

professional trainees through VA's affiliations with academic institutions. Among recent milestones:

The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation last year awarded VA a grant of $985,595 to help train physicians in end-of-life care, including pain management.

The VA Office of Academic Affiliations recently awarded additional funding to nine VA medical facilities to support graduate education residences in anesthesiology pain management, including VA medical centers in Milwaukee, Wis.; Durnham, N.C.; and Loma Linda, Calif. and the health care systems in North Texas, New Mexico, Puget Sound (Wash.), Palo Alto (Calif.), and North Florida-South Georgia.

NATIONAL PAIN MANAGEMENT STRATEGY

The complexity of chronic pain management is often beyond the expertise of a single practitioner, especially for veterans whose pain problems are complicated by such things as homelessness, post traumatic stress disorder and combat injuries. Additionally, pain management has been made an integral part of palliative and end-of-life care. The effective management of pain for all veterans cared for by VA requires a nationwide coordinated approach. To accomplish this, VA formed a team made up of representatives from an array of disciplines— anesthesiology, nursing, psychiatry, surgery, oncology, pharmacology, gerontology and neurology.

Funded by an unrestricted educational grant, VA is producing a Web-based physician education program aimed at end-of-life issues and an online forum for VA pain management in which more than 200 clinicians actively participate.

In December 2000, a pain management and end-of-life conference is scheduled to showcase innovation and effective practices within VA, address specialized topics with expert faculty and solve systematic problems that cause barriers to improving pain management care. Additionally, VA will set up programs to support clinicians in settings that are remote from pain experts, centers or clinics.

"Untreated or undertreated pain takes its toll not just in monetary loss but also in the psychosocial and physical cost to patients and their families. Pain can exacerbate feelings of distress, anxiety and depression. . . . When severe pain goes untreated and/or depression is present, some people may consider or attempt suicide. The message is clear: all those in pain have the right to systematic assessment and ongoing management of pain by health care professionals."— (The Journal of Care Management, November 1999)

IN MEMORIAM OF THE MEN AND WOMEN OF THE 14TH QUARTERMASTER DETACHMENT WHO LOST THEIR LIVES IN OPERATION DESERT STORM

• Mr. SANTORUM. Mr. President, I stand before you today to honor the tenth anniversary of a terrible tragedy that faced the men and women who serve in the United States Armed Forces. I speak about an attack carried out by Saddam Hussein that took the lives of brave men and women from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania who were proudly serving their country as members of our armed services. We are indebted to those who made the ultimate sacrifice for our country during that conflict, and they will remain in our hearts and memories forever.

The 14th Quartermaster Detachment of Greensburg, PA, was mobilized and ordered to active duty on January 15, 1991 in support of the Persian Gulf crisis. On February 25, 1991, only days after the Desert Storm conflict began, the 14th Quartermaster Detachment suffered the greatest number of casualties of any allied unit during Operation Desert Storm. An Iraqi Scud missile destroyed the building where the unit was being housed, killing 28 soldiers and wounding 99. Of those casualties, 13 members of the 14th were killed and 43 were wounded. Desert Storm ended only hours after this tragedy.

To recognize the supreme sacrifice that these men and women undertook for our great nation, Major General Rodney D. Ruddock, Commander, 99th Regional Support Command, will hold an anniversary ceremony on February 25, 2001 to honor the 14th Quartermaster Detachment of Greensburg, PA. During this solemn event, we will honor, not only the men and women who lost their lives 10 years ago, but all the men and women who serve in the Armed Forces and selflessly put their lives on the line every day in order to preserve our nation's freedom. We, as Americans, will remain eternally grateful for the sacrifices and true courage that our men and women in uniform display on our behalf in serving this great nation.

It is at this time that I ask my Senate colleagues to join with me in honoring the members of the 14th Quartermaster Detachment.●

50TH BIRTHDAY OF THE GIRL SCOUTS OF CONESTOGA COUNCIL

• Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, on the occasion of the 50th Birthday of the Girl Scouts of Conestoga Council, I would like to congratulate this fine organization.

Conestoga Council was formed in 1951 and presently serves nearly 4,000 girls in a twelve-county area in Northeast Iowa. The Council delivers traditional Girl Scout programming through troop meetings and activities, camp opportunities and educational learning. In addition, the Council supports eight in-school outreach programs for girls of diverse ethnic and cultural backgrounds. The Council has broadened its delivery approach by partnering with the Winnebago Council of Boy Scouts of America to offer day camp activities and experiences through Camp Quest to hundreds of children who would not otherwise have the opportunity to participate.

The Council continues to fulfill its mission of helping girls grow strong with the assistance of hundreds of volunteers throughout Eastern Iowa. Thousands of girls' lives have been touched and enriched through their experience with the Conestoga Council.

Again, I would like to express my congratulations to the Girl Scouts of Conestoga Council for reaching this milestone and I wish them all the best as they continue to serve girls in Northeast Iowa.●

TRIBUTE TO COLONEL PAUL W. ARCARI, U.S. AIR FORCE, RETIRED

• Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to Colonel Paul Arcari, United States Air Force, Retired—in recognition of his distinguished service to his country.

For nearly 46 years, first for 30 years in the Air Force, and later for The Retired Officers Association, Colonel Arcari has worked tirelessly for the men and women of the military.

Born in Manchester, CT, he entered the Air Force as a second lieutenant in 1955 and earned his navigator wings the following year. He amassed 4,400 flying hours with the Military Airlift Command, including 418 combat missions in Southeast Asia in the late sixties.

In 1969 Colonel Arcari was assigned as legislative analyst in the Office of the Secretary of Defense and Headquarters, U.S. Air Force. During the next 17 years, including 13 years as Chief of the Air Force Entitlements Division, Colonel Arcari earned the reputation as the Department of Defense's preeminent authority on military compensation matters. In addition to helping craft the All-Volunteer Force pay table and the military Survivor Benefit Plan, his inputs to the Senate Armed Services Committee proved invaluable in crafting the Nunn-Warner compensation enhancements that assisted in turning around the retention and readiness crisis of the late 1970's and early 1980's. He retired from active duty in February 1985.

Following retirement, Colonel Arcari joined The Retired Officers Association and served as Deputy Director and since 1990 as Director of Government Relations.

Under Colonel Arcari's professional stewardship, The Retired Officers Association has played a vital role as the principal advocate of legislative initiatives to improve readiness and the quality of life for all members of the uniformed service community—active, reserve, and retired, as well as their families.

Colonel Arcari has worked closely with, and has been a valuable resource for, the Senate Armed Services Committee as we enacted a wide range of much-needed improvements for our military personnel. His efforts in the areas of military compensation, retirement benefits, health care and fair cost-of-living adjustments, COLA, for retired personnel and their families has been invaluable in improving long term retention of our armed forces. I am particularly gratified that during the past two years in which I have been privileged to serve as Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee I have been able to enact some of the most substantial quality-of-life enhancements for active, reserve, and retired service members and their families in decades. Colonel Arcari played an important role in this effort.

Colonel Arcari's long and unique career of leadership and personal dedication to fostering readiness by protecting every service member's welfare is an inspiration and a continuing lesson to all who care about our men and women of our military. My best wishes go with him. Colonel Arcari, I salute you on behalf of all the men and women, past and present, who wear the uniform.●

COAST GUARD CUTTER "WOODRUSH"

● Mr. MURKOWSKI. Mr. President, I rise today to honor the men and women who have served aboard the United States Coast Guard Cutter Woodrush, WLB 407, homeported in Sitka, in my own state of Alaska.

On March 2, 2001, the USCGC Woodrush will be decommissioned, departing for Baltimore, MD. There, she is to be transferred to the navy of the Republic of Ghana.

Although she is the youngest of the 39 seagoing buoy tenders constructed during World War II, the Woodrush has logged nearly 57 years of service to our nation.

She was built for less than $1 million in Duluth, Minnesota, and commissioned on September 22, 1944. For thirty-five years she sailed from Duluth, servicing aids to navigation, conducting search and rescue missions, and icebreaking on the Great Lakes.

In 1979, she began a major refit at the Coast Guard shipyard in Baltimore. She has been homeported in Sitka since leaving the shipyard in 1980.

Woodrush's primary mission has been keeping aids to navigation in good condition. Her crew maintained 165 shore lights and 69 buoys throughout the 2,000 square-mile Southeastern Alaska panhandle. The work of the Woodrush has been crucial to the safety of the thousands of tugboats, fishing vessels, ferries, pleasure boats and cruise ships that navigate those sometimes treacherous waters each year.

USCGC Woodrush also participated in several notable search and rescue missions. She was one of the first ships to arrive on the scene of the wreck of the Edmond Fitzgerald in 1975, when the ore freighter went down with all hands in a violent storm on Lake Superior. Her sonar located two large pieces of wreckage, and she served as a platform for the U.S. Navy's Controlled Underwater Recovery Vehicle, which found the sunken hull.

In 1980, Woodrush responded to the uncontrolled fire and eventual loss of the cruise ship Princendam off Graham Island, British Columbia. The efforts of Woodrush and her crew, as well as other rescue units, led to the successful rescue of all passengers and crew, with no loss of life.

In August 1993, Woodrush assisted the 248-foot cruise ship, M/V Yorktown Clipper, after it ran aground. Woodrush crewmembers helped control the flooding and ensured that all 130 passengers were taken safely off the vessel.

Not all of the crew's adventures were at sea. In the summer of 1994, personnel from Woodrush helped extinguish a dangerous fire in the small community of Tenakee, Alaska. Their efforts helped keep the fire from spreading out of control in the 30-knot winds.

Protection of the environment is yet another of the Coast Guard's many missions. Over the years, Woodrush has contributed in many ways, including service as one of the numerous Coast Guard vessels that responded to the 1989 Exxon Valdez oil spill in Prince William Sound. Each year, the Woodrush crew has trained to handle future accidents. It is reassuring to know that their skills have not been needed to date, but even more so to know they have been, like the Coast Guard's motto, "Always Ready."

During her 57 years of service, the Woodrush and her crew earned several awards, including the Meritorious Unit Commendation, the American Campaign Service Ribbon, the World War II Service Ribbon, and the National Defense Medal. Woodrush was a Bronze Winner of the Coast Guard Commandant's Quality Award in both 1997 and 1998 and, in 1997, she also won the Coast Guard Foundation's Admiral John B. Hayes Award. The Hayes Award honors the Pacific Area unit that best demonstrates the commitment to excellence and professionalism embodied in the traditions of the United States Coast Guard.

USCGC Woodrush will service her last aid to navigation on February 27. To all the men and women who have served as her crew, I extend my thanks and appreciation. Your faithful attention to duty—guiding mariners to safety, aiding citizens in distress, and defending all the interests of the United States will be remembered. You have truly been Semper Paratus.●

TRIBUTE TO LAURA STEPHAN

● Mr. SMITH of New Hampshire. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to Laura Stephan of Merrimack, New Hampshire, for being honored with the "President's Award" from the Merrimack Chamber of Commerce.

Laura has served the citizens of Merrimack selflessly with enthusiasm and loyalty. Her demonstrated ability to continuously provide high quality assistance in all aspects of Chamber activities is commendable.

Laura is a graduate from the State University of New York in Albany with a Liberal Arts degree. She is the Treasurer of the State of New Hampshire Women's Council of Realtors and is an active member of the Nashua Chapter of the Women's Council of Realtors who has received the "Affiliate of the Year Award" from the Greater Nashua Board of Realtors.

Active in numerous community projects, Laura has served as the President of the American Stage Festival Theater Guild and as a member of its Board of Trustees. She is also an active member and committee chairperson for Merrimack Friends and Family.

Laura and her husband, Gary, reside in Merrimack. She is a passionate volunteer for the Humane Society of Nashua and is committed to promoting a better quality of life in the community.

Laura has enthusiastically provided dedicated service to her local community and to the people of New Hampshire. It is an honor to represent her in the U.S. Senate.●
