I rise today to honor the life and selfless commitment of LT Brian N. Bradshaw to the U.S. Army and to our Nation. Lieutenant Bradshaw died as a result of an improvised explosive device on June 25 in Kheyl, Afghanistan. He was 24 years old.

Coincidentally, Lieutenant Bradshaw's life was taken the same day that pop star Michael Jackson died. A Google News search reveals that the number of news stories in the past month filed about Michael Jackson is 142,929, the number filed about Lieutenant Bradshaw? Twenty-six.

It is time the American people know a bit more about this young man who sacrificed for his country his life, his family, and his potential, giving up all he had and all he was going to be.

In his youth, Lieutenant Bradshaw served his community in Steilacoom, WA, as a search-and-rescue volunteer, as an altar boy, and as a summer camp counselor. Family and friends describe him as a man with "a wry sense of humor" and a deep love for American history.

He graduated from Pacific Lutheran University in the spring of 2007 and joined the Army and began service in Afghanistan in March of 2009. As a member of the U.S. Army, Lieutenant Bradshaw served in the 1st Battalion, 501st Parachute Infantry Regiment, 4th Airborne Brigade Combat Team, 25th Infantry Division, and was stationed at Fort Richardson, AK.

Described as a man who found more meaning in actions than words, it is no surprise that Lieutenant Bradshaw found meaning in his service in Operation Enduring Freedom. In the course of his deployment, he sought to help the less fortunate people of Afghanistan and to improve life for the children there, frequently writing home for packages of gifts to give to local children.

Lieutenant Bradshaw found his voice in the honor and patriotism of the Army. With a father who is a retired National Guard helicopter pilot and a mother who is a retired Army nurse, Lieutenant Bradshaw was a man with the military in his blood.

Thus, it is only fitting the transfer of his remains on June 25 to Bagram Air Force Base was carried out in a cere-monies of honor and patriotism that typifies the ideals of the U.S. Armed Forces.

Sent to retrieve Lieutenant Bradshaw's body were members of the Air National Guard from my home State of Georgia. Outstanding in their mission, they landed in their C-130 carrying night vision goggles in blackout conditions. What appeared to be hundreds of his fellow soldiers in his company stood in formation in the dark as Lieutenant Bradshaw's body was carried aboard the plane.

In a letter to Lieutenant Bradshaw's family, CPT James Adair and MSG Paul Riley of the Georgia Air National Guard, who were present at the ceremony, described the experience:

Everyone we talked to spoke well of him—his character, his accomplishments and how well they liked him. Before closing up the back of the aircraft, one of Brian's men, with tears running down his face, said, "That's my platoon leader, please take care of him."

The world may have been occupied with other things, the media with other stories. But for one brief moment, the war stopped to honor LT Bradshaw.

Mr. President, it is my honor and privilege today to pay tribute to Lieutenant Bradshaw, who illustrates the commitment to excellence, honor, and courage that exemplifies our Nation. It is thanks to citizens such as him that America has been and will continue to be a great and free Nation.

HEALTH CARE REFORM

Mr. REID. Mr. President, we have come so very far.

But there are some who think we should scrap everything we have accomplished and go back to square one. The truth is that throwing out all the great work we have done until now would be a terrible waste of time, energy and hard work.

There are some who do not think now is the right time to reform health care. In reality, for many who feel that way, there will never be a good time to reform health care.

It is easy to talk only about the part of the road we have yet to cover. As any parent knows, for some, the only question is, "Are we there yet?"

But it would be a mistake not to also acknowledge and appreciate the great distance we have traveled.

For generations, we have been working to fix our broken health care system. This has been the No. 1 issue on our agenda for a long time now. Throughout this year alone, we have explored numerous proposals in numer-ous bipartisan roundtables, committee hearings and constituent meetings.

Harry Truman recognized long ago that we must do more to make it easier to live a healthy life in America. Shortly after the Second World War, he launched the VA's own "a full measure of opportunity to achieve and enjoy good health." He knew it was wrong that Americans had no security against what he called “the economic effects of sickness.”

Truman knew in 1945 that “the time has arrived for action to help them attain that opportunity and that protection. In this bill we have done it. But I know Senator Kennedy—the man who, more than any other, has dedicated his life to our fight for fair health care—echoed Truman’s call. He said:

One of the most shameful things about modern America is that in our unbelievably rich land, the quality of health care available to many of our people is unbelievably poor, and the cost is unbelievably high.

Senator Kennedy did not give this speech last month, though it would have been very timely if he had. He did not give it last year, though it would have been equally relevant and true. He did not even give it last decade, or the decade before that.

It was in 1978 when Senator Kennedy described a shameful system. Yet his words and his cause are as urgent today as ever. In fact, since then our need for reform has gotten significantly worse.

Today we are closer than ever to getting it done. But I know Senator Kennedy would not have taken more than 30 years for Truman’s call to compel his echo, that it should not have taken another 30 years for us to come as far as we have today. And I know we cannot afford to wait another 30 years—or even 1 more year—to act.

But for some, more than 60 years of work to stabilize health care for those who have it and secure it for those who don’t is “rushing it.”

Someone who was born when Harry Truman first called for reform in 1945, but lived his or her entire life without the ability to afford health care as it got more and more expensive every year, would today—finally—be just months away from becoming eligible for Medicare. I don’t think that’s “rushing it.”

For too many, the interests of the insurance rackets still outweigh the interests of the American people.

The difference is that those of us who know we cannot wait any longer know that the American people must come first.

Those who oppose the reform we so desperately need like to talk about it in the abstract.

They use code words, scare tactics and sound bites. They rely on misinformation—like the myth that your government wants to control your health—and misrepresent the real issues.

But reforming health care is not about the abstract, because health care isn’t just theoretical. Neither is it about rhetoric or politics. It is about people.

Unlike just about any issue we debate and discuss in this body, health care affects every single living, breathing American citizen.

So I find it curious that in the weeks and months we have talked about health care this year, I haven’t heard our opponents say a single word about real families with real problems—families with real diseases, real medical bills and real fears.

This is what health care is about: It is about people, like Lisa, in Gardnerville, NV. Lisa lost her job and with it her health care. Now she can’t afford to take her sick daughter to the doctor to find out why she gets seizures.

It is about people like Braden in Sparks, NV. Braden owes a hospital $12,000 for a trip to the emergency room—the only place he could afford to go for medical care because he doesn’t have health insurance.

It is about people like Alysia from Las Vegas, NV. Alysia has suffered with a kidney disease since birth, but she can’t get coverage because in the language of the insurance business, her lifelong disease is a preexisting condition.

It is about people like Steve in Henderson, NV. No health insurance company will cover Steve because he has Parkinson’s disease. That doesn’t just mean he can’t get the care he needs to help him cope with this terrible illness. Just imagine what it would be like for Steve to get the flu, or breaks his arm or needs a prescription, he can’t afford any medicine or treatment at all.

It is about people like Lisa, in Reno, NV. Lisa, Braden, Alysia, Steve and Caleb. Caleb was born without legs, and needs new pairs of prosthetics as he grows bigger in his teen years. But his insurance company has decided it knows better than Caleb’s doctors, and has decided that last year’s legs will have to do.

When we say we are fighting for health care reform that lowers costs, we aren’t talking about a balance sheet—we are talking about people like Lisa, Braden, Alysia, Steve and Caleb.

When we are fighting for reform that brings security and stability back to health care, we aren’t talking about policy and contracts—we are talking about people like Lisa, Braden, Alysia, Steve and Caleb.

Our system is broken. But it is just such men who illuminate the life and the history of a Nation.

Today, each of us can be that leader. We each can fulfill the vision of Harry Truman and Lyndon Johnson—each of whom brought honor to this Senate chamber—and of Ted Kennedy, who still does.

Today, if we can each look past our partisan passions and see the patients, the parents, the people who need our help, we can once again renew the life and history of America, and of all Americans.

ENERGY AND WATER APPROPRIATIONS

Mr. KYL. Mr. President, I rise today to speak on my amendment to the fiscal year 2010 Energy and Water Appropriations bill.

This amendment prevents the Department of Energy from spending taxpayer dollars on companies that invest significant resources or do business in Iran’s energy sector to fill the Strategic Petroleum Reserve.

Earlier this year, the Department signed contracts with energy giants like Shell, Vitol, and Glencore to add almost 17 million barrels to the Strategic Petroleum Reserve. Open source material indicates that these three companies make up a majority of Iran’s gasoline imports.

Companies that sell gasoline to Iran should not receive the support of the American taxpayers, and this body has now gone on record multiple times opposing government contracts with companies that have substantial investment in or do business with Iran’s energy sector.

My amendment does not penalize the Department of Energy for this activity, but prevents this sort of thing from happening again. Ending taxpayer support for Iran’s energy sector is a commonsense step and crucially important. Most major importers of gasoline to Iran have substantial ties to the U.S. Government, and unanimous adoption of my amendment sends a clear message to influential companies in the energy sector: You can do business with us, or you can do business with Iran—not both.
Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, during yesterday's consideration of the fiscal year 2010 Energy and Water Development Appropriations bill, I noted that the managers included certain report language related to modeling and simulation capabilities for an unconventional fossil fuels program. I would like to ask the chairman and ranking member of the subcommittee if their intent was to improve modeling and simulation for unconventional fossil energy technologies, by working in collaboration with universities and industry to establish joint programs for research and development.

Mr. DORGAN. Yes, that is our intent. This legislation would spur innovation and improve modeling and simulation efforts.

Mr. WARNER. I am pleased to learn that, because the Virginia Modeling and Simulation Center—VMASC—at Old Dominion University has extensive experience in modeling simulation, and visualization of complex systems and events. Its capabilities include a complete suite of visualization software that can incorporate geospatial information with simulation and analysis of energy related systems and the impact of those systems on various aspects of the environment. It also has extensive experience modeling critical infrastructure components of fossil fuel, electric and natural gas systems. VMASC has developed capabilities for modeling policy aspects of global warming that can be adapted specifically to fossil fuel systems, and help to identify unconventional oil, natural gas, and coal resources.

VMASC has developed capabilities to model the production of unconventional resources using a combination of computational techniques that can be adapted to simulate a wide variety of scenarios associated with the fossil fuel industry and its relationship to environmental impacts.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Chairman, I worked to develop this initiative to incorporate a capability that the Department has failed to cultivate, yet offers tremendous potential to develop our domestic fossil energy potential. The University of Utah’s Simulation and Computing Institute which has worked with both the Office of Science and NNSA computing programs is a leading component of this team with tremendous potential to contribute to this effort. This outstanding computing capability is coupled with the vast oil and gas production capabilities at the 23-year-old Energy and Geoscience Institute. This organization operates on seven continents and shares research and technology with its 66 corporate members that all have energy production experience. The goal of this program will be to facilitate the development of unconventional fossil energy resources utilizing state of the art computing simulation and modeling capabilities.

Mr. DORGAN. I agree that high performance computing applications are important research tools that can help lead to breakthroughs in energy production. North Dakota State University, NDSU, uses computational modeling and simulations to help analyze theories and validate experiments that are dangerous, expensive or impossible to conduct. Through its Center for High Performance Computing, NDSU is collaborating with the Department of Energy and its national laboratories on a number of energy research projects.

This legislation is similar to H.R. 473, recently introduced, S. 1529, the Executive Accountability Act of 2009. This legislation is similar to H.R. 473, introduced in the House of Representatives in January by Mr. Jones of North Carolina.

"Those who cannot learn from history are doomed to repeat it." That is Santayana's Law of Repetitive Consequences, and it is the reason I introduced this legislation—that we might learn from history so that we do not repeat it.

The Executive Accountability Act certainly addresses lessons learned from the debate leading to the Iraq conflict, but it is also a lesson we should have learned, and should have corrected, as a result of executive branch actions leading to and during the Vietnam conflict, World War II, the Mexican War, the Spanish-American War and other points in our history when Presidents have distorted the facts, withheld critical information, or exaggerated claims in order to sway public opinion and congressional will.

History is replete with examples that know no partisan allegiance. Presidents from both parties have fallen into the trap of inflating fear and distorting facts, if not resorting to outright fabrication, in order to win approval for or justify using military force.

Democratic President Lyndon Johnson misled Congress during the Gulf of Tonkin incident in 1964, publicly announcing that a second attack had occurred. On the same day, however, a naval commander in the Gulf of Tonkin cables that a review of the second attack was doubtful, calling for a complete evaluation before any further action was taken. Without the complete facts, Congress passed the Gulf of Tonkin resolution, leading the United States to conduct bombing operations in Cambodia and directing that they be conducted clandestinely. Operational reports of the bombings were either not made or were falsely described as having occurred over South Vietnam rather than Cambodia. A few Members of Congress may have been aware of the bombings, but the remainder of Congress was deceived about the secret bombing campaign over a nation with which the United States was not at war.

Most recently, of course, another President, his Vice President, and other Cabinet officials, used scaremongering tales of "smoking guns" and "mushroom clouds"; of non-existent weapons of mass destruction; dubious tales of mobile biological laboratories; fictional African trips to buy yellowcake; and, improbable and unsupported rumors of alliances between dictators and terrorists to stampede a fearful nation and a spineless Congress into a so-called "preemptive" invasion of another sovereign nation.

President Abraham Lincoln, an opponent of the Mexican-American War during his service in the House of Representatives, well understood the dangers of preemptive war and the need for the constitutional check on executive power inherent in the requirement for a congressional declaration of war or an authorization to use military force. Lincoln condemned President Polk for driving the U.S. into war with Mexico by authorizing bombing operations in disputed territory. Polk then inflamed public and congressional anger by asserting that Mexican soldiers had shed U.S. blood on U.S. soil. Lincoln explained his concerns with his usual eloquence:

"Allow the President to invade a neighboring nation, whenever he shall deem it necessary to repel an invasion, and you allow him to do so, whenever he may choose to say he is necessary—and you allow him to make war at pleasure. Study to see if you can fix any limit to his power in this respect, after you have given him as much as you possibly, today, he should choose to say he thinks it necessary to invade Canada, to prevent the British from invading us, how could you stop him? You may say to him, 'I see no probability of the British invading us,' but he will say to you, 'be silent; I see it, if you don't.'" Lincoln went on to say,

"The provision in the Constitution giving the war-making power to Congress was dictated, as I understand it, for following reasons. Kings had always been involving and impoverishing their people in wars, pre-eminently, if not always, for the good of the people was the object. This, our Convention understood to be the most oppressive of all Kingly oppressions; and they resolved to frame the Constitution that no one man should hold the power of bringing the bombings, but the remainder of Congress was deceived about the secret bombing campaign over a nation with which the United States was not at war.

"Those who cannot learn from history are doomed to repeat it." That is Santayana's Law of Repetitive Consequences, and it is the reason I introduced this legislation—that we might learn from history so that we do not repeat it.
The Framers were absolutely clear about the warming power: they gave the President the authority to lead troops after war was declared and to repel invasions of the United States, but only the Congress could authorize the use of force—the ability to send troops into battle. Framers were well aware of the dangers inherent in vesting the warming decision with a single executive, having the history of the world’s kings and emperors as their foundation.

Our recent history has shown us that a powerful and persuasive executive can, and too often, has used his command of the intelligence and information gathering and dispensing functions of government to paint a distorted picture designed to frighten and sway Congress into ceding even more power to him. Presidents of all political parties have shown themselves to be equally susceptible to the lure of absolute power, making the Executive Accountability Act a non-partisan solution to a deep-seated problem.

S. 1529 restores balance to the system of checks and balances by reinforcing the role of Congress in decisions to use force. Congress does not have millions of civil servants working for it. It does not have its own intelligence community or its own diplomatic corps. Congress must rely upon the executive branch for those missions and for the product of those missions. So Congress must be confident that the information it receives is sound and factual, particularly when that information is used to inform a decision to commit U.S. troops and U.S. treasure to any foreign battlefield. Testimony and communications from the White House and the executive branch must be reliable—not fictional, not distorted, not embellished, not cherry-picked for the purpose of supporting only the decisional outcomes desired by the President.

I urge my colleagues to support S. 1529. It is not retroactive. It will not reach back to affect any statements made by previous administrations. We can learn from the past, make this necessary correction, and move into the future with greater assurance that the most difficult and consequential decisions made by Congress—those involving the use of military force—will be made on the basis of open and frank discussion based on all of the facts.

CONGRESSIONALLY DIRECTED SPENDING ITEMS

Mr. INOUYE. Mr. President, I submit pursuant to Senate rules a report, and the authority of any committee, subcommittee, committee, or office of the Congress.

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. President, I was unavoidably detained for rollcall vote No. 248, passage of H.R. 3183, Energy and Water Development and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2010. Had I been present, I would have voted “yea.”

STENNIS CENTER PROGRAM

Mr. KOHL. Mr. President, for 7 years now, the John C. Stennis Center for Public Service Leadership has conducted a program for summer interns who work in Congress. This 6-week program is designed to enhance their internship experience by giving them an inside view of how Congress really works. It also provides an opportunity for them to meet with senior congressional staff and other experts to discuss issues ranging from the legislative process to the influence of the media and lobbyists on Congress.

The program is a joint effort of the Stennis Center and a number of current and former senior congressional staff who have completed the Stennis Congressional Staff Fellows leadership program. These Stennis Senior Fellows use their expertise and experience to design the program and participate in each of the interactive sessions and panel discussions.

Interns are selected for this program based on their college record, community service background, and interest in a career in public service. This year, 21 outstanding interns, most of them juniors and seniors in college, who are working for Democrats and Republicans in both the House and Senate, participated.

I congratulate the interns for their participation in this valuable program, and I thank the Stennis Center and the Senior Stennis Fellows for providing such a unique experience for these interns and for encouraging them to consider a future career in public service.

I ask unanimous consent to have a list of 2009 Stennis congressional interns and the offices in which they work be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

Matthew Blake, attending the University of South Dakota, interning in the Office of Rep. Stephanie Herseth Sandlin, Jennifer Brody, attending the University of Wisconsin-Madison, interning in the office of Sen. Herb Kohl, Benjamin Kachus, attending Pitzer College of the Claremont Colleges, interning in the House Committee on Science and Technology, Tyler Ernst, attending Michigan State University, interning in the office of Sen. John Barrasso, Susan Gleiser, attending Vanderbilt University, interning...

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

REMEMBERING ROBERT ROSAS

Mrs. BOXER. Mr. President, I am honored to remember U.S. Border Patrol agent Robert Rosas, who was killed in the line of duty at the age of 30.

On July 23, 2009, Agent Rosas was shot and killed after responding to a call in Campo, CA. Every day he placed duty ahead of his personal safety while protecting our Nation’s Southwest border. In spite of the known dangers, Agent Rosas and thousands like him answer the call to service.

Agent Robert Rosas was born and raised in El Centro, a border city in Imperial County. He joined the U.S. Border Patrol in May 2006, and was assigned to the Campo Station in the San Diego sector. Agent Rosas was also a reserve officer for the El Centro Police Department, known as an outstanding officer and a positive role model in the community.

Agent Rosas is survived by his wife Rosalie, age 2, and a daughter, Kayla Alisa, 11 months.

My thoughts and prayers are with Rosalie, Robert, and Kayla Alisa Rosas at this tragic time. They have lost a husband and father. I also send my deepest condolences to Agent Rosas’ colleagues in the Border Patrol service. Theirs is a difficult and too often dangerous job. I commend their service, protecting our Nation, and our people.

COMMENDING DR. GARY V. WHETSTONE

Mr. KAUFMAN. Mr. President, I wish to honor Dr. Gary V. Whetstone, the senior pastor and founder of Victory Christian Fellowship and of Gary Whetstone Worldwide Ministries. He is a Delawarean who, over the past quarter century, has touched the lives of thousands through his proactive and inspirational ministry.

This week marks the 25th anniversary of Pastor Whetstone’s ministry, and it will be celebrated in Wilmington this Thursday through Sunday at the Lion’s Riverfront Activities will include renowned gospel preachers, including T.D. Jakes, Donnie McClurkin, Martha Munizzi, and Rod Parsley.

A man of great charity, Pastor Whetstone established over 85 outreach ministries throughout Delaware and the surrounding area. This includes the very successful “Blessings, Dressings, and More” program, begun more than a decade ago, which serves over 2,500 Delawareans in need with food and clothing each week.

His work with victims of HIV/AIDS, substance and alcohol abuse, and the incarcerated are testament to his mission to improve lives.

His hands-on approach to ministry has not stopped at the State line. Internationally, Pastor Whetstone has founded over 400 Bible schools in countries as far and varied as Ireland, Nigeria, and India. His vision to spread the teachings of his faith across the globe has undoubtedly been furthered by his comprehensive Bible learning programs.

Pastor Whetstone recently presented “Murder What’s Next,” an original dramatic production that teaches about effects on children of being raised in a fatherless home. With its large cast and professional quality, delivers a powerful message about the benefits of involved fathers and of a fatherless home. RECOGNIZING COUNTY SUPER SPUDS

Ms. SNOWE. Mr. President, 2 weeks ago, residents in Aroostook County took part in the 62nd Annual Maine Potato Blossom Festival, a weeklong celebration of the indispensable role agriculture has played in Northern Maine’s economy. Indeed, early in the 20th century, Aroostook County was known as the Potato Capital of America. While the times have changed and varieties of crops have expanded, potato farming remains a prevalent way of life in rural Aroostook County. With this in mind, I wish to recognize a five-generation family-owned small potato company from Mars Hill, County Super Spuds, whose owners, the McCrum family, have been harvesting potatoes in Northern Maine since the mid-1880s.

It was Lemuel McCrum who, in 1886, moved across the border from New Brunswick, Canada, to the small town of Mars Hill in order to establish a future for his family in potato farming. Lemuel and his wife Ada had 14 children, teaching them the value of good stewardship of the land and work ethic, thus ensuring that future McCrums would harvest bountiful crops on the same land. In the 1960s, Dana McCrum, a member of the family’s third generation, moved to a new location in Mars Hill, where County Super Spuds has been situated ever since. The fourth generation of McCrums Jay and David built their farming in the 1970s, and they were joined by their sister’s husband, Bobby Lunney, in 1981. By 2004, the family’s fifth generation, Jay’s sons, Darrell and Wade, and David’s sons, Nicholas and Jonathan, began cultivating their own futures at County Super Spuds.

Since its founding, County Super Spuds has grown into a thriving business that now encompasses three subsidiaries: JDR Transportation family trucking firm launched in 1992; Penobscot McCrum, LLC, a potato processing plant in Belfast that supplies spuds to customers and restaurants around the world; and Sunday River Farms, a 500-acre farming operation in Rumford Point. McCrum family members all operate and manage these firms, which stretch across the State of Maine. Additionally, the McCrum principle of seeking and finding resolutions to issues of quality assurance with their customers was epitomized by their farming in 2006 to begin utilizing a new GPS system. This technique assists the McCrums in accurate equipment placement within its fields in order to maintain the highest quality product for the Nation’s dinner tables.

A proud family with a rich tradition of potato farming, the McCrums have been lauded with prestigious awards on numerous occasions. Jay McCrum was named Young Farmer of the Year in 1986 by the Maine Potato Company from Mars Hill, County Super Spuds received the Maine Potato Board’s highest honor, as they were recognized as the Farmer of the Year. And in 2001, County Super Spuds received the Maine Potato Board’s highest honor, as they were recognized as the Farmer of the Year. These awards exemplify that this family has been and continues to be an example of the dedication and determination of the McCrum spirit to succeed within this prestigious profession through every economic and environmental trial and tribulation.

However, many across Maine, and indeed the Nation, may know County
Super Spuds best for its most recent work. The company was one of five potato growers selected from farms across the Nation by Frito-Lay to star in a nationwide advertising campaign for Lay’s Potato Chips, including television and print media, as well as on-pack displays. Da-County Super Spuds has been working with Lay’s for 23 years, and in that time, the firm has sold approximately 2,300 trailer loads of its delicious potatoes to Frito-Lay. In the television advertising, Bell McCrum, manager for the company’s Northern Maine Farm Operations, states that, “We grow potatoes in New England, and Lay’s makes potato chips in New England, so that’s a pretty good fit.” As part of the ad campaign’s rollout, Darrell was invited to New York City in mid-May to join the four other farmers and ring the opening bell at the New York Stock Exchange. This was a well-placed honor for a truly distinguished family-owned business with such deep roots in the local community. In the ad, simultaneous discusses a photograph showing nearly two dozen family memers, once again showcasing that the McCrums and everyone at County Super Spuds have roots in the local community. He sisplaced honor for a truly distinguished family-owned business with such deep roots in the local community. He si-placed honor for a truly distinguished family-owned business with such deep roots in the local community. He si-

With annual growth of between 11 and 18 percent in recent years, County Super Spuds and the McCrums may have certainly made a positive impact not only within the Maine economy but across this Nation. Their high business acumen and work ethic have distinguished them as a profitable and trusted company. As the McCrum family continues in the footsteps of their forefathers, they remain an invaluable asset in one of Maine’s most presti-tigous and vital industries. I congrat-luate the McCrums and everyone at County Super Spuds for their work to promote the economic well-being of the State and the country, and I wish them continued success in the decades to come.

REPORT RELATIVE TO THE CON-

TINUATION OF THE NATIONAL EMERGENCY WITH RESPECT TO THE ACTIONS OF CERTAIN PERSONS TO UNDERMINE THE SOVEREIGNTY OF LEBANON OR ITS DEMOCRATIC PROCESSES AND INSTITUTIONS—PM 28

The PRESIDING OFFICER laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, together with an accompanying report; which was referred to the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs: To The Congress of the United States:

Section 202(d) of the National Emergency Powers Act (50 U.S.C. 1622(d)) provides for the automatic termination of a national emergency unless, prior to the anniversary date of its declaration, the President publishes in the Federal Register and transmits to the Congress a notice stating that the emergency is to continue in effect beyond the anniversary date. In accordance with this provision, I have sent to the Federal Register for publication the enclosed notice notifying Congress of an emergency declared with respect to the actions of certain persons to undermine the sovereignty of Lebanon or its democratic processes and institutions is to continue in effect beyond August 1, 2009.

In the past 6 months, the United States has used dialogue with the Syr-tian government to address concerns and identify areas of mutual interest, including support for Lebanese sov-

opments in the past year, including the establishment of diplomatic relations and an exchange of ambassadors between Lebanon and Syria, the actions of certain persons continue to contribute to political and economic instability in Lebanon and the region and constitute a continuing unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security and foreign policy of the United States. For these reasons, I have determined that it is necessary to continue the national emergency de-declared on August 1, 2007, to deal with that threat and the related measures adopted on that date to respond to the emergency.

BARACK OBAMA

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE

At 9:58 a.m., a message from the House of Representatives, delivered by Ms. Niland, one of its reading clerks, announced that the House has passed the following bill, in which it requests the concurrence of the Senate:

H.R. 3337. An act to restore sums to the Highway Trust Fund and for other purposes.

At 10:14 a.m., a message from the House of Representatives, delivered by Ms. Niland, one of its reading clerks, announced that the Speaker has signed the following enrolled bills:

S. 1533. An act to provide for an additional temporary extension of certain programs under the Small Business Act and the Small Business Investment Act of 1958, and for other purposes.

H.R. 388. An act to provide for the conveyance of a parcel of land held by the Bureau of Prisons of the Department of Justice in Miami Dade County, Florida, to facilitate the construction of a new educational facility that includes a secure parking area for the Bureau of Prisons, and for other purposes.

The enrolled bills were subsequently signed by the President pro tempore (Mr. BYRD) at 11:51 a.m., a message from the House of Representatives, delivered by Mrs. Cole, one of its reading clerks, ana person other than a surviving spouse, blood relative, or adoptive relative to direct the disposal of a service member’s remains; and

Whereas, before deploying on a combat operation, a service member is asked to designate a person who will be responsible for arranging the service member’s memorial services and overseeing the service member’s burial arrangements;
Whereas, service members fill out DD Form 93, on which they express their last wishes with the expectation that their last wishes regarding memorial services and burial arrangements will be honored; and
Whereas, since 2003, more than 4,000 service members who have served their country honorably have given their lives in combat;
Whereas, a service member deploying on a combat operation in defense of our country should be allowed to designate any person the service member wishes to direct the disposition of the service member’s remains; and
Whereas, H. R. 1633 of the 111th U.S. Congress, the “Honor the Written Intent of our Soldier Heroes Act,” also referred to as the Honor the WISH Act, amends 10 U.S.C. 1682(c) of the United States Code, thereby allowing service members to change charters, thereby reducing regulatory conflicts by opposing efforts to interfere with free markets in order to artificially depress consumer welfare; therefore, be it
Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to the Speaker and the Clerk of the United States House of Representatives, the President and the Secretary of the United States Senate, and each member of Tennessee’s Congressional Delegation.

POM-69. A concurrent resolution adopted by the Senate of the State of Louisiana urging Congress to maintain the private, dual charter banking system as well as to preserve the thrift charter and mutuality; to the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 114
Whereas, the United States currently uses a dual banking system that allows FDIC insured financial institutions to choose between state and federal bank charters and multiple regulators when organizing their business; and
Whereas, the architecture of this dual banking system has been developed over a long period of time, adapted to changing markets, needs and innovations at the national and state level, and has proven remarkably efficient and effective; and
Whereas, FDIC insured banks and thrifts in Louisiana are safe and strong, highly regulated, and have not experienced many of the issues being encountered in the financial services industry at the national level; and
Whereas, Louisiana banks and thrifts have remained true to their core business and have ardently maintained their United States counterparts as a whole, especially in the areas of loan growth, deposit growth, and asset growth; and
Whereas, many of the problems experienced in the financial services industry at the national level were the result of unsound lending practices by loosely regulated, non-FDIC insured banks and thrifts; and
Whereas, as a result of the problems experienced by the financial services industry at the national level and in the economy as a whole, Congress has and will continue to explore ways to restructure the financial services industry; and
Whereas, the United States Department of the Treasury proposed, under its “Blueprint for a Modernized Financial Regulatory Structure,” ending the dual banking system by requiring all state chartered banks and state and federally chartered thrifts to convert to federally chartered banks, thereby eliminating the state bank and thrift charters, thereby eliminating thrifts operating in Louisiana; and
Whereas, eliminating the dual charter banking system would require a large percentage of Louisiana’s banks and thrifts to change charters, thereby reducing regulator options and forcing many financial institutions to accept a federal regulator that may not have the same familiarity, as a state regulator, with the specific needs of a particular financial institution or with the local banking environment; and

Whereas, the United States House of Representatives passed legislation facilitating the ability of cities to access and utilize previously needed municipal projects; to the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 1085
Whereas, Deteriorating conditions in the credit markets have severely diminished the ability of cities to access and utilize previously needed municipal projects; to the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs.

Whereas, for merchants, interchange fees are a legitimate cost of doing business that entitle them to all of the benefits they receive from the payment card system, including cash, checks, ACH, prepaid cards, debit cards, credit cards, and alternative online payment options; and
Whereas, merchants are free to choose not to accept credit cards, debit cards, cash or checks or other payment methods; and
Whereas, consumers could be harmed if the protection of antitrust laws were removed to allow for anti-competitive behavior in connection with negotiation of payment card acceptance and interchange fees; and
Whereas, government imposed price controls on the payment system would make many Louisiana financial institutions less competitive and potentially make them unable to afford issuing payment cards to Louisiana customers, thereby likely decreasing competition and increasing the cost of obtaining credit for consumers; and
Whereas, the United States Department of Justice has strongly warned that antitrust exemptions should be strongly disfavored by Congress, and cautioned that strong antitrust laws are critical to protecting and promoting competition by opposing efforts to interfere with free markets in order to artificially regulate payment system interchange fees; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution shall be transmitted to the speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the President and the Secretary of the United States Senate and the clerk of the United States Senate and the clerk of the House of Representatives of the Legislature of the State of Texas urging Congress to enact legislation facilitating the ability of cities to access and utilize previously needed municipal projects; to the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs.

Whereas, consumers and merchants are free to choose from a selection of payment options to complete their transactions, including cash, checks, ACH, prepaid cards, debit cards, credit cards, and alternative online payment options; and
Whereas, merchants are free to choose not to accept credit cards, debit cards, cash or checks or other payment methods; and
Whereas, service members deploying on a combat operation in defense of our country should be allowed to designate any person the service member wishes to direct the disposition of the service member’s remains; and
Whereas, H. R. 1633 of the 111th U.S. Congress, the “Honor the Written Intent of our Soldier Heroes Act,” also referred to as the Honor the WISH Act, amends 10 U.S.C. 1682(c) of the United States Code, thereby allowing service members to designate any person the service member wishes to direct the disposition of the service member’s remains; and cause the retention of multiple thousands of jobs in many different industries; city projects often include partnerships with the private sector that create a leveraging of mutual interests and maximum economic benefit for the greater community; many city projects are transit oriented, which spurs additional economic benefit; moreover, when combined with the enhancement of public mass transit, they result in reduced highway congestion, reduced air pollution, and reduced dependence on foreign oil.

Whereas, Projects supported by municipal bonds are vetted locally, approved in elections by local voters, and administered locally, thus promoting the highest level of transparency and accountability; and

Whereas, Recently passed amendments to the Troubled Assets Relief Program (TARP) legislation that are contained in H.R. 384, Section 402, clarify the authority of the U.S. Treasury regarding municipal securities; exercising the authority to directly purchase such bonds, and/or provide credit enhancements for them, would provide an opportunity to realize immediate, significant contributions to our economic recovery; and

Whereas, Directly purchasing municipal securities at appropriate interest rates, or providing credit enhancements that allow cities access to traditional market interest rates for bonds, would give the federal government the opportunity to be repaid, with interest; and, it furnishes through the partnership, in addition, providing this relief to the municipal credit markets would result in a significant tax reduction for local taxpayers in the form of dramatically reduced publicly funded interest costs; and

Whereas, Working together to construct an efficient application of the authorization provided in Section 402, will greatly enhance our country’s progress toward economic recovery; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the 81st Texas Legislature hereby respectfully urge the United States Congress to enact legislation facilitating the ability of cities to access appropriate financing for critically needed municipal projects; and, be it further

Resolved, That the chief clerk of the house forward the copies of this resolution to the president of the United States, to the speaker of the house of representatives and the president of the senate of the United States, to the majority leader and the minority leader of the Texas delegation to Congress with the request that this resolution be officially entered in the Congressional Record as a memorial to the Congress of the United States of America.

POM-72. A resolution adopted by the House of Representatives of the Legislature of the State of Texas expressing opposition to any federal legislation that would create an optional federal charter for insurers; to the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs.

House Resolution No. 798

Whereas, For more than 150 years, state insurance regulators have provided effective consumer protection while maintaining nimbleness and responsiveness to the needs of their constitu-ents and of the specific conditions and characterististics that apply in their insurance marketplace; they are able to assess and respond to changing circumstances specific to their states with appropriate modifications to regulatory frameworks; and

Whereas, A federal charter system would permit companies to circumvent carefully crafted consumer protection laws and strong state regulations that seek to put the interests of individuals in place by individual states; proponents of such a federal system have cited the recent collapse of the American International Group as justification for a federal charter; but in fact, the insurance subsidiaries of AIG that are regulated at the state level have generally retained their value while federal oversight has essentially gutted the midtown of the parent company; and

Whereas, Given the faltering economy, it is more important than ever for state officials to exercise strong oversight of the insurance industry for the benefit of consumers and to maintain the stability of insurance companies; moreover, premium taxes on insurance are a significant source of revenue for the general funds of all states, providing more than two percent of state tax revenues according to the United States Census; experts are concerned that a federal charter could eventually draw away from the states more than $14 billion in premium taxes and fees; and

Whereas, The bifurcation of the insurance regulation system is unnecessary and likely to promote confusion, ambiguity, and fragility in the control of productive new financial services, federal bureaucracy that would inevitably be less nimble and responsive than state regulatory systems, while weakening the ability of states to protect the interests of their residents; the McCarran-Ferguson Act of 1945 affirmed the role of states as principal regulators of insurers, and there is no compelling reason to devolve authority for regulation of the insurance industry to the federal government.

Resolved, That the House of Representa-tives of the 81st Texas Legislature hereby express its opposition to any federal legislation that would create an optional federal charter for insurers; and, be it further Resolved, That the chief clerk of the Texas House of Representatives forward official copies of this resolution to the president of the United States, to the speaker of the house of representatives, the president of the senate of the United States Congress, to the members of the U.S. House Financial Services Committee, to the members of the U.S. Senate Banking Committee, to the U.S. Secretary of the Treasury, and to all members of the Texas delegation to Congress with the request that this resolution be officially entered in the Congressional Record of the United States of America.

POM-73. A concurrent resolution adopted by the Senate of the State of Louisiana memorializing Congress to consider appropriate legislation that would require the Federal Communications Commission to regulate auditory volume standards for commercial advertisements broadcast on television; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 49

Whereas, the major focus of the Wood Products Development Foundation is the expansion or development of new uses of wood and wood waste products that result in a positive impact on the economic conditions of the state; and

Whereas, the timber industry has experienced a serious decline in recent years, and this downturn will continue unless new uses are developed in the immediate future; and

Whereas, after studying numerous potential industries, the foundation determined a project to generate demand for food-based agricultural products and materials for an indefinite period; and

Whereas, to capitalize on these fleeting and costly time periods, many advertisers re-sort to an excessive volume of commercials. In the decibel level of commercials during a telecast in comparison to the programming in which each advertisement is embedded, all in an effort to grab the attention of the viewer and to market the product; and

Whereas, these erratic, excessive volume levels sometimes have an adverse effect on the well-being of consumers and often have a negative effect on consumer behavior, purchasing decisions, and viewing preferences; and

Whereas, proposed legislation introduced in the 111th Congress for 2009–2010, H.R. 1084: Commercial Advertisement Loudness Mitigation Act (CALM), referred to the House Committee on Energy and Commerce, addresses this controversial issue; and

Whereas, implementation of CALM would order the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), to create and to enforce governmental regulations that require that the volume level of commercials on television is broadcast at an equal auditory level as the programming in which they are aired; and

Whereas, commercial advertisement makes the entertainment and information of over-the-air television a myraid of products and services to public view, and sustains mass communication as an integral part of market-driven economics; and

Whereas, to address the controversial issue that would require the Federal Communications Commission to regulate auditory volume standards for commercial advertisements broadcast over commercial airwaves falls within the purview of federal regulation, and that control is essential to the commercial sensibility of the viewing public: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Louisiana legislature memorializes the Congress of the United States to consider appropriate legislation that would require the Federal Communications Commission to regulate auditory volume standards for commercial advertisements broadcast on television; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution shall be transmitted to the secretary of the United States Senate and the clerk of the United States House of Representatives and to each member of the Louisiana delegation to the United States Congress.
Whereas, these wood to electricity projects provide an additional market for raw wood products even in a distressed market, provide an additional source of electricity at a market price, and provide a dedicated electrical source available locally to supply viable defense structures and critical facilities in times of natural disaster and war; and

Whereas, the foundation has completed plans for two centrally located plants within the state that will use wood waste products from wood producers and can have significant adverse impact on the economy in terms of construction and start-up costs and will create a minimum of thirty permanent full-time jobs at the plant sites and approximately one hundred jobs for suppliers of the wood fuel feedstock; and

Whereas, in the last several months, significant regional job losses in the wood industry have made this ever more vital to securing new alternatives for value-added market activity related to the wood resources of the state; and

Whereas, they are the current need for additional funding to complete the necessary regulatory, environmental, engineering, and administrative functions to fulfill the required construction loan approvals; Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Louisiana General Assembly, memorializing the Congress to review and consider, does hereby urge and request the Louisiana congressional delegation to take appropriate action to ensure the following:

(1) Any federally mandated renewable portfolio standard contain provisions whereby states with limited, currently available, affordable energy sources such as Louisiana, be allowed to utilize verifiable energy efficiency improvements to existing loads to meet a minimum of sixty percent of any such standard.

(2) That the state be allowed to set up a mechanism whereby Louisiana utility companies taking action in advance of the imposition of any standards be allowed to bill any energy efficiency savings and renewable energy production achieved in order to help meet the requirements under any such standard.

(3) That tax credits and rebates offered by the state of Louisiana or any local jurisdiction within the state be declared by the Internal Revenue Service to be nontaxable income and will not reduce the tax credit basis of any federal energy efficiency or renewable energy tax credit.

(4) That mandates for renewable energy production that is not dispatchable and reliable be limited to no more than ten percent of the required production standard.

(5) That any energy efficiency and renewable energy standard be based on a percentage of total energy consumption, not just electrical energy consumption, regardless of how it is implemented and collected; and, be it further

Resolved, that a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to the Louisiana congressional delegation, the governor, the Department of Economic Development, the Department of Agriculture and Forestry, and the Public Service Commission to assist in providing funding for any necessary additional requirements, documentation, or studies that may be needed to secure long-term funding, and to assist in developing state and federal policies for wood to electricity projects that put them on a commensurate funding and taxation level with wind and solar generated electricity; and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to the Louisiana congressional delegation, the governor, the Department of Economic Development, the Department of Agriculture and Forestry, and the Public Service Commission.

POM-75. A concurrent resolution adopted by the Senate of the State of Louisiana memorializing Congress to support the American Clean Energy and Security Act of 2009; to the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 158

Whereas, a federally mandated energy efficiency standard for utilities is currently being debated in Congress; and

Whereas, federal standards for the regulation of greenhouse gases, primarily carbon dioxide, are also being actively debated in Congress; and

Whereas, Louisiana’s coast is comprised of forty percent of the nation’s coastal wetlands and it recognizes the importance of coordinated and effective actions to reduce the emissions of these chemicals; and

Whereas, in areas of the country with limited wind and hydroelectric resources, renewable energy standards, if improperly implemented, can have significant adverse impacts on non-participating ratepayers; and

Whereas, renewable energy resources that are non-dispatchable and non-reliable do not reduce costs or increase reliability and thus present an undue adverse impact on non-participating ratepayers; and

Whereas, energy efficiency can produce energy and demand savings for a fraction of the cost of most forms of renewable energy; and

Whereas, renewable portfolio standards are traditional energy sources, including nuclear energy, large compared to heating dominated climates; and

Whereas, in air conditioning-dominated climates, electrical energy usage is a much larger fraction of total energy usage large compared to heating dominated climates; and

Whereas, heating energy sources such as heating oil pose both environmental and national security, as they contribute to air pollution emissions and increased oil imports: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Senate of the Louisiana by the 111th Congress of the United States to support the American Clean Energy and Security Act of 2009; and be it further

Resolved, that the legislature of Louisiana does hereby urge and request the Louisiana congressional delegation to take appropriate action to ensure the following:

(1) Any federally mandated renewable portfolio standard contain provisions whereby states with limited, currently available, affordable energy sources such as Louisiana, be allowed to utilize verifiable energy efficiency improvements to existing loads to meet a minimum of sixty percent of any such standard.

(2) That the state be allowed to set up a mechanism whereby Louisiana utility companies taking action in advance of the imposition of any standards be allowed to bill any energy efficiency savings and renewable energy production achieved in order to help meet the requirements under any such standard.

(3) That tax credits and rebates offered by the state of Louisiana or any local jurisdiction within the state be declared by the Internal Revenue Service to be nontaxable income and will not reduce the tax credit basis of any federal energy efficiency or renewable energy tax credit.

(4) That mandates for renewable energy production that is not dispatchable and reliable be limited to no more than ten percent of the required production standard.

(5) That any energy efficiency and renewable energy standard be based on a percentage of total energy consumption, not just electrical energy consumption, regardless of how it is implemented and collected; and, be it further

Resolved, that a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to the Louisiana congressional delegation, the governor, the Department of Economic Development, the Department of Agriculture and Forestry, and the Public Service Commission.

POM-76. A concurrent resolution adopted by the Senate of the State of Louisiana memorializing Congress to review and consider enacting the Social Security Fairness Act of 2009 (H.R. 235 or R.S. 484) or a similar instrument; and be it further Resolved, that a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to the secretary of the United States Senate and the clerk of the United States House of Representatives and to each member of the Louisiana delegation to the United States Congress.

By Mr. DODD (for himself, Mr. KENNEDY, Mrs. MURRAY, and Mr. LIEBERMAN):

S. 1543. A bill to amend the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 and title 5, United States Code, to provide leave for family members of members of regular components of the Armed Forces, and leave to care for covered veterans, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions.

Mr. DODD. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce the Supporting Military Families Act of 2009.

The sacrifices made by our soldiers, sailors, airmen, Marines, and Coast Guard are matched only by those made by their families. When a loved one is serving abroad, and in cases where he or she returns wounded, it can take an immense emotional toll on a family.

But it does not have to take an equally staggering economic toll.

I am introducing this bill to strengthen and improve upon provisions included in the National Defense Authorization Act of 2008, which provided important benefits for family members of our brave service men and women.

More than 20 years ago, I began the effort to bring job protection to hard-working Americans so they wouldn’t have to choose between the family they love and the job they need. This effort, after more than seven years, three presidents, and two vetoes, eventually led to the enactment of the Family Medical Leave Act, FMLA, which provides 12 weeks of unpaid leave for eligible employees so they may care for a newborn or adopted child, their own serious illness, or the serious illness of a loved one.

Since its passage, I have worked to expand this Act to cover more workers and to provide for paid leave, so that more employees can afford to take leave when necessary.

We must also ensure that we care for the health and well-being of our war heroes, many of whom return from deployment with serious injuries and illnesses. Two years ago, I introduced legislation to provide up to 6 months of FMLA leave for families of members of servicemembers who suffer from a combat-related injury or illness. The FMLA currently provides three months of unpaid leave to a spouse, parent, or child acting as a caregiver for a person with a serious illness. However, some of those injured in service to our country rely on other family members or friends to care for them as they recover, and many of those injuries take longer than 3 months to heal from.

That is why, following a recommendation from the President on Care for America’s Returning Wounded Warriors, headed by former Senator Bob Dole and former Secretary of Health and Human Services Donna Shalala, I offered this legislation. It was included in the 2008 National Defense Authorization Act, along with another provision providing exigency leave for servicemembers’ families, which allows the families of deployed servicemembers to take leave to manage their family or personal affairs. Two years ago, I introduced legislation to provide leave when necessary.

Two years ago, I introduced legislation to provide leave when necessary.

These two provisions were important steps toward giving our servicemembers and their families the support they need during extremely challenging times. The legislation I introduced today builds on those efforts and will accomplish three things. First, a number of service-related illnesses and injuries may not manifest themselves until after a servicemember has left the military, including traumatic brain injury and post traumatic stress disorder. This bill would extend 26 weeks of unpaid leave to family members and veterans of service for up to five years after a veteran leaves service, if the that commitment, providing benefits, especially important to honor our comrades to serve our country, and it is affordable housing.

The Department of Veterans Affairs estimates that more than 200,000 veterans experience homelessness each year and that nearly 1/5 of all homeless people in the United States are veterans. These numbers are expected to climb as our forces are deployed to a foreign country, and not only in support of a contingency operation, but also in support of a contingency operation in Afghanistan. The VA is recognizing that on any given night, 131,000 homeless veterans are homeless veterans and veterans at risk of becoming homeless.

First, this bill would create a new Homelessness Prevention program that would enable the VA to provide more comprehensive and coordinated assistance to veterans who have fallen into homelessness. Specifically, the VA could provide short-term rental assistance, housing relocation and stabilization services, the ability to resolve personal credit issues, payments for security deposits or utility costs, and assistance for moving costs. These up-front expenses can be the major obstacle that puts low-income or unemployed veterans at risk of becoming homeless. These homelessness prevention and rapid re-housing techniques have been successfully used in numerous communities to significantly reduce family homelessness, and this bill would give the VA resources to put these strategies into practice.

Second, this bill would authorize additional housing vouchers through the HUD-Veterans Affairs Supportive Housing, VASH, program. This collaborative program provides homeless veterans with vouchers to rent apartments in the private rental market, as well as case management and clinical services at local VA medical centers. In this way, veterans receive the supportive housing they need to recover and thrive. The HUD–VASH program has grown in recent years. Twenty thousand vouchers were funded in the first two appropriations cycles, and 10,000 more were funded in Fiscal Year 2010. However, more homeless veterans could benefit from this important resource. As such, the Zero Tolerance for Veterans Homelessness bill authorizes up to 10,000 additional vouchers each year to reach a maximum of 60,000 vouchers.

Third, this legislation would make it easier for non-profits to apply for capital grants through the VA’s grants and per diem program to build transitional housing and other facilities for veterans. This would streamline the process for non-profit organizations to be able to use financing from other sources to break ground on new housing construction. This is particularly important in the current economy, when non-profits are stretched and have to be more creative than ever to fund new capital projects.

The Zero Tolerance for Veterans Homelessness Act would also create a Special Assistant for Veterans Affairs within HUD. The Special Assistant would ensure that veterans have access to HUD’s existing programs and work to remove any barriers. The Special Assistant would also serve as a liaison between the VA and HUD, helping to connect and coordinate the services the two departments provide.

Additionally, this legislation recognizes the need to measure progress of efforts to combat homelessness. It establishes a new Homeless Veterans Management Information System, to be developed by the VA, in consultation with HUD and the United States Interagency Council on Homelessness. This data collection system will be used to provide annual reports to Congress on the number of homeless veterans and types of assistance they receive. This information will help illustrate how programs are performing and inform future policy. Finally, the bill would require the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, in consultation with other agencies, to analyze existing programs and develop a comprehensive plan with recommendations on how to end homelessness among veterans. Establishing a plan with appropriate benchmarks will enable the VA to more easily track progress towards this important goal.

This bipartisan bill also complements a bill that I am cosponsoring with Senator MURRAY to enable programs at the VA and the Department of Labor to better serve homeless women veterans and homeless veterans with children.

Only by working together, across the federal government and in partnership with non-profits and local housing authorities, will we be able to comprehensively help homeless veterans and reach those in danger of becoming homeless. We owe it to our veterans to ensure that they and their families have safe, affordable places to live and to provide the services and benefits they have earned. The nation’s brave veterans deserve nothing less.

I hope my colleagues will join in supporting this important, bipartisan legislation.

S. 1547. A bill to amend title 38, United States Code, and the United States Housing Act of 1937 to enhance and expand the assistance provided by the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Department of Housing and Urban Development to homeless veterans and veterans at risk of homelessness, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, today I introduce the Zero Tolerance for Veteran Homelessness Act. This comprehensive bill enhances and expands the assistance provided by the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Department of Housing and Urban Development to homeless veterans and veterans at risk of becoming homeless.

It is one of our Nation’s great tragedies that on any given night, 131,000 veterans are homeless. The Department of Veterans Affairs estimates that more than 200,000 veterans experience homelessness each year and that nearly 1/5 of all homeless people in the United States are veterans. These numbers are expected to climb as our forces are deployed to a foreign country, and not only in support of a contingency operation, but also in support of a contingency operation in Afghanistan. By Mr. SPECTER (for himself, Mr. REED, and Mr. KAUFMAN):

S. 1551. A bill to amend section 20 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to allow for a private right of action against a person that provides substantial assistance in violation of such Act; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

The Act’s main anti-fraud provision, §10(b), makes it “unlawful for any person, directly or indirectly,” to commit acts of fraud “in connection with the purchase or sale of any security.” Nearly fifty years ago the Court implied a private right of action under §10(b). The result was that investors could recover financial losses caused by violations of 10(b) and the companion regulation issued by the SEC commonly known as “Rule 10b-5.”

Until Central Bank, every circuit of the Federal Court of Appeals had concluded that §10(b)’s private right of action allowed recovery only against the person who directly undertook a fraudulent act—the so-called primary violator—but also anyone who aided and abetted him. A five-Judge majority in Central Bank, intent on narrowing §10(b)’s scope, held that its private right of action extended only to primary violators.

When Congress debated the legislation that became the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, PSLRA, then-SEC chairman Arthur Levitt and others urged Congress to overturn Central Bank. Congress declined to do so. The PSLRA authorized only the Securities and Exchange Commission, SEC, to bring aiding-and-abetting enforcement litigation.

Time is up for the Court to rule on that judgment. The massive frauds involving Enron, Refco, Tyco, Worldcom, and countless other lesser-known companies during the last decade have taught us that a stock issuer’s auditors, bankers, business affiliates, and lawyers—sometimes called “secondary actors”—all too often actively participate in and enable the issuer’s fraud. Federal Judge Gerald Lynch recently observed in a decision calling on Congress to re-examine Central Bank that secondary actors have sometimes been indi- dispensably implicated in wrongful conduct.” In re Refco, Inc. Sec. Litig., 609 F. Supp. 2d. 304, 318 n.15, S.D.N.Y.
They deserve a good education today and the Opportunity Scholarships respond to that need.

Much progress has been made in improving DC schools over the years but even school Chancellor Michelle Rhee admits that much remains to be done. According to the Washington Post, Chancellor Rhee was asked recently to give herself a grade for her efforts. She said she would give herself a failing grade as long as adequate scores in schools that were not providing a quality education. That’s a modest answer that obscures the progress she has made. DC test scores are up in the most recent study of academic performance. Undoubtedly, we will need additional improvements in the years to come. Chancellor Rhee will continue to have my full support and I am confident that Ms. Rhee will soon be able to claim the “A” grade that I believe she already deserves. In the new bill, we have made the connection between the scholarship program and the ongoing reform effort more explicit. Our bill acknowledges an intent to reexamine the program when school principals and students are testing at the national average in reading and math.

The bill also responds to early criticisms of the Opportunity Scholarships with some important changes. It requires all participating schools to have a valid certificate of occupancy and to ensure that teachers in core subjects have an appropriate college degree. It continues to target students from lower-income families who are attending the DC school that is in need of improvement but it increases the tuition amounts slightly to levels consistent with the tuition charged at a typical participating school, and adds an inflation adjustment. The new bill is still well below the per pupil cost of educating a child in the DC public schools. While we have kept the income ceiling for entry into the program unchanged, we have increased slightly the income limits to those already participating in the program to ensure that parents are not forced to choose between a modest raise in their income and the scholarship, or marriage and the scholarship.

It is very important to recognize that the Opportunity Scholarship schools are producing impressive results. Opportunity Scholarship students attending private schools showed a five month advantage in reading levels compared to students in public schools who applied but did not receive the scholarship, in the most recent study of the program conducted by the Department of Education’s Institute of Education Sciences. The study showed significantly higher parental satisfaction with regards to safety and the quality of the school for those in the program. The study has not yet even looked at the effect of the program on graduation rates and attrition through studies of other programs indicate this impact could very well be significant. We will see those results in next year’s study.
It is also imperative to put the results of the program in context. Rarely are there statistically significant results with any educational innovations, particularly those targeted at low income students. Of the eleven recent innovations studied under the auspices of the Department of Education using the same rigorous testing designs, only three showed any statistically significant achievement results. The Opportunity Scholarship was one of them. Dr. Patrick Wolf, an education specialist and the lead researcher in the IES study, testified at a recent hearing on the scholarship program that in his professional opinion the results were exceptional and warranted continued study of the program. According to Dr. Wolf, "by demonstrating statistically significant impacts overall in reading based on an experimental evaluation, the DC OSP has met a tough standard for efficacy in serving low-income inner-city students."

Academic programs should be evaluated in terms of their impact on students' progress and achievement. In his speech before the Hispanic Chamber of Commerce earlier this year, President Obama laid down that marker as a guideline for considering which education programs should be funded. On that basis, it is clear that we should continue to fund the DC Opportunity Scholarship Program—a program that has been good for students, good for parents and even good for public and charter schools in the District. Let us do the right thing for kids in DC and reauthorize the DC Opportunity Scholarship Program.

Mrs. Feinstein, Mr. President, I am pleased to join Senator Lieberman and my Senate colleagues in introducing legislation to reauthorize the District of Columbia's pilot scholarship program for 5 more years. This important program currently provides scholarships to 1,700 low-income children who attend 49 private schools in the District. The scholarships provide these children help these students pay for tuition and transportation expenses to school.

However, if the program is not extended soon, children will not be able to continue their education at the schools of their choice. This legislation would:

- Extend the life of the District of Columbia's pilot scholarship program for five more years.
- Increase the program's funding to $20 million for fiscal year 2010 and as may be necessary the following four years to allow new students to participate in the program and provide a higher scholarship.
- Increase the scholarship amount to $9,000 for children in kindergarten through 8th grade, and $11,000 for youngsters in high school—this amount is still lower than the $15,500 cost of educating a public school student in the District and will help low-income families afford the high cost of private school tuition.
- Protect low-income families whose children are already in the program from "earning out" of it by setting the maximum income level for them at 300 percent of the Federal poverty level, about $63,000 for a family of four.
- It would improve evaluation by assessing students' college admission rates, school safety, and the reasons why parents choose to participate in the program to better learn about its impact on children's lives and their families.
- If students entered the program 5 years ago, they were performing in the bottom third on reading and math tests.
- Students are now improving academically—despite the many challenges that these children face outside the classroom living in some of the District's toughest neighborhoods.
- The most recent evaluation from this past April by the Education Department's Institute of Education Sciences found that although math test scores have not increased so far, there are significant gains being made in reading test scores.
- Specifically, pilot program students scored 4.5 points higher in reading on the SAT-9 national standardized test with a total score of 635.4 when compared to the District's public school students' score of 630.9. This means students are making gains in reading test scores by the equivalent of 3 months of additional schooling, and moved to the 35th percentile from 33rd percentile where they were before entering the program.
- These youngsters still have much more catching up to do, but they are improving at an important rate.

I believe the results of the more comprehensive evaluation of student performance that will be released next spring are critical. Next year's evaluation will also include important data on the program's impact on students' college enrollment and how the District's public schools are changing in response to the pilot program.

I would like to share two examples of how the program has helped to change the lives of the District's most disadvantaged youngsters and give them a chance to succeed. Shirley-Ann Tomasio is the 8th grade Valedictorian at Sacred Heart Middle School, located in the District's neighborhood of Columbia Heights. The scholarship allowed Shirley-Ann to attend Sacred Heart School for the past four years since 5th grade. She will be attending Georgetown Visitation in September for high school.

She wants to go to college and become a surgeon. Shirley-Ann said at her 8th grade graduation speech this past June:

"The DC OSP (Opportunity Scholarship Program) is important to me because without it I would not be able to receive the best education possible. It should continue so that my brother, sister, and other students get the same chance. Every child should get the chance to go to a good school."

Oscar Machado is a graduate of Archbishop Carroll High School where he was on Honor Roll. Oscar is attending Mount Saint Mary's University in Maryland in the fall and plans to major in biology. He received three college scholarships that will cover nearly all of this tuition.

He was in the pilot program for 4 years. At Archbishop Carroll High, he was President of the Robotics Team where he used pre-engineering skills to build robots, and also played the saxophone in the school band.

When speaking of his experience as a D.C. Opportunity Scholarship recipient Oscar said:

"The scholarship was great. It gave me the opportunity to attend a school I otherwise couldn't have attended. Oscar hopes that the same opportunity should be available to other students."

The program should listen to students like Oscar and Shirley-Ann, and continue to provide this important program to the District's neediest children. I look forward to working with my Senate colleagues to pass this legislation.

SUBMITTED RESOLUTIONS

SENATE RESOLUTION 231—EXPRESSION OF THE SENSE OF THE SENATE THAT ANY HEALTH CARE REFORM PROPOSAL SHOULD SLOW THE LONG-TERM GROWTH OF HEALTH CARE COSTS AND REDUCE THE GROWTH RATE OF FEDERAL HEALTH CARE SPENDING

Mr. Bennett (for himself, Mr. Wyden, Mr. Wicker, Mr. Johanns, Mr. Coburn, and Mr. Crapo) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Finance:

S. Res. 231

Whereas health care spending has risen close to 2.4 percentage points faster than gross domestic product (GDP) since 1970; and

Whereas the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services projects health care spending to be 17.6 percent of GDP in 2009 and 20.4 percent of GDP by 2018; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Senate that:

1. Any health care reform proposal should reduce total spending on health care in the United States during the next decade to below current projections by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services; and

2. Any health care reform proposal should reduce the growth rate of Federal health care spending.
Mr. President, today I am submitting a resolution on the future of health care spending. It is both simple and straightforward. It states that health care reform shouldn’t cost the Federal Government more money. As health care proposals have flowed from the Congressional Budget Office, we have seen figures ranging from $767 billion to over $1 trillion. In fact, when asked point blank in a Senate Budget Committee hearing if the current proposals would help bend the cost-curve of health care spending in this country, CBO Director Elmendorf replied that it would worsen an already bleak budget outlook, increase deficit projections and drive the nation further into debt. It would raise, instead of lower, the cost-curve of health care spending and, simply iterated, this nation cannot afford it.

Already this year Congress has spent $767 billion on a stimulus package with diminutive effects, passed an omnibus appropriations package and an emergency supplemental appropriations with a price tag of $105.9 billion. We cannot continue to spend as if there is an endless supply of resources and as if this spending doesn’t affect American families.

I am an advocate for health reform. I have cosponsored the Healthy Americans Act with Senator Wyden because we need to reform our country’s health care system. However, I believe we need to do it in a way that does not significantly increase the federal responsibility for health care costs.

This resolution expresses the Sense of the Senate that health care reform proposals should reduce total spending on health care in the United States during the next decade to levels below current projections by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services and reduce the growth rate of Federal health care spending only if this is fiscally responsible but it should be our goal. Health care reform at the expense of our economy is not reform we should support.

SENATE RESOLUTION 232—CELEBRATING THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE TILLAMOOK COUNTY CREAMERY ASSOCIATION

Mr. WYDEN (for himself and Mr. MERRICK) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary:

Whereas the Tillamook County Creamery Association is celebrating its 100th anniversary as a world-famous, farmer-owned cooperative dedicated to producing the highest quality cheeses and other products from local dairies;

Whereas the members of the Tillamook County Creamery Association are great supporters of the local and State dairy industries and are committed stewards of the environment;

Whereas the Tillamook County Creamery Association has won hundreds of awards, including 6 awards at the 2009 Oregon Dairy Industry Contest and 6 awards at the 2008 National Milk Producers Federation annual cheese contest;

Whereas for the third year in a row, the Tillamook County Creamery Association was recognized by the Portland Business Journal as one of Oregon’s “Most Admired Companies”;

Whereas the Tillamook County Creamery Association has earned a reputation as one of the Nation’s premier makers of cheese; and

Whereas for these reasons, the Tillamook County Creamery Association, known throughout the world for its Tillamook cheddar cheese, is an Oregon icon: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate supports the 100th anniversary celebration of the Tillamook County Creamery Association.

RECOGNIZING BISHOP MUSEUM

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent the Judiciary Com- mittee be discharged from further con- sideration of S. Res. 195 and the Senate proceed to its immediate consid- eration.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered. The clerk will report the resolution by title.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A resolution (S. Res. 186) recognizing Bishop Museum in Honolulu, Hawai’i, on whose premises Rees-Bishop in memory of his beloved wife, Princess Bernice Pauahi Bishop, the great grand- daughter of Kamehameha I, to house the per- sonal belongings of the royal Ka- mehameha and Kalākaua families; and

Whereas the mission of Bishop Museum since its inception has been to study, pre- serve, and share stories of the cultural and natural history of Hawai’i and the Pacific; and

Whereas the collections of Bishop Museum include more than 24,000,000 objects, collect- ively the largest Hawai’i and Pacific area collection in the world, which includes more than 1,200,000 cultural objects representing Native Hawaiian, Pacific Island, and Hawai’i immigrant life, more than 120,000 historical publications (including many in the Hawai- ian language), more than 1,000,000 historical photographs, films, works of art, audio re- cordings, and more than 22,000,000 plant and animal specimens; and

Whereas a primary goal of Bishop Museum is to serve and represent the interests of Na- tive Hawaiians by advancing Native Hawai- ian culture and education, protecting the collections and increasing access to them, and strengthening the museum’s connections with the schools of Hawai’i; and

Whereas the national significance of Bishop Museum’s cultural collection lies in the Native Hawaiian collection, which collect- ively represents the largest publicly held re- source in the world documenting a way of life, and has been a source of knowledge and inspiration for numerous visitors, research- ers, artists, craftsmen, teachers, and community and spiritual leaders over the years, especially since the cultural re- vival, which has been steadily growing and gaining in popularity; and

Whereas more than 300,000 people visit Bishop Museum each year to learn about Ha- waiian culture and experience Hawaiian Hall; and

Whereas the desire to see Hawaiian Hall and to learn about Hawaiian culture is the primary reason of those who each year give for visiting Bishop Museum; and

Whereas Hawaiian Hall is the Nation’s only showcase of its size, proportion, design, and historic context devoted to the magnificent legacy of Hawai’i’s kings and queens, and the legacies of its Native Hawai- ian people of all walks of life and ages; and

Whereas Hawaiian Hall, constructed be- tween 1889 and 1903 and 1 of 3 interconnected structures known as the Hawaiian Hall Complex, is considered a masterpiece of late Vic- torian museum design with its Kamehameha blue stone exterior quarried on site and ex- tensive use of native koa wood, and is one of the few examples of Romanesque Richardsonian style museum buildings to have survived essentially unchanged; and

Whereas Hawaiian Hall, designed by noted Hawai’i architects C.B. Ripley and C.W. Dickey in 1886, was placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1962 based on its unique combination of architectural, cul- tural, scientific, educational, and historical significance; and

Whereas the restoration and renovation of Hawaiian Hall and its exhibits by noted Hawai’i architect Glenn Mason and noted na- tional and international museum exhibit de- signer Ralph Appelbaum are integral to the museum’s ability to fulfill its mission and achieve its primary goal of serving and rep- resenting the interests of Native Hawaiians; and

Whereas the restoration and renovation of Hawaiian Hall, begun in 2005, included the building of a new gathering place in an enclosed, glass walled atrium, improved access to the hall through the installation of an ele- vator in the new atrium to all 3 floors of the hall and other buildings in the Hawaiian Hall Complex, improved collection preservation through the installation of new, state-of-the-art environmental controls, lighting, secu- rity, and fire suppression systems, and re- stored or replaced all exhibit and metalwork; and

Whereas the restoration and renovation of the hall’s exhibits bring multiple voices and a Native Hawaiian perspective to bear on the history of Hawai’i and the Pacific, con- veying the essential values, beliefs, complexity, and achievements of Hawaiian culture through exquisite and fragile artifacts in a setting that emphasizes their “mana” (power and es- sence) and the place in which they were cre- ated; and

Whereas the new exhibit incorporates contem- porary Native Hawaiian artwork illustrat- ing traditional stories, legends, and prac- tices, and contemporary Native Hawaiian voices interpreting the practices and tradi- tions of the original artwork through multi- media and video presentations; and

Whereas the new exhibit features more than 2,000 objects and images from the muse- um’s collections on the open floor, me- zzanine, and central space, conceptually organized to represent 3 traditional realms or “wao” of the Hawaiian world—Kai Akea, the expansive sea from which gods and peo- ple came; Wao Lani, the realm of gods and the “ali’i” (chiefs) who descended from them; and

Whereas the new exhibit’s ending display celebrates the contributions and achieve- ments of Native Hawaiians with a large 40- panel mural titled “Ho’ohuli, To Cause An Overturning, A Change”, made by students from Waikīkī side schools in col- laboration with Native Hawaiian artists and other students, and interpreted by Native Hawaiian artists and teachers in a video presentation; and

Whereas the people of the United States wish to convey their sincerest appreciation to Bishop Museum for its service and devo- tion; Now, therefore, be it

Resolved. That the Senate—

(1) recognizes the reopening of historic Ha- waiian Hall on the 120th anniversary of the founding of Bishop Museum in Honolulu, Hawai’i; and

(2) on the occasions of the reopening and anniversary of the museum, honors and praises Bishop Museum for its work to en- sure the preservation, study, education, and appreciation of Native Hawaiian culture and history.
