

as independent contractors. In 2000, a DOL study found that 10 to 30 percent of firms had misclassified employees as independent contractors. Misclassified workers lose all rights linked to employee status, such as workers' compensation, minimum wage and overtime protections, family and medical leave, and the right to organize and collectively bargain. Misclassification also cheats the taxpayers out of needed revenues because employers fail to pay billions of dollars in taxes to Federal and state governments each year. (For the tax year 1984, the IRS estimated a loss in revenues of $1.6 billion (1984 dollars).) This practice also puts employers who comply with the law at a competitive disadvantage. The Employee Misclassification Prevention Act (H.R. 5107), tackles the issue of misclassification, requiring employers to maintain records that reflect the accurate status of each worker and increasing penalties on employers who misclassify their employees. These reforms would result in billions of dollars in unpaid taxes being recovered each year.

D. RETIREMENT SAVINGS—THE AMERICAN JOBS AND CLOSING TAX LOOPHOLES ACT (H.R. 4213)

The tax-preferred retirement accounts of American workers have all too often been subject to complex fee arrangements and conflicts of interest. The American Jobs and Closing Tax Loopholes Act (H.R. 4213) passed by the House would greatly improve the disclosure of such fees and conflicts. This will go a long way toward ensuring that the Federal Government gets the most out of this tax expenditure and that plan sponsors and workers are empowered to make efficient investment decisions. This will prevent unscrupulous actors in the financial industry from draining workers' retirement savings accounts improperly exploiting tax-preferred investments.

E. ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON STUDENT FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

The Advisory Committee on Student Financial Assistance (ACSFA) was established in 1986 with the goal of providing the Department of Education the benefit of members' knowledge and understanding of Federal, state, and institutional postsecondary student assistance programs. ACSFA was to provide technical expertise regarding student financial needs analysis and application forms and to recommend processes to maintain low- and middle-income students' access to postsecondary education. Though ACSFA has provided valuable service over the past 20 years, ACSFA's mission now duplicates services provided by other entities including the Congressional Research Service, the Government Accountability Office, and private non-profit entities. To save the funds that would be wasted by this duplication and to further streamline the vital services other entities now perform, the Committee will explore deauthorizing ACSFA in coming legislative proposals.

RECOGNIZING DAVID NACH, A RECIPIENT OF THE JOHN J. ROSS MEMORIAL AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN LAW-RELATED EDUCATION

HON. HARRY E. MITCHELL

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, September 14, 2010

Mr. MITCHELL. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize and congratulate David Nach, one of the four recipients of the John J. Ross Memorial Award for Excellence in Law-Related Education.

Though he received his law degree from Arizona State University and was certified by the State Bar of Arizona, Mr. Nach forwent a career as a lawyer and instead became an educator. Currently a professor of criminal justice, advanced placement economics, and regular economics at Mountain Pointe High School, he truly prepares his students for the future.

For those in his economics class, he introduces bankruptcy lawyers and judges to tell students about the dangers and proper use of credit cards. He also employs the auction website, eBay, to show students an example of what he calls "a near-perfect market." In his course on criminal justice, guest speakers include judges, crime scene investigators, and prosecutors, and students are taken on a field trip to a juvenile detention center. In addition to teaching his classes, Mr. Nach heads up the Mountain Pointe Teen Court Program, a program in which teens conduct a trial and decide the consequences for the actions of real juvenile defendants.

As a former teacher, I recognize the importance of preparing our youth for their future in a competitive and complex global economy and world. This preparation begins with a first-rate and comprehensive education through inspiring and creative teachers like Mr. Nach, who go above and beyond to reach their students. I commend his efforts at Mountain Pointe High School and have no doubt that he will continue to inspire students throughout his career as an educator.

Madam Speaker, please join me in recognizing Mr. David Nach, a member of Arizona's Fifth Congressional District and one of the four recipients of the John J. Ross Memorial Award for Excellence in Law-Related Education.

A TRIBUTE TO THE FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH OF TEMPLE CITY

HON. ADAM B. SCHIFF

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, September 14, 2010

Mr. SCHIFF. Madam Speaker, I rise today to congratulate the First United Methodist Church of Temple City upon its centennial anniversary.

The church was established in 1908, when about 30 people gathered to worship in an old wooden schoolhouse in the Santa Anita area of the San Gabriel Valley. In 1910, Rev. John Leonard Collins was appointed the new minister of the rapidly growing church, called the Mountain View Methodist Episcopal Church. As the church continued to grow, a new building was completed in 1911, with 14 different denominations worshipping in the facility.

The church was moved to its current location in the Town of Temple, today Temple City, in June of 1925, and, with these new roots, the church continued to prosper under the new name, Temple Community Church, Methodist Episcopal. Much different from the schoolhouse, the newly dedicated church boasted Ionic columns and was a fine example of modern church architecture. In 1950, the new Sunday school building was completed, with the members performing much of the construction. At that time, the membership had grown to over 600 members and more space was needed, so in 1957, a new sanctuary was completed. In 1964, the mortgage was paid off and the church name was changed—this time to Temple City First Methodist Church. The original, white columned church was demolished in 1964 to make room for a new building housing a fellowship hall and church offices. In 1972, the church's name was changed to its present name, the First United Methodist Church of Temple City.

Since its inception, the First United Methodist Church has been an inclusive and accepting church. In 1987, when the church was asked to share their facilities with a Korean United Methodist Church congregation, it gladly did so—and again when the church offered to share their facilities with a Chinese/English language church in the community.

Under the leadership of Reverend David Palmer, First United Methodist Church of Temple City offers a variety of programs and ministries such as adult Sunday school, church choir ministry, stress management support groups, and the Crafty Ladies, a fellowship group that makes handcrafted items for those in need. The church has an impressive health ministry program, a cooperative effort between Methodist Hospital and local churches, which provides health services to congregants. This ministry includes a parish nurse, who provides education, information, health counseling, referrals, and training of volunteers. In addition, the church created a fitness program called Shape Up 2010 that includes walking, biking and low impact aerobics.

I am proud to recognize the First United Methodist Church of Temple City for its 100 years of service to the people of the San Gabriel Valley, and I ask all Members to join me in congratulating the congregation upon this significant milestone.
