leader would rally his warriors with the cry, ‘It is a good day to fight, it is a good day to die.’

Throughout recent history, a memorial commemorating the life of this great warrior is under construction in my state of South Dakota. I would like to take these efforts one step further and direct Senate September 6, 2001, the 124th anniversary of Crazy Horse’s death, as “National Crazy Horse Day.” I urge my colleagues to join me in the commemoration of this great hero.

SENATE RESOLUTION 69—RESOLUTION CONGRATULATING THE FIGHTING IRISH OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME FOR WINNING THE 2001 WOMEN’S BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Mr. BAYH (for himself and Mr. LUGAR) submitted the following resolution; which was considered and agreed to:

S. Res. 69
Whereas the University of Notre Dame women’s basketball team won its first national championship by defeating the tenacious Purdue University Boilermakers by the score of 68-66;
Whereas for the first time in NCAA women’s basketball history, two teams from the same State appeared in the championship game;
Whereas the Fighting Irish, coached by Muffet McGraw, finished their season with a 34-2 record;
Whereas the high caliber of the University of Notre Dame Women Fighting Irish in both athletics and academics has advanced the sport of women’s basketball and provided inspiration for future generations of young female athletes; and
Whereas the Fighting Irish’s season of accomplishments inspired euphoria across the basketball-loving State of Indiana: Now, therefore, be it
