

The legislative maneuvering that led to the adoption of this amendment follows European Union and German requests that our government refrain from adopting anti-ICC legislation. In late October the Belgium Foreign Minister Louis Michel wrote on behalf of the European Union to Senator DASCHLE and Secretary of State Colin Powell, expressing the EU's strong support for the ICC. German Foreign Minister Joschka Fischer wrote to the Secretary of State directly on October 31, noting that, "In view of the international effort against terrorism . . . it is particularly important for the United States and the European Union to act in accord in this field too." He continued, "The future International Criminal Court will be a valuable instrument for combating the most serious crimes. It will provide us with an opportunity to fight with judicial means crimes such as the mass murder perpetrated by terrorists in New York and Washington on 11 September 2001."

While Members of the Senate may have real questions and concerns pertaining to the ICC, now is not the time to be pushing legislation that undercuts the administration's efforts to work with our closest allies in building a strong coalition against terrorism. In addition, the President's recent order allowing military tribunals to be created for trials involving members of al Qaeda suggests that a long-term fight against terrorism will include a variety of legal structures ranging from Lockerbie type tribunals to the International Criminal Court. It is thus imperative that our government remains engaged in the development of the ICC. I strongly hope that the Bush administration will do that.

ORDER OF PROCEDURE

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate stand in recess from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. today. There is already an order in existence that the time we are in be morning business.

Mr. BYRD. Mr. President, reserving the right to object, I certainly don't want to be an impediment to what the distinguished majority whip is trying to do. I do have a couple of speeches I want to make. I will go down to my office to get them. One has to do with Thanksgiving. The other has to do with another matter of great importance.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, if I could amend that request, we have from 3 to 4 o'clock for which the Chaplain has arranged for the Senate family to be together in the Russell Rotunda.

I amend that request so that we end at 2 o'clock, or whenever Senator BYRD completes his remarks.

I was present last year and the year before when Senator BYRD gave his Thanksgiving speech. I hope I can be present this year when the speech is given. It is something I look forward to. It has become, at least for me, kind of a Thanksgiving tradition to hear the things for which Senator BYRD is thankful because they always trigger in my mind the things I am thankful for, or that I should be thankful for.

I renew my request.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

MORNING BUSINESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, there will now be a period for the transaction of morning business with Senators permitted to speak for up to 10 minutes each.

The Senator from Alaska is recognized.

Mr. MURKOWSKI. I thank the Chair.

ENERGY

Mr. MURKOWSKI. Mr. President, I would like to share with my colleagues a situation developing that I think deserves attention as we contemplate the Thanksgiving recess and shortly thereafter, hopefully, the break for the Christmas holidays.

Throughout the year, our new President has requested that Congress take up and pass an energy bill. The question of our Nation's energy security, the question of our continued dependence on imported oil from overseas, and the question of our vulnerability
