

Riddle joined the Pasadena Police Department on November 12, 1946, becoming the first African American police officer in the history of the Pasadena Police Department.

Although Riddle was assigned to various units within the Pasadena Police Department, his first love was community relations. Prior to the late 1960s, the Pasadena Police Department was without a community relations department. Under the leadership of Police Chief Bob McGowan, Riddle helped establish a community relations department and was subsequently chosen to lead the unit. In this position, Riddle acted as a liaison between the Pasadena Police Department and the African American community. He remained in this position until 1974, when he retired from the Pasadena Police Department and became the Pasadena City College security chief until the early 1980s. In addition to Riddle's community service efforts, he volunteered extensively with the Pasadena NAACP.

Although Mr. Riddle passed away in January of 1990, his life continues to touch the Pasadena community through his shining example and through the career of his daughter-in-law, Lt. Phlunte Riddle, the first African American Sergeant and First African American Lieutenant in the history of the Pasadena Police Department.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to participate in Black History Month as well as to pay tribute to Loretta Glickman Hillson, Ruby McKnight Williams and Ralph Riddle. I am extremely proud of the rich history in my district and of the leadership, humanity, and compassion exhibited by Mrs. Hillson, Mrs. Williams and Mr. Riddle. In closing, I would like to wish Loretta and Reverend Hillson the very best. To the family of Ruby McKnight Williams and Ralph Riddle, a grateful community gives thanks that both Ruby's and Ralph's lives touched so many. And to Lt. Phlunte Riddle, I wish you the very best in all your endeavors.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

HON. ERIC CANTOR

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, February 28, 2001

Mr. CANTOR. Mr. Speaker, February is a national celebration of the role of black Americans in all segments of life in the United States. It is a time to celebrate the achievement of blacks in every field from science and the arts to government and politics. February gives us a chance to reflect on how much black Americans have contributed to America and an opportunity to learn from the past in order to look confidently toward the future. Black history in the United States has been a proving ground for America's ideals and this month we celebrate our nation's diversity.

The story of black Americans is one of valor in the face of hardship. Because of the struggles they have endured, we have become better people. Through their sacrifice, we have become a better nation. All Americans must be reminded of their undying dedication to the ideals of freedom and liberty upon which our nation was founded. Their progress throughout American history is a true testament to the reality of the American dream.

Understanding our past allows us to pursue a bright future as a diverse, but united nation. For this reason, I commend the deserved attention February brings to African-Americans who have shaped our history and who will be an integral part of our destiny. I seek the day when the tragic side of the black legacy in America can be laid to rest once and for all and applaud black Americans for their tremendous contributions to the history of our great nation.

IN SUPPORT OF THE CHARITABLE GIVING TAX RELIEF ACT

HON. PHILIP M. CRANE

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, February 28, 2001

Mr. CRANE. Mr. Speaker, today I am introducing legislation entitled the "Charitable Giving Relief Act". This is one of three bills I am introducing today to correct certain anomalies in the tax code that discourage charitable giving.

Specifically, this bill will allow nonitemizers to deduct 100 percent of any charitable contributions up to the amount of the standard deduction. Under current law, while nonitemizers receive the standard deduction, only itemizers can take a deduction for their charitable contributions.

Non-itemizers are predominantly low- and middle-income taxpayers who as a group give generously to charitable causes. However, lacking a specific deduction for their charitable contributions, there can be no question that they face a disincentive to making charitable contributions relative to itemizers, who tend to be upper-middle income and upper-income taxpayers. This certainly appears unfair. But, more importantly, it means charitable organizations supported predominantly by lower-income individuals are even more strapped for financial support than they need be. For example, churches serving lower-income communities have fewer resources to address the needs of their congregations as a result of this disincentive.

I introduced similar legislation in the 106th Congress, and 149 Members signed on as cosponsors. I have made two important changes to last year's bill, however. First, taxpayers would now be able to deduct the full amount of their contribution, rather than only half. And, second, to prevent certain individuals from gaming the system I limit the amount a non-itemizer can take to the amount of the standard deduction.

Along with the two other bills I am introducing today preserving the charitable deduction against the itemized deduction phase-down and allowing IRA rollovers to charity, we have an excellent opportunity to advance sound tax policy and sound social policy by returning to our Nation's historical emphasis on private activities and personal involvement in the well-being of our communities. These bills will significantly increase the resources available to our charitable organizations.

Charity benefits both the giver and the receiver in like proportions. The act of giving elevates the heart of the giver. The act of receiving elevates the condition of the recipient. Charity is thus a blessed act that should suffer no discouragement from something so mean as the tax code.
