A TRIBUTE TO REVEREND LUIS CENTENO
HON. ROBERT A. BRADY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, June 27, 2001

Mr. BRADY of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I rise to recognize Luis Centeno, the founder of Proclaimers of Hope Ministries, a faith-based recovery and addiction prevention program in West Kensington, Philadelphia.

Reverend Centeno, who is also the pastor at Bethel Temple Church, was recently chosen to receive the nation’s highest honor for community health leadership—a 2001 Community Health Leader award from The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation. The distinction, conferred annually on only 10 people nationwide, includes a $100,000 award to continue his work.

Reverend Centeno saw firsthand the ravaging effects of addiction on individuals and families in West Kensington—known as the “Badlands” because of its reputation as one of the worst drug centers in the United States. He was once a gang member himself and spent time in juvenile detention before turning his life around. In 1988, he created Proclaimers of Hope Ministries to take his message of change directly to the neighborhood’s worst drug dealers and create a local rehabilitation center.

The Proclaimers of Hope Ministries now has 200 volunteers donating 5,000 hours annually to serve the youth of the community and provide counseling and support to addicts. Its staff of 14 raises funds through personal donations and other churches throughout the country.

With Reverend Centeno’s leadership, Proclaimers of Hope and Bethel Temple Church have created a diverse approach to prevention and recovery, using programs in the martial arts, music, drama, and tutoring, to help prevent crises in the lives of the community’s young men and women. As one of his nominators explained, “part of the reason Luis has been so effective is that he has not set himself apart from the people he serves. His brand of healing requires hard work and discipline as well as grace and forgiveness, and he freely dispenses them all.”

Mr. Speaker, Reverend Luis Centeno has demonstrated tremendous leadership in the fight against addiction in his community and is clearly well deserving of this prestigious community health award. I urge my colleagues to join me in congratulating Reverend Centeno on this wonderful achievement.

EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

CONNIE BREMNER, RECIPIENT OF ROBERT WOOD JOHNSON COMMUNITY HEALTH LEADERSHIP AWARD

HON. DENNIS R. REHBERG
OF MONTANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, June 27, 2001

Mr. REHBERG. Mr. Speaker, Connie Bremner, lifelong resident of Browning, Montana, is of the age when retirement is an option, but it’s the last thing on her mind. Connie doesn’t have the time nor inclination for anything but selfless service to the elderly and disabled in her community.

Connie, director of the Eagle Shield Senior Citizens Center, on the Blackfeet Indian Reservation, is the recipient of the prestigious Robert Wood Johnson Community Health Leadership Award of $100,000. The award has given $59,000 to the center and $5,000 to Connie. This award is one of only ten given nationwide. Most of the award money will go to fund short-term care for terminally ill people who are unable to get help elsewhere. Some centers—like it will be used for startup money for a proposed Blackfeet health care program.

Browning is in a lonely community on the wind swept plains down the eastern slopes of the Montana Rockies. It’s the heart of the Blackfeet Indian Reservation, a place where things have never been easy. When Connie became director of the Eagle Shield Senior Citizens Center in Glacier County, the nation’s 95th poorest, she found the center and the seniors in distressed conditions. Connie made it her objective to transform the facility into a model health and wellness center. She took the barest of bare-bones facilities and breathed life into it—and not just life, but spirit. Eagle Shield now serves over 600 elders with a wide range of programs, from nutrition education and meal delivery to home personal assistance and social activities. Connie’s efforts to expand, improve and modernize health care for the impoverished, the elderly and the disabled has not only met physical needs, but has lifted spirits and provided hope.

Connie began with a loan of $70,000 from the tribal government, which has already been repaid. The Robert Wood Johnson Community Health Leadership Program’s press release states that Connie’s “hard work has yielded great success for Eagle Shield, including the creation of an Alzheimer’s screening and treatment program and a licensed, Medicaid reimbursed personal care attendant program for over 100 people with a disability unable to care for themselves.”

Connie expanded the personal care attendant program until now is serves over 100 people, ranging from age 4—94. In addition, the center “has trained 300 younger tribal members to become certified personal care attendants. Of those, 95 are currently employed on the reservation, an important contribution to a community who whose unemployment rate is over 70 percent.” Through Connie’s leadership, the Eagle Shield Senior Citizens Center provides breakfasts and lunches to 200 seniors every day.

People like Connie have far greater influence than government programs. Government can oversee public health and public safety, but only people can give love and compassion. Connie has shown us the most vital thing we do in life is look after each other by reaching out in kindness to the oldest and youngest and weakest among us. It is known in Browning that nothing will keep her from taking care of her elders. The elders count on Connie. Montana counts on Connie.

It is an honor to read Connie Bremner’s accomplishments into the Congressional Record, although it should be recognized that this woman’s deeds of love and kindness will leave a record much more enduring and significant in the community of Browning than this RECORD of ink and paper in the Halls of Congress. Connie Bremner has shown that the true treasures in Montana—the Treasure State—are people, the old and the young, the weak and the strong. Connie is a treasure to the Blackfeet Nation, to the state of Montana, and to the United States of America.

A TRIBUTE TO LESTER C. PHILLIPS
HON. BOB ETHERIDGE OF NORTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, June 27, 2001

Mr. ETHERIDGE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor a great North Carolinian and son of Hammett County, Mr. Lester C. Phillips who recently received the Distinguished Service Award of the Occoneechee Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Lester Phillips was born on August 25, 1930 in Sampson County, North Carolina to Floyd and Emma Phillips and spent the majority of his early years working on the family farm. He married Winifred Naylor in 1950 and together they raised two sons Ray and Robert. In 1959, Lester moved his young family just up the road to Hammett County, and the town of Dunn, to seek employment opportunities and a better life for his family.

Upon his arrival in Dunn, Lester landed a job with the H.P. Johnson Oil Company, where he quickly became Mr. H.P. Johnson’s most trusted employee. In fact, Mr. Johnson was often over heard saying that “when he wanted something done right, he always looked to Leck.” After several years of working for Mr. Johnson, Lester began his career in the trucking business, which would later lead to his ownership of a small gas station on Highway 301 South in Hammett County and later the development of a waste management enterprise. From these humble beginnings Lester built a nationally recognized business that served locations all the way from Florida to Alaska.

Not only is Lester an outstanding success in the business world, but he is also a remarkable family man and community leader. He is also an active member at Spring Branch Baptist Church in Dunn.

But today we are here to pay tribute to Lester’s contributions to the young people of Hammett County, and to celebrate his recent accomplishment, receiving the Distinguished Service Award from the Boy Scouts of America. As the father of an Eagle Scout and a recipient of the Boys Scouts’ Silver Beaver
INTRODUCTION OF THE INDIAN AND ALASKA NATIVE Foster CARE AND ADOPTION

HON. DAVE CAMP

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, June 27, 2001

Mr. CAMP. Mr. Speaker, today, I am pleased to be joined by Representatives HAYWORTH, KILDEE and BONIOR to introduce legislation to correct an inequity in the laws affecting many Native American children. This effort is also supported by the National Indian Child Welfare Association, American Public Human Services Association, and National Congress of American Indians.

Every year, for a variety of often tragic reasons, thousands of children across the country are placed in foster care. To assist with the cost of food, shelter, clothing, and medical expenses, foster parents of children who have come to their homes through state court placement receive money through Title IV–E of the Social Security Act. Additionally, states receive funding for administrative training and data collection to support this program. Unfortunately, because of a legislative oversight, many Native American children who are placed in foster care by tribal courts do not receive foster care and adoptive services to which all other income-eligible children are entitled.

Not only are otherwise eligible Native children denied foster care maintenance payments, but this inequity also extends to children who are adopted through tribal placements. Currently, the IV–E program offers limited assistance for expenses associated with adoption and the training of professional staff and parents involved in the adoption. These circumstances, sadly, have meant that many Native American children receive little Federal support in attaining the permanency they need and deserve.

In many instances, these children face insurmountable odds. Many come from abusive homes. Foster parents who open their doors to care for these special children deserve our help. These generous people who take these children into their homes should not have sleepless nights worrying about whether they have the resources to provide nourishing food or a warm coat, or even adequate shelter for these children. This legislation will go a long way to ease their concerns.

EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

Wednesday, June 27, 2001

Mr. Speaker, I am particularly pleased to call to the attention of the House of Representatives Len’s distinguished career because he helped work diligently in securing the American Heritage River designation for the Upper Susquehanna-Lackawanna Watershed in 1998. Working closely with my office, Len was an invaluable assistant in compiling a great deal of information and working with local elected officials and other interested parties. I wish him all the best.

HONORING DR. JERRY SASSON,

PRINCIPAL OF TERRACE PARK ELEMENTARY SCHOOL UPON HIS RETIREMENT

HON. ROB PORTMAN

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, June 27, 2001

Mr. PORTMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Jerry Sasson, a friend and constituent, who is retiring after 11 years as principal of Terrace Park Elementary School (TPES) in the Second District of Ohio.

Jerry is a special kind of principal because he is a special kind of person. He has been called a one-of-a-kind educator, who spends time in the classroom every day, knows the name and face of every one of his 300 students, writes a personal, handwritten birthday card to each student every year, and sends students notes at home to recognize personal accomplishments. He encourages kindness and respect among students, teachers and parents, and is aware of each student’s specific challenges and talents.

An Ohio native, Jerry received his Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership from the University of Cincinnati in 1992. He graduated with a Master of Education in Guidance and Counseling and a Bachelor of Science in Education from the University of Dayton. Jerry received his school psychology certificate from Xavier University in 1972. Jerry began his career as a high school English teacher at Fenwick High School in Middletown, Ohio, and went on to become Fenwick’s Director of Guidance and Counseling. From 1972 through 1979, he served the Hamilton County Office of Educational Services as a school psychologist and, in 1979, he joined the Mariemont, Ohio City School District as Director of Special Services, a position he retained while serving as principal. In 1990, he became the principal of TPES, a school within the Mariemont School District.

Jerry is well known for his regular column on parenting, Parent Pride, which appears in the publication of the Mariemont City School District. He tackles tough subjects such as tolerance, assertiveness, morals and responsibility. He’s not afraid to tell us as parents that the best way to raise happy, productive children is to create and maintain home, school and community environments that focus on nurturing and support for all. Jerry believes that today’s most difficult school-related issues—such as bullying, behavior problems, or violence—are not just school issues, but family and community issues, too. And he’s right: schools can create zero tolerance policies, but it all comes...
