Mr. ROGERS, from the Committee on Appropriations, submitted the following

REPORT

REVISED SUBALLOCATION OF BUDGET ALLOCATIONS FOR FISCAL YEAR 2016

The Committee on Appropriations submits the following report on the revised suballocation of budget allocations for fiscal year 2016 pursuant to section 302(b) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

The report is consistent with the “Allocations of Spending Authority to House Committee on Appropriations” included in the Joint Explanatory Statement of the Committee of Conference for S. Con. Res. 11, the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2016 as well as with the current law levels for discretionary spending required by the Budget Control Act of 2011 (P.L. 112-25) and enforced through sequestration.

The Committee, in distributing the allocation among the regular appropriations bills, has remained within the allocation’s totals.

MINORITY VIEWS

Democrats on the Committee all voted no on the revised 302(b) allocations. To be clear, the revisions are not the issue. Our problem is with the underlying allocations and the sequester caps from which these allocations flow. We cannot let this occasion go without restating the obvious: we face a predictable and avoidable crisis in the fall. The Senate cannot bring any appropriation bills to the floor under these caps and the President reminds again and again that he will veto any appropriation bill that comes across his desk until we settle on a reasonable way to replace the caps.

Why are we not acting on the real problem? The President reiterated his willingness to engage on the sequester caps. Until the Republican leadership shows its willingness to negotiate a way to raise the caps, the bills we are considering in committee are on a bridge to nowhere.

NITA M. LOWEY.
