

We do not recognize a right to enrich. It is clear.” in the NPT, “in the non-proliferation treaty, it’s very, very clear that there is no right to enrich.”

Well, now, we know that Secretary Kerry was very, very wrong about it being very, very clear there was no right to enrich; not only is there a right to enrich, we are going to help Iran enrich. Thank you, President Obama.

Sanctions relief, here is a quote from John Kerry from March 3. Secretary of State Kerry said: “Iran is not open for business until Iran is closed for nuclear bombs.”

Well, we know that is not going to be the case. They are open for business, and they are still enriching.

Again, Under Secretary of State Wendy Sherman said: “This includes a lot of dismantling of their infrastructure.”

Well, it turns out that is not the case, either.

Under Secretary of State Wendy Sherman, February 4 of 2014, said: “It is true that in these first six months we’ve not shut down all of their production of any ballistic missile.”

Well, it turns out they are not going to at all—how about that.

March 5, 2015, Secretary Kerry: “It will reduce the pressure for a regional nuclear arms race, and it will increase the strength of the international non-proliferation regime. It will also vastly improve the prospects for peace both here and elsewhere.”

Secretary Kerry was wrong, wrong, wrong.

Now, they want the U.N. to pass the deal. Well, gosh, I am sure they will get plenty of votes from people that want the money that the U.S. is going to make sure Iran has to buy nuclear weapons.

Prime Minister Netanyahu says that the Iran deal is a grave mistake, and he is as right now as he was before. This deal has to be stopped for the sake of mankind.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.
