

SPECIAL RECOGNITION AND COMMENDATION FOR PRESIDENT DEBOW FREED OF OHIO NORTHERN UNIVERSITY

HON. MICHAEL G. OXLEY

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, May 12, 1999

Mr. OXLEY. Mr. Speaker, today I rise to spotlight a very special individual who has unselfishly given of his time, energy, and spirit to others in the Fourth Congressional District of Ohio. The month of August will pose many a challenge to Ohio Northern University since it will be losing its President to a well deserved retirement. His shoes will be very difficult to fill.

President Freed has been with ONU in Ada, Ohio since 1979. Before serving as Ohio Northern's President, Dr. Freed was the president of Monmouth College. Dr. Freed has served in all aspects of university life. He has been a teacher, administrator, dean, and president. He knows inside and out how to guide a university to academic and financial success.

Besides being a top notch administrator, Dr. Freed is a great academian. It's not every college which can boast that it has a Doctor of Nuclear Science and Engineering as president. Over the years I have witnessed how DeBow Freed cares very deeply for his university family. Students and faculty have perhaps been a bit spoiled with how good a president he has been. Though he will no longer work as president for ONU, he will never be far from it in mind and body. Moreover, the Freed Center of Fine Arts stands as a lasting tribute to his leadership abilities and the commitment he and his wife have made to the university.

I wish Dr. Freed and his wife, Catherine, all the best as they approach this new adventure of retirement together.

TRIBUTE TO THE VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS OF THE UNITED STATES 100TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. DAVID E. BONIOR

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, May 12, 1999

Mr. BONIOR. Mr. Speaker, I am honored to recognize the Centennial Anniversary of a proud organization. Today, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Tenth District in the State of Michigan will celebrate the VFW's 100th Anniversary. The members will gather at the Charles Schoor Post 796 in Port Huron Michigan in honor of this historic occasion.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars dates back to the time of the Spanish-American War of the late 1800's. The first local organizations were founded by veterans in 1899 to secure rights and benefits for their service. Three separate groups were founded in Ohio, Colorado, and Pennsylvania, and later banded together to become known as the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Today, the organization has over two million members, and includes veterans from World War I through Bosnia. Each new generation of members adds to the strength and focus of the VFW. However, the VFW has remained committed to recognizing military service and remembering those who gave their lives for freedom.

Under the motto, "Honor the dead by helping the living," the VFW has provided assistance to countless veterans across the United States. The VFW has more than 15,000 trained service officers who assist veterans and their families with government services, discharge upgrades, and other much-deserved benefits awarded to Veterans. Through national programs, the Veterans of Foreign Wars is able to provide members with information, scholarship, safety programs, and youth involvement activities.

On the 100th Anniversary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, we celebrate the people who have made this organization successful. I would like to extend my congratulations on this historic occasion and best wishes for the future.

BANKRUPTCY REFORM ACT OF 1999

SPEECH OF

HON. JOSEPH CROWLEY

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, May 5, 1999

The House in Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union had under consideration the bill (H.R. 833) to amend title II of the United States Code, and for further purposes:

Mr. CROWLEY. Mr. Chairman, while I believe that H.R. 833 is an important step towards ending the abuse and restoring responsibility to our nation's bankruptcy system, I believe that the effectiveness of this legislation could be improved by adjusting the homestead exemption for bankruptcy filers to more adequately reflect the current costs of housing in the United States.

Mr. Chairman, in my home State of New York, the homestead exemption for individuals is just $10,000 while couples are limited to only a $20,000 exemption. Clearly this amount is woefully inadequate when compared to the current high costs of housing faced by the residents of New York.

Mr. Chairman, while I think that H.R. 833 sets a reasonable cap on homestead exemptions at $250,000, I believe it is imperative that the homestead exemption for individuals and couples in New York be raised to sufficiently reflect the prevailing costs of housing in New York so that while consumers are working to meet their financial obligations and get back on their feet, they are not burdened with the prospect of losing their homes.

HONORING THE SILAS AND ELLA LEWIS FAMILY REUNION

HON. RONNIE SHOWS

OF MISSISSIPPI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, May 12, 1999

Mr. SHOWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the Family of Silas and Ella Lewis as they plan to celebrate their first Family Reunion from July 2nd through July 4th, 1999 in Monticello, Mississippi.

Silas Lewis was one of the first African-Americans to own land and a horse-drawn buggy in the early 1900's. Descendants of Silas and Ella Lewis continue to live in the area and have become productive and prominent members of the community.

All Americans come together as a family to honor our national heritage on the Fourth of July. It is a fitting tribute to Silas and Ella Lewis that so many members of their family have made the commitment to come together during the Fourth of July holiday to celebrate their personal heritage. Silas and Ella Lewis are role models for modern Americans. The principles of hard work and determination they instilled in their children and grandchildren continue to represent the strong family values we need to foster as we prepare to begin a new millennium.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to rise today to honor the memory of Silas and Ella Lewis. I am proud of their family for coming together to celebrate their noble heritage. And I am most proud that I am able to rise before this Congress—the People's House—to share their story and praise Silas and Ella Lewis.

MARKING THE 300TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE TOWN OF PLAINFIELD, CONNECTICUT

HON. SAM GEJDENSON

OF CONNECTICUT

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, May 12, 1999

Mr. GEJDENSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to mark the 300th anniversary of the incorporation of the Town of Plainfield, Connecticut. I join the residents of the community in celebrating this special occasion.

Within only a few decades of landing at Plymouth Rock, citizens of the Massachusetts Bay Colony were migrating into the "hollowing wilderness" of eastern Connecticut and settling along the banks of the Quinebaug River. Today, it is hard to believe that Connecticut was once considered "frontier" territory, but the families who began to develop towns east of the Connecticut River in the 1640s and 1650s were pioneers well before the first Conestoga wagon set off along the Oregon trail. The Winthrop and Fitch families began to establish settlements on the Quinebaug in the mid-1650s. The Winthrop settlement on the eastern side of the River would ultimately become the Town of Plainfield when its inhabitants were granted the "powers and privileges of a township" on May 11, 1699. The name Plainfield—bestowed by Governor Fitz-John Winthrop in 1700—can be directly traced to the topography of the area which is dominated by fertile meadows and fields.

The development of Plainfield over the past three centuries is a microcosm of the history of New England and the nation as a whole. Plainfield was an agrarian community throughout the 1700s dotted by small family farms growing corn, rye, barley and other crops in the fertile lands surrounding the Quinebaug. Men from Plainfield joined colonists from
