

grew rapidly and the small kitchen could no longer keep up with the demand. In 1996, Amy moved to a commercial bakery and purchased two distribution trucks. These investments tripled her business size and distribution territory. Amy now also has two stores in Farmingdale and Freeport, where she sells her mouth-watering treats.

Today, Amy's small company sells 24 different varieties of whoopie pies, including many seasonal favorites like pumpkin and peppermint, and produces nearly one million Wicked Whoopies each year! Amy also recently added the decadent and innovative "Whoop-de-Doo" to her line up; a smaller version of a classic Wicked Whoopie dipped in chocolate. Her business has received countless reviews and awards for its products, and has been featured on several nationally televised shows, such as "The Oprah Winfrey Show" in 2003, "Good Morning America" in 2005, and Food Network's "Unwrapped" in 2007. Wicked Whoopies have also been promoted in the New York Times, the Associated Press, and are even available for purchase on the Home Shopping Network's Web site for the 2011 holiday season. Additionally, the city of Gardiner Board of Trade awarded Isamax Snacks with its President's Award in 2004 and Interface Tech News awarded Wicked Whoopies "Maine's Best of the Web" in the e-commerce category in 2005.

Over the last 15 years, Isamax Snacks has established itself as one of the country's premier and most heralded whoopie pie and dessert companies. This national notoriety is richly deserved as Amy Bouchard's small dream to help her family blossomed into a vibrant small business. I am proud to congratulate Amy and everyone at Isamax Snacks on their outstanding work, and wish them continued success.●
