

original organizers of the town of Watsonville, and was eventually elected as a county judge and a state assemblyman. Zoe and Frank restored this house together, adding a wing and modernizing many features of the original building. It was in this house that the Orr's entertained members of the Pajaronian staff, local community members, and the heads of local arts groups. Zoe's reputation as the pre-eminent hostess was well known throughout Santa Cruz County and the Pajaro Valley.

Frank Orr passed away in 1985, and in 1989 Zoe and long-time family friend Gerald Marcus were married. It was in these years that Ms. Marcus was most active in her community. Perhaps one of her most enduring legacies was her donation of the Bockius-Orr house and its lands to the Pajaro Valley Historical Association in 1991. The Association uses this house as an office and a museum open to the public. Zoe was also active in the Girl Scouts, the Santa Cruz Symphony, the Cabrillo Music Festival, Shakespeare Santa Cruz, the Cabrillo Foundation, the Greater Santa Cruz County Community Foundation and the American Association of University Women. She was honored for her volunteer work by both the Santa Cruz County Board of Supervisors and the University of California, Santa Cruz.

Mr. Speaker, as you can see, Zoe Ann Orr Marcus was an important part of many different aspects of life in Santa Cruz County and beyond, and will be sorely missed by her stepdaughter Mary Marcus of Capitola; stepson John Marcus of Watsonville; and cousin Betty Ann Chandler of San Jose. Her familiar presence will also be missed by the many people who have been touched by her energy and passion for life.

HONORING DR. JAMES T. WILLERSON BEING NAMED INTERIM PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS HEALTH SCIENCE CENTER AT HOUSTON

HON. KEN BENTSEN

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 16, 2000

Mr. BENTSEN. Mr. Speaker, today I honor Dr. James T. Willerson for being named Interim President of the University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston, one of the two world class medical schools in my district.

An internationally distinguished cardiologist and medical educator, Dr. Willerson has served since 1989 as the Edward Randall III Professor and Chairman of the Department of Internal Medicine at the University of Texas Medical School at Houston. Dr. Willerson's dedication to research in cardiology has made him highly respected by his peers, students, and community.

A native of Texas, Willerson grew up in San Antonio, where both of his parents were physicians. He graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a B.A. in 1961. He received his Medical Degree from Baylor College of Medicine in 1965. Dr. Willerson completed his internship and residency at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

Dr. Willerson is known throughout the Texas Medical Center community as a fine physician, scientist, teacher, and administrator. Before joining the University of Texas Medical School at Houston, Dr. Willerson was a Professor of Medicine and Director of the Cardiology Division at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School in Dallas and Director and Principal Investigator of the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute's Specialized Center of Research under a major grant from the NIH.

He has received numerous national and international awards, including the "James B. Herrick Award" from the American Heart Association in 1993 and named the American College of Cardiology's Distinguished Scientist for 2000. He was also elected a Fellow in the Royal Society of Medicine of the United Kingdom and made Honorary Member of the Society of Cardiology in Peru in 1994, and in Spain in 1996. Also, Dr. Willerson is a past President of the Paul Dudley White Cardiology Society at Harvard Medical School and Massachusetts General Hospital.

Throughout his career, Dr. Willerson has distinguished himself as a caring doctor and gifted teacher who demands the best. I congratulate Dr. James T. Willerson on being named Interim President of the University of Texas Health Science Center.

TRIBUTE TO LA RESURRECCIÓN UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

HON. JOSÉ E. SERRANO

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 16, 2000

Mr. SERRANO. Mr. Speaker, it is with joy and pride that I pay tribute to La Resurrección United Methodist Church which, this past Sunday, moved to a new home in the Melrose Community of the Bronx at the historic Methodist building, which was built in 1878 by German Methodists.

La Resurrección has initiated effective ministries to address the needs of the community, such as creating one of the only church-sponsored Harm Reduction/Needle Exchange programs. This program targets single room occupancy hotels in New York City, serving over twenty five hundred participants and employing fifteen to twenty people. La Resurrección has created an Immigration Clinic with the assistance of lawyers who provide their services free of charge to assist undocumented immigrants with legal advice. La Resurrección has also opened an after-school tutoring program called Creando Horizontes, designed and directed by educational professionals to target and enhance the reading and math skills children from the first to the eight grades.

Mr. Speaker, in collaboration with various community agencies, public officials and community leaders, La Resurrección works to address the needs of our community. Among their prophetic ministries are: Educating and Empowering the Community, Advocating for Gay and Lesbian Rights, Advocating for the release of the Puerto Rican Political Prisoners, Advocating for Peace in Vieques, and Denouncing both Police Brutality and Anti-Immigration Laws. Presently, they are working with various agencies to create entrepreneurial opportunities for our young people.

It is a privilege for me to represent the 16th district of New York, where the new home of La Resurrección United Methodist Church is located. I am delighted by the church's success. I have witnessed first-hand the exemplary work they are doing for our community and I am deeply impressed. I applaud the commitment and the efforts of La Resurrección United Methodist Church's staff, under the leadership of Reverend Eddie Lopez, Jr., in the assistance they provide to our community, as well as in facilitating educational opportunities for our youth.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing La Resurrección United Methodist Church and its staff and in wishing them continued success in their new building.

SECURE RURAL SCHOOLS AND COMMUNITY SELF-DETERMINATION ACT OF 2000

SPEECH OF

HON. PETER A. DeFAZIO

OF OREGON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, October 10, 2000

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 2389. Stabilizing county payments has been my top legislative priority for the past several years. Enactment of this legislation has been a long time coming. Almost exactly a year ago, I argued for the passage of H.R. 2389 on the floor of the House. Today, I am asking my colleagues in Congress to again support H.R. 2389. This bill is a significant improvement over what the House approved last November and is a product of long and difficult negotiations with the Senate and Administration.

Counties in my district are suffering from declining federal timber payments. As a result, county governments are being forced to cut critical county services; work camps, juvenile justice programs, rural deputies and other essential county funded programs. The reduction in Forest Service receipts has also impacted rural road and school funding.

Throughout most of the 20th Century, Western Oregon served as the timber basket for the United States. Oregon's fourth congressional district, for many years, had the highest public timber harvest of any congressional district. Its lumber and wood products industry was also the most public timber dependent in the nation. Many rural community economies revolved totally around forestry, lumber, and wood products.

Today, timber output on public lands is at an all-time low. The costs to my district from changing public land management include lost high wage jobs, loss of economic infrastructure, and substantially reduced county budgets. I appreciate, and have worked with Members concerned with public land management. I believe a vote in favor of this legislation is a vote of support for better management of Federal forests because you are taking care of the communities which are most impacted.

Last year many Democrats had concerns with the environmental impacts of H.R. 2389.
