

400th anniversary of the establishment of the colony at Jamestown.

Someone once said that a land without ruins is a land without memories, and a land without memories is a nation without history. Thanks to the National Park Service and the foresight of the people of Virginia, the memory and history of Jamestown are alive and well.

Jamestown is to the United States what the historical centers of Rome and Athens are to the people of Italy and Greece.

The Jamestown visitors center, the replicas of the ships that brought the colonists to the new world, and the Jamestown fort and native American village are more than just tourist destinations, they are symbols of our democracy and values.

Consider that Jamestown was Virginia's first capital and held the first legislative assembly, leaving a legacy of common law, customs and language that we rely on today.

This 400th anniversary commemoration, to take place in 2007, is probably as historically important to our Nation as the bicentennial celebration of 1976. The progress made in planning events for 2007, are due in no small measure to the people of Virginia.

They've held roundtables throughout the State to solicit input from every corner of the commonwealth, and they've worked in conjunction with the National Park Service to conduct archaeological, historical and scientific research.

Creating a national commission is the last piece of the puzzle which will ensure that the Jamestown commemoration becomes a truly national celebration.

I urge my colleagues to support this important resolution.

Mr. DAVIS of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. CUMMINGS. Mr. Speaker, I urge the adoption of this important legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. DAVIS) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 4907.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

SPECIAL ORDERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. GIBBONS). Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 6, 1999, and under a previous order of the House, the following Members will be recognized for 5 minutes each.

MILITARY RETIREE HEALTH CARE IN THE DEFENSE AUTHORIZATION BILL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. SHOWS) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. SHOWS. Mr. Speaker, today President Clinton is expected to sign the National Defense Authorization Act for fiscal year 2001. This will help promote a first-class military, and it is a great victory for our military retirees because it takes a giant step in correcting an injustice suffered by our military retirees and their families. The defense bill provides pharmacy benefits and extends TRICARE to retirees beyond age 65 as a supplement to Medicare, and fulfills the promise of lifetime health care to America's eldest military retirees.

Retirees joined the service with a promise of lifetime health care; but right now TRICARE, the military health care plan, ends at age 65. Unlike all other Federal retirees, military retirees get Medicare but nothing else if they cannot afford supplemental insurance; and many retirees under age 65 are not covered due to serious flaws in the TRICARE program.

To remedy this sad situation, last year the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD) and I and Senators TIM JOHNSON, JOHN MCCAIN, and our esteemed colleague, Paul Coverdell, introduced the Keep Our Promise to America's Military Retirees Act, H.R. 3573.

The Keep Our Promise Act united military retirees and families across the country. Their billboards, bumper stickers, e-mails, phone calls, and letters to newspapers and Congress have educated us to their plight. Their persistence gained the Promise Act 306 co-sponsors in the House and 36 in the Senate.

We would not be celebrating historic improvements in military health care today without the grass roots support for the Shows-Norwood Keep Our Promise Act.

We should commend the efforts of every military retiree or family member across the country who participated in the grass roots efforts. I cannot allow Congress to adjourn without acknowledging the efforts of two very special Americans, two Mississippians. Jim Whittington of Laurel and Floyd Sears of Ocean Springs organized the meeting in March of 1999 that resulted in the introduction of the Keep Our Promise Act. They led the grass roots in the fight for justice for military retirees that brings us here today.

There are many, many more grass roots leaders who must be recognized. While it is not possible to name them all, I want to thank several people who communicated regularly with my staff and me for the outstanding work to keep our promise to America's military retirees: Colonel George "Bud" Day and everyone with the Class Act Group; General Robert Clements, Edith Smith, Floyd Felts, Dick Manion, Lonnie Vessel, Jack Hollinsworth, Chuck Huffman, and Joe Priestley.

I also appreciate the many veterans and military service organizations of the Military Coalition and the National Military and Veterans Alliance.

Particularly, I want to thank my friends at the National Association for Uniformed Services, the Retired Enlisted Association, the Retired Officers Association and the Air Force Sergeants Association. I am proud that the defense bill accomplishes part of what the Keep Our Promise Act would do by extending military health care to retirees over age 65; but the defense bill does not do everything the Promise Act would do. The Promise Act would offer military retirees the option to participate in the FEHBP plan because many retirees are not well served by TRICARE. We need to pass the rest of Keep Our Promise Act because it is the right thing to do, and I promise that the military retirees across the country will keep fighting for the benefits they were promised, earned and richly deserve.

WHERE HAS THE STRATEGIC PETROLEUM RESERVE REALLY GONE?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GEKAS) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, every American citizen will remember the heightened crisis that occurred in our oil situation and our fuel and its rising prices over the summer. Many of us wondered what was next. Well, what was next was that sometime in September the President, after being urged by Vice President GORE, released 30 million barrels of oil from the Strategic Petroleum Reserve.

Now, the first shock wave that occurred when that announcement was made was, what is going on here? The Strategic Petroleum Reserve is exactly that, Strategic Petroleum Reserve, meaning that it is to be used and was to be intended to be used for strategic purposes for defense purposes, for the national security of our Nation. That is, there would be a pool, literally a pool, of oil held back from the normal market so that if oil was cut off from the Middle East and we did not have our required fuel available for our Armed Forces, then this reserve would be at hand to protect our people in a national security situation.

Well, let us set that aside, as important as that is, and that is very important. We still have reservations about even approaching this Strategic Petroleum Reserve unless there be some kind of emergency action, some threat to our security at hand. In any event, put that aside for the moment. Many people were concerned that because of the rising fuel prices and even some shortages that were occurring, that the Northeast would find itself in this winter coming that it would be short of
