

Nationwide Children's in Columbus is an Ohio Healthy Weight Outcome member, one of ten teams selected to participate in the National Health Weight Collaborative. Funded through the Affordable Care Act, the Collaborative's mission is to optimize health outcomes in children by implementing a multilevel obesity prevention and treatment demonstration project in a low-income area. Nationwide and the Ohio Healthy Weight Outcomes Program are implementing the Healthy Neighborhood Healthy Family (HNHF) zone with the goal of reducing the obesity rate in Columbus fifth graders by 10 percent in 5 years.

And Cincinnati Children's Hospital is working with both children and their parents to make simple yet effective dietary changes. The hospital is also working with local school districts to increase children's consumption of fruits and vegetables and replace sugary drinks in school lunches. Additionally, through a partnership with U.S. Bank and the Boys and Girls Club, over 3,000 children participated in Cincinnati Children's kids' marathon—an incremental marathon over an 8-week period that included running as well as nutrition and health education.

September brought an end to Childhood Obesity Awareness Month, but I look forward to continuing to work with schools and hospitals, teachers and parents, and all Ohioans to combat childhood obesity and ensure a healthier future for our Nation's children.

THE AMERICAN ACADEMY OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Mr. BROWN of Massachusetts. Mr. President, today I would like to recognize the newest members of the American Academy for Arts and Sciences upon their induction on October 1, 2011, in Cambridge, MA.

The American Academy, which was founded during the American Revolution by John Adams, John Hancock and other notable scholar-patriots, includes some of the world's most notable scientists, scholars, artists, authors and leaders.

Its nonpartisan, independent research has provided us with a significant collection of knowledge in numerous fields of science, humanities, culture and education for more than 200 years.

The 231st class of members must therefore be recognized for their distinguished success in their respective fields, as well as their election to an institution of the world's most celebrated leaders.

On behalf of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, I ask my colleagues to join me in congratulating the 211 new members of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, particularly the 28 inductees from Massachusetts. It is an honor and pleasure to recognize their continuing service and intellectual leadership not only in Massachusetts, but also nationally and across the world. I wish the Academy good luck and continued success in their future endeavors.

PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE AFRICAN METHODIST EPISCOPAL ZION CHURCH

• Mr. CARDIN. Mr. President, today I wish to recognize and congratulate the Pennsylvania Avenue African Methodist Episcopal, AME, Zion Church in Baltimore as the congregation celebrates the church's 170th anniversary. Founded on May 31, 1841, Pennsylvania Avenue AME Zion Church has flourished for many decades under the guidance and spiritual leadership of its anointed pastors since it was founded on May 31, 1841.

Records from 1904 reveal that Reverend B.J. Bolding and 200 church members purchased Zion's first building at 1125 Pennsylvania Avenue for $16,000. Reverend Bolding served for 27 years until Rev. George Marion Edwards became the pastor in May 1931. Twenty-eight years later, on October 4, 1959, Rev. Clinton Rueben Coleman was chosen as Zion's new spiritual leader and served during the tumultuous years of the civil rights movement. Reverend Coleman was responsible for the renovation of the old Zion Church building and started the course toward planning and building a new church building. On May 12, 1972, he was elected to the AME Zion Church's 12-member Board of Bishops, the denomination's 72nd bishop in succession.

In 1972, Rev. Marshall H. Strickland was selected to lead Zion, and the journey continued towards constructing a new church. Three years later, Reverend Strickland led the groundbreaking ceremony at the southwest corner of Pennsylvania Avenue and Dolphin Street. On Sunday, April 10, 1977, after 16 years of vision, perseverance, and hard work, a jubilant congregation marched into the new church building. Eleven years later, on May 15, 1988, the mortgage note for the church was burned. On July 31, 1992, Reverend Strickland was elected the 88th bishop in succession in the AME Zion Church.

In September 1992, continuing the legacy of an historic church with great spiritual leaders, the Reverend Dr. Dennis Vernon Proctor was appointed pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue AME Zion Church. Dr. Proctor's leadership and pastoral abilities, steadfastly applied for over a decade, increased the church's membership to over 1,800 congregants. After 16 years of faithful service to Zion Church, Dr. Proctor was elected the 97th bishop in succession during the Quadrennial Convention in Atlanta, GA, on July 18, 2008.

On September 14, 2008, less than 2 months before our Nation elected its first African American President, the Right Reverend Warren M. Brown, presiding prelate of the Mid-Atlantic II Episcopal District, announced the current pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue AME Zion Church, Rev. Lester Agyei McCorn, to a standing-room-only congregation.

Pennsylvania Avenue AME Zion Church, located in Baltimore's Upton community, is committed to providing spiritual leadership and support to help people overcome the political, social, and educational struggles affecting them in the communities that the church serves. It is a Kingdom-focused church, whose legacy continues with a renewed vision to make new disciples, help believers to mature in their faith, and multiply outreach and service ministries.

I encourage all Senators to join me in congratulating Pennsylvania Avenue AME Zion Church on its 170th anniversary and its even brighter future.●

TRIBUTE TO DICK WILKERSON

• Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. President, I would like to recognize the achievements of one of South Carolina's most respected citizens.

Greenville, SC, is the home of Michelin's North American headquarters. One of the largest tire manufacturers in the world, Michelin has had a presence in the state for over thirty years and currently employs nearly 8,000 South Carolinians. Michelin is known for its innovation and the quality of its products. It is also one of the finest corporate citizens we have in South Carolina.

Dick Wilkerson, the current chairman and president of Michelin North America, will retire at the end of 2011 after 31 years with the company, the last 3-plus years in his current role. Upon his retirement, he will become chairman emeritus of Michelin North America, in recognition of his remarkable career and strong and effective leadership during a very difficult economic time.

Under Dick's leadership, Michelin became the largest tire maker in North America by sales and has remained the most profitable tire maker in North America for 7 consecutive years. That is quite an achievement given the tough economic circumstances.

Wilkerson also led the creation of major community programs, including Michelin Development Upstate South Carolina and Michelin Challenge Education.

Michelin Development provides low interest loans and access to our considerable business expertise to create quality sustainable jobs and promote economic growth. To date, investments in Upstate South Carolina total more than $2 million, 33 loans have been supported, and more than 750 potential jobs have been created inspiring new economic growth.

Michelin Challenge Education focuses on the support of public elementary schools located in close proximity
