

and has helped provide refuge to women subjected to horrific violence in her country, including to those who have been subjected to ISIL's violent campaign against the region's Yazidi population.

Yoani Sánchez of Cuba founded "Generacion Y," a platform to capture daily life in Cuba as an effort to encourage political change. It stemmed from her personal experiences growing up in Cuba, and the experiences of her family.

Akanksha Hazari of India works to empower impoverished, rural communities in India. She has done this by pioneering a loyalty program—through mobile phones—to provide social goods such as clean water to rural customers in India.

These women were recognized by Vital Voices because they have made significant strides to better the communities in which they live, and they continue to do so.

The resolution, submitted by Senator COLLINS and myself, further recognizes their contributions, and I hope that we can all draw inspiration from their leadership.

I congratulate these women, and look forward to hearing about their continued success.
