Mrs. CLINTON, Mr. President, I rise in support of Senator Thomas's resolution, which calls for the immediate release of twenty-four United States military personnel currently being detained by the People's Republic of China.

Whereas Crazy Horse took to battle only after he saw the treaty broken that Crazy Horse defended his people and their way of life in the only manner he knew; whereas Crazy Horse was a warrior and a military genius and his battle strategies are studied to this day at West Point; whereas Crazy Horse was a 'Shirt Wearer', having duties comparable to those of the United States Secretary of State; whereas it was only after he saw the treaty of 1868 broken that Crazy Horse defended his people and their way of life in the only manner he knew; whereas Crazy Horse took to battle only after he saw his friend, Conquering Bear, killed and only after he saw the failure of the Federal Government agents to bring required treaty guarantees such as food, clothing, shelter, and necessities for existence; and whereas Crazy Horse was killed at Fort Robinson, Nebraska, on September 6, 1877, when he was only 34 years of age: Now, therefore, be it Resolved, That the Senate—
(1) designates September 6, 2001, as National Crazy Horse Day; requests that the President issue a proclamation calling on the Federal Government and State and local governments, interest groups and organizations, and the people of the United States to observe the day with appropriate programs, ceremonies, and activities.

Mr. JOHNSON, Mr. President, I rise today to submit a resolution that will commemorate the life of Crazy Horse. Crazy Horse was a great leader of his people, and the designation of September 6 will be the ultimate commendation for his bravery and contribution to Native Americans. Crazy Horse was born on Rapid Creek in 1843. He was killed when he was only 34 years of age, September 6, 1877. He was stabbed in the back by a soldier at Fort Robinson, Nebraska, while he was under U.S. Army protection. During his life he was a great leader of his people, Crazy Horse was warrior, and a military genius. His battle strategies are studied to this day at West Point. Crazy Horse was bestowed with the honor of becoming a Shirt Wearer. This honor is comparable to duties like that of the Secretary of State. Crazy Horse defended his people and their way of life in the only manner he knew, but only after he saw the treaty of 1868 broken. He took to the warpath only after he saw his friend Conquering Bear killed; only after he saw the failure of the government agents to bring required treaty guarantees such as food, clothing, shelter and necessities for existence.
